

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION.

This work formerly published as a new translation of Moor's Greek Grammar with additions, has undergone a Many errors have been discovered and corthorough revisal. rected, defects have been supplied, and many improvements introduced, which a daily intercourse in the class room with students in almost every stage of progress has suggested. close attention to this subject for many years, with favourable opportunities for observing the attainments made by many, wno had commenced their studies by different systems, has strengthened the conviction long felt, that a radical defect exists in the plan of most of the Greek Grammars now used in our public schools. However excellent the elaborate treatises of the German Grammarians are, and however useful the many compends of these recently published may be as books of reference, or as guides to such as commence the study of Greek in maturer years, and have resolved, from a sense of its importance, to master its principles; yet on trial, I am persuaded, they will be found but imperfectly adapted to the condition of the great mass of youth in this country who begin, and too often end, their Greek studies at an early age. With such, it is believed, that no system of Grammar will answer a good purpose, which does not present the leading facts and principles in such a way as to be easily committed to memory, and so to be ready for immediate application when necessary.

It is true that youth of ordinary capacity by knowing only the inflexion of words, with the aid of a dictionary, and moderate application, will, in time, be able to guess at the meaning of a passage in Greek; but this is about all. An accurate, philosophical, and practical knowledge of its principles will, in this way, seldom be acquired. And wherever a Grammar, in the form of a lecture or treatise upon the subject, designed to be read and studied, but not adapted, or but ill adapted for being committed to memory, is put into the hands of young students, such will seldom fail to be the result.

To remedy this evil and to provide a comprehensive manuai of Greek Grammar, adapted to the use of the younger, as well as to the more advanced class of students in our schools and colleges, and especially of those under my own care, was the original design of publishing this work. To this end the leading principles of Greek Grammar are exhibited in rules. as few and brief as possible, so as to be easily committed memory, and, at the same time, so comprehensive and persuicuous, as to be of general and easy application. These being first accurately committed to memory, and then constantly applied in the inflection of words, and in analyzing their forms. soon become so thoroughly understood and fixed in the memory as hardly ever to be effaced, and to be always ready afterwards, to account for every form which words in their numerous changes assume, and to solve every difficulty caused by these changes almost without an effort of thought. though young, if thus exercised but for one year or two, has an immense advantage, in the future prosecution of his studies. over those who have not laid the foundation of their success in a thorough course of drilling.

Several excellent elementary works on Greek Grammar have been published within the last ten years, by men eminent for talents and learning, and to whose labours I freely own myself under many obligations. But none of these, so far as known to me, have adopted to any great extent the plan just alluded to. To carry out such a plan to a greater extent than has yet been done, has been chiefly aimed at, and it is hoped in some degree attained in the present work. But while the leading and fundamental parts have been reduced to rules brief and easy to be committed to memory by the younger student, a copious illustration of these principles, and of the exceptions and varieties of usage under them, with every thing important to aid the advanced student, has been inserted in its place in smaller type, in the form of Observations and Notes, all of which are numbered for the sake of easy reference.

In the preface to the first edition a full statement was given of the principal sources from which the materials, here collected, were drawn, and which need not here be repeated. Suffice it to say, that I have not hesitated to avail myself of every assistance within my reach, and to gather from every quarter, and especially from the ample stores of German Philologists, whatever appeared suited to my design. The labour of condensing and arranging, and, to borrow a term from the printer's vocabulary, justifying the several parts with due regard to harmony and proportion, into one compact whole, has been very great. The first edition extended to a much greater length than was intended. A special object in preparing this edition has been to reduce the size of the book without impairing its value. To attain this, nearly the whole has been a written and condensed, some things unimportant have been omitted to make room for others of greater value. The number of paradigms of the declension of nouns, adjectives, and participles has been increased, and the verb has been thrown into the form of a table, so arranged as to present the whole of each voice at once to the view, and to render it equally convenient in studying it to follow either the order of the tenses under each mood, or of the moods under each tense.

I would beg leave in this place to call the attention of students and of teachers, who have not yet examined the subject, to the method of analyzing and forming the tenses of the verb No part of Greek Grammar has which is here exhibited. hitherto proved so puzzling and harassing to the pupil as this. For want of understanding the few simple principles, on which the numerous changes in the form of the verb depend, they appear to him intricate, arbitrary, and incomprehensible to such a degree as to render the prospect of his fully mastering them almost hopeless. That this is owing, in a great measure, to the method of forming the different tenses by deriving one tense from another to which it has some real or faucied resemblance, appears to me beyond a doubt. As there is no foundation in truth for this mode of formation, so almost every writer, following imagination as his guide, has proposed a different theory upon the subject. One, for example, forms the perfect passive from its own future. Another with equal ingenuity forms the future from its own perfect through the medium of the first agrist passive! Another supposes he has simplified the whole matter by deriving every tense in the passive voice from its corresponding tense in the active voice, by making the simple and natural change of -ψω into -φθήσομαι. -ξω into $\chi\theta\eta\sigma\sigma\mu\alpha$ i, - $\psi\alpha$ into - $\varphi\theta\eta\nu$, -ξα into $\chi\theta\eta\nu$, - $\varphi\alpha$ into -μμαι, -χα into -γμαι, and -κα into -μαι, sometimes into -σμαι. Another still, in order to arrive, for example, at the first agrist passive, starts with the present active and, by a succession of stages, arrives at the end of his journey thus, στοέφω, ἔστοεψα, ἔστοεφα, ἔστραμμαι, ἔστραπται, ἐστράφθην; and when he gets there he finds he has missed his way after all, for the first agrist of this verb is not ἐστράφθην but ἐστρέφθην, and to bring him thither, another rule has to be invented nearly as dark as the road he has already travelled; viz. "Verbs which change s of the future into o of the perfect active, and into α of the perfect passive, take s again in the first aorist; as, Eurquana, ἐστρέωθην." What can be more perplexing and arbitrary than such a process? It is fortunate for the rising generation that such a system is beginning to pass away, and to Professor Thiersch of Germany must we regard ourselves as chiefly indebted for the deliverance. Throwing aside the complicated systems of rules and exceptions which the above theo. ries had rendered necessary, he directs to the more simple and philosophical method of observing and stating the fact. that the root or stem runs unchanged, or but slightly so, through the whole verb, and that one part differs from another in form. only in the part prefixed and added to the stem, and that in all verbs these parts are nearly the same. Instead, therefore, of forming one tense from another by a process much like the story of "the house that Jack built," every tense is formed at once immediately from its root by simply annexing the proper Tense-ending and prefixing the augment in the tenses that require it. Thus for the sake of comparison, instead of the laborious and clumsy process above; in order to form the 1 aor. p. of στρέφω all that is necessary is to annex the agrist tenseending $-\theta \eta \nu$ to the root $\sigma r g \in \varphi$, prefixing the augment, and it is done.—vou have ἐστοέφθην at once; and so it is with every

The whole system of forming the tenses from the root according to this method is given in about ten lines at the foot of p. 102, and all its modifications as applied to the different classes of mute, pure, and liquid verbs occupy only about three pages, 107-109. By forming the tenses in this way, the Greek verb will be found a simple, regular, and beautiful structure, as all that belongs to the language is. And I hesitate not, again to say, after ten years' further experience, and after repeated examination of other theories, that in my opinion "this method, for beauty, simplicity, and philosophical accuracy greatly surpasses every other system of analysis. and that a more minute, familiar, and certain knowledge of the Greek verb can be obtained with much more ease and in a shorter time by studying it in this way than in any other." If others, however, after examining the subject may be of a different mind, and prefer the method of forming one tense from another. Moon's rules for the formation of the tenses. unquestionably the simplest and most perfect of their kind, will be found at page 299, and can be learned either before or after the paradigm of the verb, as the teacher may direct. Those who adopt this method will, of course, omit from § 81 to $ 97, except $ 87 and 88 on the augment.

Hints respecting the method of studying this Grammar.

Those who have had experience in teaching the Greek language will need no instructions from me how to study this, or any other Grammar which they may think fit to use; but still a few hints as to the way in which it is intended to be used may not be useless to the young teacher, or to the Student who may be under the necessity of prosecuting his studies without a teacher.

It is by no means intended that the beginner should study, and much less commit to memory, every thing in the book. It is presumed that he comes to the study of Greek with some knowledge of the English and Latin Grammar, and he will therefore throughout meet with much with which he is already acquainted and which will require no new labour. In general, the definitions and rules printed in large type, together with the paradigms of nouns, adjectives, pronouns, and verbs, is about all that should be attended to at first, but these should be committed very accurately to memory and repeated so often in daily revisals as to become easy and familiar. If this is not done, the student's progress will be slow and embarrassed at every step, which otherwise would be rapid, easy, and pleasant. By youth of ordinary capacity this will generally be effected in the course of six or seven weeks. It is then time to begin to read easy sentences, simply with a view to furnish a praxis on the rules and paradigms previously committed. In this exercise every word should be declined and every rule belonging to its inflection should be repeated till it can be done not only correctly and easily, but almost without an effort. Two or three lines a day will be sufficient at first-increasing the quantity no faster than the pupil is able thoroughly to analyze every word. Simultaneously with this as a part of each recitation, the parts of the grammar already committed should be reviewed repeatedly, first, in shorter and then in longer portions, till the pupil is able to run over the whole in a recitation of fifteen or twenty minutes. All this may be effected in the space of three or four months. Longer lessons will then be proper, and along with this the study of the Grammar taking up the more important parts of what was omitted before, not to commit to memory but study so as to become familiar with them, and be able to refer to them at once when they may be needed. By going over the Grammar two or three times, in this manner, in the course of a year, every part will become connected in the mind with the rules to which these parts belong. so as to be readily recalled by them.

There are two or three points to which it is necessary for the pupil to pay special attention. 1st. The Rules of Euphony, & 6. To the Euphony of their language the Greeks paid the greatest attention. In order to avoid the harsh sound which would be the result of certain consonants coming together, they often exchanged a consonant in certain situations for another of more pleasing sound, sometimes they changed their order, sometimes dropped one of them, or inserted another. To this is owing, in part, the apparent irregularity in the flexion of nouns and verbs, which has led to form so many perplexing rules for cases and tenses. The rules of Euphony extend not to the flexion of nouns only, but to the whole structure of their language-to the composition and derivation of their words, and even to the collocation of them in a sentence. These principles are few, thoroughly systematized, and very easy to be comprehended. They are exhibited in the sixth section, and occupy a little less than five pages. This part, and, as fundamental to it, the fourth section should be thoroughly mastered before proceeding to the 3d declension where they will be needed.

Another thing requiring special attention, and of almost equal importance, is the rules for contraction. These should be studied in their place after the third declension § 34-40, or they may be omitted till the second revisal. These with the exercises on them occupy about six pages, and should also be thoroughly mastered. These rules account for the changes that take place in the form of a word when vowels concur, as the rules of cuphony do in the case of concurrent consonants, and both together are indispensable in order to understand the forms which words almost uniformly assume under the operation of these principles. A perfect readiness in the rules of contraction renders a paradigm of contract verbs entirely unnecessary. Still as some may wish to have such a paradigm, it is furnished in the appendix § 222.

The last thing to which I would invite special attention is the mode of teaching the Greek verb, which on account of its numerous changes, and these affected differently in different verbs by the rules of Euphony, according to the consonants of which it consists, or which concur in the course of inflection has been regarded as so intricate and difficult. First of all it is necessary to ascertain in every verb the Root, or stem, which, in certain cases, undergoes changes peculiar to itself. These, however, are few, and under a very few short and plain rules, § 82-85. On these the pupil should be drilled till he can with perfect readiness and certainty tell the root of any regular verb the moment it is announced; and also its second and third forms, when they differ from the first. This may be the work of one or two days. To the root is prefixed the augment in certain tenses, the rules for which will be found in § 88, and require no special notice. The next step is to commit the tables of terminations § 92 very accurately to memory, beginning at the top of each column and proceeding down the page, this will be much more easily accomplished than to commit the paradigm of the verb, and will answer a better purpose. All that then remains is to learn the method of forming each tense by annexing the Tense-endings, § 93, to the proper root, according to the rules for mute, pure and liquid verbs in § § 94, 96, 97. This is an important exercise and should be persevered in, till the utmost accuracy, ease, and readiness is attained.

The Syntax of the Greek language is a highly important part of the subject, and should be diligently and carefully studied, but this may be postponed to the scond year, as the rules of Syntax common to the Latin and Greek will be sufficient for the earlier stages. The subject of analysis and translation in the Appendix § 223, may be worthy of some attention.

I avail myself of this opportunity to return my grateful acknowledgements for the favourable notice taken of the former edition of this work by many eminent scholars, and for the friendly critical hints with which I have been favoured by teachers and others. They will see that these have generally been attended to in this edition. The third edition of the English Grammar has just been published. The Latin Grammar is in a state of forwardness, and will likely be published in the Spring. These three will complete the series of Grammars, English, Latin, and Greek, on the same plan, following the same arrangement, and as near as procticable expressing the definitions and rules in the same language. So that one will be a profitable introduction to another, and the perplexity arising from studying English Grammar by one system, Latin by another, and Greek by one still different, may be avoided.

GREEK GRAMMAR.

PART I.

ORTHOGRAPHY.

The Greek Alphabet consists of twenty-four Letters, namely:

Α, α.	*Alga.	Alpha.	8.
$\mathbf{B}, \ \boldsymbol{\beta}, \ \boldsymbol{\delta}.$	$B\tilde{\eta} aulpha$.	Bêta.	b.
Γ, γ, Γ	Γάμμα.	Gamma.	g.
Δ, δ.	Δέλτα.	Delta.	g. d.
Ε, ε.	`Eyulòr.	Epsilon.	ĕ.
Ζ, ζ. ²	Ζῆτα.	Zêta.	z.
$H, \eta.$	Ήτα.	Eta.	ē. `

Ω, ω.	' Ωμέγα.	Omega.	ō.
•	• •	9

2 Z like dz sounded soft, as μελίζω, pronounced melid-zo, ζάω, pronounced dzao.

3 K like k or c hard.

DIVISION OF LETTERS.

Letters are either Vowels or Consonants.

§ 1. OF VOWELS.

1. The vowels are seven : viz.

Two short, ε , o. Two long, η , ω . Three doubtful, α , ι , υ .

2. A, i, v, are called doubtful, because they are sometimes short, and sometimes long. Thus, α in πατής, is always short.

α in λαός, is always long.

α in *Aρης, may be either long or short.

There are but five distinct vowel sounds in the Greek language, viz. α , ε , ι , o, v. The η , and ω , are used to express the lengthened sound of ε and o. The vowel sounds then may be thus expressed:

Short, ε , o, $\check{\alpha}$, $\check{\tau}$, \check{v} . Long, η , ω , $\bar{\alpha}$, $\bar{\iota}$, \bar{v} .

§ 2. OF DIPHTHONGS.

- 1. A diphthong is the union of two vowels in one sound. If the sound of both vowels be distinctly heard, it is called a Proper diphthong; if not, it is called an Improper diphthong.
- · Note 1. The first vowel of a diphthong is called the prepositive vowel; and the second, the subjunctive vowel.
- · 2. The Proper diphthongs are six; and are formed from &, ε, ο, with ι or υ subjoined: thus, from & are formed at and av, from s st and sv, from o ot and ov.

- 3. The Improper diphthongs are also six. Three have the Subjunctive vowel ι written under; viz. α , η , φ . The other three are $\eta \nu$, $\omega \nu$, $\nu \iota$.
- Note 2. In the improper diphthongs a, η, ∞ , when the prepositive is a capital, the ι is written after it; thus, $A\iota$, $H\iota$, $\Omega\iota$.

-4. A vowel, preceded by another vowel, with which it does not form a diphthong, is said to be pure. Thus, α is pure in $\gamma \epsilon \alpha$ and $\varphi \iota \lambda \iota \alpha$; of is pure in $\pi \delta \lambda \epsilon o \epsilon$, $\varphi \alpha \delta \iota o \epsilon$, &c.

§ 3. OF THE PRONUNCIATION OF VOWELS AND DIPHTHONGS.

The ancient pronunciation of the Greek vowels and diphthongs cannot now be determined with certainty in all cases. The knowledge we have of it is derived chiefly from Greek words that appear in Latin, and Latin words that appear in Greek;—from imitation of natural sounds, as the bleating of the sheep, or the barking of the dog;—from a play upon words, and other hints of a similar character.

If uniformity in the pronunciation of the Greek is to be aimed at—and it is certainly desirable that it should—the Erasmian method, among all others now in use, seems entitled to preference as a standard, not only on account of its simplicity and perspicuity, but also as having the authority of the ancients, so far as this can be ascertained, decidedly in its favour. It is, moreover, the pronunciation that generally prevails in Europe, and has been adopted in some of the most distinguished schools in America. The whole system is exhibited in the following

TABLE OF VOWEL AND DIPHTHONGAL SOUNDS.

Short & lik	ke a i	n hat,	as πατής.
Long ā	a	far,	as πᾶς.
Short &	е	met,	as yéros.
Long n	ey	they,	as θήρ.
Short 7	i	tin,	as îva.
Long i	i	machine,	as Ilior, xilos.
Short o	0	not,	as 16voc.
Long w	, 0	note,	as φῶς.
Short v as Fre	nch ŭ	tu,	as μάρτυρ.
Long v as Fre	nch ū	une,	as xurds.
αι lil	ke i	fire, or aye,	as τύψαι.
El	-i	fine,	as τύψει.
αŧυ	ou	our,	as αὐτός.
ะย	eu	feud,	ας εύρέ.
01	oi	soil,	as of.
Oυ	ou	ragout,	as ούτος.
บเ	ui	quick, or we,	as υίδς.

§ 4. OF CONSONANTS.

1. The simple consonants are either mutes or semi-vowels.

2. The mutes are nine, and are divided into three classes, according to their strength; viz.

Smooth, π , x, τ . Middle, θ , γ , δ . Aspirate, φ , z, θ .

3. By strength is meant the force of voice, or of breathing requisite in pronouncing, which is different in each of the above classes,—the smooth mutes requiring the least, the aspirates the greatest, and the middle a degree of force intermediate between the other two.

4. Each smooth mute has its own middle and aspirate, and these three are called mutes of the same sound, or of the same order, because they are pronounced by the same organ; thus,

 Π -mutes, or labials, π , θ , φ . K-mutes, or palatals, \varkappa , γ , χ . T-mutes, or dentals, τ , δ , θ .

Obs. In mutes of the same sound, one is frequently changed for another.

5. The semi-vowels are five, λ , μ , ν , ϱ , s. Of these λ , μ , ν , ϱ , are called liquids, because they readily unite with, or flow into, the sound of other consonants.

6. The double consonants are three, ψ , ξ , ζ ; and are formed from the three orders of mutes with ς ; thus,

7. In the declension of nouns and verbs, when a π -mute, or a \varkappa -mute, would be followed by ς , the double consonant ψ or ξ is substituted; thus, instead of "Açaboi or $\pi \lambda \varepsilon \varkappa \sigma \omega$, must be written "Aça $\psi \iota$, $\pi \lambda \dot{\epsilon} \xi \omega$, &c. But a τ -mute, coming before ς , must be rejected; thus, for $\dot{\alpha} \nu \dot{\nu} \tau \sigma \omega$ must be written $\dot{\alpha} \nu \dot{\nu} \sigma \omega$, &c. § 6. 8.

8. In like manner a double consonant may be resolved into the mute from which it is formed, and ς ; thus, ψ may be resolved into $\pi_{\mathcal{S}}$, $\theta_{\mathcal{S}}$, or $\varphi_{\mathcal{S}}$. ξ into $*s_{\mathcal{S}}$, $\gamma_{\mathcal{S}}$, or $\gamma_{\mathcal{S}}$, $\gamma_{\mathcal{S}}$, or $\gamma_{\mathcal{S}}$,

This is done when, in the declension of nouns and verbs, at becomes necessary to separate the ; from the mute with which it is combined; thus, $\lambda a t \lambda a \psi$, by dropping the ϵ becomes $\lambda a t \lambda a \pi$; $\lambda b c a \xi$ becomes $\lambda b c a \xi$; and so of other combinations.

§ 5. OF SYLLABLES.

A Syllable is a distinct sound, forming the whole of a word, or so much of it as can be sounded at once. To these belong certain marks and characters; as,

1. ACCENTS.

Accents are used to regulate the tone of syllables over which they are placed. They are three: the acute ('), the grave ('), and the circumflex, which was first marked ', then ', and lastly'.

The acute is placed on one of the three last syllables of word, and indicates that the tone of the syllable is to be rather ed or sharpened; as, τύπτω, I strike.

The grave is never placed but on the last syllable, and indicates that its tone is to be lowered; as, riph, honor.

The circumflex is placed on a long vowel or a diphthong, in one of the two last syllables, and unites the force of both the former, by first raising and then depressing the tone of the syllable; as, $\pi o \iota \tilde{\omega}$.

2. SPIRITUS OR BREATHINGS.

The Spiritus, or breathings, are two; the asper, or rough breathing, marked ('); and the lenis, or soft breathing, marked (').

The spiritus asper has the force of the Latin H; thus, $\alpha_{\mu\alpha}$ is pronounced Hama.

Note. Anciently H was the mark for the aspirate, in Greek, as it is in Latin; thus, ἐκατόν was written ΗΕΚΑΤΟΝ.

The spiritus lenis only indicates that the spiritus asper is not to be used. These marks are used as follows:

1st. A vowel or diphthong, beginning a word, has always a spiritus. In the diphthong it is placed over the second rowel as ἄμα, έγὼ, εὐφέ, οὖτος.

2d. v, or φ, beginning a word, has always the spiritus asper.

3d. φ in the middle of a word, if single, has no spiritus, but if doubled, the first has the spiritus lenis, and the second the spiritus asper; as πόψψω, porrho

3. THE EOLIC DIGAMMA.

The Æolic dialect, the most ancient form of the Greek language, had no spiritus asper, and it is seldom used in the Ionic. The want of it, in the former, was compensated, in all words beginning with a vowel, by a species of aspirate, now called THE ÆOLIC DIGAMMA.

This was originally a full and strong consonant having the sound of the Latin F or V. It was called digamma, because its form (F) was that of a double Γ . It is thought to have been used by the ancients before words beginning with a vowel, and between two vowels, which, by its disuse at a later period, came together without forming a diphthong: thus, olvos, Eug, is, dis, alw, dogvos, wov, and the like, were written, or pronounced as if written, Foivos, Flag, Flg, &Fig, at-Fwr. & Fogros, & For, from which the Latin vinum, ver, vis, ovis, m, avernus, orum, &c., were evidently derived before the digamma disappeared. Between two vowels it was at length softened down, and even with the Æolians passed into v. Thus we have αὐήρ, αὐώς, for the common ἀήρ, ἡώς. counts for the form of some words in the Attic and common dialects in which the digamma, softened into v. still remains. especially where followed by a consonant. Thus the ancient χέ Fω passed into χεύω, and lastly into χέω, which still retains in the 1st fut. γεύσω, the softened form of the ancient χέ Foω. So zλαίω, Attic zλάω, has in the 1st fut. zλαύσω. In like manner vaes, the plural of vaus, still retains in the dative vauor, the softened form of the ancient va For.

4. The Apostrophe (') is written over the place of a short vowel which has been cut off from the end of a word; as $d\lambda\lambda^2 \dot{\epsilon}\gamma\dot{\omega}$ for $d\lambda\lambda\dot{\alpha}\dot{\epsilon}\gamma\dot{\omega}$. This is done when the following word begins with a vowel, and in compounds when the first part ends, and the last begins with a vowel. § 6. 3. 1. Sometimes the diphthongs are elided by the poets; as, $60\dot{\epsilon}\lambda\dot{\omega}\mu^2\dot{\epsilon}\gamma\dot{\omega}$ for $60\dot{\epsilon}\lambda\dot{\omega}\mu\dot{\omega}\dot{\epsilon}\dot{\gamma}\dot{\omega}$; and sometimes after a long syllable the initial vowel is cut off from the following word; as, $\ddot{\omega}\dot{\gamma}\alpha\theta\dot{\epsilon}$ for $\ddot{\omega}\dot{\alpha}\alpha\theta\dot{\epsilon}$.

Exc. Instead of the apostrophe, or cutting off the final vowel, the concurring vowels are sometimes contracted; as, προδέργου for πρό έργου; κάκ for και έκ.

Note. The union, or contraction of such words, is indicated by the spiritus being placed over the vowel, at the place of junction, as in the preceding examples.

- 5. The Diastole is a comma inserted between the parts of a compound word, to distinguish it from another word consisting of the same letters; as, 16,18, and this, to distinguish it from 1618, then; 5,71, what, to distinguish it from 511, because. Sometimes they are written apart, without the comma; thus, 16 12, 5 11.
- 6. The Diaresis (") is placed over a vowel, to show that it does not form a diphthong with the vowel which precedes it; as, δες, a sheep, πραῦς, mild, pronounced o-is, pra-us.
 - 7. The figures affecting syllables are as follows:
 - 1st. Prosthesis is the prefixing of one or more letters to the beginning of a word; as, σμικοός for μικοός, ἐείκοσι for εξκοσι.

2d. Paragoge is the adding of one or more letters to the end of a word; as, ησθα for ης; τοῦσι for τοῖς.

3d. Epenthësis is the insertion of one or more letters the body of a word; as, ξλλαβε for ξλαβε; ὁππότε for ὑπότεφος.

4th. Syncope, is the taking away of one or more letters from the body of a word; as, ηλθον for ηλυθον; εύρμην for εύρησάμην.

5th. Aphæresis is the cutting off of one or more letters from the beginning of a word; as, στεροπή for ἀστεροπή; ἀρτή for ἐορτή.

6th. Apocope is the cutting off of one or more letters from the end of a word; as, δῶ for δῶμα; Ποσειδῶ for Ποσειδῶνα.

7th. Thesis is when the parts of a compound word are separated by an intervening word; as, ὑπὲρ τινὰ ἔχειν for ὑπερέχειν τινὰ.

Sth. Melathesis is the transposition of letters and syllables; as, ξπραθον for ξπαρθον; ξδρακον for ξδαρκον; κάρτος for κράτος.

Obs. The Ionians, by a species of Metathesis, change the breathing in a word; as, κιθών for χιτών; ἐνθαῦτα for ἐνταῦθα.

§ 6. EUPHONY.

In combining their letters into words, the Greeks paid the strictest attention to Euphony, or agreeableness of sound. This principle, indeed, pervades the whole structure of the language. From a regard to this, they carefully avoided every concurrence of consonants not easily pronounced together. The means by which this is effected may be summed up in the following RULES OF EUPHONY.

(It is of great importance for the student to be very familiar with the following rules, and expert in applying them, before he enters on the 3d declension, as they are then required in a most every step. To aid him in this, a table of exercises is subjoined, in which he should practise till he can correct the orthography, and give the rule with the greatest ease and readiness.

1. Words ending in σ_{ℓ} , and verbs of the third person in ε and ℓ , add ν to the termination before a vowel, or before a pause; as,

Πασιν εἶπεν εκεῖνοις for πασι εἶπε ἐκ; also to the diphthong si, in the pluperfect indicative active;—the word εἶκοσι, (twenty), and the adverbs πέρυσι, παντάπασι, νόσφι, πρόσθε, κε and νυ. This was called by grammarians ν ἐφελκυσν, because by preventing the hiatus between two vowels it, as it were, drew the second vowel to the first. Among the poets it is sometimes added to these terminations before a consonant, when it is necessary to render a final syllable long; and sometimes by the Attic prose writers to give energy to the tone.

- Obs. 1. Sometimes g is added, on the same principle; thus, obtain becomes obtain. Also the particle of is changed into obtained before a vowel, and into obtained an aspirated vowel.
- 2. When two mutes of a different sound come together, they must be of the same strength; i. e. they must be both smooth, or, both middle, or both aspirate; as $\epsilon \pi \tau \dot{\alpha}$, $\ddot{\alpha} \delta \delta \epsilon \lambda o \nu$, $\ddot{\alpha} \chi \theta o \varsigma$.
- If, by derivation or declension, two mutes of different strength would come together, the former must take the class of the latter; thus, the terminations $-\tau o_{5}$, $-\delta \eta \nu$, $-\theta \varepsilon \iota_{5}$, with $\gamma \varrho \dot{\alpha} \varphi \omega$, the ω being omitted, form $\gamma \varrho \alpha \pi \iota \delta_{5}$, $\gamma \varrho \dot{\alpha} \delta \delta \eta \nu$, $\gamma \varrho \alpha \varphi \theta \varepsilon \iota_{5}$; and of two mutes already combined, one cannot be changed without a corresponding change in the other. Thus in $\xi \pi \iota \dot{\alpha}$ and $\delta \varkappa \iota \dot{\alpha}$, if the τ be changed into δ , the π and \varkappa must be changed into δ and γ ; as, $\xi \pi \iota \dot{\alpha}$, $\xi \delta \delta \delta \iota \mu o_{5}$; $\delta \varkappa \iota \iota \dot{\alpha}$, $\delta \gamma \delta \delta o_{5}$.
- 3. A smooth mute in the end of a word is changed into its own aspirate before an aspirated vowel. This is done,—

1st. In the composition of words; thus, from in and ήμέρα comes έφήμερος. So from έπτά, by apostrophe, έπτ', and ήμέρα comes έφθήμερος; from κατά and εδδω, καθεύδω, &c.

When words stand together in a sentence; thus, ἐφ' ἡμῖν, καθ ἡμᾶς, αφ' οδ, &c.

3d. When words are united by contraction; thus, το ίματιον united become θοιμάτιον; το ετεφον, θάτεφον, &cc.

- N. B. The middle mute δ is never changed before an aspirated vowel; as, $\delta x \alpha \delta^{\gamma} ix \delta \sigma \theta \alpha i$; and δ and γ only before $-\delta$, and δiv in forming the perfect and pluperfect active, δ 86 Obs. 2—Ex is never aspirated.
- 4. When two successive syllables would begin with an aspirate, the first is changed into its own smooth; thus,

Πεφίληκα, not φεφίληκα; θρίξ, Gen. τριχὸς, not θρίχὸς; from the root θρέχ the verb is τρέχω, not θρέχω; from θρίζος, τρέφω, not θρέςω; and from $δ_{\chi}$, έχω not έχω. (See below, Obs. 3) In like manner from θαφ, the root of θάπτω, (R. 2.) is derived τάφος, &c.

EXCEPTIONS. To this rule there are five exceptions; viz.

Exc. 1. Compound words generally; as, δονιθοθήρας, ἐφθφή.

Exc. 2. Φ or χ before θ ; as, $\varphi \dot{\alpha} \theta i$, $\chi \upsilon \theta \tilde{\eta} \nu \alpha i$.

Exc. 3. When one of the aspirates is joined with another ronsonant; as, $\theta\alpha\varphi\theta\epsilon l\varsigma$, $\alpha\pi\epsilon\varphi\theta\iota\theta\sigma\nu$, $\pi\nu\theta\epsilon\sigma\theta\alpha\iota$, (but the rule nolds when ϱ follows the first aspirate, as above in $\tau\varrho\epsilon\chi\omega$ not $\theta\varrho\epsilon\chi\omega$.)

 $\tilde{E}xx$. 4. If the second aspirate has been occasioned by a spiritus asper following it; as, $\ell\theta\eta\chi$ δ $\alpha\nu\theta\rho\omega\pi\sigma\sigma$ for $\ell\theta\eta\kappa$; $\pi\delta$ - φευχα for πέφευγ-ά; and so of others.

Exc. 5. When the second aspirate belongs to the adverbial terminations $\theta \in \nu$ or $\theta \iota$; as, $\pi \alpha \nu \iota \alpha \chi \delta \theta \in \nu$, Koρ $\iota \nu \theta \delta \theta \iota$.

Obs. 2. Of three aspirates beginning successive syllables, the first only is changed; as, τέθαφα for θέθαφα.

- Obs. 3. When the first of two aspirates is the spiritus asper it is changed only before χ ; thus, $\delta\theta\varepsilon\nu$, $\delta\theta\iota$, $\eta\varphi\alpha$ &c., preserve the spiritus asper before the aspirates θ and φ , but $\xi\chi\omega$ must be changed into $\xi\chi\omega$.
- Obs. 4. When the second aspirate is lost by inflection or otherwise, the first is resumed; thus, έχω, 1st fut. εξω; τφέχω, θφέξω; τφέφω, θφέψω; and the derivatives θφεπτός, θφεπτικός, &c.. Obs. 5. The second of two aspirates is seldom changed. It is always done, however, in imperatives in $\theta \iota$; as, $\tau \iota \theta \varepsilon \tau \iota$, $\tau \iota \varphi$ - θητι ; for τίθεθι, τύφθηθι.

Obs. 6. A mute may be doubled, but if it be an aspirate, the first is changed into its own smooth; as, $^{\prime}A\tau\theta\iota_{5}$, not $^{\prime}A\theta\theta\iota_{5}$; $Ba\chi_{05}$, not $Ba\chi_{05}$; $Ma\tau\thetaa\tilde{\iota}_{05}$ not $Ma\theta\thetaa\tilde{\iota}_{05}$; $\Sigma a\eta\phi\omega$ not $\Sigma a\phi\phi\omega$.

5. P at the beginning of a word is doubled when a short vowel is prefixed; as, 'Ρίπτω, ἔψόιπτον; ἀψόεπης from α and φέπω; περίψόρος from περί and φέω.

1. THE MUTES BEFORE Σ

6. A π -mute (π, θ, ϕ) before σ , unites with it forms ψ ; as, λείπω, λείπσω, written λείψω.

7. A κ muter (κ, γ, χ) before σ , unites with it and forms ξ ; as, ηκω, ηκαμ. written ηξω.

8. Α τ-n (τ, δ, θ,) before σ, is rejected; as, σώμασι for σώμαται; ἄσω for ἄδσω; ὄφνισι for ὄφνιθσι.

II. THE MUTES BEFORE M.

- 9. A π-mute before μ, is changed into μ; thus, for τέτυπμαι, τέτριβμαι, γέγραφμαι, write, τέτυμμαι, τέτριμμαι, γέγραμμαι.
- 10. A x-mute before μ is changed into γ ; thus, for πέπλεχμαι, βέβφεχμαι, write πέπλεγμαι, βέβφεγμαι.

Hence γ before μ, remains unchanged; as, λέλεγμαι.

11. A τ-mute before μ , is changed into σ ; thus, for ἢνυτμαι, ἢοειδμαι, πέπειθμαι, write ἢνυσμαι, ἤοεισμαι, πέπεισμαι.

Obs. 7. To these rules there are some exceptions in substantive forms, as, ἀπμή, not ἀγμή; πότμος, not πόσμος.

III. CHANGES OF THE LETTER N.

12. N, before a π -mute, and also before ψ , is changed into μ ; thus, for λινπάνω, λανβάνω, ἐνφός, ἔνψυχος, write λιμπάνω, λαμβάνω, ἐμφός, ἔμψυχος.

13. N, before a κ -mute, and also before ξ , is changed into γ ; thus, for ἔνκειμαι, φυνγάνω, τυνχάνω, πλάνξω, write ἔγκειμαι, φυγγάνω, τυγχάνω, πλάγξω.

- 14. N, before a τ-mute, remains unaltered; as, ἐντός, συνδέω.
- 15. N, before another liquid, is changed into the same; thus, for ἐνμένω, συνλαμβάνω, συνοάπτω, write ἐμμένω, συλλαμβάνω, συδόάπ

16. N, before σ or ζ, is usually rejected; thus, not δαίμονοι, συνζυγία; but δαίμοσι, σύνγία.

Obs. 8. N. is retained before σ only in words; as, $T\iota\varrho\dot{\nu}\nu\varsigma$, $\xi\iota\mu\iota\nu\varsigma$, $\pi\iota\varrho\alpha\nu\sigma\alpha\iota$. In $\sigma\upsilon\nu$ before σ , followed by a vowel, it is changed into σ ; thus, $\sigma\upsilon\sigma\sigma\sigma\dot{\omega}$, $\sigma\upsilon\sigma\sigma\dot{\iota}\iota\alpha$. Er retains the ν before ϱ , σ , ζ .

IV. OF THE LETTER Σ .

17. When σ would stand between two consonants, it is rejected; thus, λελείπ-σθων, τετρίδ-σθαι, λεγέγ-σθωσαν. without σ, λελείπ-θων, τετρίδ-θαι, λελέγ-θωσαν. combined, λελείρθων, τετρῖφθαι, λελέχθωσαν.

And so from ἡγγέλσθαι, ἡγγέλθαι; from πέφανσθον, πέφανθον, οτ πέφασθον.

Obs. 9. Also when σ by inflection comes before σ , one of them is rejected; as,

Perf. 2d. Sin. ἐσκεύασ-σαι. Plup. ἐσκεύασ-σο. become ἐσκεύασαι. ἐσκεύασο. 18. When both ν and a τ -mute together, are cast out before σ , ε preceding it is changed into $\varepsilon\iota$, o into ov, and a doubtful vowel is lengthened; but η and ω remain unchanged; thus,

τυφθεντσι becomes	τυφθεῖσι;	τυψαντσι becomes	τύψᾶσι ;
σπενδσω	σπείσω ;	γιγαντσι	γίγασι;
λεοντσι	λέουσι ;	δεικνυντσι	δείκνῦσι ;
τυπτοντσι	τύπτουσι;	τυπτωντοι	τύπτωσι.

- 19. When two consonants meet, which are not easily pronounced together, the pronunciation is sometimes relieved by inserting a third consonant between them; thus, άνρὸς, by syncope for άνέρος, is relieved by inserting δ ; as, άνδρὸς. Sometimes by a metathesis, or transposition of letters; as, ξπροθώς for ξπαρθών.

20. Table words to be corrected according to the foregoing rules.

(Let the pupil always give the rule for the correction.)

Thine dr	ἔθηκ' δ	öθμαι	λείπσω	λήβσω

§ 7. PUNCTUATION.

The marks of punctuation in Greek are, the comma (,); the colon and semi-colon (); the period (.); and mark of interrogation (;).

PART II.

ETYMOLOGY.

ETYMOLOGY is that part of Grammar which treats of the different sorts of words, their various modifications, and their derivations.

§ 8. OF WORDS.

1. Words in respect of their Formation are either Primitive or Derivative, Simple or Compound.

A Primitive word is one that comes from no other; as, παῖς, ἀναθὸς.

A Derivative word is one that is derived has another word; as, παιδεία, ἀγαθότης; from παῖς, ἀγαθός.

A Simple word is one that is not combined the any other word; as, βάλλω.

A Compound word is one that is made up or more simple words; as, ἐκβάλλω, from ἐκ and βάλλω.

2. Words in respect of Form are either Declinable or Indeclinable.

A Declinable word is one subject to certain changes of termination, to express the different relations of gender, number, case, person, &c.,—usually termed in grammar Accidents.

Obs. 1. In every declinable word there are at least two parts, the root or basis, and the termination. The root remains unchanged, except by euphony, in all the different forms which the word assumes. The termination is added to the root, and is varied by inflection to produce these different forms.

Obs. 2. The inflection of nouns, adjectives, pronouns, and participles, is called Decleration, that of verbs, Conjugation.

An Indeclinable word is one that is subject to no change of termination.

3. In respect of Signification and Use, words are divided into different classes, called Parts of Speech.

§ 9. PARTS OF SPEECH.

The Parts of Speech in the Greek language are eight; viz. 1. Noun or Substantive, Adjective, Article, Pronoun, and Verb, declined. 2. Adverb, Preposition, and Conjunction, undeclined.

Obs. 1. The participle, which in some Grammars is considered a distinct part of speech, is properly a modification of the verb, and may, therefore, be considered as a part of it.

Obs 2. In Greek, the interjections are considered by most Grammarians as adverbs.

§ 10. OF THE NOUN.

A Noun, or Substantive, is the name of any person, place, or thing. They are of two kinds, Proper and mmon.

1. A Proper Noun is the name applied to an individual as, "Ομηρος 'Αθῆναι; Homer, Athens.

Among these may be included,

Patronymics, or those which express one's parentage or family; as, Hoiautôns, the son of Priam.

Gentile, or Patrial, which denote one's country; as, 'A01-vaĩos, an Athenian.

- 2. A Common Noun is a name applied to all things of the same kind; as, ἀνηρ, οἶκος, βίβλος, a man, a house, a book. Under this class may be ranged,
- 1st. Collective nouns, or nouns of multitude, which signify many in the singular number; as, λαός, people.

2d. Abstract nouns, or the names of qualities; as, άγαθότης, goodness.

3d. Diminutives, or nouns which express a diminution in the signification of the nouns from which they are formed; as, παιδίον, a little boy; from παῖς.

4th. Amplificative nouns, or those which denote an increase in the signification of the nouns from which they are formed, as, regittur, a person who has a large head; from regitty.

§ 11. ACCIDENTS OF THE NOUN.

To the Greek noun belong the Accidents of Gender, Number, and Case.

1. Gender means the distinction of nouns with regard to sex. There are three genders, Masculine, Feminine, and Neuter.

Of some nouns the gender is determined by their signification;—of others by their termination.

The Masculine gender belongs to all nouns which denote the male sex.

The Feminine gender belongs to all nouns which denote the female sex.

The Neuter gender belongs to all nouns which are neither masculine nor feminine.

Nouns which denote both males and females are said to be of the Common gender, i. e. they are both masculine and feminine.

The gender of nouns not determined by their signification is usually to be ascertained by their termination, as will be noticed under each declension.

- Obs. 1. In Greek lexicons and grammars, gender is indicated by the article; viz. δ indicates the mesculine, $\hat{\eta}$ the feminine, and $\tau\delta$ the neuter; as, δ $\delta r \hat{\eta} \rho$, the man, $\hat{\eta}$ $\gamma \nu r \hat{\eta}$, the woman, $\tau\delta$ $\zeta\tilde{\omega} \nu r$, the animal.
- 2. Number is that property of a noun by which it expresses one or more than one. Greek nouns have three numbers, the Singular, Dual, and Plural.

The Singular denotes one; the Plural more than one.

The Dual denotes two, and is most commonly used in speaking of those things which are produced, or are usually spoken of in pairs.

- Obs. 2. In the oldest state of the Greek language the dual is not used. It is not found in the Æolic dialect—in the New Testament—in the Septuagint, nor in the Fathers. It is most common in the Attic dialect, in which, however, the plural is often used instead of it.
- 3. Case is the state or condition of a noun with respect to the other words in a sentence.

Greek nouns have five cases, the Nominative, Genitive, Dative, Accusative, and Vocative.

1st. The Nominative case denotes the name of an object simply, or as that of which something is affirmed.

2d. The Genitive connects with the name of an object, the idea of separation, origin, possession.

3d. The Dative represents the thing named, as that to which something is added, or to or for which something is said or done.

4th. The Accusative represents the thing named, as affected or acted upon by something else, and also as the object to which something tends or relates.

5th. The Vocative is used when persons or things are addressed.

Obs. 3. The Ablative case is not used in Greek as in Latin. Its place is supplied by the genitive and dative.

Obs. 4. All the cases except the nominative, are called ob.

§ 12. OF DECLENSION.

DECLE ON is the mode of changing the terminations of nouns, &c. In Greek there are three declensions, corresponding to the first, second, and third declensions in Latin.

Obs. 1. The difference between these declensions will be seen at one view in the following Table of Terminations.

	Singular.
First Declension.	Second.	Third.
Nom. α , η , α s, η s, η s, Gen. $\bar{\alpha}$ s, η s, ou, ou, Dat. α , η , α , η , Acc. $\alpha\nu$, $\eta\nu$, $\alpha\nu$, $\eta\nu$, ν , ν	ου,	α, ι, υ, ω, ν, ξ, ρ, ς, ψ, ος, ι, α, ν, like the nom
	Dual.	l e
N. A. V. α, G. D. αιν.	ω, 0ιγ.	0, 0,

Plural.

Nom. Gen.		οι, neut. α, ῶν,	ες, neut. α, ῶν,
Dat.	αις,	ois,	σι,
Acc.	ας,	oυς, neut. α,	ãς, neut. α,
Voc.	aı.	οι, α.	ες, neut. α.

6 13. DECLENSION OF NOUNS.

GENERAL RULES.

1. The nominative singular ends always either in a vowel not short, or $\bar{in} \nu$, ρ , ς .

2. The vocative, for the most part in the singular and always in the plural, is like the nominative.

3. Nouns of the neuter gender have the nominative, accusative, and vocative, alike; and these cases, in the plural, end always in a.

4. The dative singular ends always in i, either adjoined or written under.

5. The genitive plural ends always in ων; the accusative (neuters excepted) in 5.

6. The nominative, accusative, and vocative dual, end always alike; so also the genitive and dative.

§ 14. FIRST DECLENSION.

The First Declension has four terminations; two feminine, η , α ; and two masculine, $\eta \varsigma$, $\alpha \varsigma$.

Paradigm of Nouns in n; τιμή, honour.

Sing.	Dual.	Plural.
Ν. V. τομ-ή, G. τομ-ής, D. τομ-ῆ, Δ. τομ-ήν.	N. A. V. τιμ-ά, G. D. τιμ.αίν.	N. V. τιμ-αί, G. τιμ.ῶν, D. τιμ.αῖς, A. τιμ.άς.

§ 15. SPECIAL RULES FOR FEMININE NOUNS.

- 1. Nouns in $-\alpha$ have the accusative singular in $-\alpha \nu$.
- 2. Nouns in - α pure* and - $\rho\alpha$, retain α in all the cases of the singular.

Obs. To these may be added a few words ending in $\delta \alpha$, $\theta \alpha$, and $\tilde{\alpha}$ circumflex; and a very few in $\lambda \alpha$ and $\mu \alpha$, in which cases α is always long; as, $\Phi \iota \lambda \omega \mu \eta \lambda \alpha$, Gen. $\Phi \iota \lambda \omega \mu \eta \lambda \alpha \varsigma$, &c.

EXAMPLES.

N.V. Movσ.a, a muse	$\mathbb{N}. V.$ φ ı λ l- $lpha, friendshi$	ip. N.V. ημέρα, a day.
G. Μούσ.ης,	G. quhlas,	G. ημέο ας,
D. Μούσ.η,	D. φιλί-α,	D. ημέρ-α,
Α. Μοῦσ-αν.	A. qull-av.	Α. ημέρ.αν.

Note. In the dual and plural all nouns are declined like τιμή.

§ 16. SPECIAL RULES FOR MASCULINE NOUNS.

- 1. Nouns in $-\eta \varsigma$ and $-\alpha \varsigma$ have the genitive in ov; and lose ς in the vocative.
- Obs. 1. Some nouns in α_s have the genitive in ov or α ; as, $\pi \alpha \tau \rho \alpha \pi \lambda o l \alpha_s$, gen. $\pi \alpha \tau \rho \alpha \pi \lambda o l o \omega$, or $\pi \alpha \tau \rho \alpha \pi \lambda o l o \omega$. Some have α only; as, $\Theta \omega \mu \tilde{\alpha}_s$, gen. $\Theta \omega \mu \tilde{\alpha}_s$, Thomas.
- 2. $-\tau\eta\varsigma$ has α in the vocative; but $-\sigma\tau\eta\varsigma$ has either η or α ; as,

Ποιητής, νος ποιητά; ληστής, νος. ληστή οτ ληστά.

- Obs. 2. Also nouns denoting a people or nation; as, $\Pi \ell \varrho \sigma \eta s$, a Persian; compounds in $-\pi \eta s$; derivatives from $\mu \epsilon \tau \varrho \tilde{\omega}$, $\pi o \lambda \tilde{\omega}$, and $\tau \varrho t \delta \omega$. Also $\lambda \delta \gamma \nu \eta s$, Mevalx $\mu \eta s$, and $\Pi \nu \varrho \alpha t \chi \mu \eta s$, have the vocative in α .
- 3. In the other cases masculine nouns are declined like the feminine, to which their terminations correspond.

^{*} i. e. a after a vowel, (§ 2. 4.)

EXAMPLES.

Singular.

Atrides.	Citizen.	Youth.	Pythagoras.
N. 'Ατφείδ- G. 'Ατφείδ- D. 'Ατφείδ- Α. 'Ατφείδ- V. 'Ατφείδ-	ου, πολίτ-οι η, πολίτ-η, πολίτ-η	υ, νεανί-ου, νεανί-α, ν, νεανί-αν,	Πυθαγόο-ας, Πυθαγόο.ου, Πυθαγόο-α, Πυθαγόο-αν, Πυθαγόο-αν, Dual.
N. Α. Υποείδ	β-α, πολίτ-α,	, νεανί-α ,
G. D. , Ατφείδ	-αιν, πολίτ-αι	rearl-air.

Plural.

Ν. 'Ατρεῖδ-αι,	πολίτ-αι,	vearl-ai,
G. 'Argeid-wv,	πολιτ-ῶν,	νεανι-ῶν,
D. 'Ατρείδ-αις,	πολίτ-αις,	νεανί-αις,
Δ. 'Ατρείδ.ας,	πολίτ-ας,	νεανί-ας,
V 'Ατοείδ-αι.	πολίτ-αι.	νεανί-αι.

Obs. Since the termination -ης, belongs also to the 3d declension, it may be observed, that to the 1st pertain the nouns in -ίδης, -άδης; as, Θουκιδίδης, 'Αλκιδιάδης; the names of nations; as, Σικελιώτης. Nouns in -της, derived from verbs; as, ποιητής from ποιέω: compounds from δνοῦμαι, I buy; μετοῶ, I measure; τρίδω, I rub, wear, train; πωλῶ, I sell; and from words of this declension; e. g. 'Ολυμπιονίκης, from νίκη; άφχεδίκης, from δίκη.

§ 17. DIALECTS OF THE FIRST DECLENSION.

Besides the regular terminations exhibited in the paradigms, many words are found in different cases inflected according to some of the peculiar dialects. In the tables of terminations, A. denotes Attic, I. Ionic, D. Doric, E. Eolic. But the distinctions are not strictly observed in every instance,—the same peculiarities sometimes occurring in two, and sometimes in three dialects. The following words are exhibited as examples, but it is not to be inferred that each part of them will be actually found in the Greek authors.

Singular.

Plural.

Nom.
$$\begin{cases} Gen. & Gen. \\ I. & \ell\omega\nu. \\ D. & \tilde{\alpha}\nu, & \alpha\omega\nu. \\ E. & \tilde{\alpha}\omega\nu. \end{cases} . \begin{cases} Dat. & Acc. \\ -\alpha \zeta, & I. & \ell\alpha\zeta. \\ \tilde{\eta}\sigma\iota. \end{cases} \\ \begin{cases} I. & \ell\alpha\zeta. \\ E. & \alpha \zeta\zeta. \end{cases} . \alpha \ell L.$$

Thus, μητιέτης, Ε. μητιέτα, a wise person; Πηλείδου, I. Πηλείδεω, of Pelides; Airelov, A. Airelao, of Eneas; Θηβαῖς. I. Θηβῆς, or Θηβῆσι, in Thebes; δλοά, I. δλοή, pernicious; χρυσέα, I. χουσέη, golden. For the genitive and dative in φι or φιν, see § 28.

EXAMPLES FOR PRACTICE.

σελήνη, the moon. σοφιστής, a sophist. - πέλεια, a dove. Alvelas, Eneas. γέφυρα, a bridge. lbooa, frenzy. πιθαριστής, a harper. αύρα, a breeze. 'Aναξαγόρας, Anax- ανία, sadness. agoras.

γλῶσσα, the tongue. dyood, the forum. τεχνίτης, an artist. ήδονή, pleasure. ywrla, an angle. β ia, force. άγωνιστής, a wrestler.

ελοήνη, peace. σοφία, wisdom. μέλαινα, black. τάλαινα, miserable. $\delta l x \eta$, justice. βουλή, counsel. μάχαιρα, α sword. φρονηματίας, highminded.

Note. The learner should decline some of the words in this table according to the different dialects. In like manner in the second and third declensions, according to their dialects.

6 18. SECOND DECLENSION.

The second declension has two terminations, of and ov; ov is always neuter, of never.

Paradigm of the Masculine and Feminine Nouns in ος; δ λόγος, the speech.

Sing.	Dual.	Plural.
Ν. λόγ-ος, G. λόγ-ου, D. λόγ-φ, Α. λόγ-ον, V. λόγ-ε.	N. A. V. λόγ-ω, G. D. λόγ-οιν.	Ν. λόγ-οι, G. λόγ-ων, D. λόγ-οις, Α. λόγ-ους, V. λόγ-οι.

In the same manner also are declined nouns in or, observing the third general rule; thus,

2. Paradigm of Neuter Nouns in ov; µ$100v, a measure.

Sing.	Dual.	Plural.
Ν. μέτο.ον, G. μέτο-ου, D. μέτο-φ, Α. μέτο-ον, V. μέτο-ον.	Ν. Α. V. μέτς-ω, G. D. μέτς-οιν.	Ν. μέτο-α, G. μέτο-ων, D. μέτο-οις, Α. μέτο-α, V. μέτο-α.

§ 19. DIALECTS OF THE SECOND DECLENSION.

Nom. Dat. Acc. Voc. $\lambda \alpha \gamma \cdot ol$, A. ϕ . $\left| \begin{array}{ccc} -o\tau \varsigma, \ A. \ \widetilde{\phi} \varsigma, \\ I. \ \& \ D. \ o\tau \sigma \iota. \\ \end{array} \right| \left| \begin{array}{ccc} -o\nu \varsigma, \ A. \ \phi \varsigma. \\ D. \ \omega \varsigma, \& \ \delta \varsigma. \\ \widetilde{E}_{\bullet}, \ ols. \end{array} \right| \left| \begin{array}{ccc} -ol, \ A. \ \phi. \\ \end{array} \right|$

Neuter nouns in the Attic dialect have the same terminations with nouns in .os; except that ν is substituted for s.

Thus it will appear that the Attic form, in which o_s is changed into ω_s, o_r into ω_r, and o_t into ω, is the principal variation in this declension. Let it be observed, however, that ā long and η before o_s, are changed into ε before ω_s; as, λιό_s, Attic λεώ_s. ă short remains unchanged; as, τα-ὸ_s, τα-ὸ_s, or it is contracted with the o into ω_s; as, ἀγήραο_s, ἀγήρω_s. Γοι the genitive and dative in φ_t or φ_t, see § 28.

EXAMPLES OF THE ATTIC DECLENSION OF NOUNS IN OC.

Singular.

λαγώς for λαγός.	νεώς for ναός,	άνώγεων for άνώγεον
Ν. λαγώς,	νεώς,	άνώγεων,
G. λαγώ,	νεώ,	ἀνώγεω,
D. λαγῷ,	νεῷ,	ανώγεφ,
 Α. λαγώ, or ών, 	νεώ, or ν ε ών,	ανώγεων,
V. λαγώς, or ός.	νεώς, οτ ναός.	άνώγεων.
	Dual.
Ν. Α. V. λαγώ.	νεώ,	ανώγεω,
G. D. λαγῷν.	ν εφν.	ανώγεφν.

Plural.

N. V	7. λαγώ,	νεώ,	ἀνώγεω,
G.	λαγῶν,	νεῶν,	ἀνώγεων,
D.	λαγῷς,	νεῷς,	ανώγεφς,
A.	λαγως.	νεώς.	ανώγεω.

Obs. The Attics did not decline all nouns in os in this manner, but only a very few. The same forms occur also in the Ionic and Doric writers. The Attics often declined after this form, nouns which otherwise belong to the third declension; as, Μίνω, Αcc. for Μίνωα, from Μίνως, G. Μίνωος; γέλωτος. Αcc. for γέλωτα, from γέλως, γέλωτος.

WORDS FOR PRACTICE.

dθloς, a combat. dθlor, d prize. dμπελος, a vine.	ἔργον, work. μῆλον, an apple. νότος, the south wind οἶκος, a house.	χαλκός, copper.
	παιδίον, a child.	χουσός, gold.

§ 20. THIRD DECLENSION.

The third declension has all the terminations of nouns (\S 13. 1.) except η ; it has all genders, and increases the noun by one syllable in the oblique cases.

Paradigm of Masculine and Feminine Nouns. δ θήρ, the wild beast.

Singular.	Dual.	Plural.
$egin{array}{ll} N. & heta \eta_{Q}, \\ G. & heta \eta_{Q} - heta_{S}, \\ D. & heta \eta_{Q} - heta, \\ A. & heta \tilde{\eta}_{Q} - lpha, \\ V. & heta \eta_{Q}. \\ \end{array}$	N. A. V. θῆρ.ε, G. D. θηρ.οιν.	Ν. θῆφ-ες, G. θηφ-ῶν, D. θηφ-σι, Α. θηφ-ᾶς, V. θῆφ-ες.

In the same manner neuter nouns are declined, observing the 3d general rule.

2. Paradigm of Neuter Nouns. Βημα, a tribunal.

Singular.	Dual.	Plural.
Ν. βῆμα, G. βήμα-τος, D. βήμα-το, Α. βημα, V. βῆμα.	Ν. Α. V . βήμα-τε, G. D. βημά-τοιν.	D. βήμα-σι (§ 6. 8)

Note. In the declension of nouns which take -705, -805 or -805 in the Genitive, the Rule § 6. 8. must be particularly attended to in the Dative plural.

§ 21. OF FORMING THE GENITIVE.

GENERAL RULES.

1. If the noun does not end in 5, add -05, or -705, to the nominative; as,

N.	παιάν,	G. παιᾶν-ος,	pæan.
h	μέλι,	μέλι-τος,	ĥoney.
•	Ξενοφών,	Ξενο φῶν∙τος,	Xenophon.

2. If the noun ends in ς , reject the ς , and add -0ς , -70ς , -80ς , or -80ς ; as,

31 31	2, ,
Ν. ηρως,	$G. \ \eta_{\varrho\omega.os}$	a hero.
λαίλαψ,	λαίλαπ.ος,	a storm.
λέβης,	λέβη-τος,	a cauldron
ἄναξ,	ἄνακ-τος,	a ruler.
λαμπάς,	λαμπά δος.	a torch.
δονις,	δονι-θος,	a bird.

Note. Which of these terminations is to be added, can be learned only practice and a good ear.

Exception. But if the noun ends in o_5 , insert ε before it. All these are neuter; as,

Ν. τεῖχος, μέρος, G. τείχ-ε-ος, μέρ-ε-ος, a wall. a part.

§ 22. OF THE PENULT

If the final syllable of the nominative contain a long vowel or diphthong, it is often shortened in the oblique cases by the following

RULES.

1. A diphthong casts away its subjunctive vowel; as,

N. βασιλεύς, βοῦς, ναῦς, G. βασιλέ.ος, βο-δς, να.δς.

a king. an ox. a ship.

2. A long vowel is changed into its own short one; as,

Ν. ποιμήν, Αητώ, κανών, δράκων, αιδώς, τετυφώς, G. ποιμέν-ος, Αητό-ος, κανόν-ος, δράκον-τος, αίδό-ος, τετυφό-τος, a shephërd.

Latona.
a rule.
a dragon.
modesty.
having struck.

3. ι and v are changed into ε , in which case of only is added; as,

Ν. δύναμις,

G. δυνάμε-ος,

power.

Note 1. This change takes place, though the ι or υ be previously short; as,

N. πόλις, G. πό πῶυ, πο ἄστυ, ἄο

G. πόλε-ος, πώε-ος. ἄστε-ος, a city. a flock. a city.

Obs. 1. Nouns in -ις and -υς when they change ι and υ into ε, and likewise nouns in -ευς, commonly take the Attic genitive in -εως, (§ 27.); as, πόλις, G. πόλεως; βασιλεύς, G. βασιλέως. But neuters in ι and υ have the common genitive in -εος; as, ἄστυ, G. ἄστεος. Also nouns in -ις have the Attic -εφν, instead of -εοιν, in the genitive and dative dual. The Ionic and Doric writers retain in the oblique cases of nouns in -ις and ι; as, πόλις, G. πόλιος, D. πόλιι, &c. But even in these the dative is usually contracted into ει; as, πόλιι, πόλει.

Obs. 2. All Greek words ending in \mathfrak{s} , which take \mathfrak{v} in the genitive, appear to have originally ended in $\mathfrak{v}_{\mathfrak{s}}$, and the \mathfrak{v} at length was dropped for the sake of euphony; § 6. 16. But to maintain the former quantity of the nominative, the doubtful vowel was made long, and the short vowels were changed into their own diphthongs;

Thus, the original terminations $\alpha \nu \varsigma$, $\iota \nu \varsigma$, $\upsilon \nu \varsigma$, $\varepsilon \nu \varsigma$, $o \nu \varsigma$, were changed into $\bar{\alpha} \varsigma$, $\bar{\tau} \varsigma$, $\bar{\nu} \varsigma$, $\varepsilon \iota \varsigma$, $o \upsilon \varsigma$.

But the oblique cases, regularly formed from the original nominative, remain unchanged; as in the following examples:

Ν. γίγᾶς δελφτς,	originally	γίγανς, δελφίνς,	Gen.	γίγαν-τος. δελφῖν-ος.
φόρχυς,		φόρχυνς,		φόρχυν-ος.
zrelç,		κτένς,		κ τεν-ὸς.
δδούς,		όδονς,		δδόν.τος.

Obs. 3. Instead of rejecting ν before ς in the nominative, sometimes the ς was dropped and the ν retained; and hence the double forms of the nominative which sometimes occur: as, $\delta \varepsilon \lambda \varphi i \varsigma$ or $\delta \varepsilon \lambda \varphi i \nu$; $\varphi \delta \varphi z \nu \varsigma$ or $\varphi \delta \varphi z \nu \nu$.

Obs. 4. Nouns in -τηρ, having -τερος in the genitive, are contracted by syncope in the oblique cases; as, πατής, a father, πατέρος, πατούς πατέρι, παιοί. πατέρες, πατούς. μητής, a mother, μητέρος, μητός.

So also, άνης, a man, άνέρος, άνδοός. (§ 6. 19.)

Note 2. But where such change would occasion obscurity by making the contracted word similar to another, it is omitted. Thus the accusative $\pi a \tau \epsilon \rho a$, and $\mu \eta \tau \epsilon \rho a$, remain unchanged, to distinguish them from $\pi \acute{a} \tau \rho a$ and $\mu \dot{\eta} \tau \rho a$.

§ 23. OF THE GENITIVE OF ADJECTIVES.

Adjectives of the third declension form the genitive by the same rules as substantives; but some form it from the masculine and others from the neuter gender; and the genitive formed from either gender, is also the genitive of the other. The gender from which the genitive is formed may be ascertained by the following

SPECIAL RULES.

1. Adjectives in -15 and -005, form the genitive from the nominative masculine; as,

Μ. φιλόπατρις, Ν. φιλόπατρι, Μ. δίπους, Ν. δίπουν, δίποδος.

2. Adjectives not in -15 or -005, form the genitive from the nominative neuter; as,

N. Masc. N. Neut. Gen. of both. τέφεν, τέρεν.ος, tender. τέρην, άληθές. alnons. άληθέ-ος. true. μέλαν, μέλαν-ος, black. μέλας. γαρίεις, χαρίεν, χαρίεν.τος, graceful.

Obs. 1. This rule applies universally to participles of the third declension, and these have their genitive always in -70;; as,

N. Masc. N. Neut. Gen. of both. στάς, στάν, στάν.τος. τύπων, τύπον, τύπον.τος. τυποῦν, τυποῦν-τος. τυφθείς, τυφθέν.τος.

For the declension of adjectives and participles, see § 46 and 47.

§ 24. THE ACCUSATIVE SINGULAR.

The Accusative singular of masculine and feminine nouns commonly ends in α . But,

SPECIAL RULES.

RULE 1. The genitive in -05 pure, from 65, 05, 05, and 005, changes 5 of the nominative into 2; thus,

Nom. Gen. Acc. ὄφις, δφι-ος, δφιν, a serpent. βότου-ος, a bunch of grapes. βότους, βότουν, να-ὸς, ναῦν, ναῦς, a ship. βο-òς, βουν, βοῦς, an ox.

Likewise λãaς and χάρις have ν; as,

Nom. Gen. λᾶας,

Acc.

λάα.ος. χάρι.τος, λᾶαν. a stone. γάριν. favour.

Exc. But Als, Al-os, Jupiter, has Ala; and Xápis, for one of the Graces, has Xáquia, and 2000s, the skin, has 200a, seldom yoov.

+ Rule 2. $-v_5$, $-\varepsilon o_5$, and compounds of $\pi o v_5$, a foot, Have α or ν ; as, ἀχύς. òxé.oc. δίπο-δος. Acc.

Gen. Nom.

ώπέ-α, οτ ώπθν. δίπο-δα, οτ δίπουν.

Rule 3. Words in -15 and -v5 unaccented on the last syllable, with the genitive in -oc not pure, have α or ν ; as,

Nom.

Gen.

Ĕρις, Ĕρι-δος, χόου.θος, κόρυς. So also, xleis, xhei-dòs, ξρι-δα, or ξριν. κόρυ θα, or κόρυν. xleī.da, or xleīv.

§ 25. THE VOCATIVE SINGULAR.

The vocative singular is for the most part like the nominative. But.

SPECIAL RULES.

RULE 1. A short vowel in the genitive, from a long vowel of the nominative, remains short in the vocative; as,

Voc.

μητέρ.ος, μήτης,

μῆτες, Έπτοφ.ος. Έπτος, a mother. Hector.

Exc. But nouns accented on the last syllable have the vocative long; as, ποιμήν, Gen. ποίμεν-ος, Voc. ποιμήν; except πατήρ, ἀνήρ, and δαήρ, which have the vocative πάτερ, ἄνερ, and dase.

- 'Aπόλλων, Ποσηδῶν, and σωτήρ, with the long vowel in the genitive, have the short in the vocative.

Note 2. Nouns in $-\iota_{\zeta}$, $-\upsilon_{\zeta}$, and $-\varepsilon \upsilon_{\zeta}$, reject ζ in the vocative; as, ὄφις, V. ὄφι ; βότους, V. βότου ; βασιλεύς, V. βασιλεύ. Likewise, παῖς, γραῦς, and βοῦς ; Voc. παῖ, γραῦ, βοῦ.

RULE 3. Feminines in $-\omega_{\varsigma}$ and $-\omega$ make the vocative in $-\omega_{\varsigma}$; as, αιδώς, V. αιδοῖ; Σαπφώ, V. Σαπφοῖ.

Rule 4. Nouns in $-\alpha_{\zeta}$, $-\alpha\nu\tau_{0\zeta}$, (§ 22. Obs. 2.) have the vocative in $-\alpha\nu$; those in $-\varepsilon\iota_{\zeta}$, $-\varepsilon\nu\tau_{0\zeta}$ have the vocative in $-\varepsilon\nu$; as,

 Nom.
 Gen.
 Voc.

 Αἴας, Αἴαν-τος,
 Αἴαν, Αϳαχ.

 Σιμόεις, Σιμόεν-τος, Σιμόεν, Simois

Note. In proper names, however, the poets often reject ν ; as, Ala for Alar.

Obs. γυνή has γύναι in the vocative; and ἄναξ, in addressing the deity, has ἄνα; otherwise ἄναξ.

RULE 5. In adjectives, the vocative masculine is like the nominative neuter; as,

N. Masc. N. Neut. V. Masc. άληθής, άληθèς, àλnθèς. έλεήμων, ελέημον. έλέημον, δίπουν. δίπουν. δίπους, μέλας, μέλαν. μέλαν, xagler, also xaglers. γαρίεις. yaplev.

Note. This rule does not apply to participles. These follow the general rule; as, N. & V. τύπτων, τυπτοδοα, τύπτον.

§ 26. THE DATIVE PLURAL.

SPECIAL RULES.

Rule 1. Before on the rejected vowel of the nominative (§ 22. 1.) is resumed; as,

 Nom.
 Gen.
 Dat. Plur.

 βασιλεύς, βασιλέος, βασιλεῦσι,
 a king.

 βοῦς, βουσι,
 an ox.

Exc. ποῦς, πτεἰς; ουδεἰς, μηδεἰς, are excepted, which do not resume the rejected vowel; thus,

Nom.	Gen.	Dat. Plur.
ποῦς,	ποδός,	ποσὶ.
xtels,	πτενός,	κ τεσί.
οὐδείς,	οὐδένος,	οὐδέσι.
μηδείς,	μηδένος,	μηδέσι.

Note. The three last can scarcely be called exceptions; -is being put for -lvs. (§ 22. Obs. 2)

Rule 2. -τηρ -τερος, after a syncope has ασι; as, πατής, πατέςι, πατςί, πατςάσι, a father. likewise ἀνής, ἀνέςι, ἀνδοί, ἀνδοάσι, a man. Εχε. γαστής, γαστέςι, γαστήςοι, is excepted.

§ 27. DIALECTS OF THE THIRD DECLENSION.

From the variety of terminations, in nouns of this declension, it is impossible to exhibit them in one concise table. But the general principles are—The nominative and vocative Attic are alike,—The Attic genitive is in $-\varepsilon\omega_{\mathcal{S}}$, instead of $-\varepsilon\sigma_{\mathcal{S}}$, and $-\varepsilon\sigma_{\mathcal{S}}$,—The Ionic has η in the penult, through the oblique cases, instead of ε and α ; and makes $-\varepsilon\sigma_{\mathcal{S}}$ or $-\varepsilon\sigma\sigma_{\mathcal{S}}$ instead of $-\sigma_{\mathcal{S}}$, in the dative plural, with the poets.

§ 28. ON THE PARAGOGIC Qu or QU.

Sometimes, and particularly in Epic poetry, the syllable φ_{ℓ} or $\varphi_{\ell}\nu$ annexed to the word is used for the genitive or dative, both singular and plural. It is annexed in the Declension by changing -α or -η into -ηφι, e. g. κεφαλή, κεφαλήφι; βία, βίηφι, οτ βίηφιν.

II. Declension by changing -05 or -0ν into -0φι, e. g. στρα. τός, στρατόφιν.

III. Declension by changing -ος -εος into -εσφι; as, όχος, δχεσφι; στήθος, στήθεσφιν.

A few deviations from this mode of annexing the $\varphi\iota$ occur. This form of the genitive and dative appears to have had ori ginally an adverbial signification like the endings $\theta\iota$, $\theta\epsilon\nu$, $\delta\epsilon$. To render it more definite the preposition was often prefixed, as, $\pi\alpha\varphi\dot{\alpha}$ $\nu\alpha\ddot{\nu}\varphi\iota\nu$, near the ship, or ships; and lastly, it was used for a case without a preposition, in the same manner as the ordinary forms of the genitive and dative; thus, $\pi\lambda\alpha\iota\delta\varsigma$ $\pi\iota\nu\delta\varphi\iota\nu$, the breadth of the fan, $\dot{\alpha}\gamma\lambda\alpha\iota\eta\varphi\iota$ $\pi\epsilon\pio\iota\theta\dot{\omega}\varsigma$, confiding in valour.

The termination θεν appears to be an appendage of a similar nature, but is found only in the genitive; as, εξ οὐρανόθεν, from heaven. So εμέθεν for εμοῦ; σέθεν for σου, &c

§ 29. GENDERS OF THE THIRD DECLENSION.

The Genders of Substantives of the Third Declension, so far as determined by the termination, are as follows:

RULES.

I. Nouns in ευς, ας-αντος, αν and υν, are always masculine; as, όχεύς,

                     Gen. οχέος,
                                       δ, a clasp.
ας.αντος, άνδριάς, άνδριάντος,
                                       ò, a statue.
           παιάν, παιᾶνος,
                                       ό,
                                           a pæan.
αν, υr, φόρχυν,
                          φόρχυνος.
                                       ð,
                                           a harbour.
```

II. Nouns in $\alpha \zeta$ - $\alpha \delta o \zeta$, $\tau \eta \zeta$ - $\tau \eta \tau o \zeta$, $\alpha v \zeta$, ω , and verbals in - $\iota \zeta$, are always feminine; as,

ας-αδος,	λαμπάς,	λαμπάδος,	ŋ,	a torch.
της-τητος,	κακότης,	κακότητος,	ή,	wickedness.
αυς,	ναῦς,	ναός,	ή,	a ship.
ω,	φειδώ,	φειδόος,	ή,	parsimony.
es, verbal	φύσις,	φύσεος,	ή,	nature.

III. Nouns in α , ι , v, $\alpha \varsigma$ - $\alpha \tau \circ \varsigma$, $\circ \varsigma$ and $\circ \rho$, are always neuter.

α,	βῆμα,	βήματος,	τὸ,	a tribunal.
٤,	μέλι,	μέλιτος,	τὸ,	honey.
υ,	πῶΰ,	πώἔος,	τὸ,	a flock.
ας-ατος,	κ φέας,	κ ρέατος	τδ,	flesh.
ος,	τεῖχος,	τείχεος,	τὸ,	a wall.
οę,	ãορ,	₫oços,	τὸ,	a sword.

Obs. 1. Nouns of other terminations are so varied in gender, that no general rule can be given respecting them.

Obs. 2. Dialect frequently varies the gender in all the declensions. Thus, $\beta \alpha \imath \delta \varsigma$ is masc. in Attio, otherwise feminine; and so of others.

§ 31. IRREGULAR NOUNS.

1. Some nouns have one gender in the singular, and another in the Plural; as,

(1.) δ δίφος, the chariot-seat; ὁ μοχλὸς, the lever; ὁ καὶ ἡ Ταρταρός, Tartarus; ὁ τραχηλὸς, the neck; ὁ σταθμὸς, the station; ὁ θεσμὸς, the decree; ὁ νῶτος, the back; ὁ ἐρετμὸς, the oar; ὁ ζυγὸς, the yoke; are neuter in the plural; as, τὰ δίφρα, &c. The three last have also neuter forms in the singular, as, τὸ νῶτον, &c., but with a variation of meaning.

(2.) δ δεσμός, the bond; δ λύχνος, the lamp; δ κύκλος, the circle; δ μηφός, the thigh; δ σῖτος, corn; have both a masculine and neuter form in the plural; as, οί δεσμοί, and τὰ δεσμά,

&c.

(3.) ή κέλευθος, the way, has αι κέλευθοι and τὰ κέλευθα.

(4.) το στάδιον, the stadium, has οί στάδιοι, and τά στάδια.

- (5.) γυνή, a woman; όδὸς, a way; πόλις, a city; χεῖο, a hand; feminines, have τὰ γυναῖκε, τὰ όδὰ, τὰ πόλιε, and τὰ χεῖοε, in the nominative and accusative dual.
 - 2. Some have more than one declension; thus,
- (1.) Ist and 2nd, as η στέφανη, and δ στέφανος, α crown; 1st and 3d, as, $M\omega\sigma$ - $\tilde{\eta}_{S}$, $-\delta\tilde{v}$; and $M\omega\sigma\epsilon\tilde{v}_{S}$, $-\delta\omega_{S}$, Moses. 2d and 3d, as, $\tau\delta$ δάκου- $\sigma\nu$, $-\sigma\nu$; and $\tau\delta$ δάκο- ν , $-\nu\sigma_{S}$; μ άρτυρ- σ_{S} , σ ν ; μ άρτ- σ , $-\nu\rho\sigma_{S}$, σ ν witness.
- (2.) Some have more than one declension in the oblique cases, from one form of the nominative; thus, Θάλης, gen. -ov, 1st, and -ητος 3d, Thales; "Αρ-ης, -ov 1st, and εος and -ητος, 3d, Mars; δ and τδ σκότος, darkness; δχος, a chariot; ελεος, mercy; τάριχος, pickle; δσσος, an eye; have -ov the 2d, and -εος the 3d.
- (3.) Some have the forms of different declensions, in certain cases, though not regularly inflected through all the cases; thus, 1st and 3d in the acc. sing. Δημοσθέν-ης, acc. ην and εα, Demosthenes; Σωκράτης, Socrates, acc. Σωκράτην and -εα; άλκ-η, fortitude, gen. -ης, (1st) dat. -ι, (3d); δσμίνη, a battle, dat. δσμίνη and δσμίνι, 1st and 3d; ἀνδοάποδον, a slare, 2d, dat. pl. ἀνδραπόδεσσι, 3d Hom.; γέλως ὁ, laughter, G. γέλωτος, acc. γέλωτα and γέλων, after the Attic form of the 2d dec. § 19.
- (4.) Feminine nouns in $-\omega$, and ωs , of the third declension, have generally the form of the second as if from os, in the dual and plural, when their meaning is such as to admit of their being used in these numbers.
- 3. Some from one form of the nominative, have different forms in the oblique cases, in the same declension; thus, τι. γρις, a tiger, has .ιος and .ιδος; Θέμις, Justice, has .ιδος, .ιτος, and .ιστος; Χάρων, Charon, has .ωνος, and .οντος; γόνυ, a knee, and δόρυ, a spear, have .υος and -ατος: χράς, χρωτός, and 20005, 20005, the skin, have two forms of the nominative, as well as of the oblique cases, both of the 3d.

4. Some appear to form the oblique cases from obsolete nominatives; as, ηπας, a liver; ημας, a day; είδας, food; φςέας, a well; στέας, fat; κάρηας, a head; ἄλειφας, ointment; δέλεας, a bait; ὅνειας, a benefit; οὐθας, fatness; ΰδως, water; σκώς, dirt; γόνυ, the knee; δόςυ, a spear; have the genitive in -ατος, as if from -ας; thus, ηπατος, δδατος, γόνατος. Οὖς, an ear, ἀνὸς; γάλα, milk, γάλακτος; γυνη, a woman, γυναικὸς, νος. γύναι; Ιησοῦς, gen. οῦ, dat. οῦ; acc. οῦν; νος. οῦ.

5. Some are indeclinable, i. e. have no change of termination in the different cases; such as,

(1.) Names of letters; as, τὸ ἄλφα, τοῦ ἄλφα, &c. (2.) The cardinal numbers from πέντε to ἐκατὸν. (3.) Poetic nouns which have lost the last syllable by apocope; as, τὸ δῶ, for δῶμα. (4.) Foreign names which are not susceptible of Greek inflexions; as, ὁ Αβραάμ, τοῦ Αβραάμ, &c.

§ 32. DEFECTIVE NOUNS.

1. Some have no plural; as, ἀης, air; πῦς, fire; ελαιον, oil; γη, earth; αιδώς, shame; αλς, salt.

Some have no singular; as, αλφιτα, rictuals; 'Αθηναι, Athens; δνείφατα, dreams; and the names of festivals; as, Παναθήναια, Panathenæa.

3. Some occur in one case only, and are called monoptots; as, διάν, O friend; διπόποι, O gods; τὸ ὄφελος, the advantage.

4. Some have only two cases; (diptots,) as, nom. λτς, acc. λτν, a lion; nom. Ζευς, voc. Ζεῦ, Jupiter; τὸ ὄναᾳ, the vision; nom. & acc.

5. Some have only three (triptots); as, nom. μάρτυς, a wit.

ness, acc. μάρτυν, dat. plur. μάρτυσι.

6. The Poets sometimes cut off the final letter or syllable from a word, which is called apocope; as, $*4q\eta$ for $*4q-\eta\nu\nu\nu$, a head. Such words are then indeclinable. (§ 31. 5.)

§ 33. NOUNS OF PECULIAR SIGNIFICATION.

Some nouns have peculiar significations, according to their terminations; as,

1. Masculine Patronymics, (§ 10. 1.) commonly in δης or ων; as, Πηλεύς, Peleus, Πελείδης, Pelides, or the son of Peleus; Κρόνος, Saturn, Κρονίων οι Κρονίδης, the son of Saturn.

2. Feminine Patronymics, commonly in -ιας and -ις, -ινη and -ιώνη; as, Αητωϊάς and Αητωτς, from Αητώ, Latona; 'Αδρηστίνη from 'Αδρηστος; Νηρίνη from Νηφεύς; 'Ακρισιώνη from 'Ακρισιώς, &c.

3. Gentile Nouns, (§ 10. 1.) commonly in ης, ος, οτ ευς, masculine; and α, ας, οτ ις, feminine; as, Σπάφτη, Sparla; Σπαφτιάτης, a Spartan, Σαμάφεια, Samaria; Σαμάφειτις, α woman of Samaria. But many of these are inflected as regular adjectives.

4. Diminutives, (§ 10. 2.) commonly in ια, ιον, ισκος, or λος; as, πατήρ, a father, πατρίδιον, a little father; (a term of endearment;) πατς, a boy or girl, παιδίον, a little boy or girl; παιδίσκη, a young daughter; έρως, love, έρωτύλος, a little lover.

5. Amplificatives, (§ 10. 2.) commonly in μα, or ων; as, olzos, a house, οίχημα, a large building; θράσυς, bold, θράσων, a bully.

6. Verbal Nouns. From the first root of the verb, (§ 82.) are formed three nouns of different terminations and signification, indicating respectively the thing done, the doing, and the doer; as follows,

Verb.	1 Root.	Termin.	Combined.
ποιέω,	ποιε, ποιε, π οιε ,	-μα, -σις, -της,	ποίημα, ποίησις, ποιητής,	poem. poetry. poet.
નદ્ વંત્ર હતા,	πραγ, πραγ, πραγ,	-μα, -σις, -της, Υ .της,	πρᾶγμα, πρᾶξις, § 6. 7. πρακτής, πρακτής,	thing (done). action or doing. doer.

§ 34. OF CONTRACTIONS.

In a concourse of vowels, if two syllables are converted into one, it is called a Contraction. Of these there are two kinds:

1. A contraction without a variation of vowels, is called Synæresis; as, τείχεϊ, by Synæresis τείχει.

2. A contraction with a variation of the vowels, is called Crasis; as, Δημοσθένεες, by Crasis Δημοσθένεις; τείχεα, by Crasis, τείχη.

Note. A contraction is often made, but not always.

Obs. If the first of the concurrent vowels has an accent, it is changed into a circumflex and placed over the contracted syllable. If there be no accent on the first of the concurrent vowels, the contracted syllable will not have the circumflex.

3. In the rules for contractions let it be remembered that, the two short vowels, ε , o, have their own long ones, η , ω , and their own diphthongs, $\varepsilon\iota$, ov.

§ 35. CONTRACTIONS OF THE FIRST DECLENSION.

In the first declension no contraction takes place, unless the first of the concurrent vowels is either a short vowel, or $\ddot{\alpha}$ short, and the nominative contracted is then declined regularly.

Rule 1. $\epsilon \alpha$, without ρ before it, is changed into η .

Rule 2. In ρέα and others, strike out the first vowel; thus, γέα, earth, γῆ, G. γῆς, D. γῆ, &c. like τιμή. χουσέα, golden, χουσῆ, G. χουσῆς, D. χουσῆ, &c. Ερμέας, Μετευτη, Ερμῆς, G. Έρμοῦ, D. Ερμῆ, &c.

πορφυρέα, purple, πορφυρᾶ, G. πορφυρᾶς, D. πορφυρᾶ, &c. άπλόη, simple, άπλῆ, G. απλῆς, &c. 'Αθηνᾶα, Minerva, 'Αθηνᾶ, G. 'Αθηνᾶς, D. 'Αθηνᾶ, &c.

(§ 15. Obs.)

'Aπελλέης, Apelles, 'Απελλής, G. 'Απελλού, D. 'Απελλή, &c.

§ 36. CONTRACTIONS OF THE SECOND DE-CLENSION.

In the second declension no contraction takes place, unless the first of the concurrent vowels be short.

RULES.

- 1. If a short vowel follow, change them into ov.
- 2. If the second vowel be not short, strike out the first: thus,

EXAMPLES.

ό νόος contracted νοῦς, the mind.

Sing.	Dual.	Plural.
	ν. Α. V. 2 νό-ω νῶ σν G. D.	N. 2 νό.οι νοῖ G. 2 νό.ων νῶν D. 2 νό-οις νοῖς A. 2 νό.ους νοῦς V. 2 νό.οι νοῖ.

τὸ ὀστέον contracted ὀστοῦν, the bone.

Sing.	Dual.	Plural.
Ν. δστέ.ον δστοῦν G. δστέ.ου δστοῦ D. δστέ.φ ὀστοῦ Α. ὀστέ-ον ὀστοῦν V. δστέ.ον ὀστοῦν.	Ν. Α. V. δστέ.ω δστῶ G. D.	Ν. δστέ-α όστᾶ G. δστέ-ων όσιῶν D. δστέ-οις όσιῶς Α. όστέ-α όστᾶ V. ὸστέ-α όστᾶ.

So also έδος, a current; πορφυφίος, purple; πλόος, navigation; διπλόος, double; ἀφγυφίος, of silver.

Obs. es, of the vocative, is not contracted.

§ 37. CONTRACTIONS OF THE THIRD DECLEN. SION.

In the oblique cases there is no contraction, unless the first of the concurrent vowels is either short, or a doubtful taken as short.

The following Rules are universal, being applicable, not only to contractions of the third declension, but also to those of resp, and of all cases in which concurrent vowels admit of contraction, except such as fall under the preceding rules for contractions in the 1st and 2d declensions.

§ 39. GENERAL RULES.

Concurrent vowels are contracted as follows; viz.

I. A short vowel before itself, into its own diphthong; as, $\varepsilon\varepsilon$ into $\varepsilon\iota$; so into ov.

Exc. 1. But $\varepsilon \varepsilon$ of the dual into η . Verbs excepted.

II. A short vowel before the other short, is contracted into ov.

III. A short vowel before α , is contracted into its own long vowel; as, $\epsilon \alpha$ into η ; oa into ω .

Exc. 2. But $\varepsilon \alpha$ pure into α .

IV. A short vowel before ι is contracted by Synæresis; as $\epsilon \bar{\iota}$ into $\epsilon \iota$; or into o.

V. ε before a long vowel or diphthong is rejected.

VI. 1. o before a long vowel, is contracted into ω ; as, on into ω ; ow into ω .

2. o before a diphthong, the prepositive vowel being rejected, is contracted by Synæresis; as, ou into o., &c.

Exc. 3. But osiv, , being rejected, is contracted by Crasis into ov.

VII. 1. α before o or ω , is contracted into ω ; as, α o or $\alpha\omega$ into ω .

2. α not before o or ω , is contracted into $\bar{\alpha}$; as, $\alpha \varepsilon$ into $\bar{\alpha}$.

Obs. 1. a before a diphthong is contracted with the prepositive vowel, the subjunctive being previously rejected.

Obs. 2. i in contraction is never rejected, but in this as well as others is written under, except in oeir; as in Rule VI.

Obs. 3. Neuters in as pure and eas, reject t from the oblique cases, and then contract the concurrent vowels.

VIII. If the former of two vowels is ι or v, or a long vowel, the latter is rejected; as, $\iota \varepsilon$ contracted ι ; $v \varepsilon$ into v; $\eta \varepsilon$ into η .

Note 1. The contraction when the first of two vowels is long, takes place only in verbs.

Note 2. Σάρς and σόρς, safe, when a contraction occurs, are contracted by the foregoing rules; thus, σάρς, σώς, VII. 1.; σάρν, σών, VII. 1.; σάρ, σᾶ, VII. 2.; σάρνς, σῶς, VII. 1.; σάρς, σῶς, III.

§ 39. EXERCISES ON THE PRECEDING RULES FOR CONTRACTIONS.

The following table, containing the most usual concurrent vowels, promiscuously arranged, will serve for exercises on the rules.

1, εε	9, άω	17, άη	25, εα, pure.
2, εα	10, αοι	18, εϊ	26, εοι
3, 67	11, αε	19, 881	27, os
4, αο	12, oï	2 0, vs	28, οει
'5, όω	13, έω	21, αου	29, σειν
6, 862	14, 78	22, έη	30, αα

§ 40. CONTRACTS OF THE THIRD DECLENSION.

Concurrent vowels are not always contracted in the third declension, but only as directed by the following

SPECIAL RULES.

1. The accusative plural assumes the contraction of the nominative; thus,

Ν. τριήφεες, ζτριήφεις. Ν. ὄφιες, ζόφις. Ν. βότουες, ζβότους. Α. τριήφεας, ζήσιος, ζόσιος, ζόσιος, ζόσιος, ζόσιος, ζ

2. The genitive in $-\varepsilon o \varsigma$, from $-\eta \varsigma$, $-\varepsilon \varsigma$, $-o \varsigma$, or in $-o o \varsigma$, not from $o v \varsigma$, and also neuters in $\alpha \varsigma$ pure and $\rho \alpha \varsigma$, contract the concurrent vowels in all cases.

Example of the Genitive in -205, from -75.

ή τριήρης, the triveme.

Singular. Dual. Plural.

N. τριήρ-ης | N. A. V. | N. τριήρ-εες

G. $\tau \epsilon \iota \chi - \epsilon \omega r$ G. $\tau \epsilon \iota \chi - \epsilon \omega r$ G. $\tau \epsilon \iota \chi - \epsilon \omega r$ C. $\tau \epsilon \iota \chi -$

Example of the Genitive in -005, not from -0υς. ή αιδώς, modesty.

Singular. Dual. Plural. N. $\alpha i \delta \cdot \omega \varsigma$ N. A. V. N. $\alpha i \delta \cdot o t$ G. $\alpha i \delta \cdot \delta \omega$ G. $\alpha i \delta \cdot \delta \omega$ G. $\alpha i \delta \cdot \delta \omega$ D. $\alpha i \delta \cdot \delta \omega$ V. $\alpha i \delta \cdot \delta \omega$ D. $\alpha i \delta \cdot \delta \omega$ V. $\alpha i \delta \cdot \delta \omega$

Obs. 1. Nouns in -w and -ws have the singular only of the third declension. The Dual and Plural are of the second. Hence the contraction takes place only in the Singular, as in the above example.

Exc. Adjectives in -vs, Neut. -v, with the genitive in -sos do not contract $-\varepsilon\alpha$ in the plural. § 46. 3.

4. Nouns in $-v_{\varsigma}$ - v_{ς} , and - v_{ς} - v_{ς} , contract only the nominative plural; as, δ ιχθύς, the fish.

Singular.	Dual.	Plural.
N. lχθ-ύς, G. lχθ-ύος, D. lχθ ύϊ, A. lχθ-ύν, V. lχθ-ύ.	N. A. V. ὶχθ ὑε, G. D. ὶχθ ὑοιν.	N. lχθ-ύες, -ῦς, G. lχθ-ύων, D. lχθ-ύως, A. lχθ-ύως, -ῦς, V. lχθ-ύες, -ῦς.

So δ boxs, the ox, G. boss, N. V. Plural, $\delta \delta s_5$, contr. $\delta \delta x_5$, A. . . . $\delta \delta a_5$, . . $\delta \delta x_5$

5. Comparatives in $\omega \nu$ reject ν in the accusative singular and nominative plural, and then contract the concurrent vowels; as, βελτίων, better.

Singular. M. and F.

Acc. Gehriova, Gehrioa, contracted Gehrio.

Plural. M. and F.

Ν. V. δελτίονες, δελτίοες, δελτίους. Α. δελτίονας, βελτίοας, βελτίους.

Plural. Neut.

Ν. Α. V. βελτίονα, βελτίοα, βελτίω.

6. The nominative contracted, is then declined regularly; as, ἔαο, spring, by contraction \bar{q}_0 , G. \bar{q}_0 ος, D. \bar{q}_0 , &c. λάας, a stone, λᾶς, G. λᾶος, D. λᾶτ, &c.

Obs. 2. And if vowels concur in the oblique cases, they are moreover contracted in the usual way; thus, $H_{q\alpha\pi\lambda\hat{\eta}\varsigma}$, $H_{ercules}$, is contracted into $H_{q\alpha\pi\lambda\hat{\eta}\varsigma}$, and then declined and contracted as follows,

N. 'Hoanhās,
 G. 'Hoanhēos, Contr. 'Hoanhoùs,
 D. 'Hoanhēi, 'Hoanhōi,
 A. 'Hoanhēa, 'Hoanhā.
 V. 'Hoanhēs.

7. In adjectives, the masculine and feminine assume the contraction of the neuter; thus, μελιτόεις, made of honey.

Nom. μελιτόεις. contr. μελιτοῦ:. Gen. μελιτούντος.

μελιτόεσσα, μελιτοῦσσα, μελιτοῦσσης,

§ 42. OF THE ARTICLE.

· The article is an adjective word of three genders. The terminations of the nominative are irregular. In the oblique cases the masculine and neuter genders are of the second declension;

M. and N.

A. τούς, D. τός, τώς.

the feminine is of the first. It wants the vocative, and is thus declined:

V. Singular.		•.	Dual.	P	lura i .
N. G.			τό, τοῦ,
D.	τῷ,	τῆ,	τῷ,		D. rois,	ταῖς,	τοῖς,

Obs. 1. The Greeks spoke definitely, by placing the article before the substantive; indefinitely, by omitting it or prefixing the pronoun τις; as, ὁ ἄνθρωπος, the man; ἄνθρωπος, a man, or τις ἄνθρωπος, any man.

Obs. 2. In grammar and lexicography, the article is used technically, to distinguish the gender of nouns, (§ 11. obs. 1.)

Obs. 3. The enclitic δs annexed to the article through all its cases, gives it the force of the pronoun "this;" as, δδε, ηδε, τόδε, this, he, she, it; Gen. τοῦδε, τῆσδε, τοῦδε; &c. In Homer and the other old Epic writers, the article itself is, with few exceptions, used in this sense.

Obs. 4. The article δ , $\hat{\eta}$, $\tau\delta$, is sometimes used as a relative. (See § 66. 2.)

Note. The article b, h, rb, being commonly placed before a noun, is by some Grammarians called the prepositive article, to distinguish it from the relative pronoun b, h, b, which, from being generally placed after the noun to which it refers, they call the postpositive article.

§ 44. OF THE ADJECTIVE.

An Adjective is a word added to a noun to express its quality, or to limit its signification; as, ἀγαθός ἀνήρ a good man; μία ἡμίρα, one day;

- 1. The Accidents of the adjective are gender, number, and case, and in most adjectives also comparison.
- 2. Adjectives in Greek, as well as Latin, indicate the gender, number, and case, by the termination; as, *αλ-ὸς, masc. *αλ-ὸ, fem. *αλ-ὸν, neuter, &c.

3. Participles have the form and declension of adjectives, while in time and signification they belong to the verb.

- 4. Some adjectives denote each gender by a different termination in the nominative, and consequently have three terminations. Some have one form common to the masculine and feminine, and are adjectives of two terminations; and some are adjectives of one termination, which is common to the masculine and feminine; such want the neuter.
- 5. In adjectives of three terminations, the feminine is always of the first declension. In all adjectives the masculine is always of the second or third; and the declension of the neuter is always the same with that of the masculine.

§ 45. REGULAR ADJECTIVES OF THE FIRST AND SECOND DECLENSION.

1. Adjectives of the first and second declension have the masculine always in δ_5 , the feminine always in η or α , the neuter always in $o\nu$; thus,

×alòs, beautiful.

Thus decline ἀγαθὸς, good; κακὸς, bad; φίλος, friendly; man laκὸς, soft; λευκὸς, white; δῆλος, manifest; ἀπαλὸς, tendent.

2. But of pure, and $\rho o c$, have α in the feminine; as,

Singular. Singular. Ν. ράδι-ος, ٠α, Ν. φανερ.δς, -à. -dr. -OV, G. padi-ov, G. φανερού, -ας, .ov, ٠ãς, .oũ, D. padl w. D. gareo Q. -ã, -Q. -φ, ٠ũ, Α. ράδι.ον, Α φανερ. όν, -àν, ·òv, .αν, .ov, V. ράδι.ε, φανερ.έ, -α, .OV. -òv. The Dual and Plural like *alòc.

The terminations -005, and sometimes 805, especially in adjectives denoting matter and colour, retain η ; as, $\delta\gamma\delta\cos$, the eighth, $\delta\gamma\delta\delta\eta$; $\delta\lambda\delta\delta\varsigma$, pernicious, $\delta\lambda\delta\eta$; $\chi\rho\delta\sigma\cos$, golden; $\chi\rho\nu\sigma\epsilon\eta$; $\rho\nu\nu\kappa\epsilon\rho$, purple, $\rho\nu\nu\kappa\epsilon\eta$. Except where ρ stands before the vowel; as, $\delta\theta\rho\delta\alpha$, frequent, $\delta\theta\rho\delta\alpha$; $\delta\rho\nu\rho\epsilon\alpha$, silver, $\delta\rho\nu\rho\epsilon\alpha$.

3. The Attics often decline adjectives in -05, especially derivatives and compounds, by the common gender, without the feminine termination; thus,

§ 47. DECLENSION OF PARTICIPLES.

Participles are declined like adjectives of three terminations: those of the middle and passive in -0, are inflected throughout like $\kappa \alpha \lambda \delta s$, § 45. 1. Of others, the feminine always follows the terminations of the first declension, and the masculine and neuter, those of the third, the genitive being always formed as directed, § 23. Obs. 1. § 48. ADJECTIVES OF TWO TERMINATIONS.

Many adjectives of the third declension have but one form for the masculine and feminine, and are therefore said to be declined according to the common gender. They are declined throughout like nouns of the third declension, of the same termination. The regular terminations of these are $\omega \nu$, $\eta \nu$, ηs , ιs , ιs , and $o \iota s$, (viz. compounds of $\pi o \tilde{\iota} s$;) and they form the neuter according to the following

RULES.

1. Adjectives of the common gender in $-\omega\nu$, $-\eta\nu$, $-\eta\varsigma$, form the neuter by changing the long vowel into its own short one; thus,

N. δ, ή, σώφοων, τὸ σώφοον, prudent, G. σώφοον-ος.
N. δ, ή, ἄξόρν, τὸ ἄξόρν, male, G. ἄξόρν -ος.
N. δ, ή, ἀληθής, τὸ ἀληθές, true, G. ἀληθέ -ος.

So also some in $-\omega \varrho$; as,

Ν. ό, ή, μεγαλήτως, τὸ μεγάλητος, γ G. μεγαλήτος-ος.

Note. But $\tau \ell q \eta \nu$, tender, usually has the feminine $\tau \ell q \sigma \nu \alpha_s$ neuter $\tau \ell q \sigma \nu$.

+ conscious

2. Adjectives of the common gender in 6 and c, form the neuter by rejecting c: as.

Ν. ὑ, ἡ, εὔχαρις, τὸ εἄχαρι, G. εὐχάρι-τος. Ν. ό, ή, άδακους, τὸ άδακου, G. άδάκου-ος.

stehmen 3. Compounds of $\pi o v_s$, a foot; have the newter in -ovv; as,

Ν. ό, ή, δίπους τὸ δίπουν, G. δίποδ-ος, § 23. 1.

Note. It is probable this word was originally moos; whence b, h, dimoos, rd δίποον, contracted δίπους, δίπουν; and that the declension was afterward changed from the 2d to the 3d, as was done also in γέλως, and έρως, from the ancient yellass, and spass.

§ 49. OF IRREGULAR ADJECTIVES.

Every adjective not ending in some of the regular terminations already mentioned, is irregular. It always wants the neuter gender, and is declined like a noun of the 3d declension; thus,

Ν. δ, ή, ἄοπαξ, G. τοῦ, τῆς, ἄοπαγος, &c.

Obs. The poets sometimes use the genitive and dative of such adjectives in the neuter. Sometimes the neuter is supplied by a derivative form in -oν; thus, άφπακτικόν is used as the neuter of ἄφπαξ; βλακτικόν, as the neuter of βλάξ, &c.

Exc. 1. $\ell \varkappa \omega \nu$ and $\alpha \ell \varkappa \omega \nu$, (by syncope $\alpha \varkappa \omega \nu$) are declined with three genders like participles; thus,

Ν. έκ-ών, έκ-οῦσα, έκ-όν, G. έκ-όντος, έκ-ούσης, έκ-όντος, &c.

The adjective $n\tilde{\alpha}s$, all, is also declined like the participle in -as; thus,

Ν. πᾶς, πᾶσα, πᾶν, G. παντὸς, πάσης, παντὸς, &c.

Exc. 2. $\mu \delta \gamma \alpha s$, great, and $\pi o \lambda \delta s$, many, are irregular in the nominative and accusative singular. The other cases are regularly formed from the ancient nominatives $\mu \epsilon \gamma \delta \lambda \delta s$, and $\pi o \lambda \delta s$, of the 2d declension; thus,

Singular. Singular. N. N. M. F. M. F. πολύς, μεγάλη, μέγα, πολλή, πολύ, Ν. μέγας, G. μεγάλου, μεγάλης, μεγάλου, πολλού, πολλής, πολλού. D. μεγάλφ, μεγάλη, μεγάλφ, πολίφ, πολίη, πολίφ, Α. μέγαν, μεγάλην, μέγα. πολύν, πολλήν, πολύ. Dual. Dual.

N. A. V. μ sγάλω, μ sγάλα, μ sγάλω. \mid π ολλώ, π ολλώ, π ολλώ, &c. through the dual and plural, like *aλος.

Note. Homer and other poets inflect $\pi \circ \lambda \circ \epsilon_1$ regularly, Gen. $\pi \circ \lambda \epsilon_2$, Dat. $\pi \circ \lambda \epsilon_1$, &c. It was afterwards changed, in those cases in which it would not be distinguished from the same cases of $\pi \circ \lambda \circ \epsilon_2$.

Obs. Some substantives in $-\alpha \zeta$ and $-\eta \zeta$, inflected in the first declension, are called by Grammarians, adjectives; as, ib $\varrho \iota \sigma \tau \eta \zeta$, an insolent man; $\tau \varrho \alpha \nu \iota \alpha \tau \iota \alpha \zeta$, a wounded man; but they are really independent of any other substantives in construction. The same observation may be applied to several other words, called adjectives of one termination.

§ 50. ADJECTIVES TO BE DECLINED.

bad. φοδερ-ὸς, -ὰ, .ὸν, formidable._πακ.δς, .ή, .δν, τάλ-ας, -αινα, .αν, miserable. $\int d\gamma \alpha \theta \delta \varsigma$, - $\dot{\eta}$, .δν, good. long-handed - βαρ-υς, -εια, -υ. heavy. δ, ή, μαχρόχεις, ό, ή, καλλίων, -ov, more beautiδ, ή, τέρην, τὸ τέρεν, tender. ό, ή, εὐσεβής, -èς, pious. ful. swift. δ, ή, βελτίων, -ov, belter. $\tau \alpha \chi - \vartheta \varsigma$, $-\varepsilon \tilde{\iota} \alpha$, $-\vartheta$, ηχή-εις, -εσσα, -εν, sonorous. τιμή-εις, -εσσα, -εν, honoured. δ, ή, ἄδικος, -ον, friendly. unjust. φίλ-ος, -η, -ον, - άξιος, -α, -ον, worthy. ό, ή, μνήμων, -or, mindful. ο, η, αδμής, -ες, ό, ή, φιλόπατοις, -ι, patriotic. unconquered. δ, ή, πολύπους, -ουν, many-footed δ, ή, φύγας, an exile. δ. ή, μάκαρ, γλυχ-υς, εῖα, -υ, sweet. happy. deep. ἑάδιος, -α, -ον, $\beta \alpha \theta - \vartheta \varsigma$, $-\varepsilon i \alpha$, $-\vartheta$, easy. |ό, ή σώφρων, -ον, ισίεε. δ, ή, μείζων, -ον, greater.

§ 51. COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES.

Adjectives have three degrees of comparison, the Positive, Comparative, and Superlative.

The Positive expresses a quality simply; the Comparative asserts it in a higher or lower degree in one object than in another; and the Superlative, in the highest or lowest degree compared with several; thus, gold is heavier than silver; it is the most precious of metals. Hence those adjectives only can be compared whose signification admits the distinction of more and less.

§ 52. GENERAL RULE.

The comparative degree is formed by adding -τερος to the positive, and the superlative by adding -τατος; thus,

Positive.	Comparative.	Superlative.
μάκας,	μακάο-τερος,	μακάς-τατος.
εὔνους,	εύνούς-τεφος,	εύνούς-τατος.
κακόνους,	κ ακονούσ-τε ς ος,	κ ακονούσ-τατος.
άπλόος.άπλοῦς,	άπλούσ-τερος,	άπλούσ-τατος.

SPECIAL RULES.

1. -εις rejects ι; as,

χαφίεις, χαφιέσ. τερος, χαφιέσ-τατος.

2. $-o\zeta$ rejects ζ ; and also, after a short syllable, changes o into ω ; thus, δρθός, δρθό-τερος, δρθό-τατος.

δίκαιος, δικαιό-τερος, δικαιό-τατος.
πονηρός, πονηρό-τερος, πονηρό-τατος.
θαυμαστός, θαυμαστό-τερος, θαυμαστό-τατος.
δῆλος, δηλό-τερος, δηλό-τατος.

-os after a short syllable.

σοφός, σοφώ-τερος, σοφώ-τατος. κενός, κενώ-τερος, κενώ-τατος. φοβερός, φοβερώ-τερος, φοβερώ-τατος. φανερός, φανερώ-τερος, φανερώ-τατος. χαλεπός, χαλεπώ-τατος.

Obs. The change of o into w, is made to prevent the concurrence of four short syllables. Hence o, after a doubtful vowel considered long, remains unchanged; but if considered short, the o is changed into ω; thus, ἔντιμος, has ἐντιμότερος; and ἰσχυρός has ἰσχυρότερος; because s and v are considered long; but ἄγρεος has ἀγρεώτερος; and ἐκανὸς, ἐκανώτερος, &c., because the s and α are considered short.

- 4. $-\omega \nu$ and $-\eta \nu$ add to the nominative plural masculine; as, άφοων, Ν. Ρ. άφρονες, άφρονέσ-τερος, &c. τέρην, " τερένες, τερενέσ-τερος, &c.

Exc. But πέπων makes πεπαίτερος, &c. and πίων,—πιότερος, πιότατος.

§ 53. COMPARISON BY -lw AND .107105.

1. Some adjectives in -05, derived from substantives, are compared by -iwv and -10705. In these the comparison is made, not from the adjective, but from the substantive from which it is derived; thus, καλός, beautiful, from κάλλος, beauty, καλλίων, κάλλιστος. εχθος, inimical, εχθός, enmity, εχθίων, εχθίωτος. οἰκτοςς, compassionate, οἰκτοςς, compassion, οἰκτίων, οἴκτιστος. αἰσχος, base, αἰσχος, baseness, αἰσχίων, αἴσχιστος. μῆκος, length, μηκίων, μήκιστος.

2. Some in -vs are compared both ways; as, βαθύς. deep, βαθύτεςος, βαθύτατος. and βαθίων, βάθιστος.

In like manner compare $\beta q \alpha \delta \delta s$, slow; $\tau \alpha \chi \delta s$, swift; $\pi \alpha \chi \delta s$, thick; $\gamma \lambda \nu \pi \delta s$, sweet; $\delta \kappa \delta s$, quick; &c.

3. ράδιος, easy, has ραΐων, ραΐστος; or, with subscribed, ράων, ράστος.

Note. Some of these, and of others compared in this way, are occasional-§ 54. IRREGULAR COMPARISON.

The following adjectives are irregular in their comparison; viz.

§ 55. DEFECTIVE COMPARISON.

Some adjectives in the comparative and superlative degree, have no positive, but are formed from

1. NOUNS; as,

βασιλεύς, πέοδος, Θεός,	a king; gain; God;	βασιλεύτερος, περδίων, θεώτερος,	βασιλεύτατος. κ έφδιστος.

                            έλαχιστότερος.
ποῶτος, first,
                            πρωτίστος.

Some words ending in η_s , of the first declension, are compared; thus, (see § 49. Obs.)

ύβριστής, an insolent man, ύβριστό-τερος, -τατος. πλεονέκτης, an avaricious man. πλεονεκτίστατος.

§ 56. DIALECTS OF COMPARISON.

1. The Attics compare many adjectives in -0ς, -ης, and ξ, by .lστεφος -lστατος, .αlτεφος .αlτατος, and-έστεφος -έστατος ; as, λάλος, loquacious, λαλίσ-τεφος, -τατος.

φίλος, friendly, φιλαί τεφος, -τατος.
by Syncope, φίλ-τεφος, -τατος and φίλιστες σπουδαίος, diligent, σπουδαιέσ-τεφος, -τατος.

äφθονος, not envying,	ὰφθονέσ-τερος,	-τατος.
παλαιός, old,	παλαί-τερος,	-τατος.
γεραιός, an old man,	γεραί-τερος,	-τατος.
ἄρπαξ, rapacious,	άρπαγίσ-τερος,	-τατος.
πλεονέχτης, avaricious,	πλεονεχτίσ-τερος,	. τατος.
ψεύδης, false,	ψευδίσ.τερος,	-τατος.

2. Dialects of particular comparatives and superlatives, are, for *κρείσσων, I. and D. *κρέσσων, better; χείζων, P. χερείων, I. dat. χέρηϊ, acc. χέρηα, nom. plur. χέρηες; —μείζων, I. μέζων, D. μάσσων, greater; with others which may be learned by practice in reading.

§ 57. NUMERALS.

Numbers are of two classes, the Cardinal and the Ordinal. The Cardinal answer to the question, how many? as, one, two, &c. The Ordinal answer to the question, which of the number? as, first, second, third, &c.

Distributives have no separate form in Greek. The meaning of these is expressed by the cardinal numbers, sometimes compounded with σὐν; as, σύνδυο, σύντρεις &c.; bini, terni;—and sometimes preceded by κατά, ἀνὰ, &c.

I. THE CARDINAL NUMBERS.

1. Ets, one, has the singular number only, and is thus declined;

N. sīc,	μlα,	Ëν,
G. Erds,	μιᾶς,	Erós.
D. Evi,	μιᾶ,	٤٧١,
Α ένα.	ulav.	٤v.

In like manner the two compounds, οὐδ-είς, οὐδε-μία, οὐδ-έν, plur. οὐδ-ένες, -εμίαι, -ένα. μηδ-είς, μηδε-μία, μηδ-έν, ., μηδ-ένες, -εμίαι, -ένα.

Obs. 1. From εξς, one, is formed the adjective ετεξος, either, one, other; and from οὐδεις, μηδεις, are formed οὐδειεξος, μη-δίτεξος, neither.

Obs. 2. Eis is sometimes used for the ordinal πρῶνιος, an Matth. 28. 1. Mark 16. 2. This is usually considered a He-braism, but it is sometimes used by the Greeks also; Herod. iv. 161, Thucyd. iv. 115. Also in Latin, Cic. Sen. 5. "Uno et octogessimo Anno."

2. Δίω, two, has properly the dual only; thus,

N. A. $\delta i\omega$, G. D. $\delta voi\nu$ and $\delta vei\nu$, $\}$ for all genders.

- Obs. 3. The plural forms, G. $\delta v \tilde{\omega} r$, D. $\delta v \sigma t$, are sometimes used; $\delta \dot{v} \sigma$, $t w \sigma$, is indeclinable; $\ddot{\alpha} \mu \phi \omega$, b a t h, is declined like $\delta \dot{v} \omega$.
- 3. Τρείς, three, and τέσσαρες, four, are thus declined, Plur. 10875, three.

Ν. Α. τρεῖς, τρεῖς, τρία, G. τριῶν, τριῶν, τριῶν, τριῶν, D. τρισί, τρισί, τρισί.

Plur. τέσσαφες, four.

Ν. τέσσαφες, τέσσαφες, τέσσαφα, G. τεσσάφων, τεσσάφων, τεσσάφων, D. τέσσαφσι, τέσσαφσι, τέσσαφαι, Α. τέσσαφας, τέσσαφας, τέσσαφα.

4. The Cardinal numbers from πέντε, five, to ξχατον, a hundred, are indeclinable.

5. After éxator the larger numbers are regular plural adjectives of the first and second declension; as,

M. F. N. διακόσιαι. διακόσια, two hundred. · διακόσιοι, τριακόσιοι, τριακόσιαι, τριακόσια, three hundred. xihia, a thousand. glhioi, ylhiai, δισχίλιοι, δισχίλιαι, δισχίλια, two thousand. μύριοι, μύριαι, μύοια, ten thousand. δισμύριαι. δισμύρια. twenty thousand. δισμύριοι,

Obs. 4. In the composition of numbers, either the smaller precedes, and the two are joined by και; or the greater precedes, in which case the και is generally omitted; thus, πέντε και είκοσι, οι είκοσι πέντε, twenty-five; πέμπτος και είκοστός, or είκοστὸς πέμπτος, twenty-fifth. When three numbers are reckoned together, the greatest comes first, and so on in succession, with the conjunction και; as, νηες έκατὸν και είκοσι και έπτά, a hundred and twenty-seven ships.

Obs. 5. Instead of the numbers compounded with eight or nine, more frequent use is made of the circumlocution ένός (or μιᾶς) δέοντος, &c. thus νῆες μιᾶς δέονται εἴκοσι, twenty ships wanting one, i. e. nineteen ships; ἔτεα δυῶν δέοντα εἴκοσι, twenty years wanting two, i. e. eighteen years.

§ 58. II. ORDINAL NUMBERS.

The Ordinal numbers are formed from the Cardinal. All under 20, except second, seventh, and eighth, end in -105; from 20 upwards all end in -00765, and, in their inflection, are regular adjectives of the first and second declension; thus, πρῶτος, πρώτη, πρῶτον, first.

(πρότεφος, πρότεφα, πρότεφον, first of the two.) δεύτεφος, δεύτεφα, δεύτεφον, second.
τρίτος, τρίτη, τρίτον, &c. third.

Obs. 1. In order to express half, or fractional numbers in money, measures, and weights, the Greeks used words compounded of $\eta \mu \iota$, half, and the name of the weight, &c. $(\mu \nu \tilde{\alpha}, \delta \delta \delta \lambda \dot{\nu}_{\varsigma}, \tau \dot{\alpha} \lambda \alpha \nu \tau \sigma_{r})$ having the adjective termination σ_{r} , ω_{r} , $\alpha i \sigma_{r}$, appended to it, and placed before the Ordinal number, of which the half is taken; as, $\tau \varrho \dot{\tau} \tau \sigma_{r}$ $\dot{\eta} \mu \iota \tau \dot{\alpha} \lambda \alpha \nu \tau \sigma_{r}$, $2\frac{1}{2}$ talents; i. e. the first a talent, the second a talent, the third a half talent, and so of others. In like manner the Latin Sestertius, $2\frac{1}{2}$ Asses by Syncope from Semistertius; the first an As, the second an As, the third a half As, (tertius semis).

From this must be distinguished the use of the same compound word in the plural, preceded by the Cardinal number; thus, τρία ἡμιτάλαντα, not 2½ talents, but 3 half talents, or one and a half.

Obs. 2. From the Ordinal numbers are formed numerals in -αιος, expressing "on what day;" as, δευτεφαίος, on the second day; τριταίος, on the third day, &c.

§ 59. OF THE GREEK NOTATION OF NUMBERS.

The Greeks used the letters of the alphabet, to denote numbers, in three different ways.

- 1. To express a small series of numbers, each letter was reckoned according to its order in the alphabet; as, A, 1, B, 2, E, 5, Ω , 24. In this manner the books of Homer's Iliad and Odyssey are distinguished. The technical syllable HNT, will assist the memory in using this kind of notation; for if the alphabet be divided into four equal parts, H will be the first letter of the second part, that is 7; N, of the third, or 13; and T of the fourth, or 19.
- 2. The capital letters were used, in denoting larger series of numbers, thus; I, I, II for πέντε, 5, Δ for δέκα, 10, H for Ηεκατὸν, 100, X for χίλιοι, 1000, and M for μύφιοι 10,000. A large II round any of these characters, except I, denoted five times as much as that character represented; as, , 50.
- 3. To express the 9 units, the 9 tens, and the 9 hundreds, the Greeks divided the alphabet into three parts; but, as there are only 24 letters, they used ϵ' , called $\epsilon\pi t\sigma\eta\mu\nu\nu$, for 6; ϵ' , or ϵ' , called ϵ' and ϵ' , called ϵ' and ϵ' for 90. In using this kind of notation, the memory will be assisted by the technical syllable ϵ' that is, ϵ' , denotes 1; ϵ' , 10; and ϵ' , 100. It is to be observed, also, that all the numbers under 1000, are denoted by letters with a small mark like an accent, over them; and that a similar mark placed under any letter, denotes that it represents so many thousands.

TABLE OF NUMERALS.

3,000		τρισχιλιοστός.
4,000	δ, τετρακισχίλιοι	τετρακισγιλιοστός.
5,000	ε, πεντακισχίλιοι	πεντακισχιλιοστός.
6,000	5, έξακισχίλιοι	έξακισχιλιοστός.
7,000	ζ, έπτακισχίλιοι	έπτακισχιλιοστός.
8,000	η, δγδοκισχίλιοι	δγδοκισχιλιυστός.
9,000	θ, έννεακισχίλιοι	έννεακισχιλιοστός.
10,000	ι, μύριοι	μυριοστός.
20,0:10	κ, δισμύριοι	δισμυριοστός.
50,000	ν, πεντακισμύριοι	πεντακισμυριοστός.
00,000	ρ. δεκακισμύριοι	δεκακισμυριοστός.

Thus the number 1841 is $\alpha \omega \mu' \alpha$.

Obs. From the Cardinal numbers are formed

OTHER CLASSES OF NUMERALS; viz.

1st. The Numeral adverbs; as, δις, twice, from δύο; -τρις, hrice, from τρεῖς; and from the others, by adding the termination *κις, -άκις, οτ -τάκις; as, τεσσαράκις, έξάκις, έκατοντάκις; our times, six times, a hundred times.

2. Multiple numbers in πλόος, contracted πλοῦς; as, διπλόος, wo-fold.; τριπλόος, three-fold; τετραπλόος, four-fold.

3d. Proportionals in πλάσιος; as, τριπλάσιος, three times as uch.

4th. Substantives in -άς, -άδος, which express the name of he several numbers; as, μονάς, Gen. -άδος, the number one, mity: δυάς, the number two; δεκάς, the number ten; εἰκάς, he number twenty; τριακάς, the number thirty, &c.

5th. The Distributives, answering to the question, in how sany parts? are formed in -χα; as, δίχα, τρίχα, τέτραχα, πέναχα; in two parts, in three parts; &c., and connected with these such adverbs; as, τριχή, trebly, τριχοῦ, in three places, &c.

§ 60. OF THE PRONOUN.

A Pronoun is a word used instead of a noun. Pronouns may be divided into Personal, Possessive, Definite, Reflexive, Reciprocal, Demonstrative, Relative, Interrogative, and Indefinite. (If these the Personal only are substantives; the rest are adjectives.

I. PERSONAL PRONOUNS.

The Substantive or Personal Pronouns are $\dot{\epsilon}\gamma\dot{\omega}I$, $\sigma\dot{v}$ thou, $\sigma\dot{v}$ of himself, of herself, of itself. They are of all genders; and are thus declined:

•	έγώ, Ι.
Sing.	Dual.	Plural.
Ν. ἐγώ,	L	Ν. ήμεῖς.
G. ἐμοῦ or μοῦ,	N.A. või or võ,	G. nuw,
 D. ἐμοὶ or μοί, A. ἐμὸ or μέ. 	G. D. vàiv or vậv.	D. ἡμῖν, A. ἡμᾶς.

Ν. V. σύ,		Ν. V. δμεῖς,
G. σοῦ,	N. A. V. σφῶι or σφῷ,	G. vµwr,
D. σοί,	G. D. σφῶιν οι σφῷν.	D. δμῖν,
Α. σέ.		Α. δμᾶς.

D. ol,	G. D. σφίν.	D. oploi,
A. 8.	1	Α. σφᾶς.
01 · m	. 11 1 2 2 2 4 1	1

- Obs. 1. The monosyllabic forms $\mu o \bar{v}$, $\mu o l$, $\mu e l$, are always enclitic, § 212. and are never governed by a preposition.
- Obs. 2. In the dual, the forms $\nu\tilde{\varphi}$, $\nu\tilde{\varphi}\nu$, of the first person, and $\sigma\varphi\tilde{\varphi}$, $\sigma\varphi\tilde{\varphi}\nu$, of the second, are Attic. Other dialects make $\nu\omega$ and $\sigma\varphi\omega$ by Apocope for $\nu\tilde{\omega}\tilde{\epsilon}$ and $\sigma\varphi\tilde{\omega}\tilde{\epsilon}$.
- Obs. 3. The third personal pronoun, like sui in Latin, wants the nominative Singular, and is commonly used by the Attic prose writers in a reflexive sense; i. e. it refers to the subject of the proposition in which it stands; or of the foregoing, if the second be sufficiently connected with it. Thus used, it is translated of himself, of herself, &c. In Homer and Herodotus, and the Attic poets, it is more frequently used as the pronoun of the third person, for the nominative of which they use the relative δc ; as, δc $\delta c \rho \eta$, he said. This pronoun, however, is but little in use, the Definite $\alpha \delta r \delta c$, δ 62. and the Reflexive $\delta \alpha \nu r \sigma \delta$, δ 63., being used instead of it. The nominative (not now in use) appears to have been anciently δ , from which was derived the Latin is. A neuter form of the nominative and Accusative plural, $\sigma c \delta a$, occurs in Herodotus.

§ 61. II. POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS.

The Possessive Pronouns are derived from the substantive.

1. In Signification they correspond to the Genitive of their primitives, for which they may be considered as a substitute, thus, ὁ ἀδελφὸς ἐμοῦ, the brother of me, and ὁ ἐμὸς ἀδελφὸς, my brother, are synonymous expressions.

2. In form they are regular adjectives of the first and second declension, and are declined like *alos, § 45. They are derived as follows,

From èμè comes èμὸς,
                                -ὴ,
                                       .dv, my.
       σέ,
                   σὸς,
                                 σή,
                                       \sigma \delta \nu, thy.
       8, δν, his.
                   δς,
                                 θ, νῶï, νωίτερ-ος,
                                       -ov, our, i. e. of us two.
                                 -α,
       σφῶϊ,
                 σφωίτες-ος, -α,
                                       -or, your, i. e. of you two.
       ήμεῖς,
                  ήμέτεο-ος,
                                 -α,
                                       .ov, our.
       ύμεῖς.
                  ύμέτες-ος,
                                 -α,
                                       .ov, your.
       σφεῖς,
                  σφέτεο-ος,
                                 -α,
                                       .ov, their.
            Doric σφ-δς.
                                 ·n.

Obs. To this class also belong ἡμεδαπός, one of our country; ἡμεδαπός, one of your country. But ποδαπός; of what country? more properly belongs to the interrogative; and ἀλλοδαπός, one of another country, to the indefinite pronouns.

§ 62. III. THE DEFINITE PRONOUN.

The Definite Pronoun autos is used to give a closer or more definite signification of a person or thing.

This pronoun has three different significations.

- 1. In the nominative it adds the force of the English self to the word to which it belongs; as, εγώ αὐτὸς, I myself; σύ αὐτὸς, thou thyself; αὐτὸς, he himself. Also in the oblique cases when it begins a clause; as, αὐτὸν ἑώρακα, I have seen the person himself.
- 2. In the oblique cases after another word in the same clause, it is used for the third personal pronoun, and signifies him, her, it, them; as, οὸχ ἑώρακας αὐτὸν, thou hast not seen him.
- 3. With the article before it, it signifies the same; as, δ αδτός ἄνθρωπος, the same man.
- Obs. In the last sense when the article ends with a vowel, it often combines with the pronoun, forming one word; thus, ταὐτοῦ for τοῦ αὐτοῦ; ταὐτῷ for τῷ αὐτῷ; ταὐτῷ for τὰ αὐτὰ, &c. When thus combined the neuter ends in ον as well as ο. The combined ταὐτῷ and ταὐτὰ must be carefully distinguished from ταύτᾳ and ταῦτα, parts of οδιος, § 65. The former has the Spiritus lenis (') over the v, the latter has not.
 - 4. adròs is thus declined.

Singular.	Dual.	Plural.
N. $\alpha \delta \tau - \delta \varsigma$, $-\dot{\eta}$, $-\delta$, G. $\alpha \delta \tau - \delta \tilde{v}$, $-\tilde{\eta} \varsigma$, $-\tilde{v}$, $-\tilde{v}$, $-\tilde{\psi}$, $-\tilde{\psi}$, $-\tilde{\psi}$, A. $\alpha \delta \tau - \delta \nu$, $-\dot{\eta} \nu$, $-\delta$.	αὐτ-ώ, -ά, -ώ, G. D.	N. adr-ol, -al, -d, G. adr-wr, -wr, -wr, D. adr-ois, -ais, -ois, A. adr-ods, -ds, -d.

In the same manner are declined:

čillos,	ăllη,	άλλο,	another.
δς,	η,	δ,	who, which.
ėxeivoς,	έχείνη.	έχεῖνο .	that.

§ 63 IV. REFLEXIVE PRONOUNS.

REFLEXIVE PRONOUNS are such as relate to the subject of the proposition in which they stand.

1. The Reflexive pronouns are formed from the accusative singular of the personal pronouns with the oblique cases of αὐτὸς. They are έμαυτοῦ, of myself; σεαυτοῦ, of thyself; έαυτοῦ, of himself, and are thus declined.

Singular.			Plura	al.
D.	έαυτ-οῦ, έαυτ-ῷ, έαυτ-ὸν.	-ñ,		D.	έαυτ-ῶν, έαυτ-οῖς, έαυτ-οὺς,	-αĩς,	-oĩς,

2. In the same manner are declined έμαυτοῦ and σεαυτοῦ, but, in the Singular number only. In the Dual and Plural the parts of the compound are used separately, as, ἡμῶν αὐτῶν, of ourselves.

3. Homer never uses the compound form even in the singular; but, έμε αὐτὸν; σε αὐτὸν, &c.

4. The contracted forms σαυτοῦ and αὐτοῦ, &c., are often used for σεαυτοῦ and ἐαυτοῦ.

5. Sometimes in the Singular, and often in the plural, &avτοῦ is used by the Attics in the first and second, as well as in the third person.

§ 64. V. RECIPROCAL PRONOUN.

The RECIPROCAL PRONOUN indicates a mutual relation between different persons, expressed in English by the phrase one another.

This pronoun is formed from allos, wants the singular, and is thus declined:

Dual.	Plural.
G. $\frac{\partial \lambda}{\partial \lambda} \frac{\partial \lambda}{\partial \lambda} - \alpha i \nu$, $-\alpha i \nu$	ν, D. άλληλ-οις, -αις, .οις,
The Dual is seldom us	ed.

§ 65. VI. DEMONSTRATIVE PRONOUNS.

The Demonstrative Pronouns are such as point out with precision a person or thing already known. They are, οδτος, αβτη, τοῦτο, δδε, ηδε, τόδε, <math>β this, the latter, the one. ἐκεῖνος, ἐκείνη, ἐκεῖνο, that, the former, the other 1. °Ods, η ds, τ 6ds, this, is simply the article δ , η , τ 0, rendered emphatic by the enclitic δ s annexed through all its cases, \S 42. Obs. 3. 'Exsivos is declined like $\alpha \delta \tau \delta s$, \S 62. 4. obvos, like the article, takes the initial τ in the oblique cases, and is thus declined:

Singular.
αθτη, ταύτης, ταύτη, ταύτη ν,	τοῦτο, τούτου, τούτφ, τοῦτ ο .
Dual.
ταύτα, ταύται»	τούτω, τούτοι».
Plural. αδται, τούτων, ταύταις, ταύτας.	ταῦτα, τούτων, τούτοις, ταῦτα.
	αδιη, ταύτης, ταύτη, ταύτην, Dual. ταύτα, ταύταιν Plural. αδται, τούτων, Obs. The correlatives τοσοῦτος, τοιοῦτος, and τηλικοῦτος, have either or or o in the Nom. and Acc. singular neuter; thus,

Ν. τοσούτος, τοσαύτη, τοσούτον οι τοσούτο,

G. τοσούτου, &c.

- 2. Among the Attics the demonstratives were rendered emphatic by adding * to the termination; as, οδισσι, τουτουί, τουτωί, &c. But when the final vowel is α, or ο, or ε, it is dropped, and * put in its place; thus, δδε, τοῦτο, ταῦτα, with the emphatic * are written όδι, τουτί, ταυτί. When γε οr δε follow the demonstrative, the * is placed after them, e. g. τοῦτό γε with * becomes τουτογί. A similar emphasis is expressed in Latin by annexing the syllables -met, -te, -ple, -ce; as, egomet, tute, meapte, hicce, &c. The * added by the Attic and Ionian writers to the Dative Plural, however, is not emphatic but merely euphonic.
- 3. The emphatic is annexed also to the compounds of obios, and a few of the correlatives; such as τοσοῦτος, τοιοῦτος, τηλικοῦτος, τόσος, &c., making τοσουτοσί, &c.

§ 66. VII. RELATIVE PRONOUN.

The RELATIVE PRONOUN is one that relates to a noun or pronoun going before it, called the antecedent.

- The relative δς, η, δ, who, which, that, is declined like αὐτὸς, (§ 62. 4.) It is rendered emphatic by adding the enclitic syllable πες; as, ὅσπες, ηπες, ὅπες.
- 2. The Ionic and Doric writers, and the Attic tragedians, instead of $\ddot{\theta}_{5}$, use the article $\dot{\theta}_{1}$, $\dot{\tau}\dot{\theta}_{2}$, as a relative.
- 3. Instead of δs , the compound pronoun $\delta \sigma r_i s$ is used as a relative after $\pi \tilde{\alpha} s$, or any word in the singular expressing an indefinite number; and $\delta \sigma \sigma_i$, after the same words in the plural; as, $\pi \tilde{\alpha} s$ $\delta \sigma r_i s$, every one who; $\pi \dot{\alpha} r r s s$ $\delta \sigma \sigma_i$, all who.

6 67. VIII. INTERROGATIVE PRONOUN.

The Interrogative Pronoun is used in asking a question.

1. The interrogative $\tau \ell s$, $\tau \ell$; who? which? what? has the acute accent on the first syllable, and is thus declined:

Singular.	Dual.	Plural.
Ν. τίς, τίς, τί, G. τίνος, τίνος, τίνος,	tive, tive, tive,•	N. τίνες, τίνες, τίνα, G. τίνων, τίνων, τίνων, D. τίσι, τίσι, τίσι,
Α. τίνα, τίνα, τί.	דויסוי, דויסוי, דויסוי.	A. tivas, tivas, tiva.

In the same manner decline oris, ovies and unites.

2. The interrogative τις has its responsive δστις, which is thus used, τις ἐποίησε; who did it? οὐκ οίδα ὅστις ἐποίησε, I know not who did it. The responsive ὅστις is declined as follows:

	Singular.
Ν. δστις,	ήτις,	δ,τι,
G. οδτινος,	ήστινος,	οδτι νος,
D. ώτινι,	ήτινι,	φτιν ι ,
A. δντινα,	ήντινα,	δ,τι.
	Dual.
N. A. Stive,	હૈરાજ્ક,	űtt re,
G. D. Sirtiroir,	હોંગરામ ા ઝ,	Olytlyoly

Plural.

N.	oltives,	altives,	άτινα,
G.	ώντινων,	δυτινουν,	δυτινω ν ,
D.	οίστισι,	αξστισιζ	οἶστισι,
A.	συστινάς.	ἄστινας,	άτινα.

3. Instead of δστις, Homer uses δτις, declined like τίς as above.

4. There appears to have been among the ancient Greeks another interrogative pronoun, $\pi \delta \varsigma$, $\pi \dot{\eta}$, $\pi \delta$, and its responsive $\delta \pi \delta \varsigma$, $\delta \pi \dot{\eta}$, $\delta \pi \delta$, which have become obsolete, except in two cases, now used adverbially; viz. $\pi o \tilde{v}$, where; $\pi \tilde{\eta}$, in what way? and hence the responsives $\delta \pi o \tilde{v}$ and $\delta \pi \tilde{\eta}$. From these are formed the interrogative $\pi \delta \tau \epsilon \varrho o \varsigma$, $-\alpha$, -o r, which of the two? and its responsive $\delta \pi \delta \tau \epsilon \varrho o \varsigma$, $-\alpha$, -o r, which of the two; with several other adverbs and adjectives still in use; each interrogative having always its own responsive; as,

INTERROGATIVES.

RESPONSIVES.

Adj. notos, of what kind? ontos, of what kind. $\pi \delta \sigma \sigma s$, of what number? onto σs , of what number. $\pi \eta \lambda \iota \iota \iota \sigma s$, of what age? onto σs , which of the two? onto σs , which of the two.

Adv. $\pi \tilde{\omega} s$, how? of what σs , how. &c. thus,

Πηλίκος έστι; of what age is he? ουν οίδα όπηλίκος. I know not of what age. In the same manner the responsives are used without an interrogation preceding; as, ἐπελάθετο ὁποῖος ἡν, "he forgets of what kind he was." Το these also may be added ποδαπός, of what country?

§ 68. IX. INDEFINITE PRONOUNS.

The Indefinite Pronouns are such as denote persons or things indefinitely. They are:

τίς, τίς, τί, some one.
δείνα, δείνα, δείνα, some one, such an one.
αλλος, αλλη, αλλο, another.
ἔτερος, ἔτερα, ἔτερον, other, a different one, another.
Το which may be added the following negatives; viz.

οὔτις,	οὔτις,	οδτι,	no one.
οὐδείς,	οὐδεμία,	οὐδέν,
μήτις,	μήτις,	μήτι,	no one.
μηδείς,	μηδεμία.	μηδέν,

- 1. The indefinite τl_5 has the grave accent on the last syllable, to distinguish it from τl_5 interrogative, which has the acute accent on the first, the former is enclitic, § 212, the latter is not.
- 2. The indefinite ôsīra, some one, of all genders, and always with the article prefixed, is declined like a noun of the third declension: thus.

Sing.	Dual.	Plural.
N. deīva, or delç, G. delvatos, or deīvos, D. delvati, or deīvi, A. deīva.	N. A. deive, G. D. delvoiv.	Ν. δείνες, G δείνων, D. δείσι, Α. δείνας.

Δεῖνα is sometimes indeclinable; as, G. τοῦ δεῖνα, D. τῷ δεῖνα. Λλλος is declined like αὐτὸς, \S 62. 4; ε̃ιερος like φανερὸς, \S 45. 2.

Obs. 1. All words used interrogatively are also used indefinitely, but generally with the accent changed; thus, πόσος; how great? how many? ποσός, of a certain size or number.

INTERROGATIVES.

INDEFINITES.

ποῖος; of what kind?
ποιὸς, of a certain kind, such.
πηλίκος; how old? how large? πηλίκος, of a certain size or age.

§ 69. CORRELATIVE PRONOMINAL ADJECTIVES.

1. The Greek language has likewise correlative pronouns, each pair of which has a mutual relation. The latter of the two is expressed in English by as.

τόσος, ὅσος, (Lat. tantus, quantus,) so great, as.
τοῖος, οἶος, (Lat. talis, qualis,) such, as.
τηλίκος, ἡλίκος, of the same age, as; of the same size, as.
```

2. When the correlation is more expressly designated, expressing just as great as, exactly as great as, the former pronoun ($\tau\delta\sigma\sigma\varsigma$, $\tau\sigma\delta\varsigma$, $\tau\eta\lambda\iota\kappa\sigma\varsigma$,) has $\delta\varepsilon$, or $\sigma\delta\iota\sigma\varsigma$ attached to it, and the latter has $\delta\kappa$ ' (from $\delta\pi\eta$,) prefixed; as, τοσόσδε, δύπόσος, τοιόσδε, δόποῖος. τηλικόσδε, δόπηλίκος. τορούτος, δόπηλικός.

Obs. 1. $\mu\nu$ and $\nu\nu$, are used for the accusative in all genders and numbers; so also is $\sigma\varphi\delta$, among the poets, i. e. for $\alpha\partial\nu - \partial\nu$, $-\dot{\gamma}\nu$, $-\dot{\delta}$, and $\alpha\partial\nu - \partial\dot{\nu}$, $-\dot{\alpha}\varepsilon$, $-\dot{\alpha}\varepsilon$,

Obs. 2. The adjective pronouns are inflected in the different dialects according to the models of the first and second declensions. Other peculiarities may be learned by practice; as, for ημέτερος, -α, -ον, ουν; D. άμως, -α, -ον; for διάτερος, D. διέν, D. διέν, I. διέο, P. διτέω; for φέτερος, D. σφός; for οδτίνος, A. διον, D. διέν, I. διέο, P. διτέω; for φίτινος and τίνος, A. τοῦ, I. τέο, D. τεῦ; for τίνι and τίνι, A. τῷ, I. τέως; for τίνως, I. τέως; for τίνως is τίνως. I. τέως:

for $\tau \iota \nu d$, A. $\check{\alpha} \iota \tau a$, D. $\check{\alpha} \sigma \sigma a$; for $\sigma \delta_S$, $\sigma \dot{\eta}$, $\sigma \delta \nu$, thy, D. $\tau \epsilon \delta_S$, $\tau \epsilon \dot{\alpha}$, $\tau \epsilon \delta \nu$; for δ_S , $\mathring{\eta}$, $\delta \nu$, I. $\dot{\epsilon} \delta_S$, $\dot{\epsilon} \dot{\eta}$, $\dot{\epsilon} \delta \nu$, his, &c.: this form occurs only in the singular number.

§ 71. OF THE VERB.

A VERB is a word that expresses an action or state.

- Obs. 1. The use of the verb in simple propositions is to affirm. That of which it affirms is called its subject, and if a noun or pronoun, is in the nominative: But when the verb is in the infinitive its subject is in the accusative.
- 1. Verbs are of two kinds, Transitive and Intransitive; (also called Active and Neuter.*)
- 2. A Transitive verb expresses an act done by one person or thing to another. In Greek it has three forms, Active, Middle, and Passive. § 74.
- 3. An Intransitive verb expresses being, or a state of being, or action confined to the actor. It is commonly without the passive form § 74. Obs. 2.
- Obs. 3. Transitive and Intransitive verbs may always be distinguished, thus: a transitive verb always requires an

Instead of the terms active and neuter formerly used to denote these two classes of verbs, the terms Transitive and Intransitive are here preferred as being more expressive and appropriate, and in order to relieve the term "active" from the ambiguity created by using it, both as the designation of a class of verbs and also as the name of a particular form of the verb called the active voice. To the latter of these only it is now applied in this work. Still, however, should any prefer the terms Active and Neuter, to designate these classes of the verb, they can easily be employed. Eng. Gr. App. 111.5.

^{*} These two classes comprehend all the verbs in any language. According to this division, Transitive verbs include those only which denote transitive action; i. e. action done by one person or thing to another, or which passes over, as the word signifies, from the actor to an object acted upon; as "Cæsar conquered Gaul," or "Gaul was conquered by Cæsar." Intransitive verbs on the other hand include all those which have nothing transitive in their meaning—nothing passing over from one person or thing to another, and consequently no relation to anything beyond their subject which they represent in a certain state or condition, and nothing more.

object to complete the sense; as, I love thee; the intransitive verb does not, but the sense is complete without such an object; as, I sit; I run.

Obs. 4. Many verbs considered intransitive in Greek are translated by verbs considered transitive in English; as, ἀνδάνω, I please; ὑπακόνω, I obey; ἀπείθω, I disobey; ἐμποδίζω, I hinder; ἐνοχλέω, I trouble; &c. In strict language, however, these and similar verbs denote rather a state than an act, and may be rendered by the verb to be and an adjective word; as, I am pleasing, obedient, disobedient, &c.

Obs. 5. Many verbs are used sometimes in a transitive, and sometimes in an intransitive sense; as, φθίνω, Tr. 1 destroy; Intr. I sink, or decay; φύζω, Tr. I put to flight, Intr. I flee. This change from a transitive to an intransitive sense, however, is generally indicated by a change from the active to the middle form of the verb; as, φαίνω, Active Tr. I shew; φαίνομαι, Mid. I shew myself, i. e. Intr. I appear. - See § 74. Note.

Obs. 6. Verbs usually intransitive become transitive when a word of similar signification with the verb itself is introduced as its object; as, τρέχωμεν τὸν ἀγῶνα, let us run the race.

Obs. 7. When a writer wishes to direct the attention not so much to a particular act, as to the employment or state of a person or thing, the object of the act not being important, is omitted, and the verb, though transitive, assumes the character of an intransitive: Thus when we say "the boy reads," nothing more is indicated than the present state or employment of the subject "boy," and the verb has obviously an intransitive sense. Still an object is implied. But when we say "the boy reads Homer," the attention is directed to the object "Homer" as well as to the act, and the verb has its proper transitive sense.

δ 72. DIFFERENT KINDS OF VERBS.

Though the division of Verbs into Transitive and Intransitive, comprehends all the verbs in any language, yet from something peculiar in their form or signification, they are characterized by different names expressive of this peculiarity. The most common of these are the following: viz. Regular, Irregular, Deponent, Defective, Redundant, Impersonal, Desiderative, Frequentative and Inceptive.

- 1. REGULAR VERBS are those in which all the parts are formed from the Root or stem, according to certain rules, $\S \S 93-97$, and 106-107.
- 2. IRREGULAR OF ANOMALOUS VERBS differ in some of their parts from the regular forms. § 112, 116, 117.
- 3. DEPONENT VERBS under a middle and passive form, have either an active or middle signification. § 113.
 - 4. DEFECTIVE VERBS want some of their parts.
- 5. REDUNDANT VERBS have more than one form of the same part.
- 6. Impersonal (or more properly Unipersonal) Verbs are used only in the third person singular. § 114.
- 7. Desideratives denote desire, or intention of doing. § 115. 1.
- 8. Frequentatives express repeated action. § 115. 2.
- 9. Incertives mark the beginning or continued increase of an action. § 115. 3.

§ 73. INFLECTION OF REGULAR VERBS.

To the inflection of verbs belong Voices, Moods, Tenses, Numbers and Persons.

The Voices in Greek are three, Active, Middle and Passive.

The Moods are five; the Indicative, Subjunctive, Optative, Imperative, and Infinitive.

The Tenses are nine; the Present, Imperfect, First Future, Second Future, First Arrist, Second Arrist, Perfect and Pluperfect; and in the passive voice, the Paulo-post-future or Future Perfect.

The Numbers are three; Singular, Dual and Plural.

The Persons are three; First, Second and Third.

The Conjugations or forms of inflection, are two, viz. the First of verbs in $-\omega$ and the Second of verbs in $-\mu$.

Obs. Some verbs appear in both forms; as, $\delta \epsilon_{ix} \nu \epsilon_{i\omega}$ and $\delta \epsilon_{ix} \nu \epsilon_{i\omega}$, I show. Some verbs are partly of the first conjugation and partly of the second; thus, $\delta u \ell \nu \omega$, I go, of the first: 2d Aorist, $\tilde{\epsilon} \delta \eta \nu$, I went. from $\delta \tilde{\eta} u_i$ of the second; $\gamma i \gamma \nu \omega \sigma x \omega$, I know; 2d Aor. $\tilde{\epsilon} \gamma \nu \omega \nu$, I knew. from $\gamma \nu \tilde{\omega} u_i$ of the second. Such verbs as these, however, though regular in each form, are generally reckoned among the irregular verbs.

§ 74. OF VOICE.

Voice is a particular form of the verb which shows the relation of the subject or thing spoken of to the action expressed by the verb.

In Greek the transitive or active verb has three voices, Active, Middle and Passive.

- Obs. 1. In all voices the Act expressed by the Transitive verb is the same, and in all. except sometimes the middle, is equally transitive; but in each, the act is differently related to the subject of the verb, as follows:
- 1. The Active Voice represents the subject of the verb as acting on some object; as, $\tau i \pi \tau \omega$ $\sigma \varepsilon$, I strike you.
- 2. The Middle Voice represents the subject of the verb as acting on itself, or in some way for itself; as, τίπτομαι, I strike myself; ἐβλαψάμην τον ποδά, I hurt my foot; ἀνησάμην ἵππον, I bought me a horse.

- 3. The Passive Voice represents the subject of the verb as acted upon; as, τύπτομαι, I am struck; ὁ ποῖς ἐβλάφθη, the foot—his foot—my foot was hurt.
- Obs. 2. Intransitive verbs from their nature do not admit a distinction of voice. They are generally in the form of the Active Voice, frequently in that of the Middle or Passive; but whatever be their form, their signification is always the same; as, $\theta\nu\eta\sigma\kappa\omega$ or $\theta\nu\eta\sigma\kappa\omega\mu\omega$, I die,
- Obs. 3, The Middle Voice, in Greek, is so called, because it has a middle signification between the Active and Passive Voices, implying neither action nor passion simply, but a union, in some degree, of both. Middle verbs may be divided into Five Classes, as follows:
- 1st. In Middle Verbs of the First Class, the action of the verb is reflected immediately back upon the agent; and hence verbs of this class are exactly equivalent to the Active Voice joined with the Accusative of the reflexive Pronoun; as. λοίω, I wash another; λούομαι, I wash myself; the same as λούω εμαυτόν.
- 2d. In Middle Verbs of the Second Class, the agent is the remote object of the action of the verb, with respect to whom it takes place; so that Middle Verbs of this class are equivalent to the Active Voice with the Dative of the reflexive Pronoun (ξμανιῷ, σεανιῷ, ξανιῷ); as, αίζεῖν, to take up any thing for another, in order to transfer it to another; αίζεῖσθαι, to take up in order to keep it for one's self, to transfer it to one's self. Hence verbs of this class carry with them the idea of a thing's being done for one's self.
- 3d. Middle Verbs of the Third Class express an action which took place at the command of the agent, or with regard to it; which is expressed in English by to cause. In other words, this class may be said to signify, to cause any thing to be done; as, γράφω. I write, γράφωμαι, I cause to be written; I cause the name, as of an accused person, to be taken down in writing by the magistrate before whom the process is carried, or simply, I accuse.
- 4th. The Fourth Class of Middle Verbs includes those which denote a reciprocal or mutual action; as, σπέτδευθω, to make libations along with another, to make mutual libations, i. e. to make a league; διαλύεσθω, to dissolve along with another, to dissolve by mutual agreement. To this class belong verbs signifying "to contract," "to quarrel," "to contend," &c.

5th. The Fifth Class comprehends Middle Verbs of the First Class, when followed by an Accusative, or some other Case; in other words, it embraces all those Middle Verbs which denote an action reflected back on the agent himself, and which are at the same time followed by an Accusative, or other case, which that action farther regards; as, ἀναμνάσθαι το, to recall any thing to one's own recollection.

Note. From the reflected nature of this Voice, many verbs, which are active or transitive in the active voice, may be rendered by a neuter or intransitive verb in the middle voice; as, $\sigma \tau \lambda \lambda \lambda \lambda_0$, I send, (viz. another;) $\sigma \tau \lambda \lambda \lambda \lambda_0 \lambda \lambda_0$, I send my lef, i. e. I go; $\delta \rho \gamma i \zeta \lambda_0$, I personke another; $\delta \rho \gamma i \zeta \lambda_0 \lambda \lambda_0$, I personke another; $\delta \rho \gamma i \zeta \lambda_0 \lambda_0$. In many instances, however, the relation to self is not so clearly distinguishable. This is particularly the case with the later writers, as, Plurarch, Herodian, &c. In the writings of the Ancients, Herodotus, Xenophon, and others, the distinction of the active and middle voices is much more strictly observed.

- Obs. 4. The future middle has usually an active, sometimes a passive sense, while the future passive has seldom, if ever, the signification of the Middle.
- Obs. 5. In many verbs the Perfect and Pluperfect and Aorists Passive are often used in a middle, as well as a passive sense. The regular middle form of such verbs is unusual or obsolete. In some it has a special signification; as, σιαληναι, to travel; σιείλασθαι, to array one's self.
- Obs. 6. The Perfect Middle is of rare occurrence, and when it does occur, it has often a completely active signification, the perfect active in that case not being often used. When both forms are used, the meaning of both is frequently the same, though the middle generally in such a case inclines to a neuter signification; as, κέκμηκα, I am weary; ἔστηκα, I stand, &c. In a few instances a marked difference of meaning is evident; as, δλώλεκα, I have destroyed; δλωλα, I have destroyed myself, i. e. I am undone; πέπεικα, I have persuaded; πέποιθα, I have persuaded myself, i. e. I am confident.

§ 75. OF MOODS.

Moon is the mode or manner of expressing the signification of the verb.

The moods in Greek are five, namely; the Indicative, Subjunctive, Optative, Imperative, and Infinitive.

- 1. The Indicative Mood is always used to express a thing as actual and certain; as, φιλέω, I love.
- Obs. 1. Hence the Indicative is often used in Greek where the subjunctive would be used in Latin; as, γιγνώσκεις τίς ἐστι; do you know who he is? Latin, An scis qui sit?
- 2. The Subjunctive and Optative Moods never represent a thing as actual and certain, but as contingent and dependent: that is, they do not represent a thing as what does, or did, or certainly will exist, but as what may, or can, or might exist.

The Subjunctive represents this contingency and dependence as present;—the Optative, as past.

- Obs. 2. The Subjunctive and Optative moods involve a complex idea including—1st and chiefly, the general idea of liberty or power, expressed by the English words, may, can, might, &c., from which the secondary ideas of contingency and futurity are derived; and 2d, the modification of this idea by the meaning of the verb common to all the moods; thus, He may, or can, expressed in Greek by the subjunctive form, represents the person he in possession of the general attribute of liberty or power. Combine with this the meaning of the verb, and then we have the general attribute expressed by the subjunctive form, restricted to the particular action or state expressed by the verb; as, he may write; he can walk; he may be loved.
- Obs. 3. The future indicative is often used in a subjunctive and also in an imperative sense, and hence in the futures there is neither subjunctive nor imperative mood. See Syntax, § 171. 5. and 172. Obs. 3.
- Obs. 4. The contingency of an action conceived of as past is not absolute, but relative to the knowledge of the speaker; thus, in the expression $\gamma \epsilon \gamma \phi \Delta \gamma \eta$, he may have written, the act, if done, is past, but of the fact the speaker is uncertain.

- 3. The Imperative Mood commands, exhorts, entreats, or permits; as, γράφε, write thou; ἔτω, let him go.
- Obs. 5. In the past tenses the Imperative expresses urgency of command, expedition or completion of action; as, ποιήσον, have done. In the perfect, moreover, the idea of permanent and completed action is implied; as, ἐμβεβλήσθω, let him have been cast, i. e. let him be cast speedily, and effectually, and continue so; ή θύρα κεκλείσθω, let the door be shut, and kept so.

Rem. The future indicative, the subjunctive, and the infinitive, are sometimes used imperatively. See Syntax of these moods.

4. The Infinitive Mood expresses the meaning of the verb in a general manner, without any distinction of person or number; as, to read, to speak, to be loved.

Obs. 6. Besides the common use of the infinitive as in Latin, it is completely a verbal noun, and it is inflected as such with the neuter article; as, ἐπ τοῦ ὁρᾶν γίγνεται τὸ ἐρᾶν, From seeing arises love. (See Syntax of the Infinitive.)

Obs. 7. Hence the Greek Infinitive supplies the place of those verbal nouns, called gerunds, and supines, in Latin, except the ablative gerund, which is expressed in Greek by a participle, agreeing with the subject of the verb with which it is connected; as, εδεργειῶν αὐτοῦ; ἐκτησάμην, Benefaciendo acquisivi eos.

Obs. 8. When the infinitive mood has a subject expressed or understood, it is rendered in Greek, as well as in Latin, in the sense of the indicative; as, ξφη σπουδάζειν, he said that he was in haste.

§ 76. OF THE TENSES.

Tenses are certain forms of the verb which serve to point out the distinctions of time.

The tenses in Greek are nine; the Present, the Imperfect, the First and Second Future, the First and Second Aorist, the Perfect, the Pluperfect, and in the Passive, the Paulo-post future.

- 1. The Present tense expresses what is going on at the present time; as, γράφω, I write or am writing.
- Obs. 1. The Present tense is used to express general truths, as, ζώα τρέχει, animals run. And also in historical narration it is often used with great effect for a preterite tense.
- II. The IMPERFECT represents an action as going on, but not completed, at some past time expressed or implied; as, εγραφον, I was writing, (e. g. when he came.)
- Obs. 2. From its expressing the continuance of an action, it is frequently used to express what was customary, or continued from time to time; as ὁ ἱπποκόμος τὸν ἔππον ἔτριβε, καὶ ἐκτένιζε πάσας ἡμέρας, the groom KEPT RUBBING the horse every day.
- Obs. 3. For the same reason it is used instead of the aorist, to express a past action, without reference to any specified time. When the action is continued, and not momentary, and when actions of both kinds are mingled in a narration, the continued action is often expressed by the imperfect, and the momentary by the aorist; as, εξέδραμε και καθυλάκτει, He RAN FORTH (the aorist,) and continued barking at them, (the imperfect,) τους μέν οὐν πελιαστάς ἐδέξαντο οἱ βάφβαφοι, καὶ ἐμάχοντο· επείδ ἐγγις ἢσαν οἱ ὁπλίται ἐτράποντο, καὶ οἱ πελιασταὶ εὐθὸς εἶποντο. The barbarians RECEIVED (aorist) the peltastæ and fought (imperf.) with them. But when the heavy-armed soldiers were near, they turned (aorist,) and the peltastæ immediately rursued them. (imperf.)
- III. The First and the Second Future, though different in form, are in signification the same. They are used to express an action which is to be performed at a future period.
- Obs. 5. Other varieties of future time are expressed by means of Auxiliary verbs. See § 77. Obs. 1.

- IV. The Aorists. The first and second aorists differ in form, but not in signification. They are used to represent an action or event simply as past, without reference to any fixed period of time in which it took place; as, έγραψα, I wrote.
- Obs. 6. From the indefinite nature of this tense, it is used by the Greeks to express what is usually or always true; and is rendered by the English expressions, 'usually,' 'to be wont,' 'to use;' as, τὰς τῶν φαύλων συνηθείας δλίγος χρόνος διέλυσε, A short time commonly dissolves the confederacies of the wicked. Σωκράτης ἐδίδαξε τοὺς μαθητὰς ὰμισθι, Socrates was wont to teach his disciples without any charge. In this signification, however, it differs from the imperfect, (Obs. 2.) inasmuch as the aorist denotes what is always customary; the imperfect what was customary during a specified period of time.
- Obs. 7. As the agrist does not, like the imperfect, express continuance, it is often used to express momentary action, and that in the same construction in which the imperfect is used to express continued action. (Obs. 3.)
- N. B. Though in the paradigm of the verb the full form of both the first and second acrist is usually given, it must be observed that when the first acrist is in use, the second is usually wanting, and vice versa. In a very few words only are both forms to be found, and even in these, the two forms for the most part belong to different dialects, ages, or styles.

The Second Future has scarcely an existence except in the passive voice. Liquid verbs never have it; and in the few instances in which it does occur in other verbs, it is by some considered merely as a dialect modification of the first.

- V. The Perfect tense represents an action just completed at the present time; or, if completed in past time, yet continued to and connected with the present in its consequences and attendant circumstances; as, γεγάμηκα, I have been married and still continue so; i. e. I am married.
- Obs. S. The aorist, εγαμήσα, signifies I was or have been married; without indicating whether the relation still subsists. Hence, the perfect is generally used to denote a lasting or permanent state, or an action finished in itself, and therefore often occurs in Greek, where, in English, we use the present; as, αμφιβέβηκας, thou protectest, (i. e. thou hast protected and still continuest to protect.) The continued force of the perfect accompanies it through all the moods; as, εἶπον τὴν θέφαν κε κλεῖσθαι, they gave directions for the door to be shut, and to be kept so; ὁ μέν ληστὴς οδιος ἐς τὸν Πυριφλεγέθοντα ἐμβεβλήσθω, Let this robber be cast into the Pyriphlegethon, and continue there.

- Obs. 9. In several verbs the perfect tense is always used to denote only the finished action, whose effect is permanent, and therefore, in English, is translated by the present of some other verb, which expresses the consequence of the action contained in the Greek verb. Thus, καλέω, I name, perf. pass. κέκλημαι, I have been named, and continue to be so, but commonly rendered, I am named, or my name is. So also, from κιάομαι, I acquire for myself, κέκιημαι, I possess; (i.e. I have acquired, and the acquisition continues mine;) μνάομαι, I call to my recollection, μέμνημαι, I remember.
- VI. The Pluperfect represents an action as completed at or before some past time expressed or implied, and if before it, still continued to, and connected with it, in itself or attendant circumstances; as, ἐγεγράφειν, I had written.
- Obs. 10. The Pluperfect bears the same relation to the perfect which the Imperfect does to the present; and hence whenever the perfect is rendered by the present (Obs 9.) the pluperfect will of course be rendered as the imperfect; as, δέσοικα, I fear, ἐδεδοίκειν, I feared.
- VII. The PAULO-POST, or THIRD FUTURE PASSIVE, as it is sometimes called by Grammarians, is, both in form and signification, compounded of the perfect and future, and denotes,
- 1. The continuance of an action, or state, in itself, or consequences; as, ή πολιτεία τελέω; κεκοσμήσεται, The city will continue to be completely organized; εγγράψεται, He shall continue enrolled. In thus expressing continuance, it agrees in signification with the perfect, and hence,
- 2. It is the natural future of those perfects which have acquired a separate meaning, of the nature of the present (Obs. 9.); as, λέλειπται, he has been, and continues left, i. e. he remains; Paulo-post F. λελείψεται, he shall remain; κέκτημαν,

ŀ

I have acquired and continue to retain, i. e. I possess; Paulopost future ε*τήσομαι, I shall possess.

3. It is frequently used to intimate that a thing will be done speedily; as, φράζε και πεπφάξεται, speak and it shall be done immediately.

§ 77. GENERAL OBSERVATIONS ON THE TENSES.

Obs. 1. Time is naturally divided into the Present, Past, and Future; and in each of these divisions an action may be represented either as incomplete and continuing, or as completed at the time spoken of; thus,

PRESENT.

Action continuing; as, γράφω, I write or am writing.

Action completed; as, γέγραφα, I have written.

Action continuing; as, ἔγραφον, I was writing.

Action completed; as, ἐγεγράφειν, I had written.

Action continuing; as, γράψω, I shall write.

Action completed; as, γεγράφως ἔσομαι, I shall have written.

Of these six divisions of time, it will be observed, that all except the last are expressed by distinct forms or tenses of the verb; and this last is also expressed by a distinct form in the passive voice, called the Paulo-post future. It may also be noticed that in each of these three divisions of time, by means of an auxiliary verb and the infinitive, an action may be represented as on the point of beginning; thus,

Present. μέλλω γράφειν, I am about to write.

Past. ἔμελλον γράφειν, I was about to write.

Future. μελλήσω γράφειν, I shall be about to write.

- Obs. 2. Besides these, the Greek has the advantage of a separate tense under the division of pust time, to intimate simply that the action is past without reference to any particular point of time at which it took place, and hence is denominated the Aorist, i. e. indefinite. This tense is rendered into English and Latin by the imperfect and perfect tenses in an indefinite sense.
- Obs. 3. The tenses, divided as above into three classes, in respect of time, are farther, with regard to their termination and use, divided into two classes or series, which may be denominated the Chief or Primary, and Secondary tenses; thus, Chief, or Primary.

Present.
Perfect.
Puperfect.
Pluperfect
1 Future.
2 Future.
2 A orist.

The chief tenses are employed in the direct address, to express actions as present or future. The secondary are used in the recital of these actions as past; and hence are sometimes denominated the Historical Tenses.

Obs. 4. In the English expression of the moods and tenses, &c. great precision cannot be expected. Their signification often varies according to the conjunctions and particles with which they are joined, and hence, a corresponding variety of translation becomes necessary. In consequence, also, of the number of independent forms being greater in the Greek verb than in the English, it is necessary to express certain tenses and moods, in the former, by a circumlocution in the latter: and sometimes, in order to give the precise idea of the Greek tense, a totally different construction must be adopted in the English sentence by which it is translated; thus, having no imperative in the past tense in English, the full force of the imperative forms, in the past tenses in Greek, must either be lost in the translation, or preserved at the expense, often, of a clumsy circumlocution. (§ 75, Obs. 5.) In like manner, if we were required to give a strict translation to an agrist participle, according to the idiom of our language, we must use, not a participle, but a tense of the verb; thus, τοῦτο ποιήσας ἀπηλθεν, is commonly rendered, having done this, he departed; when, in fact, it should be, when he did this, he departed. The ordinary rendering of the moods and tenses is the same in Greek as in Latin. This, as well as peculiarities of usage, is fully illustrated, §§ 75, 76.

§ 78. AUXILIARY VERBS.

Although the Greek language is richer than any other in independent forms, nevertheless a circumlocution is frequently made use of, by means of the auxiliary verbs εἶναι, κυρεῖν, ὁπάρςτεν, ἔχειν, εξειν, ε varily to supply deficient, or to avoid inharmonious forms; partly to strengthen the signification, and partly to express, with more minuteness and precision, the time and manner of action or state expressed by the verb; thus,

- 1. The subjunctive and optative in the perfect passive, are generally formed with strat and the perfect participle; the independent forms being rarely used. The same construction is sometimes used in the active voice.
- 2. To express a purpose of doing, or the proximity of an event, $\mu\ell\lambda\lambda\omega$, $\theta\ell\lambda\omega$ and $\ell\theta\ell\lambda\omega$, with the infinitive, are used; as, δ,τι μέλλεις λέγειν, whatever you are about to say.

- 3. Continuance, or a permanent state, combined with the various circumstances of commencement, simple existence, priority, energy, or accident, is expressed by γίνομαι, είμι, ὁπάοχω, κίςω, ἔχω, τυγχάνω, with a participle; as, ἐγένετο ἄνθοωπος ἀπεσταλμένος, there was a man sent.
- 4. The completion of an event is expressed by εἰμὶ, with a past participle. With such a participle, εἰμὶ in the past tense is equivalent to the pluperfect, but is much more emphatical; as, τοὺς συκοφάντας τῆς πολέως ἦν διώξας, he was after driving the informers from the city. In like manner, ἔσομαι in the future, with a past participle, expresses the future perfect in the indicative; the subjunctive and optative of which is supplied from the aorists and perfect; as, πεποιημένον ἔσται, it shall have been done, or it shall be done quickly.
- 5. Anticipated performance is expressed by φθάνω or πφοφθάνω, with a participle; as, Συντίθενται φθάσαι τι δράσαντες η παθείν, they conspire to do something to avoid suffering.
- 6. Secrecy, so as to escape not only the knowledge of others, but even a person's own consciousness, is expressed by λανθάνω, with a participle; as, ἔλαθον τινὲς ξενιάσαντες άγγέλλους, some persons entertained angels unawares.
- 7. A variety of other circumstances are expressed by joining appropriate adjectives and participles, with $\epsilon t \mu l$; as, $\varphi \alpha \nu \epsilon \varphi \delta s \tilde{\gamma} \nu \theta \delta \omega \nu$, he sacrificed openly.
- 8. Strong and earnest desire is expressed by the imperfect or second agrist of doesloon, agreeing with its subject, and commonly followed by the infinitive; the particle elie is sometimes joined with it and sometimes not; as, μή ὄφελον νικζίν, I wish that I had not conquered. Δίθ ὄφελον μετίναι, Would to God I had staid.

- 9. Imperious duty or necessity is expressed by verbal adjectives in $-\tau\epsilon o_{\mathcal{S}}$, (§ 80.) either agreeing with their substantives, or, what is more used, having their agents in the dative, and governing their objects as the verbs do from which they are derived; as, $\delta \alpha \alpha \theta \delta_{\mathcal{S}} \mu \delta v o_{\mathcal{S}} \tau \iota \mu \eta \tau \epsilon o_{\mathcal{S}}$, the good man alone must be honoured.
- 10. In some cases there appears to be a pleonasm in the use of certain anxiliaries, where there is really none; for by analyzing the expressions, we shall find every word having its own distinct force; thus, δκων εἶνωι ἐπιλαθόμενος, is incorrectly translated forgetting willingly. The full force of the words may be expressed in English, thus, willing to be after forgetting, according to the ancient Celtic idiom. (See No. 4. also Construction of the Participle.)

§ 79. PARTICIPLES.

The Participle expresses the meaning of the verb in every tense, considered as a general quality or condition of an object; as, ήλθε βλέπων, he came seeing. στάσας κάτωθεν ἐπήνει αὐτὸν, standing below he praised him.

Participles are varied like adjectives, by gender, number, and case, to agree with substantives in these accidents. If the idea of time be separated from the participle, it becomes an adjective.

Every tense, in the Greek verb, has its participle, a circumstance which gives the language a decided advantage over the Latin, which has no present participle passive, nor past participle active.

§ 80. VERBAL or PARTICIPIAL ADJECTIVES in -τός and -τέος.

The Greeks have verbal adjectives, which both in signification and use, nearly resemble participles. They are formed by adding the syllables -165 and -1605 to the first root of the verb; thus,

		Root.		Verbal Adj.
	I say, I write, I love,	λεγ- γ ρ αφ- φιλε-	τός, τός, τέος,		said. written. to be loved.

Those derived from liquid verbs add -7605 and -7605 to the second root; as, τείνω, I extend, 2d R. ταν- τέος, τατέος, to be extended.

Note. In those derived from pure verbs the vowel preceding the termination is sometimes lengthened, sometimes not; thus, from $\phi i \lambda \epsilon \omega$, the adjective is $\phi i \lambda \eta \tau \epsilon \delta s$, but from alp $\epsilon \omega$, alper δs .

- Obs. 1. The verbal adjectives in -τός have commonly a passive signification, and either correspond to the Latin perfect participle passive; as, ποιητός, factus, made; χυτός, aggestus, στοεπτός, flexus; or, they convey the idea of ability and capacity, expressed by the Latin adjectives in -ilis; thus, όρατός, visibilis, visible; ἀκουστός, audible, &c. Frequently, however, they have an active signification; as, καλυπτός, concealing; μεμπτός, blaming, &c.
- Obs. 2. Those in τέος correspond to the Latin future participle in .dus, and convey the idea of duty, necessity, or obligation; as, φιλητέος, amandus, who ought to be loved; ποτέος, bibendus, which ought to be drunk.
- Obs. 3. -τέον, in the neuter, (among the Attics more commonly -τέα in the plural,) corresponds to the Latin gerund; thus, ποτέον, (Attic ποτέα) ἐστί, bibendum est; πολεμητέα ἐστί, bellandum est.

Note. For the construction of these adjectives, see Syntax, § 147. Obs. 2.

§ 81. OF CONJUGATION.

The Conjugation of a verb is the arranging of its different moods and tenses according to a certain regular order.

There are two conjugations in Greek, the first of verbs in ω ; and the second of verbs in $\mu \iota$.*

^{*} Note. Those who, after full examination, prefer the more common method of forming the tenses by deriving one tense from another, will find the Rules in the Appendix. They will of course pass over this part of the Grammar, from § 82 to § 97 inclusive, except § 87—90, "On the Augment" which is the same in all methods of formation.

The changes which a verb undergoes by inflection to distinguish its different voices, moods, tenses, numbers, and persous, may all be referred to three heads; the ROOT, the AUGMENT, and the TERMINATIONS.

§ 82. I. OF THE ROOT and its CHARACTERISTIC.

- 1. The Root is that part of the verb which remains unchanged throughout, (except as required by the rules of Euphony, \S 6,) and serves as the basis of all the different forms which the verb assumes.
- 2. The final letter of the root is called the Characteristic, because the verb is denominated pure, mute, or liquid, according as that letter is a vowel, or a mute, or a liquid.
- 3. In all primary forms of the verb the characteristic is the letter next the termination in the present indicative; thus, γ in $\lambda i \gamma \omega$; π in $\tau \rho i \pi \omega$; v in $\lambda i \omega$; v in $\tau i \nu \omega$, &c.

Exc. But if of two consonants the last be either τ or a liquid, the first is the characteristic; thus, π in τίπτω and μάρπτω; κ in τίπτω; μ in τέμνω; hence the following, η μ

GENERAL RULE FOR FINDING THE ROOT.

- 4. Strike off from the present indicative all that follows the characteristic; what remains is the first root; thus, $\lambda \dot{\epsilon} \gamma \cdot \omega$, $\tau \dot{\epsilon} \rho \tau \cdot \omega$, $\mu \dot{\alpha} \rho \tau \cdot \tau \omega$, $\sigma \tau \dot{\epsilon} \lambda \cdot \lambda \omega$, $\tau \dot{\epsilon} \mu \cdot \nu \omega$, &c.
- Obs. 1. Many verbs have a Secondary form in the present and imperfect, which has come into general use, while the original form or theme, has become obsolete, δ 116. The root of the theme nevertheless remains the proper root of the verb in the other tenses, and will be found in the first future by striking off $-\sigma\omega$. If the letter next preceding be a consonant, it is the characteristic of the verb. If it be a long vowel, either that or its corresponding short vowel is the characteristic. But if it be a short or doubtful vowel, the characteristic is either that vowel itself, or a τ -mute, which has been rejected before $-\sigma\omega$ for the sake of sound. § 6. 8. This Obs. applies

1st. To verbs whose present indicative ends in $-\sigma\sigma\omega$ (Attic $-\tau\iota\omega$) or $-\zeta\omega$. The primary form of these appears to have ended in $-\gamma\omega$ or $-\delta\omega$, and consequently their characteristic is γ when the first future ends in $\xi\omega$, and δ when it ends in $-\sigma\omega$; thus, (§ 116. III.)

Present form.	1 Future.	Original form.	Charac.
πούσσω,	ποάξω,	ποάγω,	γ.
χοάζω,	ποάξω,	κ οάγω,	γ.
πλάσσω,	πλάσω,	πλάδω,	γ. δ.
φράζω, ΄	φοάσω,	φοάδω,	δ.
άρπάζω,	∫ άοπάξω,	∫ άοπάγω,	γ.
agna sw,	άρπάσω.	άρπάδω.	δ.

2d. To verbs in $-\alpha \times \omega$ from pure verbs in $-\omega$; thus, $\gamma \eta \varphi \alpha \sigma \times \omega$, 1 Fut. $\gamma \eta \varphi \alpha \sigma \omega$; characteristic α ; original form or theme, $\gamma \eta - \varphi \alpha \omega$, § 116. I.

3d. To the greater part of irregular verbs, for which see § 117.

The characteristic of all such words being found by means of the first future given in the Lexicons, the primary form and consequently the root will be easily found by the above general rule; thus,

Present form.	1 fut.	Theme.	Charac.	Root.
ποάσσω,	ποάξω,	$\Pi P A' \Gamma \Omega,$	γ,	ποαγ.
γηοάσκω,	γηφάσω,	γηοάω,	α,	γηςα.
φοάζω,	φοάσω,	φοάδω,	δ,	φοαδ.
λαμβάνω,	λήψω,	$\lambda \eta \omega $. 6 ,	ληβ.

Obs. 2. The letter τ is frequently added to the root before the termination in the present and imperfect, apparently to strengthen the sound, as in $\tau \delta \pi \iota \omega$. The characteristic, if a middle or aspirate mute, coming before this τ , is of course changed into its own smooth (§ 6. 2.); thus, $\theta \alpha \varphi$ before $-\tau \omega$ becomes $\theta \alpha \pi$ - and the verb, $\theta \alpha \pi \iota \omega$. Hence in order to find the root, the characteristic changed by Euphony must be restored as in the following words;

			Charac.	Root.
βλάπτω,	by Euphony	for βλάβτω,	6,	6λά6.
χ ούπτω,	,,	κούβτω,	6,	χούβ.
καλύπτω,	,,	καλύβτω	, 6,	καλύβ.
ᾶπτω,	,,	ἄφτω,	φ,	ἄφ.
βάπτω,	99	βάφτω,	φ,	6άφ.
θάπτω,	,,	θάφτω,	φ,	θάφ.
σκάπτω,	"	σκάφτω,	φ,	σκάφ.
δούπτω,	,,	δούφτω,	φ,	δρύφ.
φίπτω,	,,	φίφτω,	φ,	ģί φ.
φάπτω,	,,	φά φτω,	φ,	έάφ.

Also σμύχω and ψύχω have their roots σμύγ and ψύγ.

 $\mathcal{N}ote$. The above list contains all the words to which this observation is applicable.

Obs. 3. Many verbs change the form of the root in the second tenses, i. e. in the second future and second aorist; and again in the perfect and pluperfect middle. These forms, for the sake of distinction, may be termed the SECOND and THIRD roots,—the root of the present being the FIRST ROOT.

§ 83. OF THE SECOND ROOT.

The second root is always formed from the first, according to the following

RULES.

1. A long vowel in the first root is changed into α in the second; thus,

Verb.	1st R.	2d R.
σήπω,	σήπ-	σαπ-
τρώγω,	τρώγ-	τραγ.

2 In diphthongs, α is retained and ε is rejected; as, εύγω, φεύγ- φυγ-

Exc. But liquid dissyllables change $\varepsilon\iota$ into α ; polysyllables into ε ; as,

	Verb.	1st R.	2d R.
Diss.	τείνω,	τείν-	ταν•
Polysyl.	άγείοω,	άγείο-	άγες-

3. In dissyllables not pure, ε before or after a liquid, is changed into α ; as,

Verb.	lst R.	2d R.	Verb.	1st R.	2d R.
τέμνω,	- :		στέλλω,		σταλ-
δέψχω,	δέοκ.	δαςκ-	πλέχω,	πλε χ -	πλα x -

Exc. But ε remains unchanged after λ , in $\lambda \dot{\epsilon} \gamma \omega$, $\beta \lambda \dot{\epsilon} \pi \omega$, $\varphi \lambda \dot{\epsilon} \gamma \omega$.

Pure verbs in -άω and -έω reject the α and ε; as,

Verb.	1st R.	2d R.
μυκάω,	μυκά-	μυ χ.
στυγέω,	στυγέ-	στυγ.

§ 84. OF THE THIRD ROOT.

The third root is always formed from the second, according to the following

RULES.

1. ε , of the second root, is changed into o in the third; as,

Verb.	1st R.	2d R.	3d R.
λέγω,	λέγ	λεγ-	λογ-
άγείοω,	άγείο.	άγεο-	άγος-

2. α , of the second root, from ϵ or ϵ_i in the first, is changed into o in the third; as,

Verb.	1st R.	2d R.	3d R.
πλέκω,	πλέ χ -	πλαχ-	πλοκσπείοω,	σπείο-	σπαρ-	σποο-τείνω,	τείν-	ταν-	TOV.
τέμνω.	τέμ-	ταμ-	tou-

3. ι of the second root, from $\varepsilon\iota$ of the first, is changed into $o\iota$; as,

Verb. 1st. R. 2d. R. 3d. R. $\lambda \epsilon l \pi \omega$, $\lambda \epsilon l \pi$. $\lambda \iota \pi$. $\lambda \iota \sigma$.

4. α of the second root, from η or α of the first, is changed into η in the third; as,

•	Verb.	1st. R.	2d. R.	3d. R.
	σήπω,	σήπ-	σαπ-	σηπ-
	φαίνω,	φαlν-	φαν-	φην-
likewise	θάλλω,	$\theta \alpha \lambda$ -	θαλ-	$\theta \eta \lambda$.
	κλάζω,	κλαγ-	×λαγ-	κληγ.

§ 85. VERBS WHICH WANT THE SECOND AND THIRD ROOTS.

Many verbs want the second tenses, and perfect and pluperfect middle and consequently the second and third roots. (§ 76. Obs. 7. N. B.) These are as follows, RULE 1. Pure verbs want the second root.

- Exc. 1. The following primitives are excepted; γοάω, σπάω μυπάομαι, γηθέω, δουπέω, πιυπέω, φιγέω, πιτνέω, στυγέω, τορέω, ληπέω, θορέω, στερέω, σχέω, δαίω, παύω, and a few others. Απούω has the third root άπο, but no second.
- Exc. 2. A few dissyllables in $\iota\omega$ and $\iota\omega$ have the second and third roots the same as the first.
- Note 1. Several of these are reckoned with anomalous verbs. § 117. Some verbs derive their second and third roots from obsolete presents; such as, $\acute{a}l\rho\acute{e}\omega$ and many verbs in $-\acute{a}\nu\omega$ and $-\acute{a}\nu\sigma_{\mu}a\iota$, for which see the same section.
- Rule 2. Derivatives in -είω, -άζω, -ίζω, -αίνω, -ίνω, want the second root.
 - Note 2. Primitives in these terminations usually have the second root.
- Obs. 1. Several verbs which have no second root, and consequently no second agrist in the first conjugation, derive the second agrist active and middle from forms in the second conjugation; thus, δίω, 2 a. ἔδυν, from ΔΥΜΙ; δαίνω, 2 a. ἔδην, from BHMΙ; γηνώσκω, 2 a. ἔγνων, from ΓΝΩΜΙ, derived from γνόσκο.

Obs. 2. Many verbs not included under the above rules never use the second tenses; others have them only in the passive voice; others again are used in these tenses only by certain writers.—In such a variety of usage, it is proper to assume that all verbs not included in the above classes form the second and third roots according to the rules in § 83 and 84.

§ 86. OF THE TENSE ROOT.

The Tense-root is that part which remains unchanged in all parts of the same tense. It consists of all that precedes the termination, except the Augment.

Obs. 1. In some of the tenses certain letters are inserted between the verb root and terminations. These are called the Signs of the tenses to which they belong, because they serve to distinguish these tenses from others. These Tense-signs added to the verb-root form the Tense-root in these tenses; and prefixed to the terminations they form the Tense-endings, § 93. 2. Hence in the tenses which have no sign, the Verb-root alone is the Tense-root, and the termination alone is the Tense-ending; as, \(\xi_{\text{$\infty}-\text{$\infty}\pi_{\text{$\infty}}-\text{$\infty}\pi_{\text{$\infty}}\). (Obs. 4.)

These letters with the tenses to which they belong, are exhibited in the following

TABLE OF TENSE-SIGNS.

1. In mute and pure verbs the Tense-signs are in the Act.	Mid.	Pass.

1 Future,	-σ-	-σ-	-θησ-
1 Aorist,	-σ-	-σ-	-0-
2 Future,	-8-	-8-	-ησ-
Perf. and Pluperf.	-'- or - *

2. In liquid verbs the tense-signs are in the

1 Future,	-8-	-8-	-θησ-
1 Aorist,	_		-θ-
2 Future,	-e.	-6-	-ησ-
Perf. and Pluperf.	-#-

Obs. 2. If the characteristic be a π -mute or a π -mute, the sign of the perfect and pluperfect active is the spiritus asper, (') which combining with the mute before it (§ 6. 3.) changes π or θ into φ ; π or γ into χ . But when the characteristic is φ or χ the spiritus asper disappears.

Obs. 3 If the characteristic be a vowel, or a τ-mute, or a liquid, the sign of the Perfect and Pluperfect active is κ.

Obs. 4. In all the Tenses except those in the above table, i. e. in the second Aorist through all the voices,—the perfect and pluperfect middle and passive,—and also, in liquid verbs, the First Aorist active and middle, the Tense-root and the Verb-root are always the same. So also in the present and imperfect in all voices.

Exc. But irregular verbs, and those which fall under the Exceptions and Observations, § 82, have the Tense-Root in the Present and Imperfect different from the Verb-root—though like other verbs it consists of all that precedes the termination in the present indicative. Thus, for example, in $\pi\varrho\dot{\alpha}\sigma\omega$, the Tense-Root in the Pres. and Imperf. is $\pi\varrho\dot{\alpha}\sigma\sigma$, while the Verb-Root is $\pi\varrho\dot{\alpha}\gamma$. In $\lambda\alpha\mu\beta\dot{\alpha}\nu\omega$ the Tense-Root of the Pres. and Imperfect is $\lambda\alpha\mu\beta\dot{\alpha}\nu$, while the Verb-Root is $\lambda\dot{\gamma}\beta$; and so of others.

WORDS FOR PRACTICE ON THE PRECEDING RULES.

τύπιω, I strike.
λέγω, I say.
χαίρω, I rejoice.
σπείρω, I sow.
τρέφω. I nourish.
άγω, I lead.
κράζω, I cry aloud.
βάλλω, I cast.
πείθω, I praise.
ἀμείβω, I change.
ἀρόω, I plow.
βλίπω, I see.

λείπω, I leave.
πλέχω, I fold.
τοώγω, I eat.
δφείλω, I owe.
μάοπτω, I seize.
πράσσω, I do.
φράζω, I say.
φαίνω. I shew.
άρπάζω, I plunder.
έγείοω, I awake.
θόω, I sacrifice.
καλέω, I call.
κείοω, I share.

δείδω, I fear.
διδάσκω. I learn.
τρέπω, I turn.
μαίνω, I pollute.
πέμπω, I send.
μένω, I remain.
νέμω, I assign.
ποιέω, I make.
σιέλλω, I send.
μείρω, I divide.
πειράζω, I try.
πρήθω, I burn.

ģαίνω, I sprinkle.

§ 87. II. OF THE AUGMENT.

- 1. The Augment is prefixed to the root in the Preterite Tenses.
- 2. Of these the Imperfect and Aorists have the augment in the indicative only. The Perfect, Pluperfect, and Paulo-post Future retain it through all the moods.

- 3. The Present and Future have no augment.
- 4. When the augment prefixes a syllable to the verb, it is called the syllabic augment. When it only lengthens the initial vowel, it is called the Temporal augment. The first is used when the verb begins with a consonant, the second, when it begins with a vowel or diphthong.

§ 88. RULES FOR THE AUGMENT.

- 1. If the verb begins with a consonant, the augment ε is prefixed; as, $\tau \dot{\nu} \pi \tau \omega$, $\dot{\varepsilon} \tau \nu \pi \tau \sigma \nu$; $\rho \dot{\varepsilon} \tau \tau \tau \omega$, $\dot{\varepsilon} \rho \rho \iota \pi \tau \sigma \nu$, $\dot{\varsigma}$ 6. 5.
- 2. The perfect also reduplicates the initial consonant; as, τύπτω, perf. τέτυφα.
- Exc. 1. The aspirate reduplicates its own smooth; as, $\theta a \nu \mu \dot{\alpha} \zeta \omega$, perf. $\tau \epsilon \theta a \dot{\nu} \mu \alpha x \alpha$; $\phi a \dot{\nu} \omega$, perf. $\tau \dot{\epsilon} \phi a \dot{\nu} x \alpha$, § 6. 4.
- Exc. 2. Verbs beginning with ρ , $\gamma \nu$, $\phi \theta$, or σ before or after a consonant, do not reduplicate; thus, γν- γνόω, ἔγνωκα. δσ- ζάω, ἔζηκα. φθ- φθιω, ἔφθικα. σπ- σπεύδω, <math>ἔσπευκα. στ- στέφω, <math>ἔστεφα.

Obs. 1. Sometimes also verbs beginning with *τ, and πτ, do not reduplicate; as, κτ- κτείνω, ἔκταγκα. κτίζω, ἔκτικα. πι- πτοέω, ἐπτόηκα.

And sometimes, though rarely, those beginning with 72, 62.

3. When the perfect reduplicates the initial consonant, the pluperfect indicative receives a second augment; as, τύπτω, perf. τέ-τυφα, pluperf. έ-τε-τύφειν.

Otherwise not; as, $\varrho l\pi t\omega$, perf. $\ell \varrho \ell \iota \varphi \alpha$, pluperf. $\ell \varrho \ell \iota \varphi \omega \iota \tau$.

4. If the verb begin with α , ε , o, or with αv , αs , ι , the initial vowel is changed into its own long, and ι of the diphthong is subscribed; thus,

3 3 3

α,	ἀνύω,	I perform,	Ϋνυον.
8,	έλπίζω,	I hope,	ήλπιζον.
o,	οπάζω,	I afford,	ὢπαζον.
αυ,	αὐξάνω,	I encrease,	ήύξανον.
αι,	αἴοω,	I raise,	έζου.
oı,	οὶκίζω,	I build,	ῷκιζον.

Exc. 1. E is often changed into its own diphthong; as, ἔχω, I have, εἴχον.

The verbs which change ε into ει are the following: ἐάω, εξομαι, ἐθιζω, ελισσω, ελκω, ελκώ, ελκώ, ελκώ, ελω, επομαι, επω, (this verb retains the augment through all the moods) ἐφάω, λρέω, ερπω, έρπω, ἐρπω, ἐρπω, ἐρτίζω, ἐρώω, ἐστίχω, ἐστιάω, ἔχω, and εω, 20.

Exc. 2. If the verb begins with ε_0 , the ε is unchanged and the o augmented; as, $\dot{\varepsilon}_0 \circ \dot{\varepsilon}_0 \circ \dot{\varepsilon}_0$

So also the following pluperfects middle; viz. from the perf. δολπα, pluperf. δολπειν; — ξοικα, δώκειν; — ξοργα, δώργειν.

- Exc. 3. 'Aω, I blow; άτω, I hear; ἀηθέσσω, I am unused; ὑηδίζομαι, I loathe; retain the initial vowel unchanged; as also some verbs derived from οἶκος, οἶνος, οἰωνὸς, and οἴαξ; as, ἐνίζω, I smell of wine, οἴνιζον; and also perfects middle when he root begins with οι; as, οἴδα, plup. οἴδειν.
- 5. If the initial vowel is not α , ε , o, or αv , $\alpha \iota$, ι , it is not augmented: but ι and v short are nade long; as,

ι,	ζχομαι,	τκόμην.	€₺,	εὶκάζω,	εἴχαζον.
υ,	ၓ ၆ϙίζω,	ῦ βριζον.	8v,	εὐ ρ ίσ χ ω,	εὔοισπον.
η,	ηχέω,	ήχεον.	ου,	οὐτάζω,	οὐταζον.
ω,	Ճθω,	۵ 0ον.	See 1	Exceptions,	§ 90. 4. 5.

§ 89. AUGMENT OF COMPOUND VERBS.

1. When the verb is compounded with a preposition, the augment comes between the preposition and the verb; as, προσ-φέρω, προσ-ε-φερον.

- Obs. 1. The prepositions drop their final vowel before the augment ε; as, ἀποφαίνω, ἀπέφαινον; καταβάλλω, κατέβαλλον:
 —But,
- Obs. 2. $\pi\epsilon \varrho t$ before ϵ remains unchanged; $\pi\varrho\delta$ usually combines with it by contraction; thus, $\pi\varrho ot\theta\eta\nu$ becomes $\pi\varrho ot\theta\eta\nu$. § 38. II.
- Obs. 3. When ν, in the prepositions σύν and έν, is changed into another consonant, by the rules of euphony, § 6. 15., it is recovered when separated from that consonant, by the augment s; thus, συλλέγω, συνέλεγον; συγγράφω, συνέγραφον; ἐμ. μένω, ἐνέμενον.
- 2. Verbs compounded with δv_s and $\epsilon \delta$, take the augment after the particle, when the simple verb begins with α , ϵ , δ , or with αv , αi , αi ; as, $\delta v \sigma \alpha \rho \epsilon \sigma \tau \epsilon \omega$, $\delta v \sigma \eta \rho \epsilon \sigma \tau \epsilon \omega v$; $\epsilon \delta \sigma \rho \kappa \epsilon \omega$, $\epsilon \delta \omega \rho \kappa \epsilon \omega v$
- 3. But if the simple verb begin with any other vowel or consonant, δυ; is augmented, εὐ remains unchanged; as, δυστυχέω, ἐδυστύχεον, δεδυστύχηκα; εὐτυχέω, εὐτύχηκα.
- 4. Other compounds generally take the augment at the beginning.

EXCEPTIONS.

The exceptions from these rules are but few, and will be best learned by practice. Some writers augment certain compound verbs in the beginning, and others in the middle; while other verbs are sometimes augmented in both; as, επίσταμαι, I understand, ηπιστάμην; ἀνοφθόω, I erect, ἡνώρθουν; καθεύδω, I sleep, καθηῦδον οτ ἐκάθευδον; ἐνοχλέω, I disturb, ἡνώχλεον.

§ 90. OBSERVATIONS ON THE AUGMENT.

- 1. In the early Greek poets the use of the augment is very fluctuating, the same word sometimes occurring with the augment and sometimes without it; as. ἐξέφεψε and ἔκφεψε, he carried out; ἔλαβε and λάβε, he took; ἦγεν and ἆγεν, he brought; ἐδέδεκτο, δέδεκτο, and δέκτο, he had received.
- Obs. 1. From the antiquity of the Ionic, this has been usually considered a peculiarity of that dialect; but it occurs frequently in the Attic writers, particularly in choruses; as, σύθη for ἐστθη, he was driven; γεγένητο for ἐγεγένητο, it had been; ἀνάλωπα for ἀνήλωπα, I have spent.

- In Homer and Hesiod, aorists often receive the reduplication, which remains through all the moods; thus, *ε*άμω for *κάμω, I shall have laboured; λελάβεσθαι for λάβεσθαι, to have received.
- 3. In all dialects, verbs beginning with λ and μ frequently take εl as the augment of the perfect; as, $\varepsilon l \lambda \eta \varphi \alpha$ for $\lambda \ell \lambda \eta \varphi \alpha$, I have taken; $\varepsilon l \mu \alpha \varphi \tau \alpha \iota$ for $\mu \ell \mu \alpha \varphi \tau \alpha \iota$, it has been decreed.
- 4. The Attics often change the simple augment ε into η, and augment the initial vowels of verbs beginning with εἰ and εἰ ; as, ἡδυνάμην for ἐδυνάμην, I was able; ἤκαζον for εἴκαζον, I assimilated; ηὐχόμην for εὐχόμην, I prayed; ἤδειν for εἰδειν, I knew.
- 6. When the verb begins with α, ε, or o, followed by a consonant, the first two letters are sometimes repeated before the ordinary augment. This is called the Attic Reduplication; thus, άγειοω, I assemble; ἤγεφκα, Attice, ἀγ-ήγεφκα. δζω, I smell; ωδα, δδ-ωδα. δφ-ωφυχα. δφ-ωφυχα.

- Obs. 2. The pluperfect sometimes takes a new augment on the initial vowel of the reduplication; thus, $\dot{\alpha}x-\eta x o \alpha$, $\dot{\eta}x$.
- Obs. 3. This form of the verb frequently changes a long vowel or diphthong into a short or doubtful vowel in the third syllable; thus, ἀλήλιφα for ἤλειφα, and ἀλήλιμμαι for ἤλειμμαι, from ἀλείφω; ἀκήκοα for ἤκοα, from ἀκούω.
- 7. Rule. The simple augment is confined to the indicative mood; the reduplication remains in all the moods.

§ 91. III. OF THE TERMINATION.

- 1. The TERMINATIONS are added immediately to the tense root. and by their changes serve to distinguish the voices, moods, numbers, and persons.
- 2. In verbs of the first conjugation the termination generally consists of two parts, the mood rowel, which serves to distinguish the moods, and the final letters, which indicate the voice, number and person.

- 3. The Mood-rowel is the first letter of the termination, and in the indicative mood is always short or doubtful; (except in the pluperfect act. and mid. which have always ;) in the subjunctive it is always long, and in the optative always a diphthong.
- 4. The Final letters are divided into two classes, Primary and Secondary; so called because the former are always used in the indicative of the primary tenses, (§ 77. Obs. 3.) and the latter in the indicative of the secondary, and because the secondary always correspond to, and are derived from the primary. They are as follows:

ACTIVE VOICE.

	1	Primary	•	Seco	ndary.
	1.	2.	3.	1.	2.	3.
Sing.		.ıç,	-ı,	Singv,	-c,	—,

Dual.	-μαι, -μεθον, -μεθα,	-σθον,	-σθον,	Dual.	-μην, -μεθον, -μεθα,	.σ0o»,	-σ0ην,

- 5. These final letters with the mood-vowels prefixed, make up the terminations through the whole verb in the indicative, subjunctive, and optative moods. The subjunctive mood always takes the primary final letters, and the optative the secondary. The final letters and mood-vowels of the imperative and infinitive will be seen in the following tables.
- 6. N. B. The indicative mood vowel o, or the subjunctive ω , combining with the final letter o, makes ω ; with -rroi, they make -ovoi and - ω oi, § 6. 8, and 16, and 18. In the 2d person singular, Middle and Passive, the primary final letters are - σ oi; combined with the mood vowels ε or η , they make - ε oai and - η oai, which by elision and contraction become η , § 101. 8. So also the secondary - σ o with ε prefixed, makes the secondary - σ o with ε prefixed, makes and by elision and contraction - σ oi. The other combinations will be easily understood. See § 101. 8, as above.

§ 93. FORMATION OF THE TENSES IN MUTE AND PURE VERBS.

General Rule for all Tenses.

In all voices the tenses are formed by prefixing the Augment in the augmented tenses, and affixing the terminations in the preceding tables to the Tense-Roots, § 86.

But as the tense-root of the present often differs from the verb-root, it will be easier for the beginner to form the tenses according to the following rules.

1. Rule for the Imperfect.

The Imperfect is always formed from the present by prefixing the augment, and changing - ω into -o ν , and -o μ o μ o ν ; thus,

А	rt	227	•

Middle and Passive.

Pres.	Imperf.	Pres.	Imperf.
τύπτω,	ξτυπτον.	τύπτομαι,	ἐτυπτόμην.
λαμβάνω,		λαμβάνομαι,	έλαμβανόμην.
εδρίσχω,	εδρισχον.	εὐρίσκομαι,	εύρισχόμην. 🔌

2. Rule for the other Tenses.

Prefix the augment in the augmented tenses, and add to the proper verb-root, (Obs. 1.) the Tense-endings for each tense. These are exhibited in the following Table of Tense-endings for Mute and Pure Verbs.

	Active.	Middle.	Passive.
1 Fut.	-σ-ω,	-σ-ρμαι,	-θήσ-ομαι
2 Fut.	-έ-ω, contrῶ,	-έ-ομαι, contrοῦμαι,	-ήσ-ομαι.

2 Aor.	-ov,	-6μην,	-ην.

Pluperf.	-'-eir, or -x.eir,	-817,	-μην.
P. P. F.			-σ-ομ αι .

Rule 3. The second Future and second Aorist add the Tense-endings to the second root; the Perfect and Pluperfect Middle to the third; and all the other tenses to the first.

Exc. Τφέπω, τρέφω, and στρέφω, in the perfect and pluperfect passive use the second root. Φεύγω and κεύθω in the perfect middle have sometimes πέφευγα and κέκευθα instead of πέφυγα and κέκυθα.

Obs. In combining the Rootand Tense endings, the rules of Euphony for the omission and change of letters, (§ 6.) must be carefully observed.

§ 94. SPECIAL RULES FOR MUTES.

Rule 1. When the characteristic is a π-mute or a κ-mute, the perfect active is formed by adding -'-α, and the pluperfect by adding -'-ειν; all others add -κα, -κειν, (§ 86. Obs. 3.) thus, keiπω, Root keiπ- perf. λέ-λειπ. -α, combined λέλειφα. pluperf. ελε-λειπ. -ειν, κλελείφειν. πλέπω, Root πλεπ- perf. κε-πλεπ. -α, κε-κλεμ. -α, κε-κλεμ. -α επεπλέχειν.

Rule 2. When the characteristic is a τ -mute, it is rejected before a consonant in the active and middle voice, and changed into σ in the passive; thus,

Active, πειθω, Root πειθ
1 Fut. πει-σω, perf. πέπει-κα.

Middle,

1 Fut. πει-σομαι, 1 Aor. ἐπει-σάμην.

Passire, 1 fut. πεισ-θήσομαι, 1 Aor. ἐπεισ-θην, perf. πέπεισ-μαι.

Exc. The τ -mute is rejected in the passive also, when a liquid precedes it; as, $\pi \dot{\epsilon} \varrho \theta \cdot \omega$, 1 f. p. $\pi \dot{\epsilon} \varrho - \theta \dot{\eta} \sigma \varrho \mu \omega$, perf. $\pi \dot{\epsilon} - \pi \dot{\epsilon} \varrho - \mu \omega$. Also a π - mute before $\mu \omega$; as, $\tau \dot{\epsilon} \varrho \pi - \omega$, perf. p. $\tau \dot{\epsilon} - \tau \dot{\epsilon} \varrho - \mu \omega \dot{\epsilon}$.

Obs. Πεύθω, σεύω, τεύχω, and χέω, (§ 96. Exc. 2. third.) have v instead of sv before a consonant in the passive; as, πυσ-θήσομαι, συσ-θήσομαι, (§ 96. R. 2.) &c.; φεύγω has either υ οr ευ; as, πέφυγ-μαι, οr πέφευγ-μαι.

The formation of the different tenses by the combination of the parts, according to § 93, and the above rules, may be illustrated by the following examples. (See § 76. Obs. 7. N. B.)

§ 95. EXAMPLES OF THE FORMATION OF TENSES.

§ 96. SPECIAL RULES FOR PURE VERBS.

N. B. In the rules for the Moods and Tenses of verbs, let be remembered that,

The three short vowels, α , ε , o, have their own long, η , η , ω , and their own diphthongs, $\alpha \varepsilon$, $\varepsilon \varepsilon$, $o \varepsilon$.

Rule 1. Verbs in $-\alpha\omega$, $-\epsilon\omega$, and $-\alpha\omega$, change the nort vowel into its own long before a consoant; as, ιλέω, Root φιλε-, 1 fut. φιλήσω, perf. πεφίληπα, &c.

EXCEPTIONS.

-άω after ε οτι retains α; and -λάω and -ράω after a vowel; as, ἐάω, ἐάσω; κοπιάω, κοπιάσω; γελάω, γελάσω.

kewise dissyllables in -άω which do not pass into -ημι; as, κλάω, κλάσω. But those which pass into -ημι have η, except φθάω.

he following also retain α; viz. ἀκροάομαι, πετάω, δαμάω, κρεμάω, and δφάω; διφάω has α or η.

Ten in -ίω retain ε; viz. ἀκέω, ἀλέω, ἀφκέω, εω, εμέω, νεικέω, ξέω, όλεω, τελέω, τρέω.

ikewise those which form new presents in -ννύω, -ννυμι and -σχω; as, ἀφέσχω from ἀφέω; έννύω and εννυμι from εω, retain ε.

xteen in -έω have ε or η; viz. αιδέομαι, αινέω, ἀκέομαι, ἀλφέω, ἀχθέομαι, δέω, καλέω, κηδέω, κορέω, μαχέομαι, ὑζέω. (δζω) ποθέω, πονέω, στερέω, φορέω, φονέω; besides a few others seldom used; as, κοτέω. βλέω, χορέω.

x in -έω have ευ; viz. πνέω, πλέω, χέω, όξω, I flow; θέω, I run; and νέω. I swim; but όξω, I speak; θέω, I place; and νέω, I spin, have η.

In primitive verbs, -6ω retains o; such as, αρόω, 6όω, εδόω, δμόω, ὀνόω. Likewise those which form others in -νόω and -σκω, have o; but those which pass into -ωμι, have ω; except δίδωμι, which has o in the 1 fut. and 1 acrepassive; as, δοθήσομαι, εδόθην.

- The anomalous verbs καίω and κλαίω change αε into αυ; as, καίω, 1 fut. καύσω, &c.
- Λίζέω, εύζέω, and σχέω, (for ἔχω,) retain s before θ only; as, αἰζήσω, αἰζεθήσομαι, αἰζέθην, αἰζημαι, &c.
- Rule 2. Pure verbs which have ε , or a doubtful vowel, or a diphthong before a consonant, in the active and middle voice, insert σ before a consonant in the passive; as,

Perf. Act. 1 Fut. Pass. 1 Aor. Pass. Perf. Pass. άλέ-ω, hle-xa. άλεσ-θήσομαι. λλέσ-θην. ήλεσ-μαι. γεγέλα-κα, γελασ-θήσομαι, έγελάσ θην. γεγέλασ μαι. γελά-ω, ποί ω, πέποι κα, ποισ-θήσομαι, ἐπρίσ-θην, πέπρια-μαι. ανύ-ω. hru-zu. άνυσ-θήσομαι, λινύσ-θην. ηνυσ-μαι. πέπαι-κα, παισ-θήσομαι, ἐπαίσ-θην, πέπαισ-μαι. παίω, xλul-ω, xέxλuv-xa, xλavσ-θήσουαι, εκλαύσ-θην. χέχλαυσ-μαι.

So also verbs in -slw, -slw, -olw, and -olw.

EXCEPTIONS.

To this rule there are many exceptions; as,

- Five which have ε before a consonant do not insert σ; νίζε αινέω, αινέω, ἐμέω, ἐφέω, ὀλέω.
- 2. Eight which have α; viz. ἀποοάομαι, θεάομαι, ιάομαι, πονιάν, δοάω, πειούομαι, περάω, φωράω.
- 3. One which has i; viz. t/w.

ŕ

- 4. Eleren which have υ; viz. ἀρτόω, δρόω, δόω, θόω, εδρίω, κωκόω, κωλόω, λύω, μηνόω, φύω, τρόω.
- 5. Seven which have ευ; viz. δεύω, νεύω, νέω, (νεύσω) πνέω, (πνεύσω) ψέω, (ψεύσω) σεύω, χέω, (χεύσω). Also many verbs in -εύω, derived from nouns; as, 6ασιλεύω.
- 6. One which has ou; viz. λούω, as, λουθήσομαι, &c.
- 7. Fifteen verbs sometimes insert σ before a consonant in the passive voice, and sometimes not; viz. ἀρόω, δράω, ζέω, ἐλάω, καίω, κεράω, κνάω, κορέω, μνάω, μηρόω, ὀνόω, παόω, πνέω, χναύω, ψάω.
- Rule 3. -όω, forming verbs in -μι, inserts σ before a consonant in the passive voice; as, γνωμ, γνωσθήσομαι, &c.

Except στοώνυμι from στοόω, and διδωμι from δόω, which have στοωθήσομαι, δοθήσομαι, &c.

§ 97. OF LIQUID VERBS.

Liquid verbs differ from mute and pure verbs in forming some of the tenses, as follows:

1. The First-Future shortens the root, if it contain a diphthong, by rejecting the last of the two vowels; and instead of -σω and -σομαι, adds -έω and -έουαι, (contracted -ω and -οῦμαι); as,

2. The First Aorist lengthens the short root of the 1 Future by changing ε into $\varepsilon\iota$, and lengthening the doubtful vowels; and instead of $-\sigma\alpha$ and $-\sigma\alpha\mu\eta\nu$, adds $-\alpha$ and $-\alpha\mu\eta\nu$; as,

1 Aor. Act. Verb. 1 Fut. 1 Aor. Mid. μεν-έω. ξ-μειν-α, uένω. έ-μειν-άμην. τεν-έω, ἔ-τειν-α, È-TELV-QUITY. τείνω. έ-φαν-άμην. φαίνω. φαν-έω, Ĕ-φāν-α, REM. The Attics often change ā into η; as, ἔφηνα, ἐφηνάμην.

3. The Perfect and Pluperfect Active, and all the Passive Voice, except the Present and Imperfect, add the Tense-endings to the Second root; as, Verb. 2. R. Perf. Act. 1 Fut. Pass. 1 Aor. P. Perf. P. σπείρω, σπαφ., ἔ-σπαφ-κα, σπαφ-θήσομαι, ἐ-σπάφ-θην, ἔ-σπαφ-μαι. φαίνω, φαν., πέ-φαγ-κα, φαν-θήσομαι, ἐ-φάν-θην, πέ-φαμ μαι.

Exc. Verbs in $-\mu\omega$ form the Perfect and Pluperfect Active and the 1 Future, 1 Aorist, Perfect, and Pluperfect Passive, from the first root by interposing η before the Tense-endings; as, Verb. 1 R. Perf. Act. 1 Fut. Pass. 1 Aor. Pass.

νέμω, νέμ., νε.νέμ.η.κα, νεμ-η-θήσομαι, ἐ.νεμ.ή θην, &.c. So also δάλλω and μένω.

Note. The tenses which interpose η are probably formed regularly from obsolete forms in $-i\omega$; thus, NEME'Q, $\nu \epsilon \mu \eta \sigma \omega$, $\nu \epsilon \nu i \mu \eta \kappa a$, &c.; but while the above tenses thus formed remained, the others have given place to the liquid forms now in use.

 Dissyllables in -είνω, -ίνω, -ύνω, reject ν before a consonant; as, τείνω, ταν-, τέ-τα-κα, τα-θήσομαι, ὲ-τά-θην, τέ-τα-μαι, &c. κρίνω, κρίν-, κέ-κρί-κα, κρι-θήσομαι, ὲ-κρί-θην, κέ-κρι-μαι, &c. θύνω, θυν-, τέ-θυ-κα, τυ-θήσ-ομαι, δ -τύ-θην, τέ-θυ-μαι, &c.

Verb. 2 R. Perf. A. 1 Fut. P. 1 Aor. P. Perf. P.

Exc. But sometimes πτείνω and πλύνω retain r.

§ 98. OF CONTRACTED VERBS.

Verbs in $-\omega\omega$, $-\omega\omega$ and $-\omega\omega$ contract the concurrent vowels in the Present and Imperfect in all the voices, according to the general rules of contraction, § 38. See paradigm, § 222.

All the concurrences of vowels to be found in these verbs are the following; viz.

- 1. Verbs in $-\omega\omega$, $-\omega\omega$, $-\omega$, $-\omega$
- 2. Verbs in $-\epsilon\omega$, $-\epsilon\omega$, $-\epsilon\varepsilon$, $-\epsilon\sigma$, $-\epsilon\sigma$, $-\epsilon\varepsilon$, $-\epsilon\eta$, $-\epsilon\sigma$, $-\epsilon$
- 3. Verbs in $-\delta\omega$, $-\delta\omega$, $-\delta\varepsilon$, $-\delta\sigma$, $-\delta\sigma$, $-\delta\tau$, $-\delta\varepsilon$, $-\delta\eta$, $-\delta\varepsilon$, $-\delta\sigma$, $-\delta$
- Obs. 1. Dissyllables in -εω, are contracted in the Imperative and Infinitive only. Thus we say, πλέω, πλέομεν, and not πλῶ, πλοῦμεν, but in the Imperative πλέε &c. is contracted πλεῖ, and in the Infinitive πλέειν is contracted πλεῖν.
- Obs. 2. Four verbs in -άω, contract as into η, and αει into η. These are ζάω, πεινάω, διψάω, and χράομαι; thus,

Indic. $\zeta d\varepsilon \iota s$, $\zeta d\varepsilon \iota$, $\zeta d\varepsilon \tau o v$, $\xi \zeta a\varepsilon s$, $\xi \zeta a\varepsilon$, &c. Inf. $\zeta d\varepsilon \iota v$. contr. $\zeta \tilde{\eta} s$, $\zeta \tilde{\eta}$, $\zeta \tilde{\eta} \tau o v$, $\xi \zeta \eta s$, $\xi \zeta \eta$, $\zeta \tilde{\eta} v$, &c. And so of the others.

DORIC AND IONIC FORMS.

The Ionic dialect often converts α , in verbs in $-\omega$, into ε ; as, ύρεω, δρέομεν, for δράω, δράομεν ; χρέεται for χράεται.

HOMERIC FORM.

Obs. 4. The Epic writers, on account of the metre, often insert the kindred long or short vowel before the contracted vowel; as, δράειν, contr. δρᾶν, Poet. δράαν; δράω, contr. δρῶ, Poet. δρόω. Participle fem. ήβάουσα, contr. ήβῶσα, Poet. ήβώωσα, &c.

This, from the frequency of its occurrence in Homer, is sometimes called the Homeric form.

Note. By a little attention to practice and applying the rules (§ 38.) to the preceding contractions, a paradigm of contract verbs is wholly unnecessary.

§ 99. EXPLANATION OF THE FOLLOWING TABLE.

- 1. The tense-root in the Subjunctive, (being the same as in the indicative but without the augment) is to be prefixed to the "Terminations" in the optative, imperative, infinitive, and participles.
- 2. Whenever the accent (') falls on the termination it is marked in the following table in its proper place. When it does not fall on the termination, its place will be the third syllable from the end of the word, if the last syllable be short, or the diphthong a, which is considered short. But if the last syllable be long, the accent will be on the syllable next the last; as, τέτθφα, κα.
- 3. The Second Future, active and middle, having ε for the final letter of the tense-root, makes concurrent vowels, and is therefore to be contracted throughout like verbs in $-\epsilon \omega$. § 98. 2. See paradigm of $\omega \lambda \delta \omega$. § 222,
- 4. In the Perfect and Pluperfect passive, the characteristic π in all the moods is put with the termination, to show the changes it undergoes by the laws of euphony, when combined with the initial consonant of the termination. In combining the root in these moods with the termination, Rules 2, and 6, and 17 of ξ 6, must be observed. See also ξ 101. 10. But if the tables of terminations, ξ 92, and the method of forming the tenses, ξ 93, is thoroughly committed to memory and rendered familiar to the pupil by thorough drilling, it will hardly ever be necessary to take him into this table at all. The students under the author's care have not been required to commit the table of the verb for the last ten years.
- 5. The numbers 1, 2, 3, &c., to be found in the following table, refer to the same numbers, \S 101.
- N. B. By inspection of the table it will be seen that the terminations of the subjunctive mood are the same in all the tenses, and those of the optative and imperative are nearly the same in all except in the 1 acrist; attention to this will greatly lessen the labour of committing the verb to memory.

§ 101. OBSERVATIONS ON THE THREE VOICES.

The following Observations are designed to point out more particularly, certain changes in the terminations of these parts which frequently occur, and which, without explanation, might perplex and retard the student in his progress. Farther information respecting these and other changes will be found in the table of dialects which follows.

ACTIVE VOICE.

OPTATIVE.

1. In the optative mood, instead of the usual terminations -oim, -ois, -oi, &c. the Attic dialect has the following:

Sing. Dual.

Plur.

 $-ol\eta\nu,\ -ol\eta\varsigma,\ -ol\eta\ ; \qquad -ol\eta\tau o\nu,\ -ol\eta\tau\eta\nu\ ; \qquad -ol\eta\mu s\nu,\ -ol\eta\tau s,\ -ol\eta\sigma a\nu.$

This form is also used by Ionic and Doric writers.

In the optative of the 1 aor. active, instead of the common termination - $\alpha \iota \mu \iota$, - $\alpha \iota \varsigma$, - $\alpha \iota$, &c. the Æolic has as follows, Sing.

Dual.

Plur.

-εια, -ειας, -ειε; -είατον, -είάτην; -είαμεν, -είατε, -ειαν.

The Attics, as well as the Ionians and Dorians, use this form in the 2d and 3d pers. sing. and in the 3d pers. plural.

IMPERATIVE.

2. In the 3d pers. plur. of the imperative, in Attic writers, the termination -όντων is more common than -έτωσαν; thus, in the pres. τυπτόντων for τυπτέτωσαν. For other varieties, see Table of Dialects, § 102. This form is also met with in Doric writers

INFINITIVE.

3. The infinitive, in the ancient dialects, ended in $-\epsilon\mu\epsilon\nu\alpha\iota$. It was changed, in the Ionic, into $-\epsilon\mu\epsilon\nu$; and afterwards, the μ being rejected, was contracted by the Attics into $-\epsilon\epsilon\nu$.

IMPERFECT, 1 FUTURE, AND AORISTS.

ψασχ-ον, -ες, -ε, &c., and in the 2d aor. ἐτύπεσχ-ον, .ες, -ε, &c. Hence the same tenses in the middle voice, and the imperfect, in the passive, make ἐτυπτέσχ-ομεν, -ου, -ετο, 3d pl. -οντο, &c.

- Obs. 1. But before the terminations -*κον, -*κες, -*κε, &c. in contracted verbs, diphthougs reject the subjunctive vowel, and in verbs in μν the long vowels are changed into their own short ones; as, 2 sing. ἐποιεῖς, ἐποιεσκον; ἐτίθης, ἐτίθεσκον, &c.
- Obs. 2. This form is used only in the indicative mood; it usually rejects the augment, and is scarcely to be found, except in the singular number and 3d person plural. It is used only to express repeated action.

The 1 Future in the dialects has the following varieties:

- (1.) The Attics often reject σ from -άσω, -έσω, -ίσω, -όσω, contracting the remaining vowels when that can be done; as, ελάσω, I will drive; ελάω, contr. ελῶ; ελάσεις, ελάεις, contr. ελῶς, &c. So καλῶ for καλέσω, I will call; οικτίω for οἰκτίσω, I will pity; in the middle voice ὁμοῦμαι for ὀμόσομαι.
- (2.) Attic futures in $l\omega$ are not contracted, but inflected like the 2d future.
- (3.) Σ is sometimes elided from the 1st future of pure verbs, especially among the poets, even when $-\sigma\omega$ is preceded by a long vowel or diphthong; as, pres. $\chi \delta \omega$, 1st fut. $\chi \delta \omega \omega$, or $\chi \delta \omega$.
- (4.) For -σω, the Doric termination is -ξω; as, γελάξω for γελάσω.
- (5.) Verbs in -μω, -νω, have the first future Ionic in -έω uncontracted; (see § 102.) as, νεμέω for νεμῶ; μενέω for μενῶ.
- (6.) Verbs in -çω, in Homer, commonly insert σ; as, δρσω for δρῶ, I will excite; sometimes also verbs in -λω; as, ἔλσω from ἔλω; κέλσω from κέλλω.
- (7.) The Attic and Ionic termination, particularly of liquid verbs, is often $-\eta\sigma\omega$; as, $\delta\alpha\lambda\lambda\eta\sigma\omega$ for $\delta\alpha\lambda\tilde{\omega}$, I will cast; $\chi\alpha\iota\varrho\eta-\sigma\omega$ for $\chi\alpha\varrho\tilde{\omega}$, I will rejoice.

In mutes, τυπτήσω for τύψω, I will strike.

PERFECT INDICATIVE.

5. Some verbs suffer a syncope in the perfect; thus, καλέω, I call; καλήσω, κεκάληκα, κέκληκα. Ιn like manner, δεδέμηκα, δέδμηκα. κεκάμηκα, κέκμηκα, δεδ.

Some perfects in $-\eta \times \alpha$, from verbs in $d\omega$, strike out \times before α , and (except in the participles) change η into α ; thus, from δίω, δέδηκα, δέδαα. from τλίω, τέτληκα, τέτληκα, δέτληκα,

Of the vowels thus brought together, the latter is sometimes rejected; as,

6εβήκαμεν, 6εβάαμεν, by syncope δέβαμεν. τετλήκεναι, τετλάεναι, by syncope τέτλαναι.

In other verbs the Attics sometimes change s into o; thus, τρέπω, I turn; τρέψω, τέτροφα.

A similar change has taken place in the Iono-Doric $\lambda\ell\lambda \rho\gamma\chi\alpha$, from $(\lambda\eta\chi\omega)$, $\lambda\dot{\alpha}\gamma\chi\omega$ $(\lambda\alpha\gamma\chi\dot{\alpha}\nu\omega)$, analogous to $\lambda\eta\delta\omega$, $\lambda\dot{\alpha}\mu\delta\omega$, $\lambda\dot{\alpha}\mu\delta\omega$. Thus also $\pi\dot{\epsilon}\pi\sigma\sigma\chi\dot{\epsilon}$ is found for $\pi\dot{\epsilon}\pi\alpha\sigma\chi\dot{\epsilon}$.

PERFECT SUBJUNCTIVE, &c.

6. The subjunctive and optative of the perfect are sometimes made by a periphrasis of the perf. participle and the verb εlμl, I am; thus, subj. τετυφώς ω, ης, η, τετυφότε ηιον, &c; opt. τετυφώς εξην, εξης, εξη. And sometimes the indicative; as, τετυφώς ξουμαι, I shall have struck.

PERFECT PARTICIPLE.

7. The participles sometimes change η into α , and sometimes not.

In either case, by a syncope of the former vowel, $\eta \omega_s$ and $\alpha \omega_s$ are changed into $-\omega_s$, which remains also in the neuter; and the feminine, which otherwise ends in $vi\alpha$, becomes $\tilde{\omega} \sigma s$, and in the oblique cases of the masculine and neuter ω is retained; thus,

The Ionics and Attics insert ε before -ως; thus, ἐστε-ως, -εῶσα, -εῶς, G. -ῶτος. But in the poets the ordinary terminations frequently remain after the contraction; as, -ἑστε-ως, -νῖα, -ός, G. ἐστε -ότος, &c.

The perfects in which these changes most frequently occur are τέτληκα, τέθνηκα, βέθηκα, εστηκα; and in these the regular form is more common in the singular, and the contracted form in the dual and plural.

MIDDLE AND PASSIVE.

2d PERSON SINGULAR.

8. The 2d pers. singular present indicative originally ended in $\varepsilon\sigma\alpha\iota$. In the Ionic dialect, the σ being rejected, it became $-\varepsilon\alpha\iota$, by diæresis $-\varepsilon\alpha\iota$, and was afterwards contracted into η ; (§ 38. R. III.) sometimes by the Attics into $-\varepsilon\iota$. In the same manner, in other moods and tenses. In the subj. $-\eta\sigma\alpha\iota$ became $-\eta\alpha\iota$, and then $-\eta$. In the imp, the indic. imperf. and 2 Aor. $-\varepsilon\sigma\sigma$ became $-\varepsilon\sigma$, contr. $-\sigma\upsilon$; and in the 1 aor. mid. $-\alpha\sigma\sigma$ became $-\alpha\sigma$, contr. $-\omega$. In like manner, in the 2d sing. of the optative, $\sigma\iota\sigma\sigma$ became $\sigma\iota\sigma$, and, being incapable of farther change by contraction, remains in this form.

IMPERATIVE, 3d PLURAL.

9. In the third pers. plur. of the imperative, the Ionic, Doric, and especially the Λ ttic writers, use the termination $-\omega r$ instead of $-\omega\sigma\alpha r$; thus, $\tau \nu \pi \iota \epsilon \sigma \theta \omega \nu$ for $\tau \nu \pi \iota \epsilon \sigma \theta \omega \sigma \alpha r$. See Table of Dialects, § 102.

PERFECT AND PLUPERFECT PASSIVE.

- 10. The terminations of the perfect and pluperfect passive, cannot be correctly represented in any paradigm of a mute verb, because the termination, combining with the final mute of the root, undergoes various changes, according to the laws of Euphony, (\S 6.) which causes an apparent, but not a real variety in the terminations of these tenses. For the terminations alone, see \S 92. III.
- (1.) The terminations preceded by a π -mute, as in the paradigm, according to the laws which regulate the combination of consonants, combine with it as there exhibited; viz.
- S. τέτυμμαι, \S 6. τέτυψαι, \S 6. 6. τέτυπται, D. τετύμμεθον, do. τέτυφθον, \S 6. 2. & 17. τέτυφθον, P. τετύμμεθα, do. τέτυφθε, do. τετυμμένοι εἰσι.
 - (2.) Preceded by a x-mute, they combine as follows:

λέλεγμαι, λέλεξαι, § 6. 7. · λέλεχται, § 6. 2. λελέγμεθον, λέλεχθον, § 6. 7. & 17. λέλεχθον, λέλεχθε, do. λελεγμένοι είσι.

(3.) A σ -mute before a consonant in the passive voice, is changed into σ , and combines with the terminations of the perfect and pluperfect without change, except where the termination begins with σ , in which case one σ must be dropped. (§ 6. 17. Obs. 9.)

(4.) In the first person, the Attics change the characteristic ν before ν into σ; as, πέφασμαι, πεφάσμεθον, πεφάσμεθα; for πέφαμμαι, πεφάμμεθον, πεφάμμεθα.

SUBJUNCTIVE AND OPTATIVE OF PERF. PASS.

- 11. If the termination in the perf. and plupers, passive is preceded by a vowel, the circumlocution in the 3d pers. plur. and in the subjunctive and optative moods, as exhibited in the paradigm, becomes unnecessary; thus, in the 3d pers. plur. of the indicative, instead of negrhqueroe elos, neglhqueroe is used. But
- Obs. 3. In the Subjunctive, the vowel preceding the termination is dropped, and the terminations of the present subjanuaxed; thus, perf. $\pi \epsilon \varphi l^{\downarrow} \eta \mu a \iota$, subj. $\pi \epsilon \varphi \iota k \dot{\omega} \mu a \iota$, $-\tilde{\eta}$, $-\tilde{\eta} \tau a \iota$, &c.; perf. $\kappa \ell \times \varrho \iota \mu a \iota$; subj. $\kappa \epsilon \times \varrho \tilde{\omega} \mu a \iota$, $-\tilde{\eta} \tilde{\eta} \tau a \iota$.

Exc. But verbs in - $\delta\omega$, frequently retain ω , as a mood vowel, through all the numbers and persons; as, $\delta\varepsilon\delta\eta\lambda\tilde{\omega}\mu\alpha\iota$, $-\tilde{\omega}$, $-\tilde{\omega}\tau\alpha\iota$, &c.

Obs. 4. The Optative adds the terminations $-\mu\eta\nu$, -o, (viz. from σo ,) - τo , to the characteristic of the tense, with ι interposed after α , and subscribed with η or ω ; thus,

πεκοι-μην,	х е́хо0,	хέ×Qι−то, &с.
λελύ-μην,	λέλυ-ο,	λέλυ-το, &c.
έκται-μην,	ἔχται-0,	ἔκται-το.
πεφιλή-μην,	πεφίλη-ο,	πεφίλη-το.
δεδηλώ-μην,	δεδήλω-ο,	δεδήλφ-το.

Note. Both in the subjunctive and optative, however, these forms are but seldom used, the circumlocution being generally preferred.

IONIC AND DORIC FORMS.

- 12. In the Ionic and Doric dialects, ν before -ται and -το, in terminations of these tenses in the 3d pers. plur. is changed into α, so that -νται becomes -αται, and -ντο, -ατο; thus, λέλννται becomes λελύαται; λέλνντο, λελύατο, &c.
- Obs. 5. A π-mute or a π-mute before -αται and -ατο, for -νται and -ντο, is changed into its own aspirate; as, τετύφ-αται, λελέχ-αται, for τετύπ-νται, λελέγ-νται, &c.

- Obs. 6. As the circumlocution τετυμμένοι είσι is used to avoid the cacophony of the regular termination, τέτυφνται, this being removed by the change of ν into α, the circumlocution in the indicative, of all such verbs, becomes unnecessary. Γhus, τετυμμένοι είσι, is changed into τετύφαται; λελεγμένοι είσι, into λελέχαται, &c.
- Obs. 7. If σ (changed from a τ-mute, § 94. R. 2,) precede the termination, it is changed into δ or θ before -αιαι and -αιο; thus, σκευάζω, perf. ἐσκεύασμαι; 3 pers. pl. Ionic ἐσκευ-άδαιαι; πλήθω, perf. pass. πέπλησμαι, 3 pers. pl. πεπελήθαται for πεπλησμένοι είσι.
- Obs. 8. In pure verbs, η or ει before -μαι is usually changed into ε before the Ionic -αται and -ατο; thus, πεφίλ-ηνται and -ηντο are usually changed into πεφίλ-έαται and .έατο. In like manner, α before -αται and -ατο is changed into ε to avoid the auplication of the α; thus, ἀναπέτανται, from ἀναπετάω, becomes ἀναπετέαται.
- Obs. 9. In like manner, ν before the termination τo , seldom before $-\tau a\iota$, in the indicative and optative of the other tenses, but never in the subjunctive, is changed into a; thus, for $\tau \acute{v}\pi \tau \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota$ we have $\tau \iota \iota \iota \pi \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota$; for $\gamma \acute{e}\nu \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota$, $\gamma \acute{e}\nu \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota$. So also in verbs in $\mu \iota$; as, $\tau \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota$ for $\tau \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota \iota$ for $\iota \iota \iota \iota$ for $\iota \iota \iota$ for $\iota \iota \iota$ for $\iota \iota$ for ι for § 102. DIALECTS OF VERBS IN ω and μι.

A principal difficulty in learning Greek, arises from the variety of terminations in verbs, according to the different dialects. These can hardly be reduced to any general principles; but a pretty clear idea of them may be formed from the following table. It must be observed, however, that many of the same terminations occur in all the dialects, although that one only is mentioned in which they are most usual. Besides the final syllables, of which this table chiefly consists, the Ionians used to insert a vowel before the last syllable, which the poets often changed into a diphthong; as, $\tau \nu n \bar{\omega}$, I. $\tau \nu n t \omega$, P. $\tau \nu n t \omega$. So $\phi \nu \gamma \cdot t \bar{\nu} \nu$, I. $\phi \nu \gamma \cdot t t \nu \tau \nu$; $\beta \delta \cdot \omega \sigma \iota$, I. $\beta \delta \cdot \delta \omega \sigma \iota$; $\delta \phi \cdot d s$, I. $\delta \phi \cdot d s$

These moods and tenses of the middle and passive voices, which agree in termination with the active, and are not here specified, are subject to similar changes in the different dialects with those having the same terminations in the active voice. The same is true respecting the terminations of verbs in - m; so that this table is general, applying to the terminations here specified, whether they belong to verbs in -w or -u. The dual is omitted in the table, as it but seldom occurs. For other changes by dialect, see § 101 throughout.

PARTICIPLES.

.ούμενος, D. Ε. .εύμενος; as, φιλ.εύμενος for .οδ

§ 103. SECOND CONJUGATION.

- 3. Verbs of the second conjugation end in μ , and are formed from pure verbs of the first, as follows:
- 1. $-\omega$ is changed into $-\mu$, and the short vowel before it is changed into its own long, or the doubtful vowel lengthened; thus,

From σθέω is formed σθημι, I extinguish.

γνόω ,, γνῶμι, Ι know. φάω ,, φημι, Ι say. κλύω ,, κλῦμι, Ι hear.

2. Regular verbs in $-\dot{\alpha}\omega$, $-\dot{\epsilon}\omega$, $-\dot{\epsilon}\omega$, reduplicate the initial consonant with ι in the present and imperfect; thus,

From δέω is formed δί δημι, I bind.

θέω τί-θημι, I place.

δόω δίδωμι, I gire.

Βut πλέω makes πιμπλημι, I fill. (§ 6. 19.)

3. Verbs beginning with a vowel, prefix i, which is called the improper reduplication; thus,

From $\tilde{\epsilon}\omega$ is formed $\tilde{\epsilon}-\eta\omega$, I go. $\tilde{\epsilon}\omega$ $\hat{\epsilon}-\eta\omega$, I send.

Obs. 1. Also verbs beginning with $\sigma\tau$ or $\pi\tau$ prefix ι with the aspirate; thus,

From στάω is formed ε-στημι.
πτάω , ε-πτημι.

4. The reduplication is not used in verbs in $v\mu$, nor in those whose radical primitive has more than two syllables; thus,

Likewise some other verbs; as, φάω φημί, Ι say, &c. (No. 1.)

Obs. 2. Some verbs which begin with a vowel repeat the first syllable, after the manner of the Attic reduplication, § 90.

6; thus, αλημι and αλάλημι; αχημι and ακάχημι.

Obs. 3. Some pure verbs add ννυ to the root before-μι, and some mute and liquid verbs add vu in order to pass into -u:

Verezeδάω, SC R. σκεδασχεδά-ννυ-μι. δείχ-νυ-μι. "AP.NΥ-MI, ἄρ-νυ-μαι.

- Verbs in μ have only three tenses of that form; viz. Present, Imperfect, and 2 Aorist. The other tenses are taken from the primitive in ω, and are of the first conjugation, § 110. Verbs in -vu want the second agrist, and also the subjunctive and optative. When moods are needed, they are borrowed from forms in -273.
- Obs. 4. Several verbs form only the 2d agr. according to this conjugation, § 85. Obs. 1.; in such cases verbs in -60 have the 2d aor. in -uv; as, from βάω, Root βα-2d aor. ξ6ην. γνόω, γιγνώσκω ,, ἔδυν.

Obs. 5. Many verbs of this conjugation are deponent, having only the passive form, while their signification is active or neuter; such are δύναμαι, I can; κετμαι, I lie; δίζημαι, I seek; olouai, I think.

§ 104. OF THE ROOT AND AUGMENT.

- 1. The Root of verbs in \(\mu \) has but one form, and is the same with the first root of the verb from which it is derived; thus, lστημι from στάω, R. στα-; τίθημι from θέω, R. θε., &c.
- 2. In Verbs that reduplicate, (§ 103. 2.) the reduplication is prefixed to the root in the present and imperfect only.
- 3. The imperfect and 2d agrist are augmented in the same manner as in verbs of the first conjugation.

§ 105. OF THE TERMINATION OR FINAL LETTERS.

- 1. In the first conjugation the terminations consist of two parts, the mood-vowels and final letters, § 91. 2. In the second the mood-vowels are wanting and their place supplied by the last letter of the root, which sufficiently distinguishes the moods by the changes which it undergoes in combining with the final letters.
- 2. The Final letters in all verbs belonging to this conjugation are the same. They are divided into two classes, Primary and Secondary. The Primary belong to the present indicative only. The Secondary to the indicative of the imperfect and 2 aorist, and to the optative in all the tenses. They are joined immediately to the root, and so far as they can be separated from it, are as follows:

I. ACTIVE VOICE.

§ 106. FORMATION OF MOODS AND TENSES IN THE ACTIVE VOICE.

In the present and imperfect through all the moods, prefix the Reduplication in verbs that reduplicate, and then—

1. For the Indicative.

RULE. Change the short vowel of the root into its own long* in the singular of the present and imperfect, and in all the numbers of the 2 Aorist, and then add the final letters. § 105. 2.; thus,

PRESENT. IMPERF. 2d AOR.

S. $l\sigma i\eta - \mu i$, $-\varsigma$, $-\sigma i$, $l\sigma i\eta - \nu$, $-\varsigma$, -, $l\sigma i\eta - \nu$, $-\varsigma$, $-\sigma$, $l\sigma i\alpha - \mu$, $-i\sigma \nu$

Exc. 1. In the 2 agrist, τίθημι, δίδωμι, and lημι, have the long vowel in the singular only.

2. For the Subjunctive.

Rule. Change the final vowel of the root into the subjunctive terminations, $-\omega$, $-\eta s$, $-\eta s$, &c. § 92. I.; thus, $l\sigma \tau \eta \mu \iota$, R. $\sigma \tau \alpha$ - Subj. Pres. $l\sigma \tau - \omega$, $-\eta \varsigma$, $-\eta$; $-\eta \tau \sigma \nu$, $-\eta \tau \sigma \nu$, &c. 2 Aor. $\sigma \tau - \omega$, $-\eta \varsigma$, $-\eta$; $-\eta \tau \sigma \nu$, $-\eta \tau \sigma \nu$, &c.

Exc. 2. But verbs in $-\omega\mu\nu$ retain ω through all the persons and numbers; as, δίδωμι from δόω, R. δο, Subj. Pres. διδ- $\tilde{\varphi}$, $-\tilde{\varphi}$ ς, $-\tilde{\varphi}$; $-\tilde{\omega}$ τον, &c. 2 Aor. δ- $\tilde{\varphi}$, $-\tilde{\varphi}$ ς, $-\tilde{\varphi}$; $-\tilde{\omega}$ τον, &c.

3. For the Optative.

Rule. Change the final vowel of the root into its own diphthong, and add the secondary final letters with η prefixed; thus,

Pres. Imp. $\{ i\sigma \tau \alpha l - \eta \nu, -\eta \varsigma, -\eta, \&c. \tau \iota \theta \varepsilon l - \eta \nu, -\eta \varsigma, -\eta, \&c. \delta \iota \delta o l - \eta \nu, \&c. 2 Aor. <math>\sigma \tau \alpha l - \eta \nu, -\eta \varsigma, -\eta, \&c. \theta \varepsilon l - \eta \nu, -\eta \varsigma, -\eta, \&c. \delta o l - \eta \nu, \&c.$

4. For the Imperative.

RULE. In the present and imperfect add the final letters to the root; but in the 2 Aor. change the short vowel into its own long; thus,

Pres. & Imp. $l\sigma\tau\alpha-\theta\iota$, $-\tau\omega$, $-\tau\sigma\nu$, $-\tau\omega$, $-\tau\varepsilon$, $-\tau\omega\sigma\alpha\nu$. 2 Aor. $\sigma\tau\eta-\theta\iota$, $-\tau\omega$, $-\tau\sigma\nu$, &c.

Exc. 3. In the 2 Aorist, $\tau t\theta \eta \mu \iota$, $\delta t\delta \omega \mu \iota$, and $\ell \eta \mu \iota$, retain the short vowel and add -s instead of - $\theta \iota$ in the 2 pers. singular; as, $\theta \dot{\epsilon}$ -5, $-\tau \omega$, $-\tau \omega \nu$, &c.; $\delta \dot{\epsilon}$ -5, $-\tau \omega$, $-\tau \omega \nu$, &c. So also $\sigma \pi \ddot{\eta} \mu \iota$, $\sigma \varphi \ddot{\eta} \mu \iota$, and $\sigma \chi \ddot{\eta} \mu \iota$, in the Pres. and Imp. have $\sigma \pi \dot{\epsilon}$ 5, $\sigma \varphi \dot{\epsilon}$ 5, $\sigma \chi \dot{\epsilon}$ 5.

5. For the Infinitive.

RULE. In the Present and Imperfect add the final letters to the root, and in the 2 Aorist change the short vowel into its own long; thus,

Pres. and Imperf. ίστά-ναι, 2. Aor. στη-ναι.

Exc. 4. In the 2 Aorist $\tau \ell \theta \eta \mu \iota$ and $\ell \eta \iota \iota$ change the short vowel of the root into $\epsilon \iota$, and $\delta \ell \delta \omega \mu \iota$, into $\epsilon \upsilon$; as, θ $\tilde{s}i$ - $\nu\alpha i$, $\tilde{s}i$ - $\nu\alpha i$, $\delta o\tilde{v}$ - $\nu\alpha i$.

6. For the Participles.

RULE. Add the final letters to the root, and then combine by the rules of Euphony, § 6. 18.; thus, § 107. FORMATION OF MOODS AND TENSES IN THE MIDDLE AND PASSIVE VOICE.

Prefix the reduplication in the present and imperfect in verbs that reduplicate, as in the active voice; and then, in all the tenses,—

1. For the Indicative, Imperative, Infinitive, and Participles.

Rule. Annex the final letters to the root, (§ 105.2, 3.); as,

Indicative, lστα-μαι, -σαι, -ται, &c. Imp. ιστά-μην, -σο, -το, &c. Imperative, lστα-σο, -σθω, -σθον, σθων, &c. Infinitive, lστα-σθαι.

Participles, ίσιά-μενος, -μένη, μενον.

2. For the Subjunctive.

Rule. Change the last letter of the root into the subjunctive terminations, -ωμαι, -ῆ, -πται, &c § 92. II.; as,

Exc. Verbs in $-\omega u$ retain ω through all the numbers and persons, as in the active; as, δίδωμι, R. δο- Subj. Pr. & Imp. διδ-ῶμαι, -ῷ, -ῶται, &c. 2 Aor. δ-ῶμαι, -ῷ, -ῶται, &c.

3. For the Optative.

RULE. Change the last letter of the root into its own diphthong, and add the secondary final letters; as,

2 στημι, R. στα- Opt. Pr. & Imp. εσται-μην, -σο, -το, &c. 2 Aor. σται-μην, -σο, -το, &c.

Obs. σ is usually rejected in the 2d pers. singular; making, loral-μην, -0, -το, &c. σταl-μην, -0, -το, &c. § 109. 8.

N. B. As the root of verbs in $-\mu$ ends in α , s, o, or v, these vowels combining with the final letters cause the appearance of four different forms of termination, and for this reason four paradigms have usually been given, though there is in fact only one. This can tend only to perplex and obscure the subject, and to impose unnecessary labour on the learner. If the changes which affect the root are carefully studied according to the preceding rules, § 106, 107, this conjugation will be found even more simple than the first. The following table will show that in whatever vowel the root end, still there is but one form of inflection.

Note. For the other tenses of verbs in μ_i , see §§ 110 and 111, and for the dialects, § 102.

§ 109. OBSERVATIONS ON VERBS IN μ.

ACTIVE VOICE.

- 1. The final letters of the 3d pers. plur. are properly -ντσι; and these, combining with the preceding vowel, according to the rules of Euphony, (§ 6. 18.), become -āσι, -εισι, -ουσι, υσι, -ωσι.
- 2. In the optative, η is often dropped before the final letters of the plural, making

-aimer, -aite, -aier; -eimer, -eite, -eier; -oimer, -oite, -oier. instead of -αίημεν, -αίητε, -αίησαν ; -είημεν, &c.

- 3. lστημι has sometimes lστη for lσταθι in the imperative; and in compounds στα is commonly used for στηθι; thus, ἄναστα for ἀναστήθι; παράστα for παραστήθι, &c.
- 4. So also τιθημι, διδωμι, and lημι, have sometimes τιθει, διδου, lει, for τιθετι, διδοθι, lεθι; but these are properly contracted forms of the primitive verb with the reduplication, used in the Ionic and Doric dialects; thus, τιθέω, imper. τιθεε, contr. τιθει.
- 5. As in verbs in - ω , (§ 101. 2.) so also in those in μ , . ℓ rr ω r is used for - ℓ r ω σ α r in the imperative 3d pers. plural.
- 6. The primitive in $-\omega$, with the reduplication, is sometimes used instead of the form in $-\mu$ in the present and imperfect; thus, τιθέω, -έεις, -έει, contr. -ῶ, -εῖς, -εῖ, for τίθημι, -ης, -ησι, &c. Ιστάω, -άεις, -άει, contr. -ῶ, -ᾳς, -ᾳ, for εστημι, -ης, -ησι, &c.

Present.

Imperfect,

 $\dot{\varepsilon}_{\tau}(\theta \varepsilon o \nu, ... \varepsilon \varepsilon, ... \varepsilon, .$

7. The terminations -ασαν, .εσαν, &c. in the 3 pers. plur., are frequently shortened by syncope; as, loταν for loτασαν; ξτιθεν for ετίθεσαν; ξόαν for ξόησαν.

MIDDLE AND PASSIVE.

8. In the 2d pers. sing. of the imperfect indicative, mid. and pass. σ is often rejected, and the concurring vowels contracted; thus, low for lorago; thou for theso, &c. So in the Indic. pres. sometimes long for loragas. Also in the 2d persing. of the optative, σ is rejected, but the vowels, being incapable of contraction, remain unchanged.

9. The same contraction takes place in the imperative; but in the 2d aor. θέσο is contracted into θοῦ only in compounds; as, παφάθου, ὁπόθου, &c.

§ 110. TENSES FORMED FROM THE PRIMITIVE.

Verbs in $\mu\nu$ have only three tenses of that form; viz. the Present, Imperfect and 2d Aorist. All the other tenses are formed from the first root of the primitive, as in the first conjugation, (§ 93. 2.) and are inflected as the same tenses in verbs in $-\omega$; as, τίθημι, from θέω, has 1 fut. θήσω, θήσομαι, &c. δίδωμι, from δόω, has 1 fut. δώσω, δώσομαι, &c. $\ell \sigma \tau \eta \mu \iota$, from $\sigma \tau \dot{\alpha} \omega$, has 1 fut. $\sigma \tau \dot{\eta} \sigma \omega$, 1 aor. $\dot{\epsilon} \sigma \tau \eta \sigma \alpha$, &c.

EXCEPTIONS.

- 1. First Future. Some verbs occasionally retain the reduplication; as, διδώσω from διδωμι, and verbs from derivatives in -νύω and -ννύω form the future from their primitives; thus, δείχνυμι from δείχνύω, has the 1 Fut. δείξ-ω from δείχω.
- First Aorist. Τίθημι, δίδωμι and λημι, have -κα and -καμην instead of -σα and -σάμην in the 1st aorist indicative; as, 1 aor. ἔθηκα, ἐθηκάμην; ἔδωκα, ἐδωκάμην, &c. In these verbs the other moods of this tense are wanting.
- 3 Perfect and Pluperfect Active. Verbs in -μι from έω commonly have ει before -κα of the perfect; those from dω have η or α; as, τίθημι from θέω, Perf. τἔθεικα; ἐστημι from σιάω, Perf. ἔστηκα, or ἔστακα. In these tenses ἐστημι aspirates the augment, and, except in the singular of the indicative, has a Syncopated form which resembles the present; thus, 1 pl. ἐστηκαμεν, by Syncope, ἔσταμεν, &c. inf. ἑστηκέναι, by Syncope ἐστάναι; participle, as § 101. 7.

Obs. The perf. act. of βστημι has a present signification; thus, ξστηκα, I stand, plup. ξστηκειν, I stood. In the pres., Imp., Fut., and 1 Aor. Act. it signifies to place, to cause to stand. In the passive throughout, to be placed. The 2 Aor.

Middle is not in use.

- 4. Passive voice. The short vowel of the root remains short before a consonant in the passive voice; as, δίδωμι, 1 Fut. pl. δο-θήσομαι, 1 Aor. ἐδό-θην, Perf. δέδο-μαι, &c. But ει before -κα in the perfect active returns before -μαι in the Perf. passive; as. Perf. Act. τέθει κα, 1 Fut. Pass. τε-θήσομαι, (§ 6. 4.) Perf. Pass. τέθει-μαι.
- 5. Tenses wanting. Verbs in μ s want the second and third roots, and consequently the tenses formed from them; viz. the Second Future, the Perfect and Pluperfect Middle, and the 2d Aprist Passive.

- Obs. 1. The Attics regularly and sometimes the Ionics use the present tense of sime in a future sense, "I will go."
- Obs. 2. The imperfect heir is nothing more than the form Elv with a prefixed, just as helder is used for elder; him for For, &c., and therefore η should not have ι subscribed as it is often written. The best grammarians regard ητα as merely an Ionic form of the same tense, contracted by the Attics into Though these forms have sometimes been regarded as the perfect of which year is the pluperfect, it is certain they never have the signification of these tenses, but always that of the imperfect or agrist.

*Inu., I send, from $\&\omega$, is regularly formed in all its parts like $\pi l\theta \eta \omega$. In the active voice it signifies, I send another; in the middle, I send myself, and hence the secondary signification, I desire or wish.

V. Eiuai, I clothe myself.

This verb comes from &w, to go into, to be sent or put into, to clothe one's self, and is the same in the Present Middle and Present and Perfect Passive; thus,

VII. Kelua, I lie down.

This verb may be regularly derived from *εέω, for εω by pros hesis of *ε; *εέω becomes *έημι in the 2 couj. and in the middle, *έεμαι, by contraction, *εῖμαι. It has the Ionic forms, *είαται and ἐκέατο for *εῖνται and ἐκειντο. § 101. 12.

VIII. Φημὶ, I say.

In all the parts in use $\varphi\eta u l$ is formed regularly like $l \sigma \tau \eta u \iota$. It appears to have had an ancient form $\dot{\eta} u l$, whence, probably, we have the forms of the imperfect, $\dot{\eta} \nu$, $\dot{\eta} \varsigma$, $\dot{\eta}$, frequently used in familiar language with $\delta' \dot{\epsilon} \gamma \dot{\omega}$ and $\delta' \dot{\delta} \varsigma$; as, $\dot{\eta} \nu \dot{\delta}' \dot{\epsilon} \gamma \dot{\omega}$, "said l," $\ddot{\eta} \dot{\delta}' \dot{\omega} \varsigma$, "said he." The infinitive $\varphi \dot{\omega} \nu \alpha \iota$ is always used in the sense of the past time; as, $\varphi \dot{\omega} \nu \alpha \iota \dot{\tau} \dot{\omega} \nu \dot{\omega} \dot{\omega} \dot{\omega} \dot{\tau} \dot{\eta}$, "that Socrates has said." When the present infinitive is required it is supplied by $\lambda \dot{\epsilon} \gamma \dot{\epsilon} \iota \nu$.

- Obs. 4. The singular of the present indicative of this verb is used only by the Dorians, $toa\mu\iota$, Theorr 5. 119; instead of it the perfect middle of stoa is used; thus, otoa, otoaa, otoaa, otoaa, otoaa. The aorist, perfect active, &c. are supplied from $\gamma\iota\gamma\nu\omega\sigma\nu$. The Ionians have toaa, 1st pers. pl. for $toa\mu\epsilon\nu$.
- Obs. 5. In the middle voice, ἐσταμαι, &c. is used for ἔσαμαι, in the compound ἐπίσταμαι, I know, or understand. This, however, is supposed to be rather an Ionic form of the middle, from ἐφίστημι, to which the words τὸν νοῦν, are to be supplied.

For a catalogue of irregular and defective verbs, see § 117.

§ 113. DEPONENT VERBS.

- 1. Deponent verbs are those which under a middle and passive form have either an active or middle signification.
- 2. Deponent verbs have the middle form, except in the perfect, pluperfect and Paulo-post future, in which the forms are passive. Their perfect has sometimes both an active and passive sense.
- 3. Some of these verbs have also a passive form of the first future and first agrist, always used in a passive sense.
- 4. The Tenses of deponent verbs are: the Present, Imperfect, Perfect, Pluperfect, and Paulo post-future of the passive form; the First Future and First Aorist of the middle form; and the First Future and First Aorist in the passive form, and Oldas with the paragogic θa becomes oldasθa, and then by syncope olda, as above.

with a passive sense. A few have a second agrist middle. They are usually conjugated by giving the Pres and 1 Fut. Mid. and Perf. Pass.; thus, δέχομαι, δέξομαι, δέδογμαι.

Note. In the above table the imperative and infinitive of the perf. δέδεγ-σο and δέδεγ-σθει are changed by euphony into δέδεξο and δέδεχθει, § 6. 7. 17.

§ 114. IMPERSONAL OR MONOPERSONAL VERBS.

Many verbs are occasionally taken impersonally; as, άφόσπει, it pleases; άφπεῖ, it suffices; συμφέρει, it is profitable, &c.

The following are those which are chiefly taken impersonally; viz.

- 1. πρέπει, it is becoming; ἔπρεπε, it was becoming; πρέπειν, to be becoming; τὸ πρέπον, that which is becoming; pl. τὰ πρέποντα.
 - 2. µélei, it concerns; epele, µeligei, µeµeliges and µéµgle.
- 3. δοκεῖ, it appears; εδόκει, (from δοκέω); ἔδοξε, (δόκω); τὰ δοκοῦντα.
 - 4. δεί, it behoves ; έδει, δεήσει, δείν, τὸ δέον, τὰ δέοντα.
- 5. χρη, it is necessary; έχρην, χρήσει, χρηναι, and χρην; τὸ χρέων, contracted for χρέων.

§ 115. DESIDERATIVE, FREQUENTATIVE, AND INCEPTIVE VERBS.

1. Desiderative Verbs are those which denote a desire or intention of doing. They are commonly formed by adding -oslo to the first root of the primitive; as, γελάω, I laugh; 1 R. γελα- γελασείω, I desire to laugh. πολεμέω, I make war; ,, πολεμε- πολεμησείω, I desire war

Another form of desideratives is that in -άω or -ιώω, properly from substantives; as, from θάνατο;, death; θανατάω, I long for death; στρατιγιός, a general; στρατιγιώω, I wish to be a general. Also from verbs, by first forming substantives from them; as, ereioθus, to buy; (ωνητής,) erητιάω, I wish to buy.

πλαίω, I weep; (πλαυσις,) πλαυσιάω, I am disposed to weep.

- 2. Frequentatives are those which signify repeated action. These commonly end in -;ω; as, φιπτάζειν, (from φίπτειν,) to throw from one place to another, Mid. to throw one's self this way and that, to be restless; στενάζειν, (from στένειν,) to sigh much and deeply; so, from αιτείν, to demand; αιτίζειν, to beg; ζηπειν, to creep; έφπάζειν, to creep slowly.
- 3. Incertives are those which express the beginning or continued increase of an action. These commonly end in -σxω; as, γενείωσχω, to begin to have a beard; ήδάσχω, to grow to manhood; (the same as γενειάζω and ήδάω); in part transitive; as, μεθύσχω, to intoxicate; from μεθύω, I gm intoxicated.

§ 116. IRREGULAR AND DEFECTIVE VERBS.

In many of the Greek verbs, a variety of forms, and an apparent irregularity in the formation of different tenses appears. This is occasioned partly by the adoption of new forms of the present and imperfect tenses, which are used either jointly with their primitives, if they are still in use; or in their stead, if they have become obsolete, while the other tenses continuess regularly formed from the primitive verb; and partly by the use of tenses taken from synonymous verbs of a different theme, in the place of those which have become nearly or entirely obsolete; and thus, as it were, out of the fragments of two or more verbs, whose other parts have disappeared, is formed a new whole. The parts of this whole, being all that remains in use of their respective roots, considered by themselves are really defective verbs. And some of these, though regularly formed from their own themes, yet not being formed from the present to which they are attached, but from some other verb related to it in form or signification, the whole verb is not improperly termed anomalous or irregular. This appellation, then, properly belongs to all those verbs whose present, first future, and perfect, do not follow the common analogy of conjugation. A few examples will illustrate these remarks; thus, δύω, to go under, has δύνω, δύμι, and δύσκω, all different forms of the present; but the first future, and the tenses derived from it, are regularly formed from the primitive & and the second agrist form e form in -μι. Again, πάσχω, I suffer, has 1st fut. παθήσω, and p. πεπάθηκα, m the obsolete present, παθέω; the 2d aor. ἐπαθον, p. m. πέπηθα, from the isolete πήθω; and the 1st f. m. πείσομαι, (§ 6. 18.,) and p. m. πέπονθα, m the obsolete πένθω. In this latter example, πάσχω, the only present in ie, with its imperf. ἐπασχον, is a defective verb, having no other tenses deved from them; in like manner, the other parts from their respective emes are so many defective verbs. But, taken together, and as attached πάσχω, a theme from which they are not formed, according to the comon analogy of conjugation they form what is called an anomalous or irreguraers.

In most irregular verbs the irregularity is caused by the loption of a new present and imperfect, formed by certain langes on the root of the verb in these tenses, while the other nses continue to be formed regularly from the primitive root theme. Thus from $\Delta H'B\Omega$, is formed the new present $\iota\mu\delta\Delta\nu\omega$, imperfect, $\dot{\epsilon}\lambda\dot{\epsilon}\mu\delta\alpha\nu\sigma$, while the 1 Future, $\lambda\dot{\eta}\nu\omega$, and 1 the tenses following it are formed regularly from the Root HB.

In this way new presents are formed from old roots as ollows:

I. By the addition of certain letters to the root; thus,

Theme	Root.	let. add.		New Pres.	1 Fut.
1 δόχω,	δox-	8,	makes	δοκέ-ω,	δόξω.
2 τίω,	76-	ν,	,,	τίν.ω,	τίσω.
3 ἀγω,	άγ-	νu,	"	άγνύ-ω,	άξω.
4 δω,	£-	, טעע	"	έννύ-ω,	ἒσω.
5 ξλαω,	ěλα-	υν,	99	έλαύν-ω,	έλάσω.
6 ફેફ્ફેબ,	` કે ၇ε-	ELY,	. ,,	દેશ્દદીમ-બ,	έρήσω.
7 γηράω,	γηςα-	σ×,	>	γη ς άσχ-ω,	γηράσω.

II. Of roots that end with a vowel, some drop it before the dded letters; some change o into ω , s into η , and others hange s or o ino s; thus,

T	heme.	Root.	R. changed.	let. add.	New Pres.	1 Fut.
	άμαρτέω, ἐριδέω,	άμαςτε. ἐριδε.	άμα ςτ - έριδ-	αν, αιν,	άμαρτάν-ω, ἐριδαίν-ω,
3	· ·	ζο- άλδε-	. 7	ννύ, σχ,	ζωννύ-ω, ἀλδήσκ-ω,	ζώσω.
5	εὐ ǫέω, ἀλόω,	εὐ ρε- ἀλο-	ale-	σ×,	εὐρίσ× ω, ἀλίσ×-ω,	εύρήσω.
7	βιόω,	600-	Bros-	σ×,	διώσ×-ω,	6ιώσω.

III. Of roots that end with a *-mute or a τ-mute, the final nute is sometimes dropped before the added letters; thus,

Theme.	Root.	R. changed.	let. add.	New Pres.	1 Fut.
1 πράγω	, πραγ-	ποα-	σσ,	ποάσσ-ω,	πράξω.
2 [u/zðo	, lund-	iuu-	σσ,	ίμάσσ.ω,	ξμάσω.
3 xoriga	, χοαγ-	xōα-	ζ,	χ οάζ-ω,	χούξω.
4 φρίεδω	, φοαδ-	dôn-	ζ,	φούζ-ω,	φράσω.
5 Orixu	, θνηπ-	$\theta \nu \eta$ -	σ×,	Ονήσα-ω,	θνήξω.

IV. Some form a new present from the second root changed before the added letters by inserting r, which before a π -mute becomes μ ; thus,

      Theme.
      2 Root.
      2 R. changed. lef. add.
      New Prev.
      1 Fut.

      1 λήθω, λαθλανθαν, λανθάν-ω,
      λήσοι.

      2 λήθω, λαβλαμβ-αν, λαμβάν-ω,
      λήψω.
```

V. By Syncope or contraction; as, θελέω, by Syncope, θέλω. 1 Fut. θελήσω. $t\gamma \epsilon l \varphi \omega$, , , $"E\Gamma P \Omega$, 2 Aor. M. $\eta \gamma \varphi \delta u \eta \nu$. ἀφελέω, by double Syncope, ὄφλω, 1 Fut. ἀφελήσω.

New Pres.

VI. By Reduplication, viz. of the initial syllable; of the initial consonant with i; and of i commonly called the improper reduplication; as,

Theme. New Pres. 1 Fut. αγω, by Red. of initial syllable, άγάγω, ŽEω. consonant with , διδέω, δέω, δήσω. ,, πλέω. πιμπλέω,* πλήσω. στάω, improper Red. ίστάω. στήσω.

VII. By Metathesis or transposition of letters, which howover rarely occurs; as,

Theme. Root. New Pres. 1 Fut. δέρχω, δέρχ- by Metathesis, δρέχ- δρέχ-ω, δέρξω.

IX. In several, two or more of these modes of variation combine to form the new present; thus,

By VI and II, γνόω becomes γιγνώσκω, 1 fut. γνώσω.
 By VI and I, δράω becomes διδράσκω, , , δράσω.

3 By VI and III, δάχω becomes διδάσκω, ,, διδάξω.

- 4 By VI, μένω becomes μιμένω, and by V, μίμνω, 1 fut. μενέω.
- 5 By VI, τέκω becomes τιτέκω, by V, τίτκω, and by VII, τίκτω, 1 fut, τέξω.
- 6 By I, επω becomes επάνω, by V, επνω, by I, επνέω, επνέομαι, I fut. εξω.
- 7 By VIII, $\sigma_{\chi} \epsilon_{\omega}$ becomes $\chi \epsilon_{\omega}$, by VII, $\epsilon_{\chi} \omega$, 1 fut. both $\epsilon_{\zeta} \omega$ and $\sigma_{\chi} \gamma_{0} \sigma_{\omega}$.

§ 117. ALPHABETICAL LIST OF IRREGULAR AND DEFECTIVE VERBS.

EXPLANATION.

In the following Table, the words in capitals are the roots from which certain tenses are formed, but which are themselves either entirely obsolete, or are morely supposed, in order to derive from them by analogy the forms in use. When there is but one form of the root, the numbers 1, 2, &c. are omitted, as in ἄγω.

The capital R after a tense indicates that the verb is conjugated regularly from the tense after which it is placed.

A.

- 'Ayaµaı, to admire: a passive form from ἄγημι, Th. dyáω, (1 R. dya-,); pr. and imp. like ἴσταμαι; ἄγάζομαι, s. s. 1st fut. dyáσομαι, R.
- 'Aγνόω, ἄγνυμι, to break: from ἄγω, (R. ἄγ-,) 1 f. ἄξω, &c, R. 1 a. ἔαξα, 2 a. p. ἐάγην, perf. m. ἔαγα, with a passive signification. It commonly takes the syllabic augment, probably owing to its having anciently had the digamma as the initial letter; thus, pr. Fάγω, 1 a. ἔΓαξα, and then ἔαξα; &c.
- *Αδω; See άνδάνω.
- *Ayω, to lead: (R. āy-,) 1 f. āξω, &c. R. It has a reduplication in the 2 a.

§ 118. INDECLINABLE WORDS OR PARTICLES.

The Indeclinable parts of speech, sometimes denominated Particles, are those which suffer no change of form by inflection. They are the Adverb (which includes the Interjection) the Preposition and the Conjunction.

THE ADVERB.

An Adverb is a word joined to a verb, an adjective or another adverb, to modify or denote some circumstance respecting it.

Adverbs may be considered in respect of Signification, Derivation and Comparison.

§ 119. OF THE SIGNIFICATION OF ADVERBS.

In respect of signification, adverbs may be arranged in Greek as they are in Latin and other languages, under the following heads:

- 1. Adverss of Place; comprehending those which signify,
 - 1st. Rest in a place. These generally end in θι, σι, ου, η, οι, χου, χη; as, ἀγρόθι, in the field.
 - 2d. Motion from a place. These generally end in - $\theta s r$ or - θs ; as, $\alpha \gamma \rho \delta \theta s r$, from the field.
 - 3d. Motion to a place. These generally end in δε, σε, ζε; as, ἀγρόνδε, to the field. § 120. II. 6.
 - 4th. Motion through or by a place. These are generally feminine adjectives in the dative singular, having δδφ understood; as, άλλη, by another way.
- 2. Adverbs of Time; as, vov, now; tots, then; note, sometimes, &c.
- Adverbs of Quantity; πόσον, how much; πολό, much; δλίγον, a little, &c.
- ADVERBS OF QUALITY; these end in ως; in α and η (which are properly datives of the first declension); also in η, ι, ει, δον, δην, στι, and ξ.
- 5. Adverbs of Manner; (viz. of action or condition,) including those which express exhortation, affirmation, negation, granting, forbidding, interrogation, doubt, &c.
- 6. Adverbs of Relation; or such as express circumstances of comparison, resemblance, order, assemblage, separation, &c.
- Adverse of Exclamation; in other languages usually denominated Interjections. (See Obs. 2.)

OBSERVATIONS.

Obs. 1. Some adverbs have such an affinity, that beginning with a rowel they are indepinites; with π , interrogatives; with τ , redditives or responsives, as follows:

INDEFINITE.	INTERROGATIVE.	WEDDIIIAE.
δτε, δποτε, ήνικα, when. δθεν, ὁπόθεν, whence. δθι, where. δσον, how much. ολον, after what manner.	πώ, { how far ? for what reason ? πότε, πήνικα, when ? πόθεν, whence ? πόθεν, where ? πόσυν, how much ? πείεν, αβίεν what manner?	τῷ, { so far. for that reason. τότε, τήνικα, then. τόθεν, thence. τόσον, so much.

Obs. 2. Under adverbs in Greek are classed those particles of exclamation which express some sudden emotion of the mind, and are, in the grammars of most other languages, denominated Interjections. The most common of these are the following, which express Rejoicing; as, lod, ldd.

Grieving; as, lod, δ and δ.
Laughing; as, α, α.
Bevailing; as, α, λ, ld, δοτοιοί.
Wishing; as, ει, ειδε.
Rejecting; as, εια, εδρε.
Praising; as, εία, εδρε.

Condemning; as, δ, φεῦ.
Admiring; as, δ, δαβαί, παπαί.
Deriding; as, ἰοι, δ, δ.
Calling; as, δ.
Enjoining silence; as, ἢ, ἢ.
Threatening; as, οὐαί.
Raging; as, εὐοῖ.

§ 120. OF THE FORMATION AND DERIVATION OF ADVERBS.

A few adverbs in Greek are primitives; as, $\nu \tilde{\nu}_{\nu}$, now; χa - $\mu a l$, on the ground; $\chi \theta \dot{\epsilon} s$, yesterday.

But the greater part are derivatives, and consist of

- I. Such words as are not strictly speaking adverbs, but are so denominated from being sometimes used in an adverbial sense, either by virtue of their signification, or by ellipsis for an adverbial phrase; of these the following are examples:
 - The accusative of neuter adjectives; as, πρῶτον, τοπρῶτον; πρῶτα, τὰ πρῶτα, first; τὰ μάλιστα, chiefly; ὀξὸ, sharply.
 - 2. The oblique cases of nouns and pronouns; as,

Gen. δμοῦ, together; from δμός, united. οὐδαμοῦ, never; from οὐδαμος, no one.

Dat. κλω, around, (i. e. in a circle;) from *κκλος, a circle.
τάχει, swiftly, with swiftness; from τάχος, swiftness.

Acc. ἀφχήν and ἀφχάς. (sup. κατά) from the beginning; from ἀφχή, the beginning. δίκην, as, like; from δίκη, manner.

3. Verbs are sometimes used as adverbs; thus,

The imperative; as, aye, the, the, the control of t

Obs. 1. To these may be added

- 1st. nouns compounded with prepositions; as, ἐπ ποδὰν, out of the way.
- 2d. Prepositions united together; as, neges, abroad.
- 3d. Prepositions joined with adverbs; as, Enerta, then.
- II. Such words as have undergone a change of form, and are used only in an adverbial sense. These are so numerous and varied in form and derivation, that a perfect classification cannot be given. The following, as being the most important, may be noticed: viz.

Adverbs in

- 1. -ως, express a circumstance of quality or manner, and are for the most part formed from adjectives by changing -ος of the nominative or genitive into -ως; as, φίλως from φίλος; σωφρόνω; from σώφρων, gen. σώφρονος.
- 2. -i, or -ei, express a circumstance of manner, and are generally formed from nouns; as, draipsi, without bloodshed; actorisis, with one's own hand.
- 3. -τι and -τει are formed from the verbal adjectives in -τός and -τέος; thus, δνομαστι, by name; ἀνιδρωτι, without sweating. So also those in -δην, (the characteristic of the verb being changed when necessary, according to the laws of Euphony, § 6. 2.); thus, from βατός is formed βάδην, by steps, (from βάω); from συλληπτός, συλλήδδην, collectively; from πρυπτός, πρύβδην, secretly, &c. Sometimes the termination -άδην is added; as, σποράδην, scattered.
- 4. .ιστι come from verbs in -lζα, derived from nouns signifying a nation, party, or class, and signify after the manner, language, &c. of such nation, &c.; as, Ελληνιστί, after the manner of the Greeks; ἀνδραποδιστί, after the manner of men.
- 5. -δον and -ηδον are chiefly derived from nouns, and relate chiefly to external form and character; as, ἀγεληδόν, in herds; βοιφυδόν, resembling grapes.

Note. If derived from verbal adjectives they agree in signification with those in -ônv; as, draparbin, openly.

6. Adverbs denoting certain relations of place, are formed by the addition of certain syllables to the words from which they are derived; ziz. In a place is denoted by the terminations θι, σι, σι, σι, του and χη; from a place, by -θεν σι -θε; and to a place, by -θεν σι -θε; and to a place, by -θεν σι -θες.

Exc. Adverbs of place, derived from prepositions, express the relations of in a place and to a place by the termination -w; thus,

In a place. To a place.

From a place.

§ 121. COMPARISON OF ADVERBS.

1. Adverbs derived from adjectives compared by -τερος and -τατος, are compared by changing -ος of these terminations into ως; as, σοφως, σοφωτέρως, σοφωτάτως, from σοφός.

2. Adverbs derived from adjectives, compared by -low and -toros, commonly take the neuter singular of the comparative and neuter plural of the superlative for their comparative and superlative; thus, αλσχοως, άισχίον, αλσχιστα, (from αλσχοός.)

Note 1. This mode of comparison is also used, though more rarely, for those derived from adjectives compared by -repos and -rares; as,

τοφῶς, σοφώτερον, σοφώτατα

- Note 2. The accusative neuter of adjectives, both singular and plural, is sometimes used adverbially in all the degrees. To the superlative degree the article is frequently prefixed; as, ro nhatorov, (sup. κατά.)
- 3. Adverbs in -ω, formed from prepositions, are compared by adding -τέρω and -τάτω; as, ἄνω, ἀνωτέρω, ἀνωτάτω. So also prepositions in the sense of adverbs; as, ἀπό, ἀπωτέρω.

Note. Some other adverbs imitate this mode of comparison; as, έγγος, έγγοτέρω, έγγοτάτω; yet as often otherwise; thus, comp. έγγοτερον, and έγγον, superl. έγγιστα.

& 122. INSEPARABLE ADVERBIAL PARTICLES.

Certain particles, never used by themselves, but prefixed to words by composition, affect the signification of the words with which they are compounded, as follows:

1. The particle à (which becomes às before a vowel) bas three different significations:

- 1st. It marks privation, (from ἀνευ, without;) as, ἀνυδρος, without water.
- 2d. ____ increase, (from ayar, much;) as, asulos, much wooded.
- 3d. union, (from αμα, together;) as, αλοχος, a consort.
- 2. "Αφι, ἔφι, βοῦ, βφῖ, δά, ζά, λά, λί, and sometimes νή and νέ, increase the signification; as, δήλος, manifest; ἀφίδηλος, rery manifest, &c.
- 3. Nh and re generally express privation or negation; as, $\nu\eta\pi\iota\sigma$, an infant, from rh and $\xi\pi\omega$, I speak; but
- Exc. Nη sometimes increases the signification; as, νηχυτος, that flows in a full stream, from νη and χόω.
- 4. Δυς expresses difficulty, trouble, or misfortune; as, δυσμενής, malevolent; δυστυχέω, I am unhappy.

Note. The contrary of set is ed, (which is also found by itself.) It signifies well or with facility; as, every, benevolent; every few, I am happy.

§ 123. OF THE PREPOSITIONS.

- A Preposition is an indeclinable part of speech, which points out the relation of one thing to another, and always governs a certain case.
- 1. The primary use of prepositions seems to have been to indicate the relation of one thing to another in respect of PLACE. From this, by a natural and easy analogy, they are used to express similar relations in respect of TIME.
- 2. From their primary and more common use to express certain relations of place and time, they are also used by analogy and figure to express various other connexions and relations among objects, in all of which, however, the primary and original use of the word may easily be traced.
- 3. All prepositions ending with a vowel, except ἀμφι, περι, and πρὸ, reject the final vowel when compounded with or standing before a word beginning with a vowel; ἀμφι generally retains ι, but there are many exceptions. It is always rejected before the augment s. Πρὸ before ε sometimes combines with it by contraction; thus, πρὸ ἔργου becomes προύργου. § 89. Obs. 2.

4. There are eighteen prepositions, properly so called, in the Greek language; of these Four govern the Genitive only, viz. 'Αντί, ἀπὸ, ἐκ οτ ἐξ, πρὸ.

Two govern the Dative only,
Two govern the Accusative only,
Four govern the Gen. and Acc.
Six govern the Gen., Dat., & Acc. 'Αμφὶ, περὶ, ἐπὶ, παρὰς, πρὸς. and ὑπὸ.

§ 124. ALPHABETICAL LIST OF PREPOSITIONS.

1. 'Augh, the Genitive, Dative, and Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; round, round about.

WITH THE GENITIVE; round, round about; at the same time proceeding or originating from; of, or concerning, upon, in addition to, for the sake of, for the love of.

WITH THE DATIVE; round, with the idea of rest and continuance; of or concerning, among, after, or near, upon, for, i. e. in defence of; for, i. e. on account of; with.

WITH THE ACCUSATIVE; round, with the idea of tendency or approximation to; near, of, concerning, or belonging to. See also § 134. 13.

IN COMPOSITION, about, round about.

2. 'Arà, the Accusative. In poetry, sometimes the Dative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; motion upwards, opposed to karà.

WITH THE ACCUSATIVE; over, up along, through, during, among, with, in computation, up, viz. from a point backwards.

WITH THE DATIVE; upon, on, in, with the idea of elevation and rest. In Composition; motion upwards, repetition, increase, back again.

3. 'Artl, the Genitive.

PRIMARY MEANING; in front of, in a state of rest; set over against, i. e. by way of exchange, comparison, equivalence, or preference. Hence,

WITH THE GENITIVE; For, i. e. equivalent; before, in preference; instead of, against, equal to, for, in consideration of; upon.

IN COMPOSITION; equalify, substitution, reciprocity, comparison; opposition

4. 'Aπò, the Genilive.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; removal from, viz. contact with; opposite of npds.

WITH THE GENITIVE; From, on, after, (from the time of,) against, by means of, with, upon, of, i. e. proceeding from; on account of, for, of, i. e. belenging to; e. g. of dno, those belonging to, viz. the Council, Plebeians, Stoics.

IN COMPOSITION; departure, separation, negation, privation, augmentation.

5. 4ià, the Genitive and Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; through, motion through.

WITH THE GENITIVE; 1. By means of, with, viz. as an instrument; 2. with regard to the space or time passed through, at, in; with numerals, Every; as, διὰ πόντε, every five.

WITH THE ACCUSATIVE; For, on account of, viz. as the end, occasion, or cause; e. g. marrà di avroù lytrero, all things were made by him; marrà di avròr lytrero, all things were made for him.

IN COMPOSITION; separation, division, arrangement, passage through, reciprocation, opposition, or compelition, perseverance.

6. Els or ès, the Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; to, into; motion from without to within; the opposite of $i\kappa$.

WITH THE ACCUSATIVE; to, toward, against, among, before, concerning, in respect of, in; with numerals, about. It forms distributives; as, si, iva, one by one; it is used adverbially, si, anal, once; si, sis, traice.

IN COMPOSITION: into.

Note. when before a Genitive, an accusative is understood.

7. 'Ex, (before a vowel 'E5,) the Genitive.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; from, out, out of, motion from within to without; opposite of sis.

WITH THE GENITIVE it denotes motion from, causation, change of state; rendered of, i. e. made of; of, viz. the number; out of, by, with, according to

IN COMPOSITION; out of, it denotes division or separation, pre-eminence, completion or success, intensity.

8. 'Ev, the Dative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; in, with the idea of rest and being contained within.

WITH THE DATIVE; within, during, among, before, in the power of, by, viz., by means of; in the case of, with, into.

In Composition; in or among.

9. 'Enl, the Genitive, Dative, and Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; on or upon, with motion or rest.

WITH THE GENITIVE; on, upon, at, in, or near; during, through, under, in the time of; after, with, by.

WITH THE DATIVE; upon, i. e. close and continuing upon, in the power of, i. e. resting upon; on condition, during, besides, i. e. in addition to; for ... e. in order to; after, with, against, along, among, over, viz. in authority.

WITH THE ACCUSATIVE; on or upon, with the idea of tendency or approach towards; to, towards, under, so as to be dependent upon; in, over, during, against, viz., motion towards with hostile intent.

IN COMPOSITION; addition, increase, reciprocity, succession.

10. Kατά, the Genitive and Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; down along, (parallel); down to, upon, or at, (perpendicular); down through, (transverse); opposite of dra.

WITH THE GENITIVE; down from, viz. originating or proceeding down from, directed down by; along, on, through, downwards; under, upon, at, as a mark; before, respecting, by, viz., in swearing; against, among.

With the Accusative; down (not from, but,) parallel to, down along, or to; through, according to, in respect of; in, on, by, near to, at, opposite, or before, during. Adverbially, κατὰ μικρὸν, by degrees.

IN COMPOSITION; down, opposition, intensity.

11 Msτα, the Genitive, Dative, and, (with the Poets,) the Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; with, together with, not as a part of, or one with; expressing a connexion less close than our.

WITH THE GENITIVE; with, together with, by means of, viz., as connected with and depending upon; according to, and, i. e. in conjunction with, as an agent, or object; with, i. e. against; with, i. e. for, on the side of; among.

WITH THE ACCUSATIVE; after, i. e. following close or near to, in respect to space or time; next to, next after, to, towards, for, or after, with a view to bring; between, in.

WITH THE DATIVE; by the poets only, in, with, among.

IN COMPOSITION; participation, change, reciprocity.

12. Παρά, the Genitive, Dative, or Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; denotes motion from, close to, or towards an object, according to the case with which it is joined.

WITH THE GENITIVE; from, i. e. from beside; of, proceeding from; by, with, near, from among, above, or in comparison with.

WITH THE DATIVE, at, with, near, among, with the idea of continuance.

WITH THE ACCUSATIVE; to, beyond, beside, towards, i. e. to the side of; through along, against, in comparison with.

IN COMPOSITION; it retains its general meaning; also defect.

13. Heal, the Genitive, Dative, and Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; round, round about, nearly the same with duo;, but in a sense less close.

WITH THE GENITIVE; round, round about, with the idea of origin or cause; about, i. e. of, or concerning; with, for, viz. in defence of; above on before, denoting pre-eminence or superiority.

WITH THE DATIVE; round, round about, with rest or continuance; for, i. e. concerning, on account of; from.

WITH THE Accusative; round, or about, with tendency or approach to; concerning or towards, about, i. e. near to, advancing towards; about, i. e. with regard to; in, of, against.

In Composition; round about, also denoting increase, abundance.

14. Πρὸ, the Genitive.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; before, in respect of place or time, but without the idea of opposition or comparison which belongs to duri.

WITH THE GENITIVE; before, in the presence of; at the command of, through, denoting cause or origin; for, in defence of; for, for the advantage of; before, denoting preference.

In Composition; before; with verbs of motion, forth, forward.

15. Πρός, the Genitive, Dative and Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; transition or passage, the relative direction being indicated by the case.

WITH THE GENITIVE; from, i. e. transition from; from, by, denoting the agent; belonging to, or the property of; of, proceeding from; on the side of: By, in oaths and supplications; before, to, so as to be protected by.

WITH THE DATIVE; close to, near, and continuing; besides, in addition to, before, occupied or busy with.

WITH THE ACCUSATIVE; to or towards, against, according to, with, in comparison of.

In Composition; motion to, addition, against, close to.

16. Σθν, the Dative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; with, closely connected with another, so as in some sense to form one with it; see $\mu\epsilon\tau\dot{a}$.

WITH THE DATIVE; with, together with, according to, besides, with the assistance of, at, during, to, on the side of.

IN COMPOSITION; concurrence in action, association, combination, collection, completion, or fulfilment, collision, intensity.

17. Υπέφ, the Genitive and Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION, over, or above, viz. in respect of place, and hence figuratively, over, in respect of power, authority, protection.

WITH THE GENITIVE; above, in a state of rest; over, in a state of motion; for, i. e. in defence of; for, viz. in the place of; for, on account of; by, for the sake of, of, concerning, in order to.

WITH THE ACCUSATIVE; over beyond, above or beyond, above, i. & more than; against.

In Composition; it retains its primary signification, also sometimes it augments.

18. Υπό, the Genitive, Dative, and Accusative.

PRIMARY SIGNIFICATION; under, modified by its case.

WITH THE GENITIVE; under, generally with the idea of protection, subjection, or the object of influence proceeding from; also by, with, i. e. under the direction of; by means of, for, i. e. under the influence of.

WITH THE DATIVE; simply under, completely under and continuing; by.
WITH THE ACCUSATIVE; under, viz., moving and proceeding under or coming up to the under part of a thing; to, behind, about, on the eve of.

IN COMPOSITION; it retains its primary signification. Sometimes it denotes diminution, privacy, beginning.

OBSERVATIONS.

- 1. The preposition, as its name imports, usually stands before the word which it governs. When it comes after it, as it sometimes does, this is indicated by the change of the accent from the last syllable to the first.
- 2. In composition, with a word beginning with a vowel, and generally when standing before such a word, the final vowel of the preposition is dropped, and, if the next preceding letter be a consonant, it is subject to the changes required by the laws of euphony; thus, $d\pi \partial \ \ell a v r o \partial \ must be written <math>d\phi' \ \ell a v r o \partial \ .$ $\Pi \epsilon \rho \partial \ however$, never drops its final vowel, and $\ell \kappa$ never changes its final letter except before a vowel, when it is changed into $\ell \delta c$.
- 3. The preposition alone, with the accent thrown back to the first syllable, in sometimes used for certain compounds, of which it forms a part; thus, ξνι is used for ξνεστι, it is lawful; πέρι for περίεστι, it is superfluous; ἄνα · for dναστηθι, arise; πάρα for πάρεστι, he is present.

§ 125. OF CONJUNCTIONS.

A Conjunction is an indeclinable part of speech, which serves to connect words and sentences together.

Conjunctions, according to their different meanings, are divided into different classes, of which the following may be noticed; viz.

- Connective; as, καὶ, τè, and; in poetry, ἡδὲ, ἰδὲ, ἡμὲν, and; καὶ δὲ, also, &c.
- Disjunctive; as, ħ, ħτοι; in poetry, ħs; and sometimes ħγουν, ħπου, or.
- 3. Concessive; as, xdv, xainso, si xai, although.

- 4. Adversative; as, άλλά, δε, άτορ, but; γε, at least; μεν, άλλα μεν. bul, truly, indeed; μέντοι, yet, &c.
- Causatives, which assign a reason for something previously said; as, γὰφ, for; ἐνα, ὅτι, ὅπω;, ὅφφα, that, ώ;, ώστε, that, so that; οὕνεκα, (in poetry) bcause; εἰπες, since indeed; ἐπεὶ, since, after that.
- 6. Conclusive, or such as are used in drawing a conclusion, or inference from something previously said; as. ἄρω, οὖν, therefore; διὸ, διοπὲς, wherefore, δὴ, then, truly; τοἶνυν, νὸ οι νὑν, therefore; τοι γωροῦν, (emphatic) wherefore; οὄ×ουν, not therefore.
- Conditional; as, εἰ. ἄν, ἔαν, ἥν, in poetry, κè, or κèν, αἰ, αἴκε, if; εἴπες, if indeed.
- 8. Expletire; as, γέ, πέρ, τοι, ψά, θέν, νό, ποῦ, πῶ, ἄρ, &c.

ADVERBIAL AND CONJUNCTIVE PARTICLES.

The following remarks on the signification and use of cer tain adverbial and conjunctive particles, will be useful for reference. For more ample information on this subject the advanced student is referred to the work of Hoogeveen on the Greek Particles, an abridged translation of which has been published by the Rev. John Seager, B. A.

ΑΛΛΑ.

- 1. 'Aλλά is adversative, and commonly answers to the English but. It is sometimes used elliptically, to indicate confidence or readiness, and may be rendered "well, then," therefore. Thus, άλλ' εδ ἴοθι, ότι ἔξει τοδθ' οὕτως, Well, then, know that this will be so, i. e. οὅκ ὁκνήσει, άλλ', &c. I will not be unwilling but, on the contrary, know, &c.
- 2. 'Αλλὰ γάρ. Thus combined γάρ introduces a reason for the opposition expressed by ἀλλά; as, ἀλλὰ γὰρ Κρίοντα λεόσοω, παόσω τοὺς παρεστῶτας λόγους, Βυτ I will stop the present discourse, ron I see Creon coming. Sometimes, however, the reference is more latent, and a clause is to be supplied from what precedes; thus, Plato, ἀλλὰ γὰρ ἐν ἄδον δίκην δώσομεν, where there must be surplied from the preceding sentence, οὰν ἀζημιοι ἀπαλλάξομεν, Βυτ we shall not escape unpunished, For we shall render satisfaction in Hades. Sometimes the reference is to a succeeding clause, and sometimes to some general remark which the connexion and sense of the passage will readily suggest, such as, But this is not surprising, for; But this is not impossible, for; &c.
- 3. 'Αλλά γε restricts with emphasis that which is general to something more special; as, dλλ' ούκ δν dγροίκως γε, οι ομαι, λοιδορήσειαν. But at zmast they would not, I think, revile us in a rude manner.

- 4. 'Αλλ' οὖν γε. When these particles are combined, they usually intimate that along with the opposition expressed by ἀλλὰ a consequence of what has preceded is also expressed; thus, ἀλλ' οὖν τοῦτον γε τὸν χρόνον ἦττον ἀπόἢς ἔσομαι. ΥΕΤ Ι will for this reason now at least be less disagreeable.
- 5. 'Aλλά joined with οὐδί strengthens the negative; as, dλλ' οὐδὶ πειράσομαι, Nay, I will not even try. In such sentences οῦ μόνον οῦ may be supplied, equivalent to, I will not only not do it, BUT I will not even try.
- 'Αλλά is strengthened by adding τοι; as, ἀλλ' ἡδύ τοι, ἡν αὐλὸς παρῆ, Why, that is a pleasant thing enough, if, &c.

AN, (Poet. KE or KEN.)

- "Aν (Poetice κε or κεν) according to Professor Dunbar, is derived from &ω, the same as ἐάω, to give, grant, or allow; and that the primary meaning of the particle thus derived is granted or allowed, which can be readily traced in all the variety of expression in which it is employed. This particle is used
- 1. In the sense of $\delta \delta \nu$, if, of which in this sense it is probably only an abbreviated form. Thus used, it expresses a condition, and may begin a sentence; as, $\tilde{\Delta}\nu$ $\theta \delta \delta s$, if (granted) God will. In all its other applications $\tilde{\Delta}\nu$ can stand only after other words in its clause.
- 2. It is used with indefinites, adding to them the force of the Latin -cunque, -soever; as, δοτις αν. whoever, or whosoever.
- 3. It is used most generally to limit the verb to which it belongs, and partly or entirely takes from that verb its direct affirmative power.

With the INDICATIVE imperfect, pluperfect, and aorists, it is rendered by should, would; should have, would have, &c. § 170. 4. and Obs. 1.; and also to express ability. and rendered by could or could have. It is sometimes joined to the future, and seems to soften the decisiveness of the statement; as, δ δέ κ εν κεχολώσεται δν κεν Γκωραι, and he will PERHAPS be angry to whom I go. It is but very seldom found with the indicative present; a few instances, however, have been produced from Aristophanes and Plutus.

With the subjunctive it is never joined, unless accompanied with certain other words, such as δς, δσος, δστις, δπότερος, οδ, δπου, ΐνα, &c. &c. except when used in the sense of εάν as above. (1.)

It is used with the OPTATIVE of all the tenses except the future, as in § 172. Obs. 6. II. 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th, 6th.

With the infinitive and participles it gives a contingent signification (commonly in the future), which may be resolved by changing the verb or participle into the optative with aν; as, οιονται αναμάχεσθαι αν, they think that they could retrieve themselves; τάλλα σιωπῶ, πόλλ' αν έχων είπειν, I omit the rest, though I have much to say.

4. It is used in positive statements with u... in the moods to give an expression of hesitation and modesty to the assection; as, ώς ἄν μοι δόκη, αε ά seems (WOULD SEEM) to me; εἰκ ἄν οίδα, Ι (SHOULD), HARDLY know.

- 5. "Ar is frequently repeated, either on account of its standing at a great distance from the verb, or to give emphasis to the condition suggested by it; eràs dr — λίγοιμι ἄν, having stationed myself —— I would say; κῶς ἐἰ γ' ἄν καλῶς λίγοις ἄν; how can you, how can you say, &cc.?
- 6. It is sometimes used to intimate that the verb in the preceding clause is to be repeated; as, εἰ δή τῷ σοφώτερος φαίην εἶναι, τουτῷ ἄν (Sc. φαίην εἶναι σοφώτερος), if I thought to be more wise in any thing, IT WOULD BE IN THIS.

'APA.

- 1. "Apa, denoting inference or conclusion, always stands after some word in its clause; its proper signification is "af course," "in the nature of things," and is commonly rendered therefore, consequently; it is used in the successive steps of a train of reasoning; as, If there are altars there are also gods; αλλὰ μὴν εἰσί βωμοί· εἰσίν ἄρα καὶ θεοί, But there certainly are altars; Therefore there are gods too. It is used in making a transition to what follows in the order of time or events, or in the progress of thought. With εἰ or táν it expresses conjecture; as, εἰ ἄρα δύνονται, if INDEED (i. e. in the course of things) they can. Sometimes it serves for an emphatic asseveration as if founded on an inference.
- 2. The adverb ἄρα is different from this, and is always placed first in a clause or sentence. It is merely an interrogative particle like the Latin num or utrum; as, ἄρα κατάδηλον ὁ δούλομαι λέγειν; Is, then, what I wish to say evident? When a negative answer is expected it has generally the particle μη annexed. The Latin nonne is expressed by ἄρ' ου, and sometimes by ἄρα alone.

LAP.

- 1. Γάρ, for, always follows other words like the Latin enim, which it resembles in signification, and for which at the beginning of a sentence rei γάρ, like the Latin etenim, is often used. Its use is to assign a reason for what is said. Very often, however, that of which it assigns the cause is merely implied or hinted at, and must be supplied to show the force of γάρ. It will frequently be found to refer to such expressions understood; as, Yes, No, no wonder, I believe, I cannot, &c., as, for example, in the answer so common in Plato, ἔστι γάρ οῦτω, Yes, or certainly, for so it is. Thus, Homer, Od. 10. 501. Ὁ Κίρκη, τίς γάρ ταῦτην δόδν ἡγερονεδεει; Oh Circe, (I cannot go thither,) for who will guide me on this way? From this interrogative use it came sometimes to be used merely to strengthen a question, like the Latin nam in quisnam.
- 2. In such expressions as καὶ γάρ, ἀλλὰ γάρ, the former particle indicates the omission of something of which γάρ assigns a cause; thus, καὶ γάρ, strictly translated means, and (no wonder,) for; and (it is natural,) for; and the like for the rendering of ἀλλὰ γάρ. See ἀλλά. 2.

ΓE.

Fi (enclitic) is a particle of limitation, and signifies at least, certainly, however, indeed, and is used to single out an individual object from a number; as, si μη δλον μέρος γε, if not the whole AT LEAST a part; έγω γε, I indeed, I at least. In most combinations it can be rendered into English only by giving greater emphasis to the word with which it is connected.

ΔE.

The particle δt , but, is used both to distinguish and oppose, and always stands after one or more words in a clause. It often serves, however, merely to mark transition from one proposition to another; and, in general, every proposition which has no other conjunction at its commencement, takes this δt , whether really opposed to the preceding or not. When so used, it may be rendered by and, for, or any other word which the nature of the connection may require; or it may often remain untranslated. Its principal use, however, is in connexion with $\mu t \nu$, which see.

ΔH.

 Δf_0 , a particle of affirmation, signifies truly, really, without doubt. It is used in affirmative answers; as, $\delta \tilde{\eta} \lambda o \nu \delta \tilde{\eta}$, it is certainly manifest. It is used ironically, especially after δs ; and after relative and comparative words it is usually emphatical. With $\pi o \tilde{\nu}$ joined to it $(\delta \tilde{\eta} \pi o \nu)$, it signifies certainly, viz., and sometimes perhaps. It differs from $\mu f \nu$ and $\gamma \epsilon$, also affirmative words, in this, that $\delta \tilde{\eta}$ strongly asserts a thing as already established; $\mu f \nu$ goes on to press the assertion without relaxing as to what has preceded; while $\gamma \epsilon$ asserts with limitation, yielding as to the past, or other things, but insisting upon this.

2. Δη, from ηδη, as an adverb, signifies now; joined with νην, this very moment; as, νην ηδη μαχητέον, we must fight this very moment. With verbs in the preterite, it denotes just now. As a conjunction, it is used, I. in exhorting; as, λέγε δη, come now, read; 2. In questions, it indicates the earnestness of the speaker, and his desire of an immediate answer; as, τὰ ποῖο αδη ταῦτα; what now are these? 3. In expressing admiration when joined with πότε; as, τί δήποτε τοντῶν, why now these; 4. In commencing a subject; as, τί δή σκοπῶμεν αὐτό, now let us consider it in this way; 5. In marking the successive stages of thought as they rise one above another. In each of these it signifies now truly, until at the last it signifies finally.

KAI and TE.

Kai and τε have the same significations in reference to each other as the Latin et and que. Both connect single ideas, and the entire parts of a sentence. With the older poets τε is more common than in the Attic prose writers, and it is commonly put not merely once between the connected parts, but joined to each of them; as, πατήρ ἀνδρῶν τε θεῶν τε, the father of both gods.

and men. When τε precedes κal in separate clauses, the former signifies not only; the latter, but also; τε καὶ, and also, connect more closely than simple καὶ; καὶ—καὶ, both—and; as teell—as; δλλως τε καὶ, especially, i.e. (both in other respects) and also, particularly also.

MA and NH.

Mà and Nà are particles of obtestation, and always govern the accusative of the object; $\nu \lambda$ is always affirmative; $\mu \lambda$, when alone, is negative, but is nevertheless attached both to affirmative and negative obtestations; as, $\nu \lambda$ $\lambda \lambda a$, and of $\mu \lambda \Delta a$.

MEN and AE.

Mér and dé are two particles referring to each other; they are used to distinguish, and at the same time to connect, the different clauses of a sentence together. Thus used, $\mu i \nu$ is generally placed in the first clause of a sentence, and di in each of the succeeding ones. Hence, whenever we find $\mu i \nu$ in the first member of a sentence, the thought necessarily turns to an opposite member with di. Sometimes, however, after $\mu i \nu$ the expected di does not actually follow; i. e. when the opposition is so clear that di is not necessary to point it out, or when some other word, such as $d\lambda \lambda d$, $d r d \rho$, &c, supplies its place. In like manner di is often used without being preceded by $\mu i \nu$, referring to something conceived in the mind but not expressed; or, without such reference, it is used simply to connect the parts of a sentence less closely than by $\mu i \nu - di$, or other conjunctions. In opposition they are commonly rendered indeed—but. See di.

The distributive use of $\mu\nu$ and & with the article, relative pronoun, &c. will be noticed § 133. 3. and 134. 19.

OYN and OYKOYN.

- 1. Oh, wherefore, is used, 1st. In drawing an ultimate conclusion in the view of all that has been said before; in this it differs from $\(\rho_{\alpha} \), which is used in successive steps in the process of reasoning. 2. It commences a chapter or paragraph, with some reference to what has preceded. 3. It continues or resumes a subject, after a digression. 4. Introduces a transition to some new subject; and lastly, has an affirmative force, particularly in replies; as, ylyverae our strans, it is certainly so; hence the compounds,
- 2. Ośnośp and μῶν, for μὴ οὖν. The former is properly a negative inference; as, "it is not therefore;" though sometimes it loses its negative character, and denotes "therefore;" μῶν is used interrogatively, "is it not therefore?"

 ΠΕΡ.

 $\Pi_{\ell p}$ (enclitic) is nearly allied to γ_{ℓ} , and is used to express the idea with more emphasis than it would have without it. This is indicated in English merely by a greater emphasis of the word, or by the words very, ever, and the like. Joined with a participle it is commonly rendered although, here enuch so ever, with a relative it adds the force of the Latin cunque, or the English ever; thus, δπερ, quæcunque, whatever, δσπερ, quicunque, whoever, &cc.; as, δπερ λέγει, whatever he does say; αγαθός περ έων, excellent though thou art; ξπερ είχεν, just as he was.

- 1. Που is a particle interrogative, of place, and signifies 1. where? 2. whither? As an enclitic it signifies motion to a place; as, σποδώω που, I am hastening to some place, somewhither, and also indicates place indefinitely anywhere hence it is joined with adverbs of place; as, έκει δέ που, somewhere there-abouts.
- 2. From the indefiniteness of its signification arises its conjectural use to express a thing with a degree of uncertainty and caution expressed in English by probably, perhaps, if I mistake not, &c., and hence is used in eliciting and asking consent; as, σύνοισθά που καὶ αύτὸς ὅτι, &c.. You yourself, as well as I, know, if I mistake not, or doubtless, that, &c., where an affirmative reply is evidently expected. Hence also its use as a diminutive, to qualify what might otherwise seem too positive or peremptory. Thus used it may be rendered by pretty nearly, in my opinion, perhaps, &c. This particle, though often used, is never redundant, οὐ δή που, for example, is, no indeed, as I think; not truly in my opinion.

ΠΩΣ.

- 1. This particle with the circumflex is interrogative and signifies how?
 as, πῶς οὐκ ἀξιὸς ἐστὶ τουτοῦ; how can he but be worthy of this? Joined with yeo they constitute an emphatic negative, πῶς γεο ποιῆσω; for how shall I do it? i. e. I will not do it at all. So also καὶ πῶς σιωπῶ; I cannot be silent; literally, and how am I to be silent?
- As an enclictic πως signifies some how, in some degree, &c. as. άλλως πως, in some other way; ώδε πως, somehow thus; &c.

$\Omega\Sigma$

This particle is extensively employed, and with a great variety of usage; as, 1. It is used for τνα, to denote a purpose; as, ως δείξωμεν, in order that we may shew; 2. For στι with the meaning of that; as, λέγοντες ως έκεινος, &c.., saying that he, &c..; 3. More commonly it signifies as, expressing similitude; as, ως δεόλος, as a slave; "He taught them—ως εξουσίαν έχων, as one having authority." 4. With the acute accent and not before an enclicic nor after a word on which it depends, it has the sense of οστως, thus; as, ως είπων, having spoken thus. 5. In exclamations it has the sense of how sa, ως στ μακαρίζωμεν, how happy we deem you! hence its use with the optatative in the sense of the Latin utinam; as, ως μ' δφελ' "Εκτορ κτείναι! Would that Hector had slain me! literally, how Hector ought to have slain me! 6. Before superlative adjectives and adverbs, like δτι, it strengthe ens the meaning; as, ως τάχιστα, as quickly as possible. Allied to this is its power as a strengthening particle, with the positive degree, in such expressions; as, ως αληθώς, truly, really. 7. It is used for the purpose of limiting propositions with the infinitive; as, ως είπεῖν, so to speak: ως είκαι, εί far as one many conjecture; and also in the same sense it is used before whole clauses and propositions; as, ως έπι το πολό, for the most part; ως πρώς το μέγεθος τῆς πόλεως, in proportion to the size of the city. 8. As a particle of time it signifies when, sometimes while; as, ως όλ ηλθε, but when he came. 9. With numerals it signifies about; as, ως τρία η τέτταρα στάλα, about three or four stadia. 10. With participles in the genitive absolute, and also in the dative or accusative, it is rendered as, since, because, inasmuch as, as if; and the participle is then rendered by the indicative; as, ως ταύτης τῆς χώρας έχυρωτάτης οδοης, because this place was the most scene.

11. It is often put by the Attics for the preposition είς, πρός, or ἐπί; as, ως ιμί, ιουατός me; ως τον βασιλία, to the king.

For the negative particles of and µ4, with their combinations and compounds, see § 166.

Obs. Though it is, in many cases, difficult to give a distinct translation of some of the Greek particles, or even always to feel their force, yet they ought never to be regarded as mere expletives. In all languages there are particles which are often employed chiefly for the sake of completeness, or in order to produce a well-sounding fulness, yet never without their own peculiar sense; and though it is often difficult to define what that sense is, yet every one feels that the expression is incomplete without them. So it is also in the Greek language. The full and original meaning of many of these particles has become partially lost, and they now give to the discourse only a slight colouring which we cannot properly feel except after long acquaintance and practice. For a more full elucidation of the force and use of these particles we refer the reader to the elaborate work of Hoogeveen on the Greek particles.

PART III.

§ 126. SYNTAX.

Syntax is that part of Grammar which treats of the proper arrangement and connexion of words in a sentence.

A Sentence is such an assemblage of words as makes complete sense; as, Man is mortal.

A phrase is two or more words rightly put together, but not making complete sense; as, In truth, in a word.

Sentences are of two kinds, Simple and Compound.

A Simple sentence contains but one subject and one verb; as, Life is short.

A Compound sentence contains two or more simple sentences combined; as, Life, which is short, should be well employed.

Every simple sentence consists of two parts, the subject and the predicate.

The subject is the thing chiefly spoken of. It is either in the nominative case before a finite verb, or in the nominative or accusative before the infinitive.

The predicate is the thing affirmed or denied of the subject. It is either contained in the verb itself; as, John reads; or it consists of a neuter verb with an adjective or noun following it; as, Time is short; They became poor.

Both the subject and the predicate may be attended by other words, called adjuncts, which serve to restrict or modify the meaning of the word with which they may stand connected; as, "An inordinate desire of admiration often produces a contemptible levity of deportment."

When a compound sentence is so framed that the meaning is suspended till the whole be finished, it is called a period.

§ 127. GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF SYNTAX.

- In every sentence there must be a rerb and a nominative, or subject expressed or understood
- 2. Every article, adjective, adjective pronoun, or participle, must have a substantive expressed or understood with which it agrees.
- 3. Every nominative has its own rerb expressed or understood.
- 4. Every rerb (except in the infinitive and participles) has its own nominative expressed or understood.
- 5. The genitire is governed by a nonn, a rerb, a preposition, or an adverb; or it is placed as the case absolute with the participle.
- 6. The datire is governed by adjectives, verbs, and prepositions. It also expresses the cause, manner, or instrument.
- 7. The accusative is governed by an active verb or preposition.
- 8. The rocative either stands alone, or is governed by an interjection.
- 9. The infinitive mood is governed by a verb, an adjective, or adverbial particle.

§ 128. PARTS OF SYNTAX.

The parts of Syntax are commonly reckoned two, Concord and Government.

Concorn is the agreement of one word with another in gender, number, case, or person.

GOVERNMENT is that power which one word has in determining the mood, tense, or case of another word.

I. OF CONCORD.

Concord is fourfold; viz.

- 1. Of a substantive with a substantive.
- 2. Of an adjective with a substantive.
- 3. Of a relative with its antecedent.
- 4. Of a verb with its nominative (or subject).

§ 129. A SUBSTANTIVE WITH A SUBSTANTIVE.

RULE 1. Substantives denoting the same person or thing agree in case; as, Παύλος ἀπόστολος, Σωκράτης ὁ φιλόσοφος, Θεῷ κριτῆ, Paul, an apostle. Socrates, the philosopher. To God, the judge.

Substantives thus used are said to be in apposition. The second substantive is added to express some attribute, description, or appellative belonging to the first, and must always be in the same member of the sentence, i. e. they must be both in the subject, or both in the predicate. A substantive predicated of another, though denoting the same thing, is not in apposition with it. See § 139. III. Rule 6.

- Obs. 1. One of the substantives is sometimes understood; as, Αστυάγης ὁ Κυαξάφου, (sup. υίὸς,) Astyages, the son of Cyaxares.
- Obs. 2. The possessive pronoun in any case being equivalent in signification to the genitive of the substantive pronoun from which it is derived, requires a substantive in apposition with it to be put in the Genitive; as, Δαὴρ ἐμὸς ἤν κυνώπιδος, He was the brother-in-law of ME, A SHAMELESS WOMAN. See § 133. 17.

Obs. 3. On the same principle, possessive adjectives formed from proper names, being equivalent to the genitive of their primitives, have a noun in apposition in the genitive; as, Neστοφέη παφά νητ Πυληγενέος βασιλήσε, near the ship of Nestor A King born at Pylos; Αθηναΐος &ν, πόλεως τῆς μεγίστης, being a citizen of Athens, a very large city. See § 133. 18.

Obs. 4. Sometimes the latter of two substantives signifying the same thing is put in the genitive; as, $\pi \delta \lambda \iota \varsigma$ ' $A\theta \eta \nu \tilde{\omega} \nu$, (for ' $A\theta \tilde{\eta} \nu \alpha \iota$,) the city of Athens.

§ 130. AN ADJECTIVE WITH A SUBSTANTIVE.

RULE II. An adjective agrees with its substantive in gender, number and case; as, χοηστός άνής, καλή γυνή,

a good man.
a beautiful woman.

κοινόν άγαθόν (χρημα), a common good.

This Rule applies to the Article, Adjective, Adjective Pronouns, and Participles.

- Obs. 1. Other words are sometimes used as adjectives, and consequently fall under this rule; viz.
 - 1st. A substantive which limits the signification of a more general-term; as, 'Ελλά; φωνή, the Greek language.
 - 2d. Adverbs placed between the article and its substantive; as, δ μεταξύ τόπος, the intervening space.
- Obs. 2. The place of the adjective is sometimes supplied by a substantive with a preposition; as, ήδονη μετά δόξης, (for Ινδοξος,) exalted pleasure. Sometimes by a substantive governing the other in the genitive; as, βάθος γῆς, depth of earth, i. e. deep earth; ή περισσεῖα τῆς χάριτος, abundance of grace, i. e. abundant grace. For the adverbial adjective, See § 165. Obs. 2.

§ 131. OBSERVATIONS ON THE CONCORD OF THE ADJECTIVE.

- Obs. 1. Two or more substantives singular, unless taken separately, have an adjective plural. If all the substantives be of the same gender, the adjective will be of that gender. If of different genders, the adjective takes the masculine rather than the feminine, and the feminine rather than the neuter. But if the substantives signify things without life, the adjective is commonly put in the neuter gender. Not unfrequently, however, the adjective agrees with one of the substantives and is understood to the rest; as, alel γάρ τοι ξρις τε φίλη, πολε. μοίτε μάχαιτε; contention to thee is always delightful, and wars and battles.
- Obs. 2. When the substantive to which the adjective belongs may be easily supplied. it is frequently omitted, and the adjective, assuming its gender, number, and case, is used as a substantive; as 6'A0qraio;, the Athenian; of $\delta(xaio)$, the righteous.
- Obs. 3. Adjectives in -ικό; are used in the neuter gender with the article, and without a substantive in two different senses.

 1. In the Singular they express generally a whole; as, τὸ ἐππικὸν, the cavalry; τὸ πολιτικόν, the citizens.

 2. In the plural they signify any circumstance which can be determined by the context; as, τὰ Τρωϊκα, the Trojan war; τὰ Ἑλληνικά, the Grecian history.
- Obs. 4. The adjective, especially when used as a predicate, without a substantive, is often put in the neuter gender, χοῦμα, πρῶτμα, ζῶον, &c. being understood; as, ή πατους φίλεατον (scil. χρῆμα) βροτοῖς, their country is (a thing) very dear to men; χαλεπὸν τὸ ποιεῖν, to do is hard.

- Obs. 5. Two adjectives are frequently joined together, one of which by expressing negatively the sense of the other, renders it more emphatic; as, γνωτά κ' οὐκ ἀγνωτά μοι, literally, known and not unknown, (i. e. well known,) to me.
- Obs. 6. Adjectives are very often put in the neuter singular and plural, with and without an article, for adverbs; as, πρῶτον, in the first place; τὸ πρῶτον, at first; τὰ μάλιστα, chiefly; κουφαῖα secrelly, &c.

So also in any gender or number, adjectives are sometimes used in the sense of adverbs, to express a circumstance of time, place, order, manner; as, ξπεσον άγχηστῖνοι, they fell near each other; άφίκετο δευτεφαῖος—τριταῖος, he came on the second—third day. § 165. Obs. 2. So in Latin, qui creatur annuus. Cæs.

EXCEPTIONS.

Exc. 1. An adjective is often put in a different gender or number from the substantive with which it is connected, tacitly referring to its meaning rather than to its form, or to some other word synonymous with it, or implied in it; as, κόφιον καλλίστα, a most beautiful girl. & άγαθὲ ψυχὴ, O brave soul.

ληστήριον πυρ επιφέροντας, a band of thieves bringing fire.

Exc. 2. A collective noun in the singular may have an adjective in the plural, and in the gender of the individuals which form the collection; as, δουλή ήσυχίαν είχεν—οὸκ ἀγνοῦντες, the council kept peaceable—not being ignorant.

So in Latin, maxima pars-in flumen acti sunt.

- Exc. 3. In the dual number the Attic writers sometimes join a masculine adjective with a feminine noun; as, τούτω τὰ ἡμέρα, these two days.
- Exc 4. An adjective masculine in the superlative degree is sometimes joined to a feminine noun to increase the force of the superlative; as, αι πόφαι μελάντατοι, very black pupuls. Also, a masculine adjective is joined with a feminine noun when the plural is used for the singular, and when a chorus of women speak of themselves; thus, Medea says of herself, και γὰφ ἡδικημένοι σιγησόμεθα, κφεισσόνων νικώμενοι, though injured I will be silent, yielding to superior powers.

- Exc. 5. An adjective in the masculine gender may be joined with a noun denoting a female, if the attention is drawn to the idea of a person without regard to the sex.
- Exc. 6. A substantive dual may have an adjective plural; and vice versa, a substantive plural, when two is denoted, may have an adjective dual; as, φίλα; περί χεῖρε βάλωμεν, let us embrace; δύο χάσματα ἐχομένω ἀλλήλων, two successive chasms.
- Exc. 7. The adjectives $\ell \times \alpha \sigma \tau \sigma_s$, $\ell \lambda \lambda \sigma_s$, in the singular, are put with nouns in the plural, to intimate that the objects expressed by them are spoken of individually and distributively; as, οιδὲ ἔχαστο; ἐδέχοντο δέκα, they each received ten.

ἡρώτων δὲ ἄλλο; ἄλλο, they asked some one thing and some another.

So in Latin, Quisque pro se queruntur. Liv.

Exc. 8. Plural adjectives sometimes agree with their substantives in gender and number, and govern them in the genitive case; as, οί παλαιοί τῶν ποιητῶν, the ancient poets. So also among the Attic writers in the singular; as, διατρίδων τὸν πολλὸν τοῦ χρόνου, spending much time.

- Exc. 9. Instead of agreeing with its substantive, the adjective is sometimes put in the neuter gender, and the substantive following it in the genitive, (§ 142. R. VI.); as, $\epsilon l = \tau \cos \tilde{\nu} \cos \tau \delta \lambda \mu \eta s$, (for $\tau \cos \alpha \tilde{\nu} \tau \eta \nu \tau \delta \lambda \mu \eta \nu$), to such a pitch of boldness. The abstract noun is sometimes used instead of the adjective; as, $6 \tilde{\omega} \partial \tilde{\omega} s \gamma \tilde{\eta} s$, depth of earth, instead of $\delta \alpha \partial \tilde{\omega} s \tilde{\omega} \gamma \tilde{\eta}$, deep earth.
- Exc. 10. Proper names in the singular are sometimes accompanied by the adjectives ποῶτος, πᾶς, and others in the neuter plural, as predicates or in apposition; as, Λάμπων Αγινητέων, Lampon the chief of the Æginetæ; πάντα δὲ ἦν τοῖσι Βαβυλωνίσισι Ζώπυρος, Zopyrus was every thing to the Babylonians.
- Exc. 11. Demonstrative pronouns in the neuter singular may refer to nouns of any gender which do not express a person; and in the neuter plural to persons as well as things, and to the singular as well as to the plural; as, περι ἀνδρίας, ἐπι πόσφ ἀν αὐτοῦ (ἀνδρίας) δέξαιο στέρεσθαι; concerning MANLY FORTITUDE, for how much would you consent to be deprived of IT? τοῦς εἰς ταῦτα ἐξαμαρτάνουσι, who offend against These, Scil. τοὺς παίδας και τὰς γυναῖκας, wives and children.

So also with the adjectives where, where, meror, &c.; as, ιππέας μὲν ἄξει οὺ μεῖον δισμυρίων, he will bring not less than twenty thousand horse.

§ 132. OF COMPARATIVES AND SUPERLATIVES.

- 1. The Comparative is used when two objects or classes of objects are compared; the superlative when more than two are compared.
- 2. The positive is sometimes used in a comparative sense, and is followed by the infinitive; as, δλίγοι συμβαλεῖν, too few to fight.
- 3. When one quality is compared with another in the same subject, the adjectives expressing these qualities are both put in the comparative degree connected by $\mathring{\eta}$; as, $\pi \lambda o \nu \sigma \iota \omega \tau \epsilon \varphi o \varsigma$ $\mathring{\eta}$ $\sigma o \varphi \omega \tau \epsilon \varphi o \varsigma$, more rich than wise. So in Latin, decentior quam sublimior, fuit. Tacit.
- 4. The comparative is sometimes made by joining $\mu \tilde{\alpha} \lambda \lambda \sigma \nu$ with the positive; and, for the sake of emphasis, sometimes with the comparative; as, $\mu \tilde{\alpha} \lambda \lambda \sigma \nu \delta \lambda \delta \omega \tau \epsilon \rho \sigma \epsilon$, more happy.
- 5. The superlative is often used to express a very high degree of a quality in any object, but without comparing it with any other; as, ἀνης φιλοτιμότατος, a very ambitious man; ποῆγμα εὐηθέστατον, a very foolish thing.
- 6. The superlative is often strengthened in signification by adding certain adverbial words and particles; such as, πολλῷ, μακοῷ, πολό, μαλιστα, πλείστον, ὄχα, ὡς, ὅπως, ὅτι, ϯ, &c.; as, πολλῷ ἀτθενέστατον, much the weakest; ὄχ' ἄριστος, eminently the best; ὡς τάχιστα, as quickly as possible; ὅτι κλεῖστον χορνον, as long time as possible. Also by the numeral εἶς; as, εἶς ἀνὴρ βέλτιστος, a man of all others the best.

For the construction of the comparative and superlative degree as it respects government, see § 143. Rule X. and XI.

§ 133. OF ADJECTIVE PRONOUNS.

RULE. Adjective pronouns agree with their substantives in gender, number, and case.

The Definite, airòs.

For the import and use of the Definite pronoun adrès, see § 62.

When used as a personal pronoun, αὐτὸ; takes the gender and number of the noun for which it stands, and the case which the noun would have in its place. Sometimes, however, like the adjective, (§ 131. Exc. I.) it takes the gender and number of a synonymous substantive, or of one that expresses the meaning of that for which it stands; as, μαθητεύσατε πάντα τὰ ξθνη βαπτίζοντες αὐτοὺς, "teach all nations baptizing them," where αὐτοὺς is put for ἀνθρώπους, which expresses the meaning of ἔθνη.

Note. This observation applies to all adjective pronouns used without, and instead of the substantives, to which they refer.

Demonstratives.

- 2. The Demonstratives are used without a substantive only when they refer to a noun, or pronoun, or subtantive clause in the proposition going before; or in that coming immediately after.
- 3. When two persons or things are spoken of, obvos, this, refers to the latter; $\delta x \in \tilde{\epsilon} r \circ s$. that, to the former. In the same manner are sometimes used $\delta u \delta r$ and δs $u \delta r$, referring to the latter, and $\delta \delta \delta \delta$ and δs $\delta \delta$, to the former.
- 4. The demonstratives οδτο; and δδε are generally distinguished thus; οδτο; refers to what immediately precedes, δδε to what immediately follows; as, ταῦτα ἀκούσας, having heard these things; ἔλεγε τάδε, he announced as follows.
- 5. The d monstrative words are frequently used in a kind of apposition with a noun, or pronoun, or part of a sentence in the same proposition. This is done, 1. for the sake of emphasis, or, at the beginning of a sentence, to call the attention more particularly to what is to be said; as, it δ' ἐκεῖνα φῶμεν, τὰς πεύσις τε καὶ ἐφωτήσεις, what shall Isay as το τhese τhings question and interrogation? Long. τί ποι ἐστιν αὐτό, ἡ ἀφετή; what is virtue? In such cases the pronoun is commonly in the neuter gender. 2. If the parts of a sentence immediately related, be separated by intervening clauses, the pronoun being introduced in the last part in apposition with the distant word in the first, brings them as it were together; as, ἀλλά θεούς γε τοὺς ἀεὶ ὅντας καὶ τούτους φοδούμενοι μήτε ἀσεδὲς μηθὸν πους ἀεὶ ὅντας καὶ τούτους φοδούμενοι μήτε ἀσεδὲς μηθὸν πους σητε, but the gods who are eternal, and whose power and inspection extend over all things, and who preserve the harmony and order of the universe free from decay or defect, the greatness and beauty of which is inexplicable — fearing THESE, do nothing wicked.

6. When that with which the demonstrative stands in apposition is a sentence, or part of a sentence, it is put in the neuter gender, and is often connected with it by ὅτι οτ ὡς; as, ἀλλ' οἶδε τοῦτο ὅτι ταῦτα μέν ἐστιν ἄπαντα τὰ χωφία κείμενα ἐν μέσω, but he knew (This) well that all these places are openly before them.

The sentence is sometimes so arranged that the clause with öτι stands first; as, ὑτι δ' εἶχε πτερά, τοῦτ' ἴομεν, but we knew (τhis) that he had wings. This construction, so common in Greek, is seldom if ever used in Latin.

7. Οδιος, with και before it, is used in the latter clause of a sentence, in an adverbial or conjunctive sense, to call the attention more particularly to the circumstance which it introduces, and may be rendered "and that," "and truly," "in deed," "although," &c., as the sense may require; as, οδιου γάο μοῦνοι 'Ιώνων οὐκ ἄγουσι 'Απατούοια, και ο ὅτοι κατά φόνου τινά σκῆψιν, and these alone of the Ionians do not celebrate the Apatouria, and that under pretext of a certain murder; i. e. and these did so under pretext, &c. Γυναικός και ταύτης νεκρᾶς, εἴτις λέγει τοὔνομα πέφοικε, if any one mentioned the name of a woman, although (i. e. and that woman being) dead, he shuddered.

But when the pronoun is less definite, not referring to any particular sub-tantive in the preceding clause, but to something expressed in it, it is put in the neuter plural, and may generally be rendered "especially," "although," &c.; as, &d de not done of apport nous not not not seem to me to give your attention to these things, although being wise. Expressions of this kind are doubtless elliptical, noisis or some such word being understood, and may be rendered "and these things you do." Indeed, it is sometimes expressed thus, in Dem. pro Phor. After reproaching Apollodorus with his dissolute conduct he adds, *altavia noisis, and these things you do." Indeed, it is sometimes expressed thus, in Dem. pro Phor. After reproaching Apollodorus with his dissolute conduct he adds, *altavia noisis, and these things you do. having a wife; which, without noisis, might be rendered "though having a wife."

Yet sometimes these words seem to have no dependence on any part of the sentence, but are thrown in to call the attention to a special circumstance.

- 8. The demonstrative pronoun is often joined with adverbs of time and place to define these circumstances with greater emphasis or precision; as, τὰ νῦν τάδε, just now; τοῦτ' ἐκεὶ, at that very time.
- 9. The demonstrative pronouns are sometimes used instead of the personal pronouns $i\gamma\omega$ and $\sigma\omega$, and, in speaking, when thus used, were probably accompanied with action, so as clearly to point out the person intended. When used instead of the 2d person, they most commonly express contempt. The expression $o\delta ros$ $sl\mu t$ is equivalent to the Latin en adsum, Lo! here am I.

The Indefinite Tis.

- 10. The indefinite τlς, § 68, added to a substantive, commonly answers to the English words a, an, a certain one, any one, &c.; as, τlς ἀνήρ, a man, any man, some man.—Sometimes with a noun it is used collectively; as θρώσκων τlς κατά κῦμα—— lχθύς, MANY A FISH bounding through the ware.—Sometimes distributively; as, και τlς οἰκίην ἀναπλασάσθω, and let EVERY ONE build his own house.
- 11. With adjectives of quality, quantity, and magnitude, especially when they stand without a substantive expressed, or in the predicate it serves to temper the expression by asserting the existence of the quality in a less positive and unlimited manner, such as may be expressed by the English words somewhat, in some degree, rather; as, δύσδατός τις, somewhat difficult to be passed; δυσμαθής τις, rather hard to learn. With numerals it means nearly, about, &c.; as, δέπα τινές, about ten. So also with adverbs; as, σχεδόν, nearly; σχεδόν τι, pretty nearly; πολό, much; πολό τι, considerably; οὐδέν, nothing; οὐδέν τι, scarcely any thing.
- 12. Without an additional adjective, tis has the sense of eminent, distinguished; as, sexetal tis serves, he boasts himself to be some great one.
- 13. In the neuter gender it is also sometimes nearly redundant, being introduced apparently for the sake of sound. In such cases it is to be considered in the accusative governed by κατά, and seems to strengthen the expression; as, οδιε τι μάντις ἐων, not being AT ALL a prophet; μέγα τι και θεσπέσεν τεχνούργημα, a work EVIDENTLY great and divine

The Interrogative $\tau i \varsigma$.

- 14. The interrogative $\tau l \varsigma$, τl , is used in asking a direct question; as, $\tau l \varsigma$ è $\tau o l \eta \sigma \varepsilon$, who did it? Though sometimes used in the indirect interrogation, $\delta \sigma \tau \iota \varsigma$ is more common; as, $\theta a \nu \iota \mu \dot{\alpha} \zeta \omega$, $\tau l \varsigma$ (or more frequently $\delta \sigma \tau \iota \varsigma$) è $\tau o l \eta \sigma \varepsilon$, I wonder who did it. Sometimes it is accompanied by the article $\delta \tau l \varsigma$, who; $\tau \delta \tau t$ what. Ostis is also used interrogatively when a person to whom an interrogation is put repeats it before answering it; as, $\sigma \delta \delta \varepsilon l \tau l \varsigma \dot{\alpha} \nu \delta \delta \omega \varepsilon$; $\delta \sigma \tau \iota \varsigma \varepsilon l \mu \dot{\varepsilon} \gamma \dot{\omega}$; $\delta \sigma \tau \dot{\omega} \nu$, who are you? who am I? Melon.
- 15. As a predicate, τt , with $\delta \sigma \tau t$ following it, is sometimes accompanied by the subject in the plural; as, $\theta \omega \nu \mu \delta \zeta \omega \tau t \pi \sigma \tau^2 \delta \sigma t \tau \omega \tilde{v} \tau \alpha$, I wonder what these things are.
- 16. The interrogation τις is often used independently of other words in the sentence, being governed by κατά, or some such word understood, and may be rendered in what? as to what? &c.; as, τῶν τι σοφῶν ἐπιστήμονες, in what sort of wisdom are they expert? Sometimes it is used for διὰ τι, or ποὸς τι, what? why? on what account? ἐπὶ τι, for what purpose? πῶς τι, how? So, τι δε, but what?

Possessive Pronouns.

17. The possessive pronoun is in signification equivalent to the genitive of the pronoun from which it is derived, and while, like the adjective, it agrees with its substantive in gender. number, and case, yet other words at the same time often regard it as the genitive of the personal pronoun. Hence the following modes of expression, τὸ σὸν μόνου δώρημα, equivalent to τὸ σοῦ μόνου, &c., the gift of thee alone. Αρνύμενος πατρός τε μέγα κλέος ἡδ ἐμὸν αὐτοῦ, where ἐμόν agrees with κλέος in the accusative, and yet, as if it were the genitive of the substantive pronoun, it is coupled with πατρός in the getive, and followed by αὐτοῦ. So also νωίτερον λέχος αὐτῶν, our own bed; τὰ ὑμέτερα αὐτῶν, your own property; τὴν σφέτεραν αὐτῶν, (scil. χώραν) their own country.

The same construction is common in Latin; as, "mea ipsius culpa." "Cum mea nemo scripta legat, vulgo recitare timentis." "Beneficio meo et populi Romani."

18. The same observation extends to possessive adjectives; as, et δέ με δεῖ γυναικείας τι ἀφετῆς ὅσαι νῦν ἐν χηφεία ἔσονται, μνησθῆναι, If I must also say something concerning the virtue of THOSE WOMEN, WHO are from this time to live in uridouchood; where γυναικείας, is equivalent to the genitive τῶν γυναικῶν, to which δσαι refers.

- 19. The possessive pronouns are employed only when an emphasis is required; in all other cases the personal pronouns are used in their stead; as, πατηρ ημών, our father, literally, the father of us. But πατηρ ημέτερος means our own father.
 - 20. The possessive pronoun is sometimes used objectively, as, σὸ; πόθος, not "thy regret," but "regret for thee;" τάμα rουθετήματα, not "the lessons which I give," but "the lessons which thou givest me."

This use of the possessive corresponds to the passive sense of the genitive, \S 142, Obs. 2.

21. The possessive pronoun is sometimes put in the neuter gender, with the article for the personal; as, τὸ ὁμότερον for ὁμεῖ;; τὰμὰ for ἐγώ; τὸ ἐμὸν for ἐμὲ. Also without the article after a preposition; as, ἐν ἡμετέρον (scil. δώματι) for ἐν ἡμῶν, in my house.

§ 134. CONSTRUCTION OF THE ARTICLE.

RULE. The article agrees with its substantive in gender, number, and case.

- Exc. 1. In gender. The masculine article is often put with a feminine noun in the dual number (§ 131. Exc. 3); as, τώ γυναικὸ, the two women.
- Exc. 2. In number. The article may be put in the plural when it refers to two or more nouns in the singular (§ 131. Obs. 1.); as, at Αθηναιή τε και 'Ηρη, Minerva and Juno
- 1. In GENERAL the article is prefixed to all nouns not used indefinitely. Nouns used indefinitely are without the article; except when represented as in a peculiar state or relation; as, τὸν γέροντα αἰδεῖσθαι χρή, one ought to reverence an old man.
- 2. The article is prefixed to nouns when they designate a class or species; as, ὁ ἀνθρωπός ἐστι θνητός, man is mortal.
- 3. It is prefixed to abstract nouns when personified, or with a reference to something expressed or understood; as, 'H κακία ὑπολαβοῦσα εἶπε, Vice interrupting said; τὴν ἀλήθειαν πεφιτούτων, the truth concerning these things.
- 4. When one noun is predicated of another, the subject of the proposition is generally found with the article, and the predicate without it; as, $d\sigma \times ds \in \mathcal{E}(s, \theta)$ if $\times ds \in \mathcal{E}(s, \theta)$, the maiden became a wine skin.

- 5. The article is prefixed to nouns to mark emphasis or distinction; as, δ π όλε μος οὐκ ἄνευ κινδύνων, ἡ δὲ εἰς ἡν η ἀκινδύνως, war is not without dangers, but peace is free from danger; (here the opposition between ὁ πόλεμος and ἡ εἰς ἡνη renders both words emphatic, which is marked by the article prefixed;) ὁ ποιητής, the Poet, Scil. Homer.
- 6. Proper names, when first mentioned, are without the article; on renewed mention, they generally have it. But the article is never prefixed to a proper name followed by an appellative with the article; as, Κῦρος ὁ βασιλεύς, Cyrus the king.
- 7. The article is generally placed before appellatives, and all words and phrases which are placed after a substantive for the purpose of definition or description; such as a substantive in apposition, an adjective, a participle, an adverb, a preposition with its case; as, Σωκράτης ὁ φιλοσόφος, Socrates, the philosopher; οι νόμοι οι άρχαῖοι, the ancient laws, &c.
- 8. Before a participle the article is to be translated as the relative, and the participle as the indicative mood of its own tense; as, elou of legovies, there are (those) who say. But,
- 9. A participle between the article and its noun is to be regarded as an adjective, and rendered accordingly; as, οι δπάφεχοντες νόμοι, the existing laws. So also other words and phrases between the article and its noun, like an adjective, qualify the noun, and frequently have a participle understood; as, ή πρὸς Γαλλιας μάχη; scil. γενομένη, the battle against the Gauls.
- 10. An adverb with the article prefixed is used sometimes as a noun, sometimes as an adjective; as, of $\pi i \lambda a s$, those near, i. e. the neighbours; if $\lambda a \omega \pi i \lambda s$, the upper city. § 130. Obs. 1.
- 11. Adjectives, participles, adverbs, adverbial particles and phrases, used in the sense of nouns, have the article prefixed; as, of θνητοι, mortals; of κολακεύοντες, flatterers; ή αυρον, (scil. ημέρα,) the morrow; τὸ τι, the substance; τὸ ποιὸν, the quality; τὸ πὸσον, the quantity; τὸ ώς, the manner in which, &c.
- 12. The article without a substantive, before ἀμφί or περί with their case, denotes something peculiar to, or distinguishing the person, place, or thing expressed by the noun; as, οι περί θήραν, those devoted to the chase, i. e. "hunters;" τὸ περί Δάμψακον, the affair at Lampsacus; τὰ ἀμφί πόλεμον, what belongs to war; sometimes it is a mere circumfocution for the noun itself; as, τὰ περί τὴν άμαρτίαν, for ἡ ἁμαρτία.

- 13. 'Oι περί, and ol dupi, with a proper name, have the following peculiarities of meaning; viz. 1. the person himself; as, of dupi Πρίαμον και Πανθούν, Priam and Panthous; 2. the followers of the person named; as, of περί Λοχίδαμον, the companions of Archidamus; 3. the person named, and his companions and followers; as, of dupi Πεισίστρατον, Pisistralus and his troops.
- 14. The neuter article in any case prefixed to the infinitive mood. (§ 173, I.) gives it the sense and construction of the Latin gerund. or a verbal noun; as, τοῦ φιλοσοφεῖν τὸ ζητεῖν, inquiring is the business of philosophy; τὸ καλῶς λέγειν, the speaking well.
- 15. In the neutor gender, and in any case which the construction requires, the article is placed, 1.—Before entire propositions or quotations in a sentence construed as nouns; as, εστι δὲ τούτων τρίτη διαφορά, τὸ, ὡς ἔκαστα τούτων μιμήσαιτο ἀν τις, moreover there is in these a third difference, viz. the manner in which one should imitate each of these objects; ἐκ δὶ τούτων ὀρθῶς ἀν ἔχοι τὸ "ἔργον δ' οὐδὲν ὄνειδος," but according to these views, the sentiment "labour is no dishonour" would be correct. 2. Before single words quoted or designated in sentence; as, τὸ δ' ὑμεῖς ὅταν εἴπω, τὴν πόλιν λέγω, when I say του, I mean the state; τὸ λέγω, the word λέγω. But in nouns, the article is commonly in the gender of the noun; as, τὸ ὄνομε ὁ Λίδης, the name Hades.
- 16. The article is often prefixed to possessive, demonstrative, distributive, and other pronouns, for the sake of greater emphasis or more precise definition; thus, $\ell\mu\delta\varsigma$ vi $\delta\varsigma$, is merely a son of mine; but δ $\ell\mu\delta\varsigma$ vi $\delta\varsigma$, is my son. The following change of signification effected by the article may be noticed; others;

                   of allor,
                                  the others, the rest.
                   ή αλλη 'Ellas, the rest of Greece.

- 17. When the article is used with οδτος or ἐπεῖνος, the pronoun must stand before the article, or after the substantive; as, οδτος δ ἀνής, or δ ἀνής οδτος, this same man.
- 18. The article is frequently used alone, having its substantive understood. This is the case when the substantive to which the article refers, being apparent from the connexion or sense of the passage, can be easily supplied. The neuter article is often thus used with the genitive of another noun, χρημα, πράγμα, &c., being understood. 1. In the singular to intimate what a person has done, is wont to do, or has befallen him; as, και τοι δοκώ μοι το τοῦ 'Ιδυκείου βππου πεπονθέναι, and I seem to be in the SAME SITUATION with the horse of Iby-2. In the plural to denote everything that concerns, arises from, or belongs to, that which the substantive expresses : as, τὰ φίλων δοὐδέν, the assistance of friends is nothing; δει φέρειν τὰ τῶν θεῶν, we must bear THE VISITATION of the gods. In the singular or plural, it is often merely a periphrasis for the substantive; as, τὸ or τὰ τῆς ὀργῆς, for ἡ ὀργή; and an adjective, &c. put with such a periphrasis takes the gender and number of the substantive, and the case of the article: as, τὰ τῶν διακόνων—ποιούμενοι, the messengers—considering.

- 19. The article combined with μέν and δέ has in some degree the force of a pronoun, and is used in a distributive sense,—the article with μέν standing in the first member of the sentence, and with δέ in the parts that follow; as, τὸν μέν ἐτίμα, τὸν δ' οδ, This one, he honoured, That one not; ot μέν ἐπόδευον, oί δέ ἔπινον, oί δέ ἐγυμνάζοντο, some played at dice, some drank, some exercised themselves. When governed by a preposition, μεν and δε are placed immediately after the preposition; thus, ἐν μέν τοῖς—ἐν δέ τοῖς.
- 20. In the Ionic and some other writers, especially Homer and Herodotus, the article δ , η , $\tau\delta$, is very frequently used as a relative, and sometimes as a personal pronoun; as, $A_{I}i\lambda k \epsilon \alpha$ personal pronoun; as, $A_{I}i\lambda k \alpha$ personal prono

§ 135. OF THE RELATIVE PRONOUN.

RULE III. The relative agrees with its antecedent in gender, number, and person; as, ή γυνη ην είδομεν, δάνης δς ηλθε, the WOMAN WHOM we saw. the MAN WHO came.

τὰ χρήματα ἄ είχε, the THINGS WHICH he had.

1. The antecedent is the substantive, or something equivalent to a substantive, (§ 138, Rem.) in a preceding clause to which the relative refers. Sometimes, however, as in Latin, the relative and its clause is placed before the antecedent and its clause.

- 2. Strictly speaking, the relative does not agree with the antecedent, but with the same word expressed or understood after the relative, and with which like the adjective it agrees in gender, number and case, as well as person; thus, $\delta l \pi \pi \sigma$; $\delta \nu (l \pi \pi \sigma \nu) \epsilon l \chi \epsilon$, the horse which (horse) he had. Hence, in connecting the antecedent and relative clause, the following variety of usage occurs; viz.
 - 1st. The word to which the relative refers is commonly expressed in the antecedent clause and not with the relative; as,οδιός ἐστι ὁ ἀνής ὅν είδες, this is the MAN WHOM you saw.
 - 2d. It is often not expressed in the antecedent clause and expressed with the relative; as, οδτός ἐστι ὅν εἰδες ἄνδοα.
 - 3d. Sometimes when greater precision is required, it is expressed in both; as, οδιό; δαιι ό ἀνής δν είδες ἄνδςα.
 - 4th. When the reference is of a general nature, and there is no danger of obscurity, the word to which the relative refers is understood in both clauses; as, δν ηθέλει ἔπιανε, δν ηθέλει ἔσωσε, whom he would he slew, whom he would he saved alive. All this variety is common in Latin as well as in Greek.
- 3. The antecedent is sometimes implied in a preceding word; as, $\partial x \iota \alpha \ \eta \ \delta \mu \epsilon \tau \epsilon \varrho \alpha \ or \ r \epsilon \chi \varrho \eta \sigma \theta s$, &c. Your house who use, &c. where of refers to the personal pronoun implied in $\delta \mu \epsilon \tau \epsilon \varrho \alpha$, (§ 133. 17.)
- 4. When the relative comes after two words of different persons it agrees with the first or second person rather than the third; as, εἰμι δ' εγώ βασελεύς δς τιμῶμας.
- 5. When the relative is placed between two substantives of different genders, it sometimes agrees in gender with the latter; as. το ἄστζον η ν ονομάζουσιν Αίγα, the constellation which they call the Goat.
- 6. Exc. The relative sometimes takes the gender and number, not of the antecedent noun, but of some one synonymous with it, or implied in it; as,

- 1st. θανόντων τέχνων οδς "Αδοαστος ήγαγε, their CHILDREN having died, Whom Adrastus led. In this sentence οδς refers to παίδων, as synonymous with τέχνων.
- 2d. πάντων ἀνθοώπων ὅς κέ σευ ἄντα ἔλθη, of EVERY MAN, who shall come against you; where δς in the singular, referring to a plural antecedent, shews that the men are spoken of in the relative clause individually.
- 3d. ὑπὸς ὑπάσης 'Ελλάδος ὧν πατέρας ἔπτεινε, for all Greece, whose fathers she slew; where ὧν refers to the meaning of 'Ελλάδος in this sentence; i. e. the men of Greece.
- 4th. θησαυροποιός ἀν ἡο οῦς δη και ἐπαινεῖ τὸ πλῆθος. A MAN encreasing in wealth, whom even the multitude applaud. Here, though the antecedent ἀνήο is singular, the relative οῦς is plural, because it refers not to an individual man, but to the class or kind of men spoken of.
- 7. Instead of δ_s the compound pronoun $\delta\sigma\tau_s$ is used as a relative after $\pi\tilde{\alpha}_s$, $\delta \delta \delta \epsilon_s$, or any word in the singular expressing an indefinite number, and $\delta \sigma o \epsilon$ after the same words in the plural; as, $\pi\tilde{\alpha}_s$ $\delta \sigma \iota \epsilon_s$, every one who; $\pi \alpha \tau \tau \epsilon_s$ $\delta \sigma o \epsilon_s$, all who; and if the indefinite is not expressed in the antecedent clause the use of the relative shews that it is understood, and is to be expressed in the translation; as, $\tau \delta_s$ $\pi \delta \lambda \epsilon \iota \varsigma$ $\delta \sigma \alpha \iota$, all the cities which. Sometimes it is used simply for δs
- 8. If no nominative come between the relative and the verb, the relative shall be the nominative to the verb.

If a nominative come between the relative and the verb, the relative shall be of that case which the verb or noun following, or the preposition going before usually governs. But,

Attraction of the Relative.

9. Exc. I. The relative is often attracted into the case of its antecedent; as,

Examples, 1. σύν ταῖς να υσ l να \tilde{l} ς (for ας) εἶχε, with the ships which he had. 2. μετασχέτω τῆς ἡ δ ο ν ῆς ἡ ς (for ຖν) ἔδωκα δμῖν, let him share the PLEASURE WHICH I gave you. 3. μεμνημένος, ὧν ἔπραξε, (for τῶν πραγμάτων & ἔπραξε, see No. 2. 4th) being mindful of What he did. 4. ἀπολαύω ὧν ἔχω ἀγαθῶν, I enjoy What Goods I have. Note 1. The rule of attraction seems to have its foundation altogether in cuphony; and hence generally attractions will be found only where they improve the cuphony of a sentence.

Note 2. This construction is sometimes, though very seldom, imitated in Latin; as, Cass. de Bel. G. lib. V. II. Circiter sexcentas ejus generis curos supra demonstravimus, naves invenit.

10. Exc. II. The antecedent is sometimes attracted into the case of the relative; as,

"Allow δ' οδ θην οίδα τεῦ ἀν κλυτά τευχεά δύω, I know no other person whose renowned armour I could put on. Here ällow is attracted from the accusative by the relative τεῦ into the genitive.

On this principle are to be construed such sentences as the following: ούδένα κίνδυνον ΰντιν οὸχ ὑπέμειναν, for οὐδείς ἦν κίνδυνος ὅντινα, there was no danger which they did not undergo; οὐδένα ἔφασαν ὅντιν' οὐ δακρύοντα ἀποστρέφεσθαι, for οὐδείς ἦν ὅντιν' ἔφασαν οὐ δακρύοντα, &c. there was no one who, they said, did not return weeping; τίνας τούσδ' ὁρῶ ξένους, for τίνες είσιν οδιοι οἱ ξένοι οῦς ὁρῶ; who are these strangers whom I see?

11. The relative plural, and in all its cases with έστι before it, is used for, or rather is the original form of the adjective ἔνιοι, -αι, -α, some; (ἐστι being sometimes written ἔνι); as, και ἔστι οῖ, (i. e. ἔνιοι) ἐτύγχανον θωράκων, and some hit breastplates; ἀπὸ τῶν πολέων ἔστιν ῶν (i. e. ἐνίων,) from some cities.

In this construction ἐστι is found with ὅστις, both singular and plural; as, ἔστι ὅστις, some one; ἔστι οἰτινες, some.

12. In certain cases it is used adverbially, some other word being understood; thus, ob, where; $\tilde{\eta}$, where, as far as, how, in what manner: and sometimes thus used, it is preceded by $\ell\sigma\iota$, the two words being used as an adverb; as, $\ell\sigma\iota\iota\nu$ ob or $\ell\nu\partial\iota$, in many places.

§ 136. ON THE RELATED ADJECTIVE WORDS οἶος, δσος, ήλικος, &c.

 The relative adjectives οἶος, ὅσος, ἡλίκος, like the relative ronoun, always refer to a kindred word before them, expressed or understood, implying a comparison of equality similar to talis qualis, tantus quantus, in Latin; as, τοίος οι τοιούτος,....οίος, such....us. τόσος οι τοσούτος,.......δσος, so many....as. τηλίχος....ήλίχος, of such an age or size...as.

- 2. The antecedent and relative adjectives both refer to the same substantive, with which they agree in gender and number, while each takes the case required by the construction of the clause in which it stands. Thus, DEM. Olynth I. "As for the rest they are thieves and flatterers, and τοιούτους άνου ωπους οδους μεθύσθεντας δοχείσθαι τοιαῦτα οδα έγώ νῦν όχνῶ ὀνομάσαι, such men as, when intoxicated, to dance such dances as I dare not name.
- 3. The antecedent word is most commonly understood, and the relative is translated with some variety according to the connexion in which it stands. The most of the cases in which, e. g. olos is used for rowores olos, may be reduced to three; viz. 1st, when it stands before a substantive; 2d, before an adjective; 3d, before a noun.
- 4. First. Before a substantive, οἶος elegantly takes the case in which its antecedent τοιοῦτος would be, if expressed, and changes the substantive before which it stands into the same case by attraction; thus, οὐκ ἔστιν ἀνδοι οἶω Σωκράτει ψεύδεσθαι, to lie is not befitting such a man as Socrates is, for οὐκ ἔστι ἀνδοι τοιούτω οἶος Σωκράτης ἔστιν ψεύδεσθαι. Again, χαριζόμενον οἶω σοι ἀνδοι, gratifying such a man as thou art, for ἀνδοι τοιούτω οἶος σύ (εἶς).

In some instances the noun after οίος is not attracted into the same case with it; as, τῶν (τοιούτων) οίωνπες αὐτὸς ὄντων, they being such as he.

When the substantive to which olo; refers is obvious from the connexion, it is frequently omitted, as in the preceding example.

5. Sometimes olos, with the clause in which it occurs, is apparently unconnected with the sentence. In such cases the connexion is to be formed by supplying ώς and δτι; as, ἐμακάριτον τὴν μητέρα (δτι) οδων τέκνων ἐκύρησε, they blessed the mother because) she gave birth to such children.

Of a similar nature are the Homeric expressions of dyocstiis—of socyas, i. e. or of, &c. because you say—because son do such things. 6. The construction is the same when olog, or the substantive to which it belongs. is in the nominative, or is governed by a preposition; as, αληθές άγοντας πένθος (ὅτι τοιοῦτος) οἶος αὐτοὺς ὁ θύννος διεφυγεν, being truly grieved because such a thunny fish as this escaped them, Lucian; ἐλπίζοντες πάγχυ ἀπολέεσθαι ἐς οἶα κακὰ ἄγκον, i. e. ὡς ἐς τοιαῦτα οἶα κακὰ, expecting total destruction since they were come into such calamities as these. In this way that difficult sentence in Thucydides is easily explained, και μόνη (scil. ᾿Αθηναίων πόλις) οὔτε τῷ πολεμίῳ ἐπελθόντι ἀγανάκτησιν ἔχει, δφ' οῖων κακοπαθεῖ. i. e. ὡς ὁπὸ τοιούτων οἶων ἡμεῖς, and we are now the only state which does not excite indignation in an invading enemy. Because (or since) they suffer from such a brave people as we are.

In all constructions of this kind, the idea will be readily perceived by considering olos as put for δτι or ως τοιοῦτος. See numerous examples in L. Bos. Ellipses, Gr. 271. Vigerus, Ch. 3. § 8—9.

- 7. Second. Before an adjective it may be resolved by supplying the infinitive εἶναι; as, εἰ μὲν γάο τις ἀνήο ἐν αὐτοῖς ἔστι οἶος ἔμπειζος, πολέμου, if any one among them is skilful in war, Dem. O. 2. for τοιοῦτος οἶος εἶναι ἔμπειζος, is such as to be skilful, &c.; οἶος ἄριστος, the best, for τοιοῦτος οἶος εἶναι ἄριστος, such as to be the best, &c.
- 8. Olos is frequently, however, joined with an adjective in the form of an exclamation or interrogation, apparently without reference to the usual antecedent; as, οίος μέγας οίος χαλεπός, how great! how difficult! Thus Lysias, οίος μέγας και δεινός κίνδυνος ἡγωνισθη, how great and terrible danger was risked, (scil. for the liberty of Greece.) If this and similar sentences, however, are thrown into the assertive form, they readily admit of the same resolution as the others; thus, danger such as to be great and terrible was risked.
- 9. Third. Joined with the verb εἰμὶ expressed or understood, and followed by an infinitive, it signifies "I am of such a kind as, or such as;" and, according to the connexion in which it stands, may mean "I am able," "I am wont," "I am ready, or willing,"—τοιοῦτος being always understood as an antecedent word; thus, οὐ γὰρ ἦν οἶος ἀπὸ παντὸς κεφ-δᾶναι, (i. e. τοιοῦτος οἶος,) FOR HE WAS NOT (SUCH) As to make gain from every thing.
- 10. The abbreviated expressions ofos stut, and ofos r' stut, are very common, and usually, but not always, observe this distinction; viz. that the former signifies 'I am wont," the latter, "I am able, I can," and is equivalent to δόναμαι; as, οδός τε εἰμί τοῦτο ποιεῖν, I can do this.

In the neuter it is used impersonally; as, offor the dots, at is possible.

- 11. Sometimes the verb εἰμὶ is also omitted; as, ἢ δύναιτο ἀκούειν ἐκ τοῦ μὴ οἰουτε (εἴναι), or whether he could hear FROM NOT BEING ABLE TO HEAR FORMERLY.
- 12. In the same manuer τοῖος or τοιοῦτος stands related to olos following it, expressed or understood; as, οὐκ ἀν ὁμιλήσαιμε τοιούτφ, (scil. οἰος αὐτὸς ἐστί,) I would have no intercourse with such a man, (scil. as he is).
- 13. The neuters olov and ola, either alone or combined with various particles, and used in a conjunctive or adverbial sense, are, no doubt, elliptical expressions similar to those noticed above, though it may be difficult to resolve many of them in a satisfactory manner. The ordinary meaning of these words will be found in the Lexicons.

Note. The observations which have been made on the construction of the related adjectives rolos or rotobros—olos, are applicable, almost without exception, to rosos or rosobros—osos; observing that the former relates to the quality of objects, the latter to their number or quantity. The same also may be said of rahkos—hhkos, of such an age or size.

§ 137. CONSTRUCTION OF THE NOMINATIVE CASE.

The nominative case is used,

- 1st. To express the subject of a proposition.
- 2d. In apposition with another substantive in the nominative, or predicated of it. See § 139. III.
- 3d. In exclamations; as, δ δυστάλαινα έγώ! Ο wretched me!
- 4th. Absolutely, or without dependence on any word in the sentence, § 178. Obs. 4; as, πολλή γαο ή στοατιά οδση, οὸ πάσης ἔσται πόλεως ὁποδέξασθαι (αὐτήν), for the ARMY BEING NUMEROUS, it will not be in the power of the state to accommodate them. Or without a participle; as, ὁ Μωυσής οὰκ οἴδαμεν τι γέγονεν αὐτῶ, THIS MOSES, we know not what has become of him.

A VERB WITH ITS NOMINATIVE.

6 138. OF A VERB WITH ITS NOMINATIVE.

Rule IV. A verb agrees with its nominative in number and person; as,

> I write. έγω γράφω, ye strike. bueig tentete. δφθαλμώ λάμπετον, his eyes shine.

Rem. The nominative to a verb may be a noun, a pronoun, an adjective used as a noun, the infinitive mood with the article prefixed, or part of a sentence; and to all these this rule applies.

Obs. 1. The nominative of the first and second person is generally omitted, being obvious from the termination of the verb; also of the third person, when it may be readily supplied from the context; as, léyours, they say. .

Obs. 2. The subject is also omitted when the verb expresses an action usually performed by that subject; as, σαλπίζει. the trumpeter sounds; or when it expresses an operation of nature; as, θει, it rains; βροντα, it thunders.

Obs. 3. Impersonal verbs are usually considered as without a nominative; still they will generally be found to bear a relation to some circumstance, sentence, clause of a sentence, or infinitive mood, similar to that between a verb and its nominative; as, ἔξεστι μοι ἀπιέναι, it is lawful for me to depart, i.e. to depart is lawful for me ; you of noisiv it behoves you to do it, i. e. to do it behoves you.

§ 139. SPECIAL RULES AND OBSERVATIONS.

I. Of agreement in number.

RULE 1. A neuter plural commonly has a verb in the singular; as, > animals run. ζῶα τρέγει.

Obs. 1. This construction is more common with the Attic than with the Ionic and Doric writers. But with all there are many exceptions, especially when the neuter plural signifies persons or animals; as, τοσάδε έθνη ἐστοάτευον, so many nations went to war. Homer joins a singular and a plural verb

- with the same nominative. Odyss. μ. 43. So Xen. Mem. ἀστρα ἀνέφηναν ἃ ἡμῖν τὰς ὥρας τῆς νυπτὸς ἐμφανίζει, the stars shone forth which shew to us the hours of the night.
 - Obs 2. Sometimes, also, masculine and feminine nouns in the dual and plural have a verb in the singular; as, οὐκ ἐστὶν οδτινες ἀπέχονται, THERE ARE NONE who abstain; ἀχεῖται ὁμφαὶ μελέων, the voice of melody sounds.
 - RULE 2. Two or more substantives singular, taken together, have a verb in the plural; taken separately, the verb must be in the singular; as,

Together, ald is de xal pobos ëmpv- Shame and fear are τοι είσι ἀνθρώπφ, natural to man.

Separately, σοι γὰο ἔδωκε νίκην Ζεύς Jupiter and Apollo gave και 'Απόλλων, you the victory.

- Obs. 3. To both parts of this rule, however, and especially to the first, there are not a few exceptions; for it often happens that when two or more nouns have a common verb, it agrees with one of them, and most commonly the one next it. Also, if the two nouns are of similar signification, they are in construction considered as one, and the verb follows in the singular; as, Σοι δ' ἐπι τολμάτω κας δίη και θυμός, let your HEART and soul dare.
- Obs. 4. A substantive in the singular, connected with other words as the subject of a verb conveying the idea of plurality, has the verb in the plural; as, 'Ρέα παφαλαβοῦσα καὶ τοὺς Κοφό-βαντας πεφιπολοῦσιν, Rhea, having taken with her also the Corybantes, wandered about. So in Latin; as, Juba cum Labieno capti in potestatem Cœsaris venissent.
- RULE 3. A noun of multitude expressing many as one whole has a verb in the singular; as, έζετο λαός, the people sat down.

But when it expresses many as individuals, the verb must be plural; as, ηρώτησαν αὐτὸν τὸ πληθος, the multitude asked him.

Obs. 5. To both parts of this rule there are also exceptions, and in some cases it seems indifferent whether the verb be in the singular or plural; sometimes both are joined with the same nominative; as, i ero lad;, i q n ti O n o a > di xaOidqa;, the people sat down and kept their seats.

RULE 4. A dual nominative may have a plural verb; as, duque elegror, both spake, and a plural nominative, limited to two, may have a verb in the dual.

II. Of agreement in Person.

Rule 5. When two or more nominatives are of different persons, the verb takes the first person rather than the second, and the second rather than the third; as ê; à *al od elmous, you and I spoke.

To this rule there are many exceptions.

III. Of the Nominative after the Verb.

Rule 6. Any verb may have the same case after it as before it when both words refer to the same thing; as, ύμεις έστε τό φως του κόσμου, γε are the LIGHT of the world.

Note. This rule applies to the infinitive mood whether its subject be in the nominative or accusative; and also to the participles. § 175. Obs. 5, and 177. 3.

- Obs. 6. Under this rule the nominative before the verb is the subject, the nominative after it is the predicate, the verb is the copula connecting the one with the other, and is usually a substantive verb, a passive verb of naming, or a verb of gesture.
- Obs. 7. In this construction the verb usually agrees with the subject; sometimes, however, it agrees with the predicate; as, ξιαν δὲ στάδιοι όπτώ το μεταίχμιον αυτέων, the space between them was eight stadia. So also when the copula is a participle; as. he usually let go. τους μέγιστα ἐξημαφτηπότας—μεγίστην δὰ οὐσαν (for ὅντας) βλάβην πόλεως, the greatest offenders being (or who are) the greatest injury to the state.

§ 140. II. OF GOVERNMENT.

GOVERNMENT is when one word requires another which follows it, or depends upon it, to be put in a certain case, mood or tense.

OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CASES.

The construction of the oblique cases depends in general upon the following principles; viz.

- 1. The Genitive expresses that from which any thing proceeds, originates or begins; or to which it belongs, as expressed by the English words of, from, in regard of, in respect of, &c. viz. as cause or origin.
- 2. The Dative is the case of acquisition, and denotes that to which any thing is added, or to or for which it is done; hence the end or remote object to which any action tends. It is also used to express the cause, instrument or means by which a thing is done, in which sense it usually depends on a preposition expressed or understood.
- 3 The Accusative expresses the immediate object on which the action or influence of a transitive verb terminates; or of motion or tendency to, expressed by a preposition.
- 4. The action of a verb may be considered in reference either, 1. to its immediate object, i. e. to that on which its action is immediately exerted, and which is always governed in the accusative; as, διδόναι έμαυτόν, to give myself; or, 2. to a remote object (i. e. to one which is not acted upon by the verb, but is merely that to which the action is related in the manner expressed by the case), and is put in the genitive or dative or accusative, either after the accusative with an active verb, or without an accusative after a neuter verb; as, ἀπαλάτειν τινά νόσου, to free any one from disease; διδόναι ξμαυτόν τῆ πόλει, to give myself to the state; φείδεσθαι τῶν ἐρίφων, to spare the kids; δοηθεῖν τῆ πατρίδι, to aid (i. e. to render assistance to) my country.

§ 141. OF THE GENITIVE.

The Genitive is in extensive use in the Greek language, being used in many cases in which the ablative is used in Latin. Its primary as well as its general and leading idea is that of separation or abstraction, going forth from, or out of, origin, cause. So that the meaning of the words of, out of, from, is implied in the case itself.

The numerous and diversified uses of this case are reduced by Matthias to the following heads:

I. In Greek, words of all kinds may be followed by other words in the graints when the latter disas limits and shows in what respect the meaning of the former with the taxon. When used for this purpose, they may usually in reduced by some comments as therefore report to. This respect of /7 the

4. With all winds word in Beats folkers, defect, emptiaces, and the like United to him in all adjections sign from following, deprived of, &c.; and a made in congression is not used, englishers, &c.

5. This sport tile must be referred the construction of the genitive with the conformation figure, [143] Rub XI; with all words denoting superiority, help the just and where a companison is made with respect to the ratue of a things as thing of from mostly of this, i. e. equal to take with respect to these or where the clean of difference is involved.

6. When that with respect to which a thing is done may also be considered the cause of its being done, the word expressing it is often put in the geniture, and may be rendered non-account of fire as, phosto rule or quark for enty one on account of wisdom. Hince it is used with verbs signifying to account of without a pray, to degin, &c.; and also without another word in explanations.

On this principle is founded the construction of the genitive of the part off-cted, after verbs signifying "to take." "to reize," "to touch," &c. Hence, also, it is put with the superlative degree to express the class of which that one, or those marked by the superlative, form a part.

III. The genitive is used to mark the origin or cause from which any thing proceeds; and hence, the person or thing to which any thing belongs, whether it be a property or quality, habit, duty. &c. Hence, also, verbe govern the genitive which express feelings and operations of the mind which are the result of external impressions, or when they denote motions and actions in bodies which are the effects of the operation of other bodies. Thus, verbs which express the sensations of hearing, tasting, touching, &c. as well as those which signify to admire, to care for, to desire, &c. are followed by the genitive of the object, heard, tasted, touched, admired, or cared for, because it is viewed as the source, origin, or cause, of these sensations and operations. Hence also the common rules, that "verbs denoting possession, property, or duty, &c. govern the genitive;" that "the material of which any thing is made is put in the genitive;" and that "one substantive governs another in the genitive."

IV. The genitive is also governed by certain prepositions, and by verbs compounded with prepositions; that is to say, when the prepositions may be separated from the verb and placed before the genitive without altering the sense.

V. The genitive is used to determine place and time in answer to the question "where?" when?" &c. Hence the adverbs οδ, ποῦ, ὁπου, τολετε; which are, in fact, old genitives, and refer to part of place or time in general.

To the general principles contained in these five heads may all cases be referred, which occur under all the following rules for the genitive.

§ 142. I. THE GENITIVE GOVERNED BY SUB-STANTIVES.

RULE V. One substantive governs another in the genitive, when the latter substantive limits the signification of the former; as, δ θεῶν πατὴς, the father of gods. ἀναξ ἀνδρῶν, king of men.

This rule is founded on the general principle mentioned § 141. I and III. In the above examples the general term $\pi a r h \rho$ is restricted by the word $\theta s \tilde{\omega} \nu$ governed by it. It is not any father, nor the father of men, but of the gods; and the word $\tilde{\omega} \nu a \xi$ which, without restriction, means any king, is restricted by the word $d \nu a \xi \rho \tilde{\omega} \nu$, to king of men.

When a noun is restricted by another of the same signification, it is put in the same case by Rule I.

Obs. 1. The noun governing the genitive is frequently understood; viz. 1. after the article such words as νίος, μήτης, θυγάτης, &c.; as, Μιλτιάδης ὁ Κίμωνος, (sup. νίος), Miltiades, the son of Cimon; τὰ τῆς τόχης, (sup. δωρήματα), the Gifts of fortune. 2. Οἶκος οτ δῶμα after a preposition; as, ἐς παιρὸς, (sup. δωμα), to the house of her father; είς άδου (δόμον) to Hades; ἐν άδου, (δόμφ), in Hades. 3. After the verbs εἰμὶ, γίνομαι, ὑπάρχω, &c. See § 144. R. XII. and 141. III.

Obs. 2. When the noun in the genitive signifies a person, it may often be taken in an active or passive sense; thus, i γνωσις του Θεου, the knowledge of God. In this sentence, God may either be the subject or the object of the knowledge spoken of, i. e. the phrase may denote our knowledge of God or his knowledge of us; πόθος υίου, generally, (not the regret of thy son, viz. which he has, but) regret FOR THY SON; drδρός εξμένεια τοιούδε, good will TOWARDS such a man.

This passive sense of the genitive is more common when the governing noun is derived from a verb which usually governs the dative, and when the one substantive is in one sense the cause, and in another the object, of that which is expressed by the other substantive; as, νερτέρων δωρήματα, offerings (not of, but) TO THE DEAD; εξιγματα Παλλάδος, prayers το Pal-LAS; ή τῶν Πλαταιέων ἐπισιρατεία, the march AGAINST THE PLATEANS.

Nouns thus derived, however, are more frequently followed by the dative; as, ή Μουσέων δόσις ανθρώποι σι, the gift of the Muses to MEN; sometimes by the preposition els with the accusative; as, θεων εις ανθοώπους δόσις, a gift of the gods to MEN. § 146.

- Obs. 3. Many substantives derived from words which govern the genitive, are often followed by a genitive governed by the force of the primitive contained in the derivative; thus, έλεύθερος πόνου, § 143, free from labour; hence, έλευθερία πόνου, freedom from labour; κρατείν ήδονων, § 144. R. XV., to be superior to pleasures; εγκρατεία ήδονων, mastery over or moderation in pleasures; ακρατεία ήδονων, subjection to or want of moderation in pleasures; επικούρημα της χιόνος, protection against the snow.
- Obs. 4. Sometimes the genitive after a substantive is go verned not so properly by the substantive as by a preposition These generally express the material of which a understood. thing is made, or the author or source from which it proceeds, § 156. Obs. 3.; as, στέφανος (έξ) ἀνθέμων, a crown of flowers: χαλκοῦ ἀγαλμα (scil. ἐκ) a helmet of brass; πένθος (ἀπό) δαιμό. νων, grief sent from the gods; (δφ') "Hoas άλατεῖαι, wanderings caused by Juno.

Note. In this way, perhaps, the examples, Obs. 3. may be resolved; as, έλευθερία άπὸ πόνου.

- Obs. 5. A noun in the genitive, after another of the same kind, denotes either the highest pre-eminence, or the lowest interiority; as, βασιλεῖ βασιλέων, to the king of kings; δοῦλος δοῦλων, a slave of slaves.
- Obs. 6. A number of substantives followed by the genitive of a noun, or a possessive adjective formed from it, are often put by a kind of circumlocution for the noun itself. The chief of these are, βια, ἔς, μένος, strength; κῆς, the heart; φόβος, fear; πετρας, τέλος, τελευτή, the end; δέμας, a body; κάρα, κάρηνον, κετσαλή, the head, &c.; as, βια Κάστορος, for Κάστως, Castor; βιη Ἰιρακληειη, for Ἰιρακλῆς, Hercules; τέλος θανάτου, for θάνατος, death; Ἰιοκάστης κάρα, for Ἰιοκάστη, Jocasta, &c.
- Obs. 8. The Attics use a noun in the genitive, preceded by a neuter article, for the noun itself; as, τὸ τῆς τύχης for ἡ τύχη, forlune; τὰ τῶν 6 α ρ 6 ά ρ ων ἄπιστά ἐστι (for οι βάρβαροι,) THE BARBARIANS are not to be trusted.
- Rule VI. An adjective or article in the neuter gender without a substantive governs the genitive; as, τὸ πολλὸν τῆς στρατιῆς, the greatest part of the army. τὰ τῆς τόχης, the gifts of fortune.

Obs. 9. The adjective in the neuter gender is either itself considered as a substantive, (§ 131. Exc. 9.) or as having a substantive understood, which is properly the governing word.

Rule VII. A substantive added to another to express a quality or circumstance belonging to it, is put in the genitive; as, άνης μεγάλης άφετης, a man of great virtue.

Obs. 10. The substantive in the genitive has commonly an adjective with it, as in the example above, but sometimes not; as, nólepo; odx önlwr állá danárys, a war, not of welpons, bul of money. But

Obs. 11. The substantive expressing the quality or circumstance of another, is more commonly put in the accusative governed by κατά and διά; as, ἀνήρ σπουδαΐος τὸν τρόπον, a man of ingenuous disposition.

§ 143. THE GENITIVE GOVERNED BY ADJECTIVES.

Rule VIII. Verbal adjectives, and such as signify an affection or operation of the mind, govern the genitive; as, άνθοώπων δηλήμων, hurtful to men. Εμπειρος μουσικής, skilled in music.

Rem. The principle on which this rule is founded is contained in § 14t. I. 1. 2. But others suppose that the foundation of the principle, as well as of the rule, is to be sought in the ellipsis of a preposition, such as περὶ, which is sometimes expressed; as, περὶ τῶν τεχνῶν ἐπιστήμων, skilled in the arts. However plausible this supposition may be, it militates strongly against it that we have the same rule in Latin in which there is no preposition that governs the genitive. The stronger probability is, that the rule in both languages is to be referred to the same general principle already referred to.

Under this rule are comprehended,

- 1. Adjectives denoting action or capacity, which are derived from verbs or corresponding to them, especially those in $-\tau o \varepsilon$, $-\iota \varkappa o \varepsilon$, and $-\eta \varrho \iota o \varepsilon$.
- 2. Many adjectives compounded with a privative (§ 122. 1. 1st.); as, άθέατος και ἀνήκοος άπάντων, without seeing or hearing of any thing.
- 3. Partic ples used in an adjective sense, especially among the poets; as, πεφυγμένος ἀέθλων, free from troubles; οἰωνῶν εἰδώ;, skilful in augury.

Note. These, however, are often followed by the accusative; as, eldis $d\theta \epsilon \mu \iota \sigma \tau (a, skilled in wickedness.$

. 4. Adjectives expressing a state or operation of mind;

as, desire, aversion, care, knowledge, ignorance, memory, forgetfulness, profusion, parsimony, and the like.

5. Adjectives derived from, or of a similar signification with verbs which govern the genitive; as, ἐπίκουφος ψύχους, σκότου, κ. τ. λ. serviceable against cold, darkness, &c.

Rule IX. Adjectives signifying plenty or want, &c., govern the genitive; § 141. 1. and 4.; as, > μεστός θορύβου, full of confusion. ἔοημος ἀνδοῶν, destitute of men.

Under this rule are comprehended,

- 1. Adjectives of fulness, plenty, and want; value, dignity, worth, and the contrary.
- 2. Adjectives expressive of power, eminence, superiority, and their opposites; also, of participation, diversity, separation, peculiarity, or property, and the like.
- 3. Adjectives followed by the genitive of the cause; as, άθλιὸς τῆς τύχης, miserable on account of fortune.

Note. Adjectives of plenty and want sometimes govern the dative; as, αφνειός μήλοις, abounding in fruits.

RULE X. Partitives, and words placed partitively, comparatives, superlatives, interrogatives, indefinites, and some numerals, govern the genitive plural; as,

1. των ανθοώπων οι μέν σοφοί, of the men some were wise. ાં છે ' ભાં, OTHERS not.

2. οί παλαιοί τῶν ποιητῶν,

3. εν των πλοιων,

4. πρωτός 'Αθηναίων,

5. ὁ νεώτερος τῶν ἀδέλφων,

6. ἔχθιστος βασιλέων,

the ancient poets. one of the ships.

the first of the Athenians.

the younger of the brothers.

most hated of kings.

Rem. For the principle of this rule, see § 141. II. It has also been supposed that the genitive under this rule is properly governed by in or dad. The same remark made R. VIII, Rem. is also applicable here, and for the same reason, viz. that the same rule holds in Latin which has no preposition governing the genitive.

Obs. 1. All words are denominated partitives which express a part of any number or class of objects, the whole being expressed by the noun following it in the genitive.

- Obs. 2. The genitive after the partitive is sometimes governed by the preposition έx or έξ; as, έξ άπασῶν ἡ καλλίστη, the most beautiful of all. And sometimes, instead of the genitive, there is found a preposition with another case; as, καλλίστη ἐν ταῖς γυναιξι, fairest among women; so in Latin, justissimus τη Teucris.
 - Obs. 3. Instead of the genitive, the case of the partitive is sometimes used; as, τοὺς φίλους τοὺς μὲν ἀπέκτεινε, some of his friends he skiw.
 - Obs. 4. The partitives τις and είς are sometimes omitted; as, φέρω σοι στολήν τῶν καλλιστων (sc. μίων), I bring you A VERY EXCELLENT ROBE; ἤθελε τῶν μενόντων είναι (sc. είς,) he desired to be one of those who remained. On this principle is explained such phrases as ἐστι τῶν αισχρῶν (sc. είς), for ἐστι αισχρὸς, he is base, (literally "one of the base.")
 - Obs. 5. Partitives agree in gender with the substantives which follow in the genitive. When two substantives follow in the genitive, the partitives, &c. commonly agree with the former, but sometimes with the latter.
 - Obs. 6. Collective nouns are governed by partitives in the genitive singular.
 - Obs. 7. Adjectives in the positive form, but conveying a superlative sense, on the principle of this rule govern the genitive plural; as, ξξοχος πάντων, the most excellent of all; δια Θεάων, goddess of goddesses. (i. e. supreme goddess); δια γυναιχῶν, most excellent of women. Δαιμόνιε ἀνδοῶν, Good sir. Also nouns compounded with a in a privative sense; as, ἀχαλχος ἀσπίδων, unarmed with brazen shields.
 - Obs. S. On a similar principle an adjective in the genitive plural sometimes accompanies substantives of all kinds, in order to mark the class to which the person or thing mentioned belongs; as τροχὸς τῶν κεραμεικῶν, a wheel of the class of the earthen, i. e. an earthen wheel; πέλεκυς τῶν ναυπηγικῶν, an axe of those belonging to ship-builders.

RULE XI. The comparative degree governs the genitive; as, γλυκίων μέλιτος, sweeter than honey. κρείσσων οίκτιρμοῦ φθόνος, enoy is stronger than pits.

- Rem. The principle of this rule is stated § 141. 1 and 5. There is not the same objection to the usual explanation of this rule, by supplying the preposition $\pi\rho\delta$ or $d\nu\tau\ell$, that is stated Rule VIII, Rem. Yet the analogy of the cases already referred to are opposed to this explanation, and seem to render it more proper to refer to the general principle above stated. At the same time, it must be noticed, that after the comparative degree the genitive is sometimes governed by one of these prepositions expressed; as, olouv hardenestis $\pi\rho\delta$ theu derives $\delta\nu$ derive $\delta\nu$ derives $\delta\nu$ d
- Obs. 9. The conjunction η, than, after the comparative is usually followed by the same case that precedes it; as, ἐπ' ἄν-δοα; πολὸ ἀμείνονα; η Σπόθα;, against men much braver than the Scythians. Sometimes, however, it is followed by the nominative, if εἰμί or another word can be supplied; as, τοῖς κεωτέχοις η ἐγὸ, to those younger than I am.
- Obs. 10. After the comparative, η is sometimes followed by an infinitive with or without ως οr ωστε; as, κακά μείζω η ωστε άνακλαίειν, evils too great to excite my tears; νόσημα μετζον η φέφειν, affliction too great to bear.
- Obs. 11. The comparative without η (than) is followed by the genitive according to the rule; as, φωνά γλυκερώτερα η ushικήρω, a voice sweeter than honey-comb.
- Obs. 12. The genitives τούτου and ob, governed by a comparative, are often followed by an explanation with ή; as, οὐκ ἔστι τοῦδε παισὶ κάλλιον γέρας, ἡ πατρὸς ἐαθλοῦ κάγαθοῦ πεφυκέναι, there is no greater honour to children than this, (viz. than) to be descended from a brave and virtuous father.
- Obs. 13. The infinitive mood or part of a sentence being equivalent to a noun, (§ 173. I.), is sometimes governed in the genitive by a comparative; as, τὸ φυλάξωι τ' ἄγαθα τοῦ κτησάσθαι χαλεπώτερον ἐστὶ, to preserve property is more difficult than to gain it.
- Obs. 14. Words which imply a comparison govern the genitive on the same principle; these are
 - 1st. Such words as express difference; as, περιπσός, δεύτερος, βστερος; also, διάφορος, ξιερος, άλλος, άλλοτος, άλλοτριος.
 - 2d. Multiplicative numbers; as, διπλάσιος, τοιπλάσιος; as, διπλάσιον δεῖ ἀχούειν τοῦ λέγειν, one should hear TWICE AS MUCH AS HE SPEAKS.
 - Obs. 15. The superlative is sometimes used for the comparative, and is then subject to the same rules; as, (with the conjunction, λῶσιον ἡ τὸ Φλέγρας πεδίον, better than the plain of Phlegra; (without the conjunction), σεῖο δ' οδτις ἀνήρ μαπάρτατος, no man is happier than you.

6 144. THE GENITIVE GOVERNED BY VERBS.

Rule XII. The person or thing to which any thing belongs, is put in the genitive after είμ, γίνομοι, ὑπάρχω; as, έστι τοῦ βασιλέως, είναι έαυτοῦ, τοῦ καλῶς πολεμεῖν τὸ ἐθέλειν ἐστί, it belongs to the king.

to be his own (master).
alacrity is necessary to fight well; i. e. belongs to it.

Rem. For the principle of this rule, see § 141. III. Consistently with this, in constructions of this kind, a substantive may be considered as understood, which is the governing word.

Obs. 1. Yet here also we have the genitive governed directly by a preposition expressed, indicating that from which the quality, &c. proceeds; as, οὐπ ἔστι πρὸς πόλεως, it is not proper for the state; i. e. it is not a thing proceeding from the state. On this principle are to be explained such sentences as the following; οὐπ ἄγαμαι τοῦτ ἀ πδρὸς ἀ ρισ τέος, I do not approve this in a prince; i. e. πρὸς ἀνδρὸς, &c from a prince; τοῦτο ἐπαίνω ᾿Αγησιλάου, I commend this in Agestaus; τοῦτο μέμφονται μάλιστα ἡμῶν, this they blame chiefty in Us.

RULE XIII. Verbs expressing the operation of the senses, govern the genitive; as, Κλῦθι μευ, μη μου απτου, Hear me. touch me not.

- Exc. 1. Verbs of seeing govern the accusative; as, Θεών δψονται, they shall see God.
- Exc. 2. In the Attic dialect all verbs of sense govern the accusative; and sometimes, though very rarely, in the other dialects; as, ἤκουσα φωνὴν, I heard a voice; απλάγχνα επάσωντο, they tasted the entrails.

Obs. 2. The principle on which verbs under this rule, and some of those that follow, govern the genitive, is that the word in the genitive, following the verb, is viewed as the origin or cause, in some way or other, of the sensation, or of the act or state expressed by the verb, § 141. III.

Rem. If, after verbs which usually govern the genitive, the genitive is governed by a preposition interposed, the preposition generally corresponds to the idea of origin or cause, &c. expressed by the genitive (as, $d\pi \delta$, $\pi \rho \delta s$, and the like); and thus, instead of militating against the principles stated above, it adds its own force to that of the genitive, giving emphasis and distinction to the sentence. But to suppose from this that when the genitive follows a verb it is always governed by a substantive or preposition understood, besides being wholly unnecessary on the principles already stated, serves only to destroy the original and characteristic simplicity of the language, and to render its construction perplexed and intricate.

RULE XIV. Verbs signifying an operation of the mind, govern the genitive; as, θαυμάζω σοῦ, I admire you. ἀμέλεις τῶν φίλων, you neglect your friends.

Verbs which come under this rule govern the genitive on the principles stated, § 141. I. and 3. also III. It applies generally to verbs which signify

- 1. To pity, to spare, to care for, or neglect; as, επιμελείσθαι, φορντίζειν, άλεγίζειν, άμελείν, όλιγοφείν. επικομένου (Δ.)
- 2. To remember or forget; as, μνᾶσθαι, μνημονεύει, λανθάνεσθαι, &c. with their compounds. But these frequently govern the accusative.
 - 3. To consider, to reflect, to perceive or understand; these also govern the accusative.
 - 4. To admire, to aim at, to desire or to loathe, to revere or to despise.
 - Obs. 3. Many of these verbs used transitively; (i.e. signifying to cause the operation of mind they express) govern the accusative of the person with the genitive of the object; as, δπέμνησεν ε παιρός, he put him in mind of his father; εγευσας με εδδαιμονίας, you have caused me to taste of happiness. Verbs thus used are sometimes denominated causatives or incentives, and hence the Rule. Causatives govern the accusative of the person with the genitive of the thing.

RULE XV. Transitive verbs govern the genitive when they refer to a part only, and not to the whole of the object; as, žπιε τοῦ ελατος, he drank of the water.

This construction depends on the principle stated, § 141. II., or we may consider the expression elliptical, and supply some such word as, $\mu toss$, a $\psi x t$, or τi , some, as the direct object of the verb, and which governs the genitive according to Rules V. and VIII.

To this rule be'oug more especially such verbs as signify

- To share, participate, or impart, which, with the genitive of the thing, frequently govern the dative of the person to whom it is imparted; as, μεταδίδωαι τῷ άδελφῷ τῶν χορμάτων, I share the property with my brother.
- 2. To receive, obtain or enjoy; as, tun; Elaxe, he gained honour; tar 126 weer oxoln; if we get leisure.
- 3. Verbs signifying to take, to seize, and their contraries; to touch, or to carry, especially in the middle voice with the accusative of the whole, govern the genitive of the part affected; ελάβονιο τῆ; ζώνης τὸν 'Ορόντην, they seized Orontes, by the Girdle.

Exc. Some verbs such as λαμβάνομαι, μετέχω, κληφονομέω, λαγχάνω, τυγχάνω sometimes govern the accusative of the thing; κληφονομέω with the accusative of the thing, governs also the genitive of the person from whom it is received; as, εκληφονόμησε τοῦ πατρὸ; τὰ κτήματα, heinherited his possessions from his father; sometimes it governs the genitive of both.

Rule XVI. Verbs of plenty or want, filling or depriving, separation or distance, govern the genitive; (§ 141. I. and 4.) as, εδπορεί χοριμάτων, χουσοῦ νημοάσθω νῆα, δείσθαι χοημάτων, he abounds in riches.

let him fill his ship with gold.

to be in want of money.

Under this rule there may be comprehended verbs which express the general idea of separation, or which signify

- 1. To beg or entreat; as, deoual oov, I beg of you.
- 2. To bereave or deprive; as, στερέω, αποστερέω.
- To deliver, loose, or set free; as, ἐλευθερόω, λόω, ἀπαλάσσω.
- 4. Το escape; as, ἐπφεύγω, ἀλύσπω.
- 5. To keep off, to hinder, or prevent, to desist; as, κωλύω, δρητεύω, έχω, (scil. τινά τινός) εξογομαί, &c.
- 6. To differ from, to be distant, to abstain; as, διέχω, απέχω, διαλάττω, διαφέρω, ἀπέχομαι. But some verbs of differing govern also the dative; as, διαφέρω σοι, I differ from you.
- To separate, repel, or drive away; as, χορίζω, διορίζω, ἀμύνω, ἀλάλχω, ἀγείρω, διώχω, &c.
- 9. Το err, to cause to err; ύποπλανάομαι, άποτυγχάνομαι, άμαρτάνω, πλανάω.
- 10. To cease, to cause to cease; as, παύω, παύομαι, δήγω, &c.
- 11. To deceive frustrate, or disappoint; as, ψεύδομαι, πταίω, σφάλλομαι, &c.
- Obs. 5. Many of these are transitive; and with the genitive of the remote object, govern the accusative of the direct object; thus, under No. 3 σε τοῦδ ελευθερῶ φόνου, I clear you of this murder; ἀφαιρεῖσθαι, to deprive, sometimes governs the accusative and genitive, sometimes two accusatives, and sometimes the accusative and dative.
- Obs. 6. The genitive after these verbs, whether trans. or intrans, is sometimes governed by a preposition intervening, the effect of which is to give emphasis to the expression; as, ελευθερώσας την Ελλάδα ἀπὸ Μήδων, having liberated Greece from the Medes. § 144. Rem.

Rule XVII. Verbs of ruling, presiding over, excelling, and the contrary, govern the genitive, (§ 141. I. and 5.) as, πολλων έθνων ἄρχειν, to rule over many nations.

των πραγμάτων έπιστατείν, to have the superintendence of affair

The verbs which come under this rule are those which signify,

- Το rule; as, ἄρχω, κραίνω, δεσπόζω, δυναστεύω, ἐξουσιάζω, αὐθεντέω, κατακυριεύω.
- 2. Το reign; as, τυραννεύω, βασιλεύω, ανάσσω.
- 3. Το lead; as, ήγέομαι, ήγεμονεύω, στρατηγέω.
- 4. To preside over; as, ἐπιστατέω.
- 5. To survive, or to be over ; as, περίειμι.
- Το surpass, or excel; as, πρωτείω, ύπερβαίνω, περιβάλλω, διαφέρω, περιγίνομαι.
- To begin, i. e. to be first, to lead the way; as, ἄρχομαι; so ἄρχω, ὁπάρχω, κατάρχω.
- 8. The contrary are such as signify to be ruled, led, presided over, &c; to obey, to be inferior to, to be worsted or overcome.
- Obs. 7. Some verbs govern the genitive by the force of a noun implied in them; thus, τυραννεύειν is equivalent to τύραννο; είναι; and hence ετυράννευε Κορίνθου, he was king of Corinth is equivalent to τύραννο; ην Κορίνθου.
- Obs. 8. Many verbs under this rule sometimes govern the dative; as, ἀνάσσω, σημαίνω, κρατέω, ἡγέσμαι, ἡγεμονεύω ἄρχω. And sometimes the accusative.

Rule XVIII. Verbs of buying, selling, estimating, &c. govern the genitive of the price; as, ώνησάμην τοῦτο πέντεδοαχμών, I bought this for FIVE DRACHME.

άξιοῦται διπλης τιμης,

he is estimated worthy or DOUBLE HONOUR.

Rem. The genitive in this construction is properly governed by $\Delta \nu n$ understood, sometimes expressed. The price is sometimes put in the dative with the preposition $\delta n l$, and sometimes in the accusative with the preposition $\pi \varrho \delta \varsigma$.

N. B.—For the construction of the genitive with the accusative, see § 151; also, for the genitive governed by adverbs, see § 164, 165; by prepositions, § 168, and as used to express certain circumstances, § 156, 157, and from § 160, to 163.

DATIVE AFTER SUBSTANTIVES.

§ 145. CONSTRUCTION OF THE DATIVE.

The dative has, in general, two significations:

- 1. It is used to express the remote object to which any quality or action, or any state or condition of things tends, or to which they refer; which tendency is usually expressed in English by the words to or for. As thus used, it corresponds to the dative in Latin, and is subject to nearly the same rules.
- 2. To this general character of the dative may be referred a use of this case common in the best Greek writers, when the dative of the person to whom the thing spoken of may in some way or other be interesting, is thrown in without any dependence for its construction on any word in the sentence, and when the sentence as regards syntax is complete without it. In such cases the dative is said to be redundant. But though it is so in respect of construction, it is not so in respect of effect, as it imparts a touch of feeling and sentiment easily felt, but not so easy to express in a translation. Thus, ή μήτης έφ σε ποιείν ό,τι αν βιόλη, ίν' αὐτη μακάρις ής (Plat. Lys.) thy mother permits thee to do whatever thou pleasest, in order that thou mayest be happy, (TO HER). The abry is added with reference to the feelings of the mother. The datives not and out are very often used in this way. Thus, Oedip. Tyr. 2. τίνας πυθ' ἔδρας τάσδε έμοι θυάζετε; where έμοι intimates the mournful interest the good king felt in the scene before him. In Xen. Cyr. Cyrus addressing his mother, says, οίμαι σοι εκείνους-νικήσειν &c. I have no doubt that I will easily surpass these; where out intimates the delightful interest an affectionate mother might be supposed to feel in the event antioipated. So in Latin, Quo tantum MIHI dexter abis, Virg. Æneid V. 162.
- 3. It is used to express that with which any thing is connected as an accompaniment, cause, instrument, manner, means, or end. This connexion is usually expressed in English by such words as with, by, from, in, for, or on account of. Used in this way, it corresponds to the ablative in Latin both in meaning and construction.

§ 146. OF THE DATIVE AFTER SUBSTANTIVES.

RULE XIX. Substantives derived from verbs which govern the dative, sometimes govern the dative also; as, ή τοῦ θεοῦ δόσις ὁμῖν, the gift of God to you.

ή ἐν τῷ πολέμφ τοῖς φίλοις βοή- the assistance of (i. e. renderθεια, ed to) friends in war.

ές ἀντιλογίαν τοῖς ξυμμάχοις, for the contradiction of your allies.

Because δίδωμι, βοηθέω, and ἀντιλέγω, govern the dative:

- Obs. 1. The dative often follows a substantive in the sense of the genitive, for which construction with examples, see § 148. Obs. 1.
- Obs. 2. The dative sometimes depends on an adjective and substantive joined together, but chiefly on account of the adjective; as, κλεινόν θάλος πατεί, illustrious offspring to the father.
- Obs. 3. The dative sometimes follows a substantive, not, however, as implying possession, but where the idea of adaptation or design is implied; as, χερσιν πόνος, labour for the hands; i. e. adapted for, designed for.
- Obs. 4. The dative is also put with substantives to express the idea of companionship, being governed probably by σόν οτ δμοίως understood; as, (σι) ύπεύθυνος εἶ τοῖς ἄλλοις, you are responsible, as Well as (or equally with) the rest.

§ 147. OF THE DATIVE GOVERNED BY ADJECTIVES.

RULE XX. Adjectives signifying profit or disprofit, likeness or unlikeness, govern the dative; as, δφέλλιμος τῆ πόλει, profitable to the state. όμοτος τῷ πατρι, like his father.

The dative after such adjectives expresses the object to which the quality expressed by the adjective refers; and hence all adjectives in which such a reference is involved, are followed by the dative of the object to which they relate. In this class, besides those mentioned in the rule, may be reckoned,

1st. Adjectives signifying usefulness, friendliness, equality, suitableness, resemblance, ease, fitness, agreement, and the like, with their contraries. Hence, δ αὐτός, the same, and sometimes εἶς, οπε, and τοιοότος, such, are followed by the dative; a, τά αὐτά (ταὐτά) πάσχω σοι, I suffer the same things with you. (So in Latin, Invitum qui servat. IDEM facit OCCIDENTI. Hor. He who preserves a man against his will, acts the same part with the man who kills him); δς ἐμοῖ μιᾶς ἐγένετ ἐκ μητέρος, who was of the same (of one) mother with me; λόγους τῷ—τοιούτους λίγως, to speak such words as he would.

Exc. Adjectives signifying likeness, equality, &c. are sometimes followed by the object of comparison, not in the dative, but in the same case with the adjective, and connected with it by the conjunction al; as, ούτος γε ὁ λόγος ἔμοιγε δοκεὶ ἄν ὅ μοιος εἶναι καὶ πρότερος (instead of εἶναι τῷ πρότερφ), this argument would seem to me at least to be like the former. So also the nominative is used after the adverbs ατὰ ταὐτὰ, ὁμοιως, ἴσως; as, οὐχ ὁμοιως πεποιήκασι καὶ οὐμη ρος, they have not done like Homer; κατὰ ταὐτὰ οὖτος ἤχησε καὶ κιθάρα, just as a harp. These constructions are probably to be resolved thus, οὖτός γε ὁ λόγος καὶ πρότερος δοκεῖ, &c. οὖτος καὶ κιθάρα ἤχησε, &c.

- 2d. Adjectives compounded with σύν, όμοῦ, and μετά, signifying with; as, σύντροφος, δμοςος, μεταίτως τινί, &c.; yet sometimes these govern the genitive.
- 3d. Some adjectives derived from verbs which govern the dative, govern the dative also; as, ἀκόλουθος, ἀκολουθητικός, διάδοχος.
- Obs. 1. There are many adjectives which govern either the genitive or dative; as, δμοιος, like; ἴσος, equal; ὁμώνυμος, of the same name; ὁμοπάτριος, of the same father; ὁμομήτριος, of the same mother; σύντροφος, educated together; συνήθης, familiar; ἰσοξύροπος, of the same force; κοινός, common; πλουσίος, ἀφνειός, rich; εδπορος, abundant; ἐνδεής, poor; ἔνοχος, ὑπόδικος, ὑπείθινος, exposed, obnoxious; οἰκεῖος, familiar; ὤνιος, to be sold; δοῦλος, a slave; ἐλεύθερος, free; as, δμοιος τοῦ πατρός, or τῷ πατρί, like his father; ὁμώνυμος τοῦ πατρός, or τῷ πατρί, of the same name with his father.
- Obs. 2. It has been observed, § 80 Obs. 1. that the verbal adjectives in $-\tau \delta \varsigma$ and $-\tau \delta \circ \varsigma$ have a passive signification corresponding nearly to the Latin verbals in -bilis and -dus. Their construction, when thus used, is also similar; and hence the following
- Rule I. Verbals in -τός and -τέος, signifying passively, govern the dative of the doer; as, τοῦτο οὐ ὁητόν ἐστί μοι, this is not fit to be spoken by mc. ή πόλις ὼφελητέα σοί ἐστι, the city ought to be served by thee.

Rem. The dative, however, in this construction, when it is general in its nature, is commonly omitted; as, τιμητέα έστιν fapers, virtue must be honoured, (viz. huīv, by us.)

- Obs. 3. Verbals in -τός, not signifying passively, govern the case of their own verbs; as, εἶ τῷ ἐμῷ τὰνδοὶ μεμπιός ἐἰμι, if I blame my husband. Soph. Trach.; ἀψαυστὸς ἔγχους, not having touched the sword. § 80. Obs. 1.
- RULE II. The neuter verbal in $-\tau \acute{e}o\nu$, in the sense of the Latin gerund, with the dative of the doer, governs also the case of the verb from which it is derived; as,
 - ταῦτα πάντα ποιητέον μοι, ALL THESE THINGS must I do. τοῖς μὲν ὑπάρχουσι νόμοις χρηστέον, καινοὺς δὲ εἰκῆ μὴ θετέον, we should use the present LAWS, and not rashly enact NEW ONES.
- Obs. 4. The doer is sometimes put in the accusative, in which case the necessity involved in the verbal is much weaker than in the ordinary construction; as, οὐ δουλευτέον το ὑς νοῦν ἔχοντας τοῖς κακῶς φορνοῦσι, τΗΕ PRUDENT ought not to obey the unwise; ἐπισκεπτέον τὰ μὲν αὐτόν, τὰ δὲ γυναῖκα (for αὐτῷ, γυναικί), some things are to be looked to by him, some by his wife. Both are united by Plato, Rep. 5. οὐκοῦν καὶ ἡμῖν νευστέον—ἐλπίζοντας.

§ 148. OF THE DATIVE GOVERNED BY VERBS.

Rule XXI. The verbs είμι, γίνομαι, and ὑπάρχω, signifying to be, or to belong to, are followed by the dative of the possessor; as, ἐστὶ μοι χοήματα, possessions are (belong) to me, i. e. I have possessions.

Tέλλῷ παιδες ἦσαν καλοι κὰγαθοι, good children were to Tellus, i. e. Tellus had good children.

Obs. 1. On the principle of this rule may be explained the numerous instances, both in Greek and Latin. in which the dative signifying possession is used with another substantive apparently for the genitive. Thus, Τέλλω οι παιδες is equivalent to Τέλλου οι παιδες, the children of Tellus; but the principle of construction is different. In the latter expression, the genitive is immediately governed by the other substantive, of παιδες, by Rule V., and signifies the children proceeding from, and belonging to, Tellus. In the former, the dative is not governed by the substantive, but depends on some part of the substantive verb understood; thus, Τέλλφ οι παῖδες, (οι δντες,) Tello filii (qui sunt,) the children which are to (belonging, or added to) Tellus; or, without a periphrasis, "the children of Tellus." In this manner may be resolved all such expressions as δσσε δέ δί, his two eyes; θυγάτης τέ οί, her daughter; τῷ Ανδραίμονι ὁ τάφος, the sepulchre of Andramon, &c.

Rem. 2. In other instances in which the dative follows a substantive apparently for the genitive, the idea of tendency towards, or of acquisition or addition, expressed in English by the preposition to or for, is generally apparent; as, $\pi \alpha \tau \rho l$ $\tau \iota \mu \omega \rho \delta \nu$ $\phi \delta \nu \omega \nu$, an avenger of your father's murder; plainly an avenger of murder to or for your father. Indeed, the idea of possession, one of the meanings of the genitive, and of acquisition, the proper i lea expressed by the dative, are so nearly allied as to render the use of the one case for the other not unnatural.

Obs. 2. When of two nouns in the dative the one expresses a part of, or something belonging to the other, the latter may be rendered as the genitive, and the construction explained as in Obs. 1; yet it may be often better to consider them in apposition, both depending on the same governing word—the one term being added to limit or define more precisely the more general idea contained in the other; thus, in the sentence οὐκ ᾿Αγαμέμνονι ἢνδανε θυμῶ; the dative ᾿Αγαμέμνονι may be considered as regularly governed by ἢνδανε (R. XXII. II. 1.), and θυμῷ added in apposition, more particularly defining the part affected; as, he did not please Agamemnon; viz. his mind (his feelings.) So also the following examples:

κόσμον ον σφιν όπασεν Ζεύς γένει, an ornament which jupiter gave το them, viz. their race.

μαριυρέει δέ μοι τῆ γνώμη (the oracle) bears witness for ME, i. e. for MY OPINION.

In the following sentence, instead of the second dative, we have the accusative with ×ατά: viz. ηδε δέ μοι κατά θυμόν άφιστη φαίνετο βουλή, but this counsel seemed best TO ME IN RESPECT OF MY FEELINGS; i. e. this counsel pleased me most.

Τροθας δε τρόμος έπήλυθε γυτα εκαστον, trembling came upon the Trojana every one in their limbs.

τόν γίλιπ' όστία θύμος dyfirwp, the noble soul left him; viz. HIS B:DT; έρινε δν τάμνε νέους δρπηκας, he cut the WILD FIG TREE, ITS YOUNG BOUGHS.

- Obs. 3. The dative of some participles and adjectives is joined with the dative after the third person of είμι οτ γίνομαι, for the verb itself; these are such as βουλόμενος, ήδόμενος, ἀχοθωενος, προσδεχόμενος, ἄχων, ἄσμενος, &c.; as, εἴ σοι βουλομένω ἐστι, for εἰ δούλη, if you are willing; οὐδὲ αυτῷ ἄχοντι ἦν, nor was he unwilling; ἡδομένοισιν ἡμιν οἱ λόγοι γεγόνασι, we were pleased with your discourse. This construction has been imitated in Latin; thus, Tacit. Agr. 18. quibus bellum volentibus erat, who were inclined for war. So Sallust, Jug. 100.
- Obs. 4. Somewhat similar to this is the construction of the dative with the participle or adjective expressive of some feeling or emotion, after verbs signifying to come; as,
 - ασμένη δ' έμοι ήλθε, he came to me delighted, (scil. with his coming); i. e. I am delighted that he is come.
 - ποθοῦντι πφουφάνης, thou comest to me earnestly wishing it; i. e. I earnestly wished that thou wouldst come.
- Obs. 5. To this rule also belongs the construction of such phrases as the sound it is there I to do with thee? (literally, what common thing is there to tou AND ME?

RULE XXII. All verbs govern the dative of the object to which their action is directed; as, εθχοντο θεοῖς, they prayed to the gods. ἀναβλέπειν τινι, to look up to any one. ᾿Αθήνη χεῖρας ἀνέσχον, they lifted up their hands to Minerva.

- Rem. 4. This rule may be considered as general, applying to all cases in which a verb expressing action is followed by the dative, the action not being exerted upon, but simply directed to the object expressed in the dative. Hence, if the verb is active, it will govern also its immediate object in the accusative (§ 152); if neuter, it will be followed by the dative only. More particularly to this rule belong
- I. Verbs expressing action, compounded with ἐπὶ, πρὸς, εἰς, ἀνὰ, &c. These prepositions serve to mark more precisely the direction of the action, or state of action to an object.
- Obs. 6. These verbs sometimes govern the accusative by the force of the preposition with which they are compounded; as, επεσιφάτευσε πόλιν, he waged war against the city, § 169.
- Obs. 7. Hence the dative in this construction generally is equivalent to the preposition \mathfrak{sl}_5 , \mathfrak{nod}_5 , \mathfrak{dnl} , &c. with the accusative. Further, to this rule belong
 - II. Verbs which signify
 - To profit or hurt; to please or displease; to reverence or to yield.
 - 2. To favour or assist; and the contrary, to pray to, or entreat.
 - 3. To command, exhort, or address; to obey or disobey; to serve or resist.
 - 4. To fit or accommodate; to use and resemble.
 - 5. To give to, or to trust; to approach, to meet or to follow.
 - 6. To reproach with, to censure, to reprimand or rebuke, to be angry with.

Exc. δέω or δέομαι, I ask, governs the genitive; and λισσομαι and λιτανεύω always the accusative.

Obs. 8. Many of these verbs sometimes govern the dative and sometimes the accusative, according as their action is viewed by the writer as directed to, or exerted upon, the object. In the former case they are viewed as neuter or intransitive verbs; in the latter, as active or transitive.

RULE XXIII. Verbs implying connexion of companionship, govern the dative; as, όμιλεῖν τινι, to associate with any onc.

In this construction the dative is considered as corresponding to the ablative in Latin. (§ 145. 3.) To this rule belong

- Verbs compounded with σόν, όμοῦ, μετὰ, (with); as, συζῆν τινι, to live with any one.
- Verbs after which σύν, ὑμοῦ, μετὰ, may be supplied consistently with the sense, such as those which signify
 - (1.) To follow (with), to converse, to mix, to be reconciled, to dwell (with.)
 - (2.) To contend, or strive with or against, &c.
- Obs. 9. Verbs signifying "to contend," &c. in one point of view may come under the principle of Rule XXII, and hence are sometimes followed by an accusative with πρὸς; but then they signify more properly "to attack."
- Obs. 10. If a dative of the manner or instrument (§ 158.) follow the verb $\mu i\gamma \nu \nu \mu \iota$, to mix, instead of the dative of the person associated with, the genitive is used, governed by the word in the dative; as, Maia Aid; ir quidity $\mu \iota \gamma \epsilon i \sigma \alpha$, Mais BEING EMBRACED BY JUPITER.

Note. To the principle of this rule may be referred the construction of the dative, expressing repetition or succession; as, θέελλα θεέλλα, storm upon storm; ἄλλον δ' aν ἄλλφ προσίδοις, 'you might see one and then another,' (scirushing to the regions of Pluto.)

For the dutive, construed with the passive voice, see § 154.

§ 149. THE DATIVE GOVERNED BY IMPER-SONAL VERBS.

RULE XXIV. Impersonal verbs govern the dative; as, ἔξεστί μοι, it is lawful for me. ἔδοξε αὐιῷ, it seemed proper to him (i. e. he determined).

Obs. 1. Rule. Δεὶ, ἐλλείπει, διαφέρει, μετεστι, μέλει, ἐνδέχεται, and προσήκει, with their compounds, govern the dative of a person with the genitive of a thing; as, δεῖ πολλῶν σοι, you have need of much.

μέτεστί μοι τούτου, I take part in that.
τι δέ προσήκει έμοι Κορινθίων, what are the Corinthians to me.

For the principle of this rule, as it respects the genitive, see § 144. R. XV. 1.

Rem. 1. The dative of the person is frequently omitted.

Rem. 2. The nominative agreeing with the impersonal is frequently used instead of the genitive; as, διαφέρει τι σοι τούτο or τούτου, how does this concern you?

Exc. 1. $\delta \tilde{\epsilon} \tilde{\iota}$ and $\chi \rho \tilde{\eta}$ frequently take the accusative of the person with the genitive of the thing; as, οὔ γὰο σῶν με δεῖ θεσπισμάτων, for I do not want your oracles. οὐδὲ τί σε χρῆ ταύτης ἀφοροτύνης, you have no need of this folly.

- Obs. 2. From analogy the derivative substantives χοείω, χοείω, κοεία, are often construed with the accusative and genitive; as, ἐμὲ δὲ χοεώ γίγνεται αὐτῆς, I have need of it: τις χοεία σ' ἐμοῦ, what need have you of me?
- Exc. II. χρῆ, πρέπει, and δεὶ, it behoveth, govern the accusative with the infinitive; as,
 - χοῆ (ἡμᾶς) ποιήσασθαι την εἰφήνην, we ought to make peace. σοφωτέρους γὰο δεῖ βροτῶν εἶναι θέους,

 It behoves those who are wiser than men to be gods.
- Obs. 3. The dative is used in certain phrases in which it appears to depend on an impersonal or some other verb understood; viz.
- 1st. After ώς to show that a proposition is affirmed, not as generally true, but only with respect to a certain person; as,
 - μακφάν ώς γέφοντι προυστάλης δδόν, you have travelled a long way for an old man; seil. ώς φαίνεται γέφοντι, long, as it appears to an old man.
 - επείπες εί γενναίος ως ιδόντι, but since thou art noble in APPEARANCE; i. e. ως είκασαι έστι ιδόντι, as a person having seen you may suppose.
 - 2d. To express the opinion or judgment of a verson with or without $\dot{\omega}_i$: as, σ^i èyà tiunga to $\tilde{\iota}_i$ φ φ φ φ φ $\tilde{\upsilon}$ $\tilde{\upsilon}$ $\tilde{\iota}$ $\tilde{\upsilon}$ $\tilde{\iota}$ $\tilde{\iota}$ have honour to you according to the Judgment of the wise; i. e. $\dot{\omega}_i$ dose $\tilde{\iota}$ $\tilde{\iota$

For the dative governed by adverbs, see § 165.

§ 150. CONSTRUCTION OF THE ACCUSATIVE.

The accusative in Greek, as in other languages, is used to express the immediate object of a transitive verb, that on which its action is exerted, and which is affected by it; as, λαμβάνω τὴν ἀ σ π ι δ α, I take the shield. When used to express the remote object of a verb, or after verbs properly intransitive, it is governed by a preposition understood.

RULE XXV. A Transitive verb, in the active or middle voice, governs the accusative; as, γνώθι σεαυτόν, ἥοπαζον τὴν πόλιν, ἀγαθόν ἀνδοὰ τιμᾶς. know thyself.

they plundered the city.
thou honourest a good man.

- Obs. 1. Several verbs in Greek are used in a transitive sense, and have an accusative as their immediate object, which in Latin are considered as intransitive and followed by some other case. These are chiefly the following; viz.
 - 1st. πείθω; as, πείθειν τινά, to persuade any one.
 - 2d. δβρίζω; as. δβρίζειν τινά, to insult any one. Some times εξ; τινα.
 - 3d. άδικέω; a=, άδικεῖν τινα, to injure, or do injustice to any one.
 - 4th. Several verbs which signify to assist, to profit, to injure; as, ώφελέω, δνημι, εδεογετέω, βλάπιω, and with these verbs the adverbs more, very, are expressed by the accusative neuter of the adjectives πλείων, μέγας, viz. πλέον, μέγα.
 - 5th. The verbs ἀμείδομαι, ἀνταμείδομαι, τιμωρέομαι; as, ἀμεί βεσθαί τινα, to remunerate any one; τιμωρείσθαί τινα.

Note 1 Some of these verbs govern other cases, but then they generally convey a different idea; thus, ωφελείν τινα, to assist any one; ωφελείν τινη, to be useful to any one.

- Obs. 2. Many verbs are followed by an accusative, not of the object on which the action is exerted, but to which it has an immediate reference. Verbs thus used are properly intransitive, and the accusative is governed by the force of a preposition in composition with the verb, or understood after it. These are such as the following; viz.
 - 1st. προσχυνέω; as, προσχυνείν τινα, to bow the knee to any one, to adore.
 - 2d. δοςυφοςέω; as, δοςυφοςείν τινα, to be a spearsman to any one.
 - So also, 3d. ἐπιτροπεύειν, to be a tutor or guardian 4th. λανθάνειν, to escape the notice of, or to remain unknown to. 5th. φθάνειν, to come before, prevent, or anticipate. 6th. ἐπιλείπειν, to be wanting to, or to fail. 7th. ἀποδιδράσκειν, to run away from. Sth. ἀπομάχεσθαι, to ward off; δμνύναι or ἐπιδρκειν τινά, to swear by any one.
 - 9th. To these may be added intransitive verbs expressing some emotion or feeling; as, to be ashamed of, or afraid of any one; to compassionate any one, &c. &c., which are followed by the accusative of the object; thus, αιδοῦνται τους ἄρχοντας, they respected the rulers; τίς ἄντάδε γηθήσειεν; who would rejoice at these things? ἀλγεῖν τι, to be grieved at any thing; θαξόεῖν τι, to take courage with respect to any thing. The accusative in such cases may be governed by a preposition understood; as, ἐπὶ, περὶ, κατὰ; or by the participle of an active verb to be supplied; as, ὁρῶν ἀκούων, &c. seeing, hearing.

Note 2. Instead of the accusative many of these verbs are often followed by a genitive or dative, according to the rules for these cases.

Obs. 3. Rule. The infinitive mood or part of a sentence is often used as the object of a transitive verb instead of the accusative; as,

Αέγω πάντας εισφέζειν, I say that you should all contribute.

δειξάτω ως οδω άληθη λέγω, let him show that I do not speak the truth.

Note. The infinitive is also used instead of the genitive and dative alles verbs governing these cases.

- Obs. 4. In constructions of this kind the object of the verb is frequently expressed twice. First, in a noun or pronoun in the case required by the verb, and Secondly, in a dependent clause; as. ἀκθρώπους τε οίδα οία πεπόνθασι ὁπ' ἔρωτος, Ι know men what things they have suffered from love; Ιωνας φοδέταιμη μεταβάλλωσι, you fear the Ionians lest they revolt; ἀψ' ἐμοῦ μέμνησθε ὁποῖα ἔπρασσον; do you remember me what things I did? This construction is especially common with the demonstrative pronoun in a sort of apposition with the clause which is the object of the verb, § 133. 5. 6. The English idiom requires these and similar sentences to be rendered as follows: "I know what things men have suffered from love"—"You fear lest the Ionians revolt"—"Do you remember what things I did?
- Obs. 5. The accusative is often governed by a transitive verb or participle understood; as, σè δή—φῆς δεδφακέναι τάδε (sc. ἐφωτῶ), but thee, (I ask) dost thou confess thou didst these things? ὁ δὲ τὴν ποφφυφίδα (sc. ἔχων), the man with (having) the purple robe.
- Obs. 6. In this way the words δνομα, ΰψος, πληθος, εδρος, and others are frequently construed in the accusative; as, $i\pi$ -πόδρομος σταδίου τὸ πλάτος (sc. ξχων), a race course (having) THE BREADTH of a stadium.
- Obs. 7. In like manner the accusative, apparently in apposition with an entire proposition, or placed in the beginning of a sentence to express the leading idea, may be considered as depending on some preposition or verb understood; as, Ελένην κτάνωμεν Μενέλεω λόπην πικράν, let us slay Helen (sc. εls, in order to; or, ποιοῦντες, causing) bitter grief to Menelaus; μητέρα δε—ἄψ ἴτῶ (i. e. περί or κατά μητέρα), as to your mother—let her return.
- Obs. 8. Rule. An intransitive verb used transitively governs the accusative; as, πολεμεῖν πόλεμον, to wage war.

This is done

1st. When the accusative is a substantive of a similar signification with the word that governs it; as, ζ, β δίον ηδίστον, he lives a very agreeable life.

Note. To this principle of construction may be referred such phrases as φρονείν μέγα (scil. φρόνημα), to be proud; αθάνατα μὲν φρόνει (sc. φρονέματα) think as becometh an immortal.

- 2d. When they only signify to cause that state or feeling which they express as intransitives; as, ηξεν χείρα, he caused the hand to move forward, i. e. he stretched out the hand; αt πηγαί ψέουοι γάλα και μέλι, the fountains CAUSED milk and honey TO FLOW; i. e. the fountains flowed with milk and honey. So Virgil;
 - "Et duræ quercus sudabunt roscida mella."

Obs. 9. A passive verb used in an active sense governs the Accusative, § 74. Obs. 5. § 154. Obs. 4.; as, ηρνηνται τορείαν, they refused a conveyance.

§ 151. VERBS GOVERNING THE ACCUSATIVE AND GENITIVE.

Many active verbs, together with the accusative of the direct object, govern also another word to which the action has an indirect or remote reference, in the genitive, dative, or accusative, as the nature of that reference may require.

Rule XXVI. Verbs of accusing, condemning, acquitting, and the like, govern the accusative of the person with the genitive of the crime; as, διώπομαι σέ δειλίας, I accuse you of cowardice. ἀπολύω σὲ τῆς αὶτίας, I acquit you of this blame.

The genitive after verbs of accusing, is often governed by a preposition or some other word interposed, by which the expression is rendered more emphatic; as, έγράψατο (μέ) τούτων αὐτῶν ἕνεκα, he accused me of these same things.

διώχω σε περί θανάτου,

I accuse thee of a capital crime.

φεύγειν επ' altiq φόνου, to be accused of murder.

- Obs. 1. Verbs of accusing, &c. are such as ἐπέξειμι, γοάφομαι, διώπω, ἐπαιτιάομαι, to accuse or criminate; gείγω, to be accused, or to defend; αίσέω to gain one's suit; ἄλωμι. to lose one's suit; δικάζω, to judge; λαγχάνω, to commence a suit; ἐπιλαμβάνομαι and ἀντιλαμβάνομαι, to blame, &c. ἀπολύω, ἀφιημι, ἀποψηφίζομαι, &c. to acquit.
- Obs. 2. Verbs of this signification compounded with *ard take the person in the genitive, and the crime or punishment in the accusative; as, κατηγορούσι σού στάσιν, they charge sedition against you. Sometimes the crime or punishment is also in the genitive; as, καταγινώσκω σού θανάτου or θανάτου; but the punishment seldom with any word except θανάτου, and the crime only after κατηγορέω; as, παρανόμων αὐτοῦ κατηγορέν.

Obs. 3. Verbs of accusing sometimes govern the dative; as, ἐγκαλῶ σοι προσδοσίαν, I accuse thee of treason.

Rule XXVII. Verbs of hearing, enquiring, learning, &c. govern the genitive of the person with the accusative of the thing; as, ήκουσε τοῦ ἀγγέλου ταῦτα, he heard these things from the messenger.

πυνθάνεσθαί τί τινος, to hear any thing from any one.

The genitive under this rule is probably governed by a preposition understood; as, $d\pi \partial$, $d\pi$.

§ 152. VERBS GOVERNING THE ACCUSATIVE AND DATIVE.

A transitive verb governs the accusative and dative when, together with the immediate object of the action, it is followed by the person or thing in relation to which it was exerted. The more common constructions of this kind are comprehended under the following rule: viz.

RULE XXVIII. Verbs of comparing, giving, declaring, promising, and taking away, govern the accusative and dative; as, δπισχνέομαι σοι δέκα τάλαντα, I promise you ten talents. λοιγον άμθναι τοῖς ἄλλοις, to arert the plague from others.

'Obs. 1. After verbs of promising, declaring, and the like, the promise or declaration, forming part of a sentence and sometimes a number of sentences, often stands as the accusative with the dative of the person; as,

Alexander ordered the Greeks το vote him a god. sine μοι τι αυτφ χρήση, tell me what you would be with him.

- Obs. 2. Instead of the dative of the person the accusative with $\pi q \dot{\phi} s$ is often used, and sometimes without it.
- Obs. 3. In all constructions under this rule, both in Latin and Greek, the verb together with the accusative after it, are to be regarded as expressing the amount of what is done to the remote object in the dative. Thus in the expression narras fabulam surdo, the words narras fabulam express the whole amount of what is done (surdo) to the deaf man. With verbs of taking away, the English idiom requires the dative to be rendered by from; as, eripuit mihi gladium, he forced the sword away FROM me. On this account, some have supposed that the dative in such expressions in Latin is governed by some such word as existentem understood; and others, to obviate the difficulty, have given the Greek an ablative. All this perplexity arises evidently from overlooking the principle of the construction. While the English idiom expresses that FROM which a thing is taken away, the Latin and Greek, with no less elegance on the general principle of the rule, express in the dative that To which the act of taking away is done. Thus in the above expression, eripuit gladium together, expresses what is done (mihi) to me. So also Tcrence: SENI animam extinguerem ipsi; -- ADOLESCENTI oculos eripecem, to THE OLD MAN, I would put out the breath; -TO THE YOUNG MAN, I would tear out the eyes. In Greek, θέμιστι δέκτο δέπας, το Themistis, he took away the cup; i. e. taking away the cup was what he did to Themistis; according to the English idiom, he took away the cup from Themistis. [See Hunter's Notes on Liv. B. I. Chap, I. line 2. Æneæ Antenorique, &c.]
- Obs. 4. Verbs of giving, govern the genitive and dative when their direct object is in the genitive, according to Rule XV.; as, μεταδίδωμε σοί τῶν χρήματων, I share the property with you.

§ 153. VERBS GOVERNING TWO ACCUSATIVES.

Many verbs have the accusative not only of the nearer and more immediate object of the action, but also of the more remote object; i. e. the person or thing to which the act on with its immediate object passes, usually preceded in English by the preposition to; hence,

Rule XXIX. Verbs of asking and teaching, clothing, concealing, depriving; speaking or doing well or ill, and some others, govern two accusatives, the one of a person the other of a thing; as, they sought money from the Thebans.

διδάσκουσι τοὺς παϊδας σωφφοσύνην, τι ποιήσω αὐτόν: they teach their youths probity.
what shall I do to him?

Obs. 1. The immediate object of verbs which signify "to do," or "to speak," is the action done or the word spoken; the remote object is the person or thing to which it is done or spoken; thus, ποιείν άγαθά (scil ξογα) τινα, to do good to any one. λέγειν κακά (sc. ξπη) τινα, to speak evil of any one.

Instead of these adjectives with verbs of this signification, the adverbs εὐ and κακῶς are frequently joined; thus, κακῶς ποιεῖν τινά, to do a person evil; εὐ λέγειν τινά, to speak well of a person. Sometimes these words are in composition with the verb; as, εὐλογεῖν, κακολογεῖν, εὐεργετεῖν, κακουργεῖν—in which the accusative becomes the direct object, and is governed by the compound transitive verb; as, κακουργεῖν τινά, to mattreat a person.

On the same principle several verbs, such as loidogéomai, lumatromai, &c. which are usually followed by a dative, frequently take an accusative.

- Obs. 2. When a verb admits of either of the words that follow it as its immediate object, they are both put in the accusative; thus ἐνδύειν τινὰ τὸν χιτῶνα, to clothe a person with a tunic, and, to put a tunic on a person, convey the same idea.
- Obs. 3. A transitive verb, besides the accusative of the immediate object, may be followed by the accusative of a noun of similar signification with itself; as, δν Ζεός φίλει παντοίην φιλότητα, whom Jupiter loves with great affection; ἐνίκησε τοὺς βαφβάρους τὴν ἐν Μαφαθῶνι μάχην, he conquered the barbarians in the battle of Marathon.
- Obs. 4. When ποιετσθαι, with a noun cerived from a transitive verb, is used as a circumfocution for the verb itself, it will of course be followed by two accusatives; thus, ποιετοθαι την μάθησιν for μανθάνειν; ποιετοθαι την άφπαγήν for άφπάζειν; as, σκεύη και άνδφάποδα άφπαγήν ποιησάμενος, plundering the furniture and slaves; sc. making plunder of, &c.
- Obs. 5. Verbs which signify to call or name, to make, to choose, besides the accusative of the person, may be followed by the accusative of an adjective or substantive being the predicate which the verb affirms of its immediate object. In this construction the verb εἶναι is frequently interposed; thus, σοφιστην ὀνομάζουσι τὸν ἄνδοα, or τὸν ἄνδοα εἶναι, they call the man a philosopher.

Obs. 6. The accusative neuter of pronouns and adjectives is often admitted in this construction, as well as with verbs which govern the genitive or dative, when the accusative of the substantive could not be used; as, τοῦτό με ήδικησε, he has injured me in this. τι χοωμαι αὐτφ; for what may I use it?

- Obs. 7. Instead of the second accusative, many verbs under this rule frequently take the genitive or dative; and, on the other hand, some verbs which are usually followed by an accusative with the genitive or dative, sometimes take the double accusative; thus, δς δη πολλά κάκ' ἀνθρώποισι (for ἄνθρωπους) εώργει, who verily inflicted many evils on men; ἀποστερεῖν τινα τὰ χρηματα, and τῶν χρημάτων, to deprive a person of his goods.
- Obs. 8. The second accusative is often to be explained by a preposition after such verbs as προκαλέω, ἀναγκάζω, αποκρίνομαι, and verbs which signify to divide, as, διαιρέω, δάζω, &c; as, προκαλεισθαί τινα (ές) σπονδάς. to invite a person to a treaty; Κυρος το στράτευμα κατένειμε (είς) δώδεκα μέρη, Cyrus divided the army into twelve parts.

Note. With verbs of dividing, the whole which is divided is sometimes put in the genitive, and the word μέρος μοῖρα, &c., referred to the verb; as, δώδικα Πέρσων φυλαὶ διηρήνται, the tribes of the Persians were divided into twelve, for, the Persians were divided into twelve tribes; μοίρας δι' είλεν εξ καὶ Ιππέων καὶ ὁπλιτῶν, literally, he divided the parts of cavalry and infantry into six; i. e. he divided the cavalry and infantry into six parts. Thus imitated in Latin, Cic. de Orat. Deinde corum generum quasi quadam membra dispertial, for ea genera quasi in quadam membra, &c.

§ 154. CONSTRUCTION OF CASES WITH THE PASSIVE VOICE.

The passive voice is usually followed by a genitive of the doer, governed by the prepositions $\delta\pi\delta$, $\delta\varkappa$, $\pi\alpha\varrho\delta$, $\eta\varrho\delta\varepsilon$, and consequently, the government of the case falls under the rules for prepositions; as, $\mu\eta$ νικῶ $\delta\pi\delta$ τοῦ κακόῦ, be not overcome of evil. Sometimes, though very seldom, it follows the preposition in the dative; as, $\delta\pi\delta$ σατράπαις διοικεῖσθαι, to be governed by viceroys. But instead of this, and equivalent to it, the dative without a preposition is common; hence the two following rules.

CASES CONSTRUCTED WITH THE PASSIVE VOICE.

Rule XXX. Passive verbs frequently govern the dative of the doer; as, επράττετο αὐτοῖς τὰ τῆς πό- the affairs of the city were conducted by them. λεως. πεποίηται μοι, it has been done by me.

Note. This construction most commonly takes place with the perfect passive, and the dative is equivalent to the genitive with $\delta_0$, which is in common use; as also πρός, and sometimes παρά, έκ or έξ, and ἀπό. On the same principle, the verbal adjectives in 765 and 7605, having a passive signification, govern the dative of the doer. See § 147. Obs. 2.

RULE XXXI. When a verb in the active voice governs two cases, in the passive it retains the latter case; as, κατηγορέομαι κλοπῆς. έδύθη μοι πᾶσα έξουσία. παιδευθείς.

ŗ

I am accused of theft. all power is given to me. μουσικήν μέν δπό Λάμποου being taught music by Lamprou.

- Obs. 1. Any passive verb may be followed by an accusative of similar signification with itself, on the principle laid down § 153. Obs. 3.; as, τύπτεται πληγάς πολλάς, he is struck with many blows.
- Obs. 2. When a verb in the active voice governs the accusative with the dative of a person, the passive frequently retains the forms case, the latter being used as the subject of the verb. The same idea may be expressed in three different ways; viz.
 - 1st. With the active voice; as, δ δημος επίστευσε Λυκούργφ την της πόλεως έπιμέλειαν, the people committed the care. of the city to Lycurgus.
 - 2d. By the passive voice with the latter case; as, Auxoigγω επιτιεύθη ύπὸ τοῦ δήμου ή τῆς πόλεως επιμέλεια, the management of the city was entrusted to Lycurgus.
 - 3d. By the passive voice with the former case, according to the Obs.; as, Λυκούργος την της πόλεως επιμέλειαν ύπο τοῦ δήμου ἐπιστεύθη, Lycurgus was entrusted with the management of the city by the people.

The following are examples of this construction: οι ἐπιτετραμμένοι τὴν φυλακήν, those entrusted with the watch; for οις ἡ φυλακή ἐπιτέτραπτο: τὴν δ' ἐκ χειρῶν ἀρπάζομαι, she is torn from my hands; for ἡ δ' ἐκ χειρῶν ἀρπάζεται.

Hence, also, such phrases as the following: Λιθιοπες πας. δαλέας ἐναμμένοι, the Ethiopians girded with panthers' skins; λείπει δέλτον ἐγγεγραμμένην ξυνθήματα, he leaves a tablet inscribed with writings; because in the active voice it would have been ἐνάπιείν Λιθιόπεσι παςδαλέας—ἐγγράφειν ξυνθήματα δέλτφ. The accusative, in almost all such cases, may be explained by supplying κατά. This construction is imitated in Latin in such expressions as "inscripti nomina regum flores," flowers inscribed with the names of kings.

Note. This construction used in Latin only as a Græcism, is common in English with such verbs as, to ask, teach, offer, promise, pay, tell, allow, deny, and the like; as, is allowed for great liberty; passively, great liberty was allowed me, or, I was allowed that liberty. So, they were offered (to) me, or I was offered them. See English Grammar, § 49. Obs. Crombies' Etymology, p. 270.

Obs. 3. On the same principle the part affected, (§ 144. 3.) is often put in the accusative after the passive voice; thus, instead of το τραθμά μου ἐπιδεῖται, my wound in bound up, the genitive is changed into the nominative to the verb, and the nominative or part affected into the accusative; thus, (ἐγώ) ἐπιδέρωμαι το τραθμά fam bound up as to my wound; Προμηθεύς ἐπείρετο το ἡπαιτίτεται γ. Prometheus was torn out as to his liver; i. e. was torn out. See also § 157. Obs. 1

Obs. 4. The the passive is used in a middle chee, (§ 74. Obs. 5.), it becomes deported, and may be blowed by an accusative in the same manner as the actionice; as, παρεσκευασμένοι πάντα ἔπλεον, having provided every thing, they sailed; ἤρνηνται πορείων, they refused a conveyance.

§ 155. CONSTRUCTION OF CIRCUMSTANCES.

Words and phrases are often thrown in between the parts of a sentence in an adverbial manner, to express some circumstance connected with the idea of the simple sentence, and which do not depend for their case on any word in the sentence to which they belong, but on a preposition or advert, or other word understood; as, έξελαύνει σταθμούς δύο είς Ισσούς, και ἐνταῦθα ἔμεινεν ήμερας τρεῖς, he advanced TWO DAYS' JOURNEY to Issus, and remained there THREE DAYS.

μεγάλη σπουδη πάντα έπράττετο, every thing was done WITH GREAT HASTE.

Under the general name of circumstances may be included words which indicate 1. The remote cause or origin, § 156.

2. A particular qualification or direction of a general expression, § 157.

3. Cause, manner, or instrument, § 158.

4. Place, § 159.

5. Time, § 160.

6. Measure, § 161.

7. Price, § 162.

8. Exclamation, § 163.

§ 156. I. THE REMOTE CAUSE OR ORIGIN.

RULE XXXII. The cause sources or origin, and the part affected, are put in the genitive; as, μακάφιος της τύχης, happy from his fortune.

φιλεῖ αὐτὸν τῆς ἀφετῆς, he loves him on account of his virtue.
λύκον κφατεῖν ὑκον, to take a wolf by the ears.

- Obs. 1. Instead of the genitive the accusative is often used, governed by καιά, διά, &c. understood.
- Obs. 2. The circumstance of cause expresses by the genitive differs from that expressed by the dative genitive expresses the remote or moving cause;—the analysis the immediately effective cause.
- Obs. 3. The material of which a thing is made is expressed in the gornover as, σχεδίαι διφθερῶν, rafts made of skins. See § 142. Obs. 4.

Acte. The genitive and a private private private private property of the prop § 157. II. CIRCUMSTANCES OF LIMITATION.

A particular qualification of a general expression, made in English by the phrase "in respect of," "with regard to," is expressed by the genitive and dative; or, more briefly, as follows:

Rule XXXIII. Respect wherein is expressed in the genitive, sometimes in the dative. § 141. I. I. In the Genitive; as, εγγότατα αὐτῷ εἰμί γένους, δασὺς δένδοων,

πλησιοι ἀλλήλων,

Ι am very near him in respect of kin.

thick with trees.

near (in respect of) each other.

The genitive is thus used.

- After ἔχει, in the sense of to be (se habere), with such adverbs as εἰ, ὅς, ὅπως, πῶς, οὖτως, καλῶς, &c.; as, παιδείας οὅτως ἔχει, he is so in respect of learning; καλῶς ἔχειν μέθης, to be pretty drunk; ἣκω is used in the same way; as, Τέλλος τοῦ βίστη ἢκων, Tellus being well advanced in (respect of)
- After other verbs; as, ἐπείγεισθαι ἄορος, to be in haste with respect to the battle.
- 3. After adjectives; as, ἀπαις ἀξψένων παιδων, childless with respect to sons.
- 4. With adverbs; as πρόσω άφετῆς άνηκειν, to carry it far with respect to virtue.
- With substantives; as, ἀγγελία τῆς Χίου, the relation con-
- 6. With entire propositions; as, ει πατούς νέμει τιν' δοαν του μαλώς πράσσειν δοκείν, if he possesses any care of his father, in respect of his appearing to prosper.
- Obs. 1. Respect wherein is also put in the accusative governed by κατά understood; viz. when the idea expressed by a verb or adjective is to be more accurately determined by an additional circumstance; as, τὸν δάκτυλον άλγῶ, I am pained in my finger; χερείων οὐ δέμας, οὐδὲ φρένας, inferior neither in body nor mind; πόδας ἀκὸς ᾿Αχιλλεύς, Achilles swift of foot.

Note 1. This is the construction so often imitated by the Latin poets; thus, Os humerosque deo similis.

Note 2. The accusative in this construction is in signification adverbial, and hence is frequently used as an adverb; thus, dexfir, above all, originally; τάχος, quickly; τίλος, finally; τὴν πρώτην, at first, &c.; κατὰ being understood. So also such expressions as τὸ travefor, on the contrary; τὸ λεγούμενον, according to the propert, &c.

II. In the DATIVE.

This case is used in a sense nearly similar, to express that with respect to which a thing is affirmed to be or take place. The extensive use of this construction in Greek may be illustrated by the following examples:

- άξιος ἦν θανάτου τῆ πόλει, he was worthy of death, with respect TO THE STATE; i. e. he was guilty of a capital crime against the state.
- και δη μεθίεν χαλεποῖο χόλοιο Τηλε μάχφ, and now they laid aside their grievous anger against (with respect to) ΤΕΙΕΜΑCHUS; SO ἔγωγε λίσσομαι 'Αχιλλῆϊ μεθέμεν χόλον, I will pray him to lauraide his anger against ACHILLES.
- 3. τὸ μὲν ἔξωθεν ἀπτομένω σῶμα οὐπ άγαν θερμὸν ἦν, the surface of the body was not very hot WHEN ONE TOUCHED IT, (with respect to one touching it.)
- 4. 'Επίδαμνό; έστι πόλις εν δεξιά εσπλεοντι τον 'Ιόνιον κόλπον, Epidamnus is a city on the right hand as you enter (with respect to one entering) the Ionian bay.
- δυωδεκάτη δὲ οἱ ἡὼς κειμένφ, the twelfth day since HE (to him lying.)
- 6. 'Η ε μέν δη δσα αυτοι Αιγύπτιοι φασι είναι τεα ές "Αμασιν, the Egyptians themselves tell how many years passed from Hercules (or, since the death of Mercules) to Amasis.
- τιμην ἀφτύμενοι Μενελάφ, looking for the advantage (or pleasure) of Menelaus.
- 8. δοχησάμενοι θεοί σι, dancing in honour of the gods.

Rem. Respect wherein is also sometimes expressed in the dative governed by $\delta \nu$ understood; as, ποσι ταχύς, swift of foot.

§ 158. III. THE CAUSE, MANNER, AND INSTRU-MENT.

RULE XXXIV. The cause, manner, and instrument are put in the dative; as, φόδφ ἔπραττον, I did it from fear. ἔγενετο τῷδε τῷ τρόπφ, it happened in this manner. πατάσσειν ῥάδδφ, to strike with a stick.

- Obs. 1. The CAUSE or motive may be considered as internal or external. The internal cause represents the act as proceeding from some particular state or disposition of the subject, or quality residing in it, and contains the answer to the question from what? or whence? and consequently may generally be rendered from: εὐνοία γ' αὐδῶ, I speak from Good-Will. The external cause represents the action as caused by something without the agent, and may generally be rendered "for," on account of," sometimes "according to," "in consequence of;" as, χρήμασιν ἐπαιορίμενος, elated with, or in consequence of riches; Λεοντίνων κατοικίσει, for, i. e. in order to the re-establishment of the Leontines, the motive being derived from the end; θαυμάζω τῆ ἀποκλείσει μου τῶν πυλῶν, I am astonished at the shutting up of my gates.
- Obs. 2. In this construction the dative expresses the nearer or immediate cause, the more remote being usually expressed by the genitive, or by διά with the accusative, (§ 156. Obs. 1. 2.); as, ἀσθενεία σωμάτων διά την σιτόδειαν ὑπεχώρουν, they (the Lacedemonians) gave way, from the weakness of their bodies induced by want of provisions.
- Obs. 3. The dative of the cause is probably governed by the preposition ἀμφι, περι, or ἐπι understood. Sometimes they are expressed; but whether with or without a preposition, the whole expression is adverbial in its nature; and hence, disregarding its case, a neuter adjective or pronoun is sometimes put in the same construction with it, in the accusative; as, st τινος μέγα ἦν τὸ σῶμα φύσει, ἢ τοφῆ, ἢ ἀμφότερα, if the body of a person was large naturally, or by nourishment, or both.
- Obs. 4. The dative of the MANNER is governed by εν or σύν understood, and may be considered as adverbial. Hence, perhaps, verbs of punishing are followed by the punishment in the dative; as, thuisor tira baráig, guyn, &c. to punish any one with death, with banishment, &c.

- Obs. 5. The dative of the instrument or mean may be a person; as, τοις παρούσιν ετείχεζεν, he built the wall by means of those who were present. It is also put with substantives; as, κινήσει; τῷ σώματι, motions made with the body.
- Note. Hence the construction of $\chi\rho\bar{\eta}\sigma\theta\alpha\iota$ with the dative; that which we use being considered as an instrument. On the same principle the dative is put after other verbs which imply the idea of using; $\tau \epsilon\kappa\mu\alpha\epsilon\rho\epsilon\sigma^2\alpha\iota$ $\tau\bar{\sigma}i\tau$ $\pi\rho\delta\sigma\theta\sigma$ $\epsilon\lambda\rho\kappa\lambda\eta\mu\epsilon\nu\alpha\iota$, to infer from what was granted; i. e. to use as proofs the things formerly granted.
- Obs. 6. Instead of the dative, the prepositions $\dot{\epsilon}\nu$, $\dot{\alpha}\pi\dot{\nu}$, $\dot{\delta}\dot{\nu}$, $\sigma\dot{\nu}\nu$, with their cases are sometimes used.

§ 159. IV. CIRCUMSTANCES OF PLACE.

The circumstances of place respect motion to, or from, or through a place, and motion or rest in a place; in all of which the Greek writers generally use a proper name with a preposition; thus, έξ 'Αθήνων, from Athens; εις Βριταννίαν, to Britain; εν Πυλῷ, in Pylos; διὰ τῆς πόλεως, through the city. But,

Rule XXXV. The place where, without a preposition, is expressed in the genitive or dative; as, Μαραθώνι, at Marathon; Αργεος, at Argos.

- Obs. 1. In this construction the genitive may be governed by $\ell\pi l$ or $\pi \ell \varrho l$; and the dative by $\ell\nu$ understood. The preposition is also often understood before common nouns denoting place; as, $\ell\varrho\chi\epsilon\sigma\theta\rho\nu$ × $\ell\iota\sigma\ell\eta\nu$, they two came to the tent.
- Obs. 2. The genitive after εις, to a place, or εν, in a place, is governed by a substantive understood; as, εις ἄδου, (sc. δόμον), to Hades; εν *Αργεος (sc. πόλει), at Argos. § 142. Obs. 1.
- Obs. 3. The terminations -θι and -σι, added to a noun, denote AT a place; as, ἀγοόθι, in the country; Θίβησι, at Thebes; -δε and -σε το a place; as, ᾿Αθήνασδε, to Athens; κλισιηνδε, to the tent; -θεν and -θε, from a place; as, κλισιηθεν ἀνείλειε δγχος, he took a spear from the tent. § 120. 6.

§ 160. V. CIRCUMSTANCES OF TIME.

RULE XXXVI. Time when is put in the dative; time how long, in the accusative; as,

WHEN; ήμέρα τρίτη, on the third day.

HOW LONG; τρεῖς όλους μῆνας παρέμεινεν, he remained three whole months.

- Obs. 1. When the reference is to a fixed time at which a thing took place, the dative is used as in the rule; but if the idea of duration is implied, it is put in the accusative; as, τας ημέρας και τὰς νύκτας, by day and by night; sometimes in the genitive; as, ἐκάκωσε βίη Ἡρακληείη τῶν προιέρων ἐτέων, Hercules distressed us in former years.
- Obs. 2. Time how long, may respect the time during which since which, or after which some event took place. The first is put in the accusative as above; the second is more commonly expressed in the genitive; as, πολλοῦ αὐτοὺς οὐχ ἑώρακα χρόνου, I have not seen them for a long time; the third, generally in the dative; as, οὐ πολλαῖς ἡμέραις θστερον, not many days after. But sometimes in the genitive, when protracted and indefinite; as, ἐκεῖσε οὐκ ἀφικνεῖται ἐτῶν μυρίων, he comes not thither in ten thousand years. In this, however, there is some variety.

§ 161. VI. CIRCUMSTANCES OF MEASURE.

The circumstances of measure respect magnitude, distance, and the measure of excess, as follows:

RULE XXXVII. The measure of magnitude is put in the genitive; as, άνδριάς δυώδεκα πηχέων, a statue of twelve cubits.

RULE XXXVIII. The measure of distance is put in the accusative, sometimes in the dative; as,

*Εφεσος απέχει τριῶν ἡμέρων όδὸν οι όδῷ, πεντεκαίδεκα πήχεις ὑψώθη τὸ δδωρ, Ephesus is distant three days' journey.
the water rose fifteen cubits.

Obs. When measure of magnitude or distance is found in the nominative after a substantive verb, or in the accusative after an infinitive, the construction is according to § 139. III.

RULE XXXIX. The measure of excess is put in the dative after the comparative degree; as, ἐννιαυτῷ πρεσβύτερος, older by a year.

Obs. Hence the expressions πολλφ, δλιγφ, βραχεῖ, &c. with the comparative. It is, however, sometimes put in the accusative; as, πολύ μείζων, much greater; πολλον άμείνων, much better.

§ 162. VII. CIRCUMSTANCE OF PRICE.

RULE XL. The price of a thing is put in the genitive; as, δὸς τοῦτο δραχμῆς, give this for a drachma.

Obs. The price is put sometimes in the dative, with the preposition ἐπὶ expressed or understood; as, ἐπὶ μισθῷ μεγάλφ, for a great reward. Sometimes in the accusative; as, πιπράσχει ὁ κακὸς πάνια πρὸς ἀργύριον, the wicked sell all things for silver.

§ 163. VIII. EXCLAMATION.

RULE XLI. Exclamations of praise, indignation, compassion, &c. are put in the genitive, sometimes in the accusative; as, > τῆς ἀναιδείας, O the impudence! φεῦ τοῦ ἀνδοός, Alas! the man. ὁ ἐμὸ δείλαιον, O wretched me!

Obs. Sometimes with the genitive there is an addition of the nominative; as, of μοι τῶν ἐμῶν ἐγὼ κακῶν, ah! my miseries.

§ 164. CONSTRUCTION OF ADVERBS.

Adverbs are joined to adjectives, verbs, and other adverbs, to express some circumstance, quality, or manner of their signification.

Many adverbs in Greek have the force of prepositions in Latin and English. These are often joined with substantives, as will appear in the following rules. They are also sometimes used as substantives or adjectives; as, ἀπὸ τοτε, from that time; ὁ ἔξω ἄνθρωπος, the outward man. § 130. Obs. 1. 2d.

RULE XLII. Derivative adverbs commonly govern the case of their primitives; as, άξιω; ήμῶν, in a manner worthy of us. μάλιστα πάντων, most of all. όμοίως τοὶς ἄλλοις, in a manner similar to the rest. πάφεκ νῆα, without the ship.

§ 165. ADVERBS AS PREPOSITIONS.

Adverbs having the force of prepositions govern the same case with the prepositions which, in meaning, they resemble; thus, $\delta\mu\omega\bar{\nu}$, $\delta\mu\omega\bar{\nu}$, $\delta\mu\omega\bar{\nu}$, $\delta\mu\omega\bar{\nu}$, $\delta\mu\omega\bar{\nu}$, $\delta\mu\omega\bar{\nu}$, descriptions which, in meaning, they resemble; thus, $\delta\mu\omega\bar{\nu}$, $\delta\mu\bar{\nu}$

Rule XLIII. Some adverbs of time, place, and quantity, likewise of number, order, and exception, govern the genitive; as, άχοι τῆς σήμερον ήμερας, to this day. οδ γῆς εἰμι; where am I?

Obs. 1. To these may be added adverbs of cause, comparison, distinction, concealment, separation, or exclamation; and also nouns used adverbially, as, χάριν, δίκην, ἐνώπιον, &c.; as, δίκην ποιαμῶν, like rivers.

The adverbs which come under this rule are the following: ἀνευ, ἀτερ, δίχα, χώρις, without; ἀντιπρό, ἀντιπρός, ἀπαντιπρό, against, opposite; ἀχρι, μέχρι, to, even to; ἕνεκα, ἕνεκεν, on account of; ἐγγός, πλησίον, ἄγχι, ἀσσον, near; ἐκιός, ἔξω, ἔκτοσθεν, without; ἐντός, ἔσω, εἴσω, ἔντοσθεν, within; πλήν, παρεκτός. except, but; μεταξό, among; ὀπίσω, ὅπισθεν, behind; πρόσθεν, before; πέραν, ἐπέκεινα, beyond, &c.

Exc. 1. ἄγχι and ἄλις sometimes govern the dative.

Exc. 2. πλήν, except, has sometimes the nominative after it;

as, $\pi\lambda\eta\nu$ of two $\pi\alpha t\delta\omega\nu$ didás $\pi\lambda$ discret the teachers of the boys.

Note. Adverbs of the final cause are frequently omitted; as, lypsups robds, I wrote for this reason, sup. lyera.

Obs. 2. Adverbs of time, place, &c., are frequently changed by the poets into adjectives; as, olds πανημέριοι μοληῆ θεὸν ελλακοντο, they propitiated the god with song THE WHOLE DAY. § 131. Obs. 6.

Certain adverbs are joined sometimes with one case and sometimes with another: as follows:

- 1st. ἄμμιγα, ὰμμιγδην, ἐγγός, ἐγγόθεν, πάφεγγυς, σόνεγγυς, ἐξῆς, ἐφεξῆς, σχεδόν, σχεδόθεν, αὐτοσχεδόν, are put with the GENITIVE OF DATIVE.
- 2d. ἄγχι, ἀγχόθι, ἐπποδών, πλησίον, ἐπίπφοσθεν, oftener with the Genitive.
- 3d. ἀνάπαλιν, ἔμπαλιν, oftener with the DATIVE.
- 4th. εἴσω, μέσφα, πάφεκ or πάφεξ, πέφιξ, with the GENITIVE OF ACCUSATIVE.
- 5th. osuço, with the dative or accusative.
- 6th. ἄχρι, ἀχρις, μέχρι, μέχρις, with the GENITIVE, DATIVE, OF ACCUSATIVE.

RULE XLIV. Adverbs of accompanying govern the dative; as, αμα τῆ ἡμέρα, at day-break.

RULE XLV. Adverbs of swearing govern the accusative; as, νή Δία, by Jupiter; μὰ τὸδε σκέπτρον, by this sceptre.

- Obs. 3. In sentences of this kind, $\mu\alpha$ commonly denies, unless joined with $\nu\alpha l$; and $\nu\eta$ affirms, unless joined with a negative.
- Obs. 4. Adverbs of shewing are put with the nominative; as, ιδού ὁ ἄνθρωπος, behold the man; τδε ή μήτης μου καὶ οἱ ἀδελφοί μου, behold my mother and my brethren.

§ 166. OF NEGATIVES.

The Greek language has two simple negatives, of and $\mu\eta$, from which all the compound negative terms are formed, and to which, in their use and manner of construction, they are similar. Between these two negatives and their respective compounds there is a total difference of use, the foundation of which is as follows:

- 1. or is the direct and independent negative, which expresses a positive denial without reference to any thing else; as, οὐκ ἐθέλω, I will not; οὐκ ἀγαθόν ἐστι, it is not good; οὐδεὶς παρῆν, no one was present. A direct negation of this kind can never be expressed by μή or its compounds.
- 2. $\mu\eta$, on the other hand, is uniformly a dependent negative. It is therefore used in all propositions in which the negative is represented, not as a fact, but as something dependent on the conception, as a condition, supposition, &c.; and hence it is used in the manner following:
 - 1st. After the conditional conjunctions εἰ, ἐἀν, ἤν, ὅταν, ἐπειδάν, ἐως, ἀν, and those which intimate an end, design, motive; as, ἐνα, ὡς, ὅπως, ὥστε; as, εἰ μὴ ὀρθῶς λέγω, if I do not speak correctly; ἀπεδήμησε ἐνα μὴ ἀναγκασθῆ, κ. τ. λ., he (Solon) went away that he might not be compelled, &c.
 - 2d. Without any such particle μή is always put with the imperative mood in the present tense, with the subjunctive in the aorists used imperatively, and with the optative when it expresses a wish; as, μη με βάλης, do not strike me; μη γένοιτο, may it not be.
 - 3d. My is used after relatives, and with participles when they express a condition or supposition; as, τις δε δοῦναι δύναται ετέρφ & μη αὐτης ἔχει; who can give a thing to another, if he has it not himself? & οὐκ αὐτης ἔχει would mean, that which he has not himself. So also, ὁ μη πιστεύων, if a person does not believe. But, ὁ οὐ πιστεύων, is, one who does not believe.
 - 4th. M₁ is used with infinitives whether they be dependent upon another verb or used with the article as a verbal noun, § 173. I.; as, ἀνάγκη τοῦτο μὴ ποιεῖν, it is necessary not to do this; τὸ μὴ ποιεῖν, the not doing.
 - 5th. With verbs which signify to fear, to warn, and the like, uf is used, like ne in Latin, where a positive expression is used in English; as, δέδοικω μὴ τι γένηται, vereor ne quid accidat, I am afraid that something may happen. Sometimes the preceding verb is understood; as, μὴ τοῦτο ἄλλως ἔχη, (scil. δέδοικα), I fear lest this be otherwise.

So also after verbs which signify to forbid, deny, prevent, refrain, disbelieve, to be cautious, and the like, it is frequently put with the infinitive where the negative is not used in English; as, ἀπανδῶ τουτὸν μη παριένει, I forbid this man to enter.

- 6th. Mη is sometimes merely an interrogative particle like num in Latin, giving, however, greater emphasis to the question; as, μη ἀνελεῖν με σὸ θέλεις; will thou kill me?
- 3. A negative placed between the article and its noun. converts it into a sort of compound negative term; as, ή οὐ διάλνοις τῶν γεφυρῶν, the not destroying of the bridges; ἡ μὴ ἐμπειρία, the inexperience.

Rem. In the same manner it is used with certain verbs; thus, οῦ φημι, I deny, contradict; οὺκ ἐάω, I forbid; οὸχ ὁπισ-χνέομαι, I refuse; thus, οὺκ ἔφασαν τοῦτο εἶναι does not signify they did not say that this was, but, they denyed that this was, or, they said this was not.

§ 167. DOUBLE NEGATIVES.

When to a proposition already negative, and also to verbs which signify to deny, to contradict, to hinder or oppose, and the like, other qualifications of a general nature are to be attached; such as ever, any body, any where, &c.; it is usual to do this by compounds of the same negative. Hence the following rules:

RULE XLVI. Two or more negatives, joined to the same verb, strengthen the negation; as, οδα εποίησε τοῦτο οὐδαμοῦ οὐδείς, no one any where did this.

Obs. 1. To the negation of the whole is joined in the same sentence the negation of the parts; as, οὐ δύναιαι οὐιε λέγειν οὐιε ποιεῖν, he can neither speak nor act.

Note. Consequently, in translating such propositions into English, only one negative can be used.

RULE XLVII. But two or more negatives joined to different verbs, destroy the negation, and are equivalent to an affirmative; as, οδ δυνάμεθα μη λαλεϊν, we cannot but speak. οδδεις ὅστις οδ γελάσεται, there is nobody who will not laugh,

i. e. "every body will laugh;" έστι being understood with οδδεις.

- Obs. 2. Indeed, so common is the ellipsis of èστι in this expression, that it is lost sight of, and the antecedent σύδεις, which should be its nominative, is often attracted into the case of the relative which follows; as, σύδενι διφ σὸν ἀφέσκει, there is nobody whom it does not please, for σύδεις διφ, &c.; σοδένα δντινα οὐ κατέκλαυσεν, he caused every one to weep, for σόδεις εστιν δντινα, &c. "there is no one whom he did not cause to weep."
- Obs. 3. It is also proper to observe the use of the negative in such sentences as the following: και οὐ ταῦτα μὲν γράφει ὁ Φίλιππος τοῖς δ' ἔργοις οὐ ποιεῖ, Philip does not write these things and not perform them; i.e. think not that Philip writes these things and does not execute them; where the first oὐ does not affect the verb γράφει, but the two propositions together. It denies an assertion which might be thus expressed; γράφει μὲν οὐ ποιεῖ δέ, he writes but does not execute. So also οὐ δη τῶν μὲν χειροτέχνων ἐστί τι πέρας τῆς ἐργασίας τοῦ δ' ἀνθρωτίνου δίου οὐκ ἔστι, "it cannot be that there is some object in the labours of the artist, but none in the life of man."

Note. In phrases of this kind, the two propositions as here, are usually listinguished by $\mu \tilde{\epsilon} \nu$ and $\delta \tilde{\epsilon}$; and the second is negative.

- Obs. 4. In some phrases or and $\mu\eta$ are united; as, or $\mu\eta$ and $\mu\eta$ or. Or $\mu\eta$ is a stronger and more emphatic negation han or, and is used in the same way, § 166. 1. $M\eta$ or, in general, is only a stronger expression of $\mu\eta$, and is used in the same manner, subject, however, to the following modifications:
 - 1st. In dependent propositions, when the verb of the principal proposition is either accompanied by a negation, or contains a negative idea in itself, μη οὐ destroy each other, and may generally be rendered "that;" as, οὐκ ἀρνοῦμαι μη οὐ γένεσθαι, I do not deny that it has taken place; πείθομαι γὰο οὐ τοσοῦτον οὐδὲν ὥστε μη οὐ καλῶς θανεῖν, for I am persuaded that there will nothing happen to me so bad but that I shall die nobly.

- 2d. Mη οὐ after verbs signifying to fear, to warn, &c. as above, § 166. 2. 5th. render the sentence negative which with μη alone would be positive; as, δίδοικα μη οὐ τι γένηται, I am afraid lest something MAY NOT happen; φοβοῦμαι μη οὐ καλὸν η, vereor ne non honestum sit, I fear that this may not be proper.
- 3d. In independent propositions with the subjunctive mood, μή joined with or makes the negative expression less positive; as, άλλα μή ους ή διδακτον ή αφετή, but virtue may perhaps be a thing not to be taught. This sentence may be explained by supplying an omitted verb, as αφα, or the like, and be rendered literally. But see whether virtue may not be &c.

§ 168. PREPOSITIONS.

Prepositions are used to express the relation in which one thing stands to another. For the primary and various derived meanings of prepositions in different constructions, see § 124. The influence they exert over the words with which they are joined, as far as it respects their case, is regulated by the following rules:

Rule XLVIII. 'Aντὶ, ἀπὸ, ἐκ or ἐξ, and πρὸ, govern the genitive only; as, δφθαλμός άντι δφθαλμοῦ, an eye for an eye.

Rule XLIX. Ev and $\sigma i \nu$ govern the dative.

RULE L. Eis (or $\dot{\epsilon}_5$) and $\dot{\alpha}\nu\dot{\alpha}$ govern the accusative.

Obs. 1. And, among the poets, also governs the dative.

Rule LI. Διὰ, κατὰ, μετὰ, ὑπέρ, govern the genitive or accusative.

Obs. 2. Merá among the poets, also governs the dative of a plural noun, or a noun of multitude; as, μετά τρετάταισε άνασσεν.

RULE LII. 'Αμφί, περί, ἐπὶ, παρὰ, πρὸς, and ὑπὸ, govern the genitive, dative, or accusative.

Note. For the meaning of the prepositions as modified by the case with which they are joined, see § 124.

- Obs. 3. Prepositions are often used as adverbs, their case being understood. This is the case especially with $\hat{\epsilon}\nu$ in the Ionic, and $\pi \varphi \delta \varsigma$ in the Attic. Hence, in the Ionic writers they are often put twice, once abverbially without a case, and again with a case or in composition with a verb; as, $\hat{\epsilon}\nu$ $\delta \hat{\epsilon}$ $\varkappa a \hat{\epsilon}$ ν $M \hat{\epsilon} \mu \varphi \iota$, in Memphis also.
- Obs. 4. Prepositions are sometimes separated from their case; as, $\dot{\epsilon}\nu$ $\gamma\dot{\alpha}\rho$ or $\dot{\tau}\ddot{\eta}$ $\nu\nu\kappa\eta l$ $\tau\alpha\dot{\nu}\tau\eta$ $\dot{\alpha}\nu\alpha l\rho\rho\mu\alpha\iota$. In Attic this takes place according to rule, with the conjunctions $\mu\dot{\epsilon}\nu$, $\delta\dot{\epsilon}$, $\gamma\dot{\alpha}\rho$, or $\dot{\nu}$; as, $\dot{\epsilon}\nu$ $\mu\dot{\epsilon}\nu$ $\gamma\dot{\alpha}\rho$, $\epsilon l\rho\eta'\nu\eta$;— $\dot{\epsilon}\varsigma$ $\mu\dot{\epsilon}\nu$ or $\dot{\tau}\dot{\alpha}\varsigma$ 'Attic this takes place according to rule, with the conjunctions $\mu\dot{\epsilon}\nu$, $\delta\dot{\epsilon}$, $\gamma\dot{\alpha}\rho$, or $\dot{\nu}$, $\dot{\nu}$,
- Obs. 5. Prepositions are often put after their case, particularly by the Ionic and Doric writers and the Attic poets; as, νεῶν ἄπο και κλισιάων. In the Attic prose writers it takes place only in περι with the genitive. When so placed the accent is always thrown back to the first syllable; thus, ἄπο πέρι, &c.
- Obs. 6. When a preposition should stand twice with two different nouns, it is often put only once by the poets, and that too with the second noun; as, $\tilde{\eta}$ àlòs $\tilde{\eta}$ ênl $\gamma \tilde{\eta}_5$, Hom. by sea or land.
 - Obs. 7. A preposition is frequently understood.

$ 169. PREPOSITION IN COMPOSITION.

Rule LIII. A preposition in composition sometimes governs the same case as when it stands by itself; as, έξηλθε της olulas, he went out from the house.

- Obs. 1. This is done when the preposition can be separated from the verb and joined with the substantive, without altering the sense.
- Obs. 2. In Homer, Herodotus, and other old writers, the preposition is frequently found separated by one or more words from that with which it may be considered in composition; as, ημεν από λοιγόν αμύναι, (Il. 1. 67.) for ημεν απομύναι λοιγόν; από μεν σεωϋτόν άλεσας, (Herod. 3. 36.) for σεωϋτόν μεν απώλεσας. Hence when the verb is to be repeated several times, after the first time the preposition only is often used; as, απολεί πόλιν, από δὲ πατέψα. Grammarians, however, consider the preposition in such cases as used adverbially, and not properly in composition. Instances of the proper timesis are very rare, especially in the Attic prose writers.

SYNTAX OF THE VERB.

§ 170. OF THE INDICATIVE MOOD.

The indicative mood is used in Greek when any thing is to be represented as actually existing or happening, and as a thing independent of the thought and ideas of the speaker. Hence it is often used where, in Latin, the subjunctive would be used; as,

- 1. After negative propositions with the relative
- 2. In indirect interrogations.
- 3. In quoting the language of another after or, &c. &c.
- 4. In conditional propositions after st, implying a supposition in the statement, but a certainty in the fact; i. e. when the thing supposed is neither contingent nor future, but present and certain; as, et etal βωμοι, etal και θεοι, if there are altars, there are also gods. Or, when the condition and consequence are both past actions; as, οὐκ ἄν προέλεγεν, εt μὴ ἐπίστευσεν ἀληθεύσειν, he would not have foretold it, unless he had believed it would prove true. This is agreeable to the ordinary construction in Latin.
- Obs. 1. The indicative is put with ἀν in the conclusion, when it is put with ει in the condition, when it refers to the present time; as. ει τι είχεν εδίδου ἄν, "if he had any thing he would give it." Here, however, a denial of the condition is always understood: thus, "but he has not."

Obs. 2. The indicative is sometimes used in suppositions where, in other languages, the subjunctive would be put; as, $\tau \epsilon \theta \nu \eta \pi \alpha \tau \tilde{\eta}$ of $\theta \nu \gamma \alpha \tau \varrho l$, and μ ' à $\pi \omega l \epsilon \sigma s$, suppose that I had been slain by thy daughter, and that she had made an end of me.

§ 171. IMPERATIVE MOOD.

The imperative in Greek is used as in other languages, in addresses, entreaties, commands, &c. The pronouns (being the nominative) are omitted, except where emphasis or distinction is required. In the use of this mood the following peculiarities of construction may be observed; viz.

- The second person sometimes stands for the third; as, ἀλλὰ φύλαττε πᾶς τις, but let each one watch.
 πέλας τις ἔθι, let some neighbour go.
- 2. As in English, the plural is sometimes used for the singular; as, προσέλθετε, ὁ παι πατρί, come, O my child, to thy father.
- 3. In prohibitions with $\mu\eta$, the present imperative is most commonly used. If the agrist is used, $\mu\eta$ must be put with the subjunctive.
- 4. The imperative after οἶσθ' ὁπ, οἶσθ' ὁς, οἶσθ' ὡς, seems to be used elliptically, and to have arisen from a transposition of the imperative; as, οἶσθ' ὡς ποίησον; knowest thou in what way thou must act? (i. e. act, knowest thou in what way?) οἶσθ' οἷν ὂ δῷᾶσον; knowest thou what to do? (i. e. do, knowest thou what?).
- 5. Sometimes the imperative is used for the future; as, τ_i odv;  $\epsilon i\sigma\theta\omega$ róuos; what then? shall a law exist? i. e. What then? do you say, let a law exist? On the other hand, the future is still more frequently used for the imperative; as, $\gamma r d = \sigma \epsilon u \lambda \tau e \delta \eta r \lambda \gamma u \delta u r v d v e \delta v e \delta$

§ 172. SUBJUNCTIVE AND OPTATIVE MOODS.

The subjunctive and optative moods represent an action, not as actually existing, but rather as dependent upon, and connected with, the ideas and feelings of the speaker. The subjunctive represents this dependence as present; the optative represents it as past, (§ 75. 2.) Hence the following general rule:

1. The subjunctive and optative in dependent propositions.

Rule LIV. In dependent clauses, the subjunctive mood is used in connexion with the primary tenses; the optative with the secondary; (§ 77. Obs. 3.) as, πάφειμι δια ίδω, I am present that I may see. ΄παφητι διαμι, I was present that I might see.

On this general principle the whole construction of these moods depends, as may be illustrated by the following observations:

Obs. 1. These moods are used after conjunctions whose use is to introduce a subordinate or dependent clause. in which actual existence is not definitely expressed; as, lra, δαρα, δπως. ως; thus, εθέλεις δαρ' αὐτός ξχης γέρας; do you wish that you yourself may hare a reward? μη μ' ερέθιζε σαωτερος ως κε κέημι, provoke me not that you may return the safer. This sentence, which contains the direct address (oratio directa) of Agamemnon to Chryses, has the subjunctive after ως in connexion with the present ερέθιζε. When this is afterwards related as a past event, in the style of the indirect address (oratio obliqua), the subjunctive is changed into the optative; thus, απίξιαι ξπέξευς παὶ μή ξρεθίζειν Για σως οίκαθε ελθοι, τος COMMANDED him to depart and not provoke him that he might return safe.

In like manner when a person relates what was said by ano ther, without quoting his language, the optative is used, as the reference must be to what is past; thus, "and that at one moment you might hear them announcing" \alpha \tilde{\ell} \tilde{\el

Obs. 2. When a past event is related in the present time the verb in the dependent clause may still be in the optative. and in like manner, after the historical tenses, the subjunctive is used when the event, though past, yet continues in its effects and operation, to and through the present time. Thus, in the address of Minerva to Diomede, "I removed the mist from your eyes that you MAY distinguish (ὄφρα γινώσκης) a deity from a man in the field of battle." Here, however, there may be a change of reference, i. e. the subjunctive γινώσκης may refer, not to the time of the removal, but to the time of the address, as if she had said, "I removed the mist from your eyes that you MAY from this time forward distinguish," &c. Such changes of reference are not uncommon in all languages.

- Obs. 3. It was noticed, § 75. Obs. 3. that the future indicative is used in a subjunctive sense. Accordingly it is often found in a dependent clause, especially after δπως, in the same construction as the subjunctive; as, "Cyrus deliberates (ὅπως, μήποιε ἔτι ἔσται) that he may no longer be subject to his brother, but, if possible (βασιλεύσει), may reign in his stead. Σκεπτέον—ὅπως ἀσφαλέστατα ἀπίωμεν, (subj.) και ὅπως τὰ ἐπιτήδεια ἔξομεν, (fut.) We ought to consider how we may getaway most safely, and obtain the necessary supplies.
- Obs. 4. After adverbs of time, when the precise point of time is not determined but left indefinite, the subjunctive and optative are used These are ἐπην, ἐπειδάν, ὅταν, ὅποταν, referring indefinitely to the present, and so followed by the subjunctive. ἐπει, ἐπειδή, ὅτε, ὁπότε, refer indefinitely to the past, and are followed by the optative; as, "Menelaus entertained him when (from time to time) he came from Crete," ὅποτε Κοητηθεν ἐποιτο. Here ὅποτε Κοητηθεν ἐπειο would mean, when he actually came from Crete. The primary part of the sentence, then, may be considered as understood, as, when it happened, that he came from Crete.
- Obs. 5. When the relatives δς and δστις refer to definite persons or things, and to what actually took place, they are followed by the indicative mood. But if the person or thing to which they refer be indefinite, and the whole proposition affirms of past time, then the verb is in the optative without ἄν; as, δντινα μὲν δασιλῆα κιχείη, whatever monarch he found; πάντας ὅτφ ἐντόχοιεν—κτείνοντες, slaying all whomsoever they might meet. On the other hand, if the proposition affirms something of present or future time, the verb is in the subjunctive with ἄν; as, ἐν ἢ δ ἄν τῶν φυλῶν πλεῖστοι ὧσι, &c. in whichsoever of the tribes there may be the greatest number, &c.; ἐπεσθε ὅτοι ἄν τις ἡγῆται, follow where (it is possible that) any one may lead the way. In such sentences the primary part may be understood, such as "it is possible that," &c.

II. The Subjunctive and Optative in Independent Propositions.

- Obs. 6. Both the subjunctive and optative are used without being preceded by another verb, and so apparently in independent clauses. In all such instances, however, there is an ellipsis of the verb on which they depend.
 - I. The subjunctive is thus used,
 - 1st. To command in the first person; as, lωμεν, let us go, i. e. it is necessary that we go; and so of others.
 - 2d. In forbidding, with μή or its compounds in the aorist, not in the present; as, μή δμόσης, succar not.
 - 3d. In deliberating with one's self; as, ποι τράπωμαι, whither shall I turn; είπωμεν η σιγώμεν, shall we speak or be silent.
- II. The optative is thus used,
 - 1st. To express a wish or prayer; as, τοῦτο μη γένοιτο, O that this might not be. In this case εἴθε, εἰ, ὡς, πῶς, ἄν, are often used with the optative.
 - Rem. A wish is also expressed by the imperfect of ὀσέλω, (ὄσελον, or ὄσελον, .ες, .ες), sometimes alone followed by the infinitive; as, μήποι ὅσελον ποιεῖν, would that I had never done this; and sometimes with ὡς, εῖθε. or εἰ γάρ, preceding it; as, ὡς ὅσελες παρεῖναι, O that thou hadst been present! εὶ γάρ ὄφελε θανεῖν, O that he had died!
 - 2d. In connexion with &r to express doubt, conjecture, bare possibility; and in volitions, to express, not a fixed resolution. but only an inclination to a thing; as τινές &r εδεν νομεῖς, they were perhaps (or, it is probable that they were) shepherds; ήδέως &r θεασαίμην, I would gladly see them.
 - 3d. To express a definite assertion with politeness or modesty; as, οδχ ηπει οδδ' ἀν ηξοι δεῦφο, he has not come, and WILL NOT COME back; i. e. I rather think it was his purpose that he would not come back.
 - 4th. Sometimes it is used for the imperative to convey a command or request in milder terms; as, χώροις ἄν εἴσω, you may go in, i. e. go in.
 - 5th. It is sometimes used for the indicative to give an air of indeterminateness to the circumstances of an action which is determinate in itself; as, two rews &s according

- σειαν, the ships which they may (or might) have sunk; i. e. which they have sunk.
- 6th. It is also used in a potential sense, to denote power or volition; as, οδα ἄν δὲ μείνειας αὐτόν; could you not withstand him? ἐθελήσειεν ἄν; would he be willing?
- III. The Subjunctive and Optative in Conditional Propositions.
- Obs. 7. The use of the indicative in conditional propositions has been noticed § 170. 4. The subjunctive and optative are also used in conditional propositions, as follows:
 - 1st. Uncertainty in the condition, with an actual result, is expressed by ἐάν with the subjunctive; as, ἐάν τι ἔχωμεν δώσομεν, if we have any thing we will give it. The result in this case will be in the indicative future or the imperative.
 - 2d. A mere hypothetical supposition with a determinate result, puts the condition in the optative with εl, and the result in the indicative; as, "if these things should seem (δοκοίη) to be very aggravated crimes, none of them are chargeable on me." On the contrary, an actual case supposed in the condition with a hypothetical result, would require the first in the indicative with εl, and the last in the optative.
 - 3d. When the case is altogether hypothetical, the condition is expressed by the optative with εl, and the result by the optative with ἄν; as, εl τις ταῦτα πφέττοι, μέγα μ' ἀν ὡφελήσειε, if any one should do this he would greatly assist me.

Sometimes the subjunctive with $\ell d\nu$ or $d\nu$, instead of the optative, is put in the condition.

Obs. 8. All conditional propositions in Greek may be turned into the infinitive or participle with ἄν; ας, οὄονται ἀναμάχεισθαι ἄν, ευμμάχους προσλάβοντες, "they think they might retrieve their fortune in war by obtaining allies."

CONSTRUCTION OF THE INFINITIVE.

The infinitive mood expresses the meaning of the verb in a general and unlimited manner, without the distinctions of number or person. § 75. 4. In construction it may be considered under the four following divisions: viz. as a verbal noun; as following a verb or adjective without a subject; as having a subject before it; or, as used absolutely after certain particles.

6 173. I. THE INFINITIVE AS A VERBAL NOUN.

RULE LV. The infinitive mood, with the article before it, is used as a substantive in all the cases; as, έκ τοῦ ὁρᾶν γίγνεται τὸ ἐρᾶν, love is produced from sight.

- Obs. 1. When the infinitive with or without a clause is used as the nominative to a verb. or the accusative governed by it, it is frequently without the article; very rarely so after a preposition; as, πασιν ἡμῖν καιθανεῖν ὀφείλειαι, dying is due to all of us.
- Obs. 2. Not only the simple infinitive, but the infinitive with the whole clause to which it belongs, may often be regarded as a substantive, and stand in almost every variety of construction in which a substantive can be placed; as, Nom. το του; ἀνθφώπους, άμωρτάνειν οὐθὲν θαυμαστόν (ἐστὶ), that men should err is nothing wonderful; Gen. ὑπὲς τοῦ μηδένα ἀποθνήσκειν, that no one might perish; Dat. Γνα ἀπισιῶσι τῷ ἐμὲ τετιμῆσθαι ὑπὸ δαιμόνων, that they may disbelieve my having been honoured by the gods; Acc. ἔκρινα τὸ μὴ πάλιν ἔλθειν, I determined not to come again.
- Obs. 3. With the article alone the infinitive is generally equivalent to the Latin Gerund; as, ένεκα του λέγειν, causa dicendi; έν τῷ λέγειν, dicendo; πρὸ; τὸ λέγειν, ad dicendum.
- Obs. 4. Without the article it has often the force of the Latin Supine; as, ηλθε ζητησαι, venit quæsilum ήδυ ἀκόνειν, Suave auditu; αἴσχιστο; ὸφθηναι, turpissimus visu.

§ 174. II. THE INFINITIVE WITHOUT A SUBJECT.

RULE LVI. One verb governs another, without a subject, in the infinitive; as, ήρξατο λέγειν, he began to say. επιθυμέω μανθάνειν, I desire to loare.

RULE LVII. The infinitive mood is governed v adjectives denoting fitness, ability, capacity, nd the contrary; as, δεινός λέγειν, powerful in speaking. ἄξιος θαυμάσαι, worthy to be admired.

Note. It is also used after substantives; as, Konolar ylveobal, power to beme.

- Obs. 1. The infinitive under these rules is in the same lause with, and expresses the cause, end, or object, of the acon, state, or quality expressed by the verb or adjective that overns it. The verbs that govern the infinitive directly in is way are such as denote desire, ability, intention, endeavur, and the like; as, εθέλει γράφειν, he wishes to write; δέοat σου έλθειν, I beg of you to come.
- Obs. 2. The infinitive is sometimes placed after verbs to xpress the design or consequence of that which they affirm. 'hus used it is governed not by the verb but by some such ord as ωστε understood; as, έγων δδε πάντα παρασχείν, i. e. στε πάντα παρασχείν, I am here (so as) to furnish all things; κομεν (ωστε) μανθάνειν, we have come (in order) to learn.
- Obs. 3 A verb denoting an incidental object not directly in iew, is put in the infinitive with wors after a verb or adjecve; as, φιλοτιμότατος ήν ώστε πάντα δπομείναι, he was very mbitious, so as to endure all things, &c. This construction ikes place especially after such words as τοσοῦτος, τοιοῦτος, 3rως, and the like.
- Obs. 4. The infinitive is sometimes put after verbs and adectives which indicate some state or quality, in order to exress the respect in which that state or quality obtains, and rould be expressed in Latin by the supine, or gerund in .do, nd in English by the substantive; as, ως ίδειν έφαίνετο, as it appeared to the sight. θείειν ανέμοισιν δμοΐοι, like the winds in running. οὐδὲ προυφαίνετ' ιδέσθαι, nor did he appear to the sight.

Obs. 5. The infinitive active is used very frequently in treek in the sense of the latter supine, or infinitive passive in ⊿atin : as.

ανήο εάων φυλάπσειν, a man is more easy to be guarded against.

δαδία ποιείν.

things easy to be done.

§ 175. III. THE INFINITIVE WITH A SUBJECT.

- 1. A subordinate or dependent clause, containing a verband its subject, is connected with the leading or primary clause. in two ways. First, by a conjunctive particle, such as ὅτι, ὥ;, and the like; as, λέγουσι ὅτι ὁ ἐταῖφο; τέθτηπε, they say that our companion is dead. In this case the verb is in a finite mood and its subject in the nominative. Second, without a conjunction; as, λέγουσι τὸν ἐταῖφον τεθνάναι, they say that our companion is dead. In this case the verb is in the infinitive mood, and its subject usually in the accusative.
- 2. Sometimes both modes of expression are united in the same sentence; as, ξσιι λόγος ὡς Ξέρξης ἐκομίζετο ἐς τὴν ᾿Ασίην πλώονια δέ μιν ἄνεμον Στρυμονίην ὁπολαβεῖν. Sometimes a sentence begins with the one form and ends with the other; as, λέγουσι δ' ἡμας, ὡς ἀκινδυνον βίον ζῷμεν, they say that we lire a life free from danger; as if it had been intended to say, λέγουσι δ' ἡμᾶς ἀκινδυνον βίον ζῷν; this is called anacolouthon, § 175. Rem.

The construction of the subordinate clause connected by the first of the above methods, is subject to the rules § 138, 139.; connected by the last, it comes under the rules that follow:

RULE LVIII. The infinitive mood in a dependent clause has its subject in the accusative; as, τους θεους πάντα είδέναι he said that the gods know all things.

Exc. When the subject of the infinitive is the same with the subject of the preceding verb, it is put by attraction in the same case; as, ἔφη είναι στρατηγός, he said that he was a general.

- 3. In this construction the subject of the infinitive is generally omitted except when emphasis is required; as, έφη αὐτὸ; εἶναι στρατηγός, οὖκ ἐκείνους, he said that HE was a general, that They were not generals. This construction has been frequently imitated in Latin; thus, Sensit medios delapsus in hostes. VIRG. Uxor invicti Jovis esse nescis. Hor.
 - Obs. 1. In a few instances constructions vary both from the rule and the exception. Occasionally the subject of the infinitive is in the nominative when it signifies a different thing from the subject of the preceding verb, and in the accusative when it signifies the same.

Obs. 2. If the subject of the infinitive be the same with the object of the preceding verb, it may either be in the accusative according to the rule, or stand before the infinitive, in the case governed by the preceding verb; thus, κελεύω σοι τοῦτο ποιείν, or κελεύω σε τοῦτο ποιείν, I command you to do this.

In either case there is an ellipsis;—in the first form, of σε, the immediate subject of the infinitive; and in the second, of σοι, the remote object of the preceding verb. Both these modes of construction are common, and sometimes they are intermixed in the same sentence; thus, Lysias, δέομαι δμῶν τα δίχαια ψηφίσασθαι, ἐνθυμουμένους ὅτι, κ. τ. λ. I beg of you to determine, justly considering that, &c. Here δμῶν stands before the infinitive governed in the genitive by δέομαι, and yet ἐνθυμουμένους follows in the accusative, evidently agreeing with δμᾶς the subject of the infinitive understood. It might have been with equal propriety put in the genitive.

Rem. Constructions of this kind in which the end of a sentence does not grammatically correspond with the beginning, are called Anacoloutha. For other examples of this see § 148. Rem. 1., § 175. 2. The most common form of these appears to be when the speaker commences a period in the manner required by the preceding discourse, but afterwards, especially after a parenthetic clause, passes over into another construction. The Anacolouthon, however, is never adopted by Greek writers unless something is thereby gained in conciseness, perspicuity, smoothness, or emphasis.

Obs. 3. When used in the passive voice, the subject of the infinitive is changed into the subject of the preceding verb, or it remains unchanged in the accusative, the passive verb being used impersonally; as, λέγεται Κύφον λέγεται Κύφον Cyrus is said to have been It is said that Cyrus was the son of Cambyses.

Obs. 4. The same observation is true of the verb donet; thus, done adide elvar, he seems to be; or done adide elvar, it seems that he is. The following sentence unites the two, xal μην η γγελται γε η μάχη ισχυρά γεγονέναι και πολλούς τεθ. νάναι, and indeed IT WAS SAID THAT THE BATTLE was obstinate, and that many died. In like manner the adjectives δίκαιος, δηλος, φανερός, &c. with the verb είμι, are used for the neuter gender with ἐστι, as impersonals; thus, δίκαιός είμι for δίκαιόν ἐστι, &c. it is just that I, &c.; δηλός ἐστιν, for δηλόν ἐστιν αὐτὸν—it is manifest that he—. § 177. Obs. 3.

- Obs. 5. The case after the infinitive of substantive or neuter verbs, or passive verbs of naming, must be the same with the case before it, if the words refer to the same thing; as, Nom. ἔφη (αὐτὺς) εἶναι στφατηγὸς, he said that he was a general; Gen. κατεγνωκότων ἤδη μηκέτι κοεισσόνων εἶναι, having learned that they are no longer superior; Dat. ἐφ' ἡ μῖν ἐστι τὸ ἐπιεικέσι εἶναι, it depends upon ourselves to be reasonable. See § 139. III. And this observation holds good whether the word before the infinitive be its proper subject, or (that being omitted, see num. 3.) the subject or the object of the preceding verb.
- Obs. 6. Whatever case is required before the infinitive by the preceding rules, it continues the same though preceded by &ς or &στε, or a preposition, because the preposition affects not the subject of the infinitive, but belongs to the infinitive itself or to the whole clause; thus, ο δ δ ε Ις τηλικοῦτος ἔστω πας ὁμῖν, ὅστε τοὺς νόμους πας αβάς μὴ δοῦναι δίκην, Let no one be so great among you that breaking the laws he can go unpunished; ἡμάςτανον διά τὸ μὴ σοφοί ε ἶν αι, they erred because they were not wise.

§ 176. IV. THE INFINITIVE ABSOLUTE.

RULE LIX. The infinitive is often put absolutely with the particles ως, ωστέ, πρίν, αχρι, ιέχρι, &c. before it; as, ώς ίδειν ἄνθοωπον, when the man saw. ποιν ἀποθάνειν τὸ παιδίον, before the child died. ώ; μιχοὸν μεγάλω εἰχάσαι, to compare small with great.

Obs. 1. 'Ω; with the infinitive is frequently used to limit a proposition in the sense of "as far as;" thus, ώς ἐμὲ εῦ μεμ-νῆσθαι, as far as I recollect distinctly; ὡς γὲ μοι δοιεῖν, as it seems to me. But ώς is frequently omitted; hence such expressions as, οὐ πολλῷ λογῷ εἰπεῖν; in few words; μικροῦ δεῖκ, little is wanting, almost; πολλοῦ δεῖν, much is wanting.

- Obs. 2. The infinitive is often used for the imperative mood, δρα, βλέπε, σχοπεῖ, &c. being understood; as, χαίρειν μετὰ χαιρόντων, κλαίειν μετὰ κλαιόντων, πεμοισενείτ them that do rejoice, and weer with them that weep. Sometimes, also, for the optative, δός, θέλω, or εξχομαι, being understood; as, & Zεῦ ἐχγένεσθαί μοι ᾿Αθηναίους τισάσθαι, O Jupiter, MAY IT BE GRANTED to me to punish the Athenians.
 - Obs. 3. The infinitive elvas is sometimes absolute and redundant, both with and without the article: viz.
 - 1st. After adjectives, adverbs, and prepositions; thus, ἐκὼν εἶναι for ἐκών, willing; as, ἐκὼν ἄν εἶναι τοῦτο ποιήσαιμι, I would willingly do this. So the phrases τὸ σύμπαν εἶναι, generally; σέ γ' εἶναι, with respect to you; τὸ μὲν τήμερον εἶναι, to-day at least; κατὰ τοῦτο εἶναι, with respect to this; τὸ νῦν εἶναι, now; τὸ ἐπ' ἐκείνους εἶναι, as far as depends on them.
 - 2d. After verbs of calling, choosing, making, &c.; as, σοφιστήν, ονομάζουσι γε τὸν ἄνδοα εἶναι, they call the man a philosopher; οι δὲ σύμμαχόν μιν είλοντο εἶναι, they chose him as an ally.

§ 177. OF THE PARTICIPLE. § 79.

RULE LX. Participles like adjectives agree with their substantives in gender, number, and case.

RULE LXI. Participles govern the case of their own verbs; as, of πολέμιοι το λογίον είδοτες, the enemies knowing the oracle.

τούτων έμοῦ δεομένου, I being in want of these things.

The Greek language having a participle in every tense of every voice, uses it much more extensively than the Latin. The principal purposes for which it is employed are the following:

- 1. A participle is joined with another verb agreeing with its subject in order,
 - 1st. Simply to connect an accompanying with the main action in the same subject. Thus used, the participle and verb are to be rendered as two verbs with a conjunction; as, παφέλθων τις δειξάτω, let any one come forward and shew.
 - 2d. To combine the accompanying with the main action as the cause, manner, or means of accomplishing it; in which use it is equivalent to the ablative gerund in Latin. Cause; as, τι ποιήσας κατεγνώθη θάνατον; for having done what (quid faciendo) was he condemned to die? Means; as, εὐεργετῶν αὐτοὺς ἐκιησάμην, I gained them by kindness, (benefaciendo); ληιζόμενοι ζῶσιν, they live by plunder (populando). Μαννές as, φεόγων ἐκφεύρε, he escapes by flight (fugiendo); τολμήσας εἰσῆλθε, he went in boldly (audendo). This construction is found also in Latin writers; thus, Hoc faciens vivam melius; Hor. by doing this I shall live better; as if, hoc faciendo, &c.

Note. The participle thus used agrees with the agent in any case; e. g. in the dative; as, α τοῖς ἀνθρώποις ἔδωκαν οἱ θεοὶ μαθούσι διακρίνει, το ich the gods have put it in the power of men to find out by STUDY; the accusative; as, α ἔξεστιν ἀριθμήσαντας ἡ μετρήσαντας ἡ στήσαντας εἰδειαι, which we may know by counting, by measuring, or by weighing.

- 3d. To limit a general expression by intimating the action in respect of which the assertion is made; as. ἀδικεῖτε πολέμου ἄρχοντες, ye do wrong in BEGINNING the war.
- Obs. 1. In this way it is used with verbs that signify any emotion of the mind to show the cause of the emotion; as, ηδομαι μεν σ' είσιδων, I am rejoiced at seeing you; ουδέποιε σοι μεταμελήσει εὐ ποιήσαντι, you will never repent OF HAVING DONE A KINDNESS.
- *2. It is used for the purpose of further describing a person or thing ment oned in a sentence, and may be rendered by the relative and the verb; or for connecting with a statement some relation of time, cause, or condition, expressed in English by such words as when, while after that;—because, since, as;—if, although, &c.;—the relation intended, and of course the proper rendering of the participle, will generally have to be ascertained from the nature of the sentence itself, or from the connexion in which it stands; thus, ἐπεσκεπτόμην τὸν ἑτατ. ρον νοσοῦντα, may signify according to the coutext; I visited my comrade who was sick; or when, or because, he was sick; δένδρα μὲν τμηθέντα ταχέως φύεται, trees, Though Lopped, (which have been lopped, after they have been lopped, when lopped) of their branches quickly grow again.

Obs. 2. When the article precedes the participle referring to a word already expressed or easy to be supplied, they may be rendered by the relative and the indicative; as, δ ερχόμενος, he that cometh, § 134. 8.

Note. The participle, with the article before it, is frequently equivalent to a noun designating the doer of the action expressed by the verb; as, of γραψάμενοι Σωκράτην, the accusers of Socrates. There is, however, this difference; the participle expresses the doer in a state of action, the substantive does not; thus, δ δούλος is a man in the condition of a slave; δ δούλος is one, at the time referred to, performing the part of a slave.

The Participle as the Infinitive.

- 3. The participle in Greek is often used as the infinitive, and has for its subject, according to the sense, either the subject or the object of the preceding verb, with which it always agrees in gender, number, and case. Hence the following varieties. The participle takes as its subject and agrees:—
 - 1st. With the subject of the preceding verb either in the nominative or accusative. Nom. as, οὐ παύσομαι γράφων, I will not cease to write; οἶδα θνητός δν, I know that I am a mortal. Acc. as, λέγουσι αὐτὸν μέμνησθαι ποιήσαντα, they say that he remembers having done it, or, that he did it.
 - 2d. With the immediate object of the preceding verb in the accusative; as, σαφῶς κατέμαθον φάρμακα αὐτὸν ὑμῖν ἐγχέαντα, I plainly perceived that he had infused poison for you.
 - 3d. With the remote object in the genitive or dative. Gen. as, ησθόμεν αὐτῶν οἰομένων εἶναι σοφωτάτων, I perceived that they fancied themselves to be very wise; Dat. μηδέποιε μετεμέλησε μοι σιγήσαντι, I never repented of having been silent, or, that I was silent.
 - 4th. When the verb is followed by a reflexive pronoun, the participle may agree either with the pronoun or the nominative to the verb; as, σύνοιδα δμαυτῷ ἀμαφτάνων οr ἀμαφτάνοντι, I am conscious that I am doing wrong:

tauror odders buoloyst nanovers or, or, nanoversor bria, nobody confesses that he himself is wicked.

Obs. 3. The verbs after which the participle is thus used, are 1st. Verbs of seuse; as, to see, hear, &c. 2. Verbs denoting any act or feeling of the mind; as, to know, perceive, discern, consider, observe, experience, shew, recollect. 3. Verbs signifying to overlook, to permit, to happen, to persevere, bear, endure, to be pleased or contented with, to cease, and to cause to cease.

Also with adjectives signifying clearness, as, δηλος εί συχοφάνιων, it is clear that you are a Sycophant. Sometimes διο with the indicative is used; as, ξυδηλος ων διο ήσπάζετο, by its being manifest that he loved. § 175. Obs. 4.

- Instead of the participle with the above mentioned verbs the infinitive is sometimes used; but in that case, the idea expressed is usually different; e. g., 1. αλσχύνομαι ποιήσας, I am ashamed to have done it; αισχύνομαι ποιήσαι, I am ashamed to do it, and therefore will not. 2. δ χειμών ήρξατο γενόμενος, the winter was come on, had actually commenced; & yeiuw hoxero γίγνεσθαι, the winter was beginning to come on, but had not yet arrived. 3. ήκουσα τον Δημοσθένη λέγοντα, I heard Demosthenes speak; ήκουσα τον Δημοσθένη λέγειν, I heard, (i. e. I am told.) that Demosthenes says. 4. Equalyero xlalw, he evidently wept: Egalvero xhaler, he seemed to weep. 5. With verbs to declare, to announce, the participle represents the thing announced as a fact, the infinitive, as matter of report, but not asserted as a fact. With many verbs, however, it is indifferent which construction is used; as, ξύμφορόν έστι ταῦτα πραχ. θηναι, or ταῦτα ξύμφορά ἐστι πραχθέντα, it is unfortunate that these things were done.
- Obs. 5. After verbs of motion the future participle is used to point out the design or object of the motion expressed by the verb, and is rendered by the English phrase "in order to;" as, σέγεδιδάξων ωραμαι, I have hastened forward in ORDER TO TEACH THEE.

In this construction ώς is often interposed before the participle; as παρεσχευάζοντο ώς πολεμήσοντες, they prepared to make war.

Sometimes the present participle is used in this way; as, πέμπει μὲ φέζοντα, he sent me to carry. The future participle after ἔξιχομαι is only a circumlocution for the future tenne; as, ἔξιχομαι φράσων, for φράσω, I will speak; ἔξιχομαι ἀποθανούμενος I shall die, or, I am about to die.

4. Joined with λανθάνω, φθάνω, τυγχάνω, διατελέω, &c. the participle is used to express the main action or state, and rendered in the indicative, while the verb with which it is joined, expressing a subordinate circumstance, is often rendered as an adverb; thus, ἔλαθεν ὑπεκφυγών, he escaped unperceived; τὸν φονέα λανθάνει βόσκων, he unconsciously feeds his murderer; ξφθην ἀφελών, I took it away just before; ἔτυχεν ἀπιών, he happened to be going away; ἔτυχον παφόντες, they were accidentally present; διατελεῖ παρών, he is continually present.

Note. The participle ων is wanting with adjectives and sometimes without them; as, τυγχάνει καλή (sc. οὐσα,) she happens to be beautiful. With a negative, φθάνω may be rendered scarcely, no sooner; as, ούκ ξφθησαν πυθίμενοι, they no sooner heard. Sometimes it is followed by the infinitive instead of the participle; as, πυνηρός ἄν φθάσειε τελευτήσαι πρίν, κ. τ. λ., a wrelched man would sooner die than, &c.

- Obs. 6. In the same sense these verbs stand sometimes in the participle with other finite verbs; as, ἀπὸ τείχεος ἄλτο λαθών, he sprung unobserved from the wall; ἣνπες τυγχάνων δπεσχόμην, which I happened to promise.
- 5. A participle with the verbs εἰμι, γίνομαι, ὑπάρχω, ἔχω, and ἢχω, is often used as a circumlocution for the verb to which it belongs, and these verbs take the place of auxiliaries; thus, προβεθηχότες ἦσαν for προεθεθήχεισαν, they had gone forward; γήμας ἔχεις for ἔγημας, γου have married; θαυμάσας ἔχω for τεθαύμαχα, I have admired, &c.
- Obs. 7. Instead of a simple verb signifying "to go away," the verb οἶχομαι is frequently joined with a participle; the former to express the idea of departure, the latter to connect with it the idea of the manner, both of which may generally be rendered by a simple verb; thus, ἄχετ ἀποπτάμενος, he departed FLYING, i. e. he flew away; ἄχετο φεύγων, he departed fleeing, he escaped; ἄχοντο ἀποθέοντες, they ran away; οἴχεται θανών, he died. Homer uses βαίνω in the same manner.
- 6. The participle in definitions of time is often joined with the adverbs αὐτίκα, εὐθύς μεταξύ, ἄμα, the last with the dative; as, ὡς αὐτίκα γενόμενος, as soon as he was born; μεταξύ ὀρύσσων, during the digging; ἄμα τῷ ἦρι εὐθύς ἀρχομένω, on the first commencement of spring.
- 7. The participles of some verbs when joined with other verbs appeared to be used in an adverbial sense, or at least to denote a circumstance which in our language is better expressed by an adverb; as, àppharos simon, I said in the beginning;

άφξάμενος ἀπό, especially; τελευτῶν, lastly; διαλιπῶν χοόνον, after some time. Φέρων and ἄγων with verbs to give, to place, and the like, are redundant; as, φέρων δῶκε, he gave;—with verbs of motion φέρων expresses zeal, quickness, &c. with their cases they are equivalent to the Latin cum, with. A participle joined to its own verb, or to one of similar signification, appears to be redundant; as, ἴασιν ἴοντες, they went; ἔφη λέγων, he said; λέγει φάς, he says.

For the dative of the participle with a personal pronoun after the verb ¿στι, see § 148. Obs. 3.

§ 178. THE CASE ABSOLUTE.

Rule LXII. A substantive with a participle whose case depends on no other word, is put in the genitive absolute; as,

 Θ eoũ điđóptos, oddàr laxúsi φ bóros, when god gives, envy avails nothing.

Rem. The genitive is said to be absolute in this construction, because it is neither governed by, nor is dependent on, any word expressed or understood, in the sentence with which it is connected, and might be separated from it without affecting its construction. Yet, strictly speaking, it is not really absolute in such a sense as to be without government, or that there is no more reason for its being in the genitive than in any other case; for the absolute clause will generally be found to express a circumstance of time, and so may come under § 160. Obs. 2; as,

Κύρου δασιλεύοντος, in the reign of Cyrus, (sc. in.) Θεάγνης σώζεται Θεών θελόντων, Theagnes is safe from the Gods wil-

- Obs. 1. The participles of slµl, γίνομαι, and some others, are frequently omitted; as, έμοῦ μόνης, sc. οδσης, I being clone.
- Obs. 2. The infinitive mood or part of a sentence is used absolutely with the participle as if it were a noun; as, πῦς πνεῖν τοὺς ταύρους, μυθολογηθέντος, that bulls breathe fire, being circulated as a story.
- Obs. 3. The DATIVE ABSOLUTE is used to express the fixed time, (see § 160. Obs. 1.); as, περιόντι δὲ τῷ ἐνιαυτῷ, after the year had elapsed; and also when the subject of the participle

th us at the ist

 \mathbf{m} u: c: n :: te

> р о л

> > t s I may be considered as that in reference to which the action of the verb takes place.

- Obs. 4. The nominative and accusative are sometimes used absolutely. These instances, however, probably arise from an omission of some words, which, being supplied, complete the construction; as, ἀνοιξαντες τοῦ σώματος πόφους, πάλιν γινεται τὸ πῦς, when they have opened the pores of the body, there is again fire; i. e. ὡς ἀνοιξαντες ὡσι, &c.; ταῦτα γενόμενα, these things being done; i. e. μετὰ ταῦτα, &c.
- Obs. 5. The participles of impersonal verbs, and other verbs used impersonally, are put absolutely in the nominative or accusative neuter; as, ξξον, it being permitted; δίον, it being necessary; δοκοῦν, since it seems proper; thus, διὰ τι μένεις, ξξὸν ἀπιέναι, why dost thou remain, IT BEING IN THY POWER to depart?
- Obs. 6. The construction with the participle is very often preceded by the particles ωσιε, ἄιε, οία, δή, οίον, when a reason of something done by another is expressed; as, ἐσιώπα ως πάνιας εἰδόιας, οr πάνιων εἰδόιων, he held his peace BECAUSE ALL KNEW.

§ 179. CONSTRUCTION OF CONJUNCTIONS.

Conjunctions serve to connect words and sentences together; this connexion is of two kinds:

I. Of the parts of a sentence which are complete of themselves and independent of each other. These are connected by conjunctions, simply connective or disjunctive, § 125.1.2; and the parts thus connected have a similar construction; hence

RULE LXIII. Conjunctions couple the same moods and tenses of verbs, and cases of nouns and pronouns; as, ηλθον και είδον, . they came and saw. τίμα τὸν πατέρα και τὴν μητέρα, honour thy father and thy mother.

- Obs. 1. To this rule there are many exceptions as it respects the tenses of verbs; see an example § 76. Obs. 3.
 - II. But the parts of a compound sentence are often variously related, and have a certain dependence upon each other, the nature of which is indicated by the conjunction employed and the mood of the vero with which it is joined. The general principles of this connexion are expressed in the following rules:

RULE LXIV. Conjunctions which do not imply doubt or contingency, are for the most part joined with the indicative mood (§ 170.); as, ois às speilezes et mi luis- he would not here foretold it τευσεν ὰληθεέσεις, UNLESS HE HAD BELIEVED it would prove true.

RULE LXV. Conjunctions which imply doubt or contingency, or which do not regard a thing as actually existing, are for the most part joined with the subjunctive and optative moods (§ 172.); as, et ris algeote pos dala, if any one should give me the choice.

Obs. 2. As the meaning of a conjunction varies in different connexions, the same conjunction is often found with different moods. On this subject no very definite or satisfactory rules can be given.

For further remarks on conjunctive and adverbial particles see § 125.

PART IV.

PROSODY.

Prosody, in its common acceptation, treats of the quantity of syllables in the construction of verses. In the ancient grammarians προσφδια applies to accents.

§ 180. QUANTITY OF VOWELS.

- 1. The vowels ε, o, are naturally short; as, λεγόμεν.
- 2. η. ω, are naturally long; as, Αητω.
- 3. α, ι, ν, are doubtful; as, αμῦνω.
- 4. Diphthongs and contracted syllables are long; as, exe, optes, contr. dors.

§ 181. POSITION.

SPECIAL RULES.

Rule 1. A short or doubtful vowel, before two consonants or a double letter, is almost always long; as, πολλάς, προτάψεν, ωτέ Ζευς.

This rule holds good in Epic poetry, except in proper names and in worus which could not be used in any other situation in the verse. In dramatic writers observe the following exceptions:

Exc. A short or doubtful vowel before a mute and a liquid is common; as, Πατρόπλος, or Πατρόπλος.

- Obs. 1. A short vowel before a mute and liquid is generally short. But before a middle mute (θ, γ, δ) followed by ρ in tragedy, is mostly long; and followed by λ, μ, ν , is almost always long, both in tragedy and comedy.
- Obs. 2. A short vowel before two liquids is always long, and sometimes before a single liquid, which in this case should be pronounced as if double; thus, $\epsilon \lambda a \delta \epsilon$, pronounced $\epsilon \lambda \lambda a \delta \epsilon$.
- Note 1. A short vowel in the end of a word before ρ in the beginning of the word following, is long in the dramatic poets; $i\mu\bar{\iota}$ $\dot{\rho}\dot{\epsilon}_{\pi\sigma\nu}$.
- Note 2. We sometimes find a short syllable before two consonants (both mutes), but this is rare and should not be imitated.

^{*} In the Proceedy the accents are omitted, as they often interfere with the mark for the quantity.

§ 182. II. ONE VOWEL BEFORE ANOTHER.

Rule II. A vowel before another vowel is short, unless lengthened by poetic license; as, πολύζικος.

EXCEPTIONS.

- a is long in the penult of nouns in -āων, -aυνος; as, Μαχάων, Μαχανος.
 And sometimes when the genitive ends in -ωνος; as, Ποστιόλων, Ποστιόλωνος.
 - in feminine proper names in -ars; thus, Gars.
- is long in the penult of nouns in -ιων, -ιονος, and sometimes -ιωνος; as, Ωριων, Ωριονος or Ωριωνος; except χίων.
 - ----- in the penult of verbs in -ιω; as, τιω: but the Attic tragic writers have -τω.
- 3. i is common in the penult of nouns in -ia and -in; as, ralta and ralta.
- 4. v is common in the penult of verbs in -νω; as, ίσχδω or ισχδω.

Rule III. Long vowels and diphthongs are mostly short at the end of words when the next word begins with a vowel; as,

'Αξὥ ἔ |λῶν ὄ δέ | κεν κέχὄ |λῶσέταἴ | ον κέν ἴκ |ωματ.

- Obs. 1. A vowel in the end of a word, before a word beginning with a vowel, does not suffer elision, as in Latin, unless an apostrophe is substituted, \S 5. 4.
- Obs. 2. Two vowels, forming two syllables, frequently in poetry coalesce into one; as, $\chi_{\rho\nu\sigma\ell\omega}$, Il. 4. 15, where $\ell\omega$ form a short syllable. This frequently takes place though the vowels be in different words; as, $\bar{\eta}$ obs. $\bar{\alpha}\lambda li$, Il. 4. 349. § 139. 2.

§ 163. III. THE DOUBTFUL VOWELS IN FIRST AND MIDDLE SYLLABLES.

Rule IV. A doubtful vowel before a simple consonant is short; as \(\varphi \ni \colon \).

EXCEPTIONS.

- - in derivatives from verbs in -aω pure and -ραω; thus, divides from dividu; iδοιμος from iδομαι; καταράτος from καταρδομαι; θεδτης and θεδμα from θεδομαι; περδοιμος from περδω; προσις from 'πιπρόσκω for') πρόω.

2. s is long in the penult of nouns in -srn, -srns, -srss; thus, dirn, Ap ροδίτη, πολίτης, πολίτις.
in the penult of verbs in -ιδω, -ινω; thus, τρζδω, πζνω; so al
BO RIVÉW, ČIVEW, ČC.
3. v is long in verbals in -υμα, -υμος, -υτηρ, -υτος, -υτωρ; as, λύμα, χύμος ρ δτωρ.
in pronouns; as, 'θμεις.
κυρω, βρυχω, φυμι, ζευγνυμι.
——— in adverbs in -voov; as, forptoov.
§ 184. IV. THE DOUBTFUL VOWELS IN FINAL SYLLABLES.
Rule V. α, ι, υ, in the end of a word are short; as, μουσά, meht, yhund.
EXCEPTIONS.
EXCEL HOUSE
1. A in the end of a word is long, viz.
— In nouns in -εα, -δα, -θα; as, θεᾶ, Ληδᾶ, Μαρθᾶ; exc. dκανθᾶ.
— In the dual number; as, προφητά, μουσά.
— In polysyllables in -αια; as, Σεληναιᾶ:
in -εια, derived from verbs in εδω; as, δουλεια, δασιλεια, from δουλευω, δασιλευω. But δασιλεια, a queen, has the final a short.
— In -ιa; as, καλιά, except verbals in -τρια; as, ψαλτριά; and διά, μιά, rotvid.
- In the vocative of nouns in -as of the 1st declension; as, Aireia from Aireias.
— In feminines from adjectives in -os; as δμοιά, ήμετερά.
— In nouns in -ρα not preceded by a diphthong; as, ήμερα, χηρά. Except αγκυρά, γεφυρά, Κερκυρά, ολυρά, σκολοπενόρά, σφυρά, ταναγρά, and compounds of μετρω; as, γεωμετρά.
- In poetic vocatives; as, Παλλά for Παλλάς.
2. , final is long in the names of letters; as, #7.
3. v finel is long in the names of letters; as, us, vs.
in usrals and you.

Rule VI. A doubtful vowel in the final syllable, followed by a simple consonant, is short; as, μελάν, λαμπάς.

EXCEPTIONS.

1. -av is long in masculines; as, Tirav; and was when not in composition.

Ė

ť?

ť

	from 'Auxide.
	in adverbs; as, dyav.
	in κāρ and ψāρ is long; in γαρ it is either long or short.
_	s is long in nouns of the first declension; as, Αινείδε, μουσόδε. ————————————————————————————————————
40	is long in nouns in -ιν which have -ινος in the genitive; as, ἡηγμῖν, ἡηγμινος.
_	—— in nouns which have two terminations in the nominative; as, αετῖν οι αετῖς. —— also in ἡμῖν, ὑμῖν.
	is long in monosyllables; as, λτ _s ; but the indefinite τis is common. in nouns which have two terminations in the nominative; as, αετΤε, αετΤν.
	in feminine dissyllables in -ις, -ιδος, or -ιδος; as, κναμτς, κυτ μιδος; όρντς, όρντθος; except ασπτς, έρτς, χαρτς, and a few others. in polysyllables preceded by two short syllables; as, πλεκτ- μτς.
6vi	is long in nouns which have -υνος in the genitive; as, μοσούν, μοσούνος. ———————————————————————————————————
_	in accusatives from -υς in the nominative; as, δφρδυ from όφου. in the ultimate of verbs in -υμι; as, δφδυ from φυμι. in νδυ, now; but in νδυ, enclitic, it is short.
	-υρ in the end of a word is always long; as, μαρτέρ.
7v	s is long in monosyllables; as, μθς. ————————————————————————————————————
	8.8, φορκθς, φορκυν.
	in nominatives which have -veros or -os pure in the genitive; as, δεικνύς, δεικνύντος; οφρθε, φόρυος.
	in κωμθς, κωμυθος ; and in the last syllable of verbs in -υμι; as, ἐφθς.

§ 185. V. DOUBTFUL VOWELS IN THE INCRE MENT OF NOUNS.

EXCEPTIONS.

1. - sp in the nominative shortens the crement; an, papers, papers,

2. A vowel, long by position, in the nominative shortens the crement in the oblique cases; as, ατλαξ, ατλάκος. But nouns in -αξ after a vowel have the crement long; as, νεαξ, νεάκος.

Likewise θωραξ, έεραξ, κνωδαξ, κορδαξ, λαβραξ, οιαξ, ραξ, συρφαξ, φεναξ, with many words in -ιψ, -ιπος, and -ιξ, -ιχος or -ικος; to which add γρυψ, γυψ, and generally Βεβρυξ, δοιδυξ, δρυξ, σανδυξ.

3. -os pure in the genitive, from a long syllable in the nominative, varies the crement; as, dovs, dovos, or dovos.

4. The dative plural, after a syncope, has the penult short; as, πατράσι, ανδράσι.

§ 186. VI. DOUBTFUL VOWELS IN THE INFLEC-TION OF VERBS.

The doubtful vowels, a, i, v, are short in verbs, unless it be otherwise spe cified in the Rules.

Rule VIII. α and ν before -σα in participles, and always before -σι in verbs, are long; as, τυψασα, δεικνύσα, τετυφασι, δεικνύσι. (§ 6. 18.)

FUTURE.

RULE IX. The first future in $-\alpha\sigma\omega$, $-\iota\sigma\omega$, $-\upsilon\sigma\omega$, from $-\alpha\omega$ after a vowel, or from $-\varrho\alpha\omega$, $-\iota\omega$, $-\iota\theta\omega$, $-\upsilon\omega$, lengthen the penult; as.

λαω, εᾶσω; δραω, δρᾶσω; τιω, τῖσω; βριθω, βρῖσω; λσχυω, λσχῦσω.

But the first future in $-\alpha\sigma\omega$, $-\iota\sigma\omega$, $-\upsilon\sigma\omega$, from $-\alpha\zeta\omega$, $-\iota\zeta\omega$, $-\iota\zeta\omega$, shorten the penult; as, άρπαζω, άρπασω; όπλιζω, όπλισω; κλυζω, κλύσω.

Rule X. Liquid verbs shorten the penult in the first future; as, κοτνω, κοτνώ.

Rule XI. The second future shortens the penult; as, τεμ-νω, τάμω; φαινω, φάνω.

THE OTHER TENSES.

Rule XII. The doubtful vowels have the same quantity in the tenses as in their roots; thus,

- 1 Root. κρίν-κρίνω, έκρίνου, κρίνομαι, έκρίνομην.
- Root. κρίν,—κρίνω, κεκρίκα, έκεκρίκειν, κρίνουμαι, κρίθησομαι, έκρίθην, κεκρίμαι, έκεκρίμην.
- 2 Root. τοπ,--τοπω, έτοπου, τοπουμαι, έτοπομην, τόπησομαι, έτοπην.
- 3 Root. ron,-rerona, èreroneus.

- Rec. 1. Liquid verbs in the first future active and middle, as in R. X.
- Exc. 2. The initial ι and v in the augmented tenses and moods are long; as, $I_{KO\mu\alpha\iota}$, $I_{KO\mu\alpha\iota}$.

The quantity of a doubtful vowel in the root is ascertained as follows:

- I. Verbs in $-\alpha\omega$ pure, or in $-\rho\alpha\omega$ $-\iota\omega$, $-\iota\theta\omega$, and $-\upsilon\omega$, have the final vowel of the first root long, unless followed by a vowel; if followed by a vowel, it comes under R. II. All others are usually short.
- II. The final syllable of the second root is always short, unless made long by position.
- III. The first root of liquid verbs is shortened in the 1st future, § 97. 1.

SPECIAL RULES FOR VERBS IN M.

Rule XIII. The proper reduplication is short, unless made long by position; as, $\tau t \theta \eta \mu \iota$. The improper reduplication is common; as, $\tau \eta \mu \iota$ or $\tau \eta \mu \iota$.

Rule XIV. α , not before $-\sigma\alpha$ or $-\sigma\iota$, is every where short; as, $\iota\sigma\iota\check{\alpha}\mu\varepsilon\iota$, $\iota\sigma\iota\check{\alpha}\iota\varepsilon$.

Rule XV. ν is long in polysyllables, only in the singular of the indicative active; every where else it is short; as, δεικ. νόμι, δεικνότω, δεικνόμαι, &c.

In dissyllables it is every where long; as, 38 µ1, 58 rov, 38 µa1, &c.

§ 187. VII. DERIVATION AND COMPOSITION.

RULE XVI. Derivatives follow the quantity of their primitives; and compounds that of the simple words of which they are composed; as, τίμη—ατίμος, ομοτίμοι, Τίμανωρ, &c.

τοι — Γοιγενεια, Γοικλης, Γόιτος, &c.

λαος — Λαρμεδον, Μενελαος, &c.

λτοι, λτοω — Λτοανόρος, λτοικακος, &c.

οιαξ, οιακος — οιακοστροφυς, οιακονομος, &c.

ττρ — πτραυστης, πτρφορος, &c.

'ρτς οι βίν — βίνηλατεω, πολλυρίνος, &c.

Rule XVII. α privative before two short syllables is frequently long; as, $\bar{\alpha} \star \bar{\alpha} \mu \bar{\alpha} \tau \sigma \varsigma$.

Also σον in composition is sometimes long; as, σενιημι.

§ 188. VIII. DIALECTS.

ATTIC.

RULE XVIII. The Attics lengthen α in the accusative of nouns in .eus; as, βασιλευς, acc. βασιλεα, contrary to Rule V.

Also, i instead of a, e, o; as, ravet for ravea; bot for bos.

The Paragogic in pronouns (the dative plural excepted) and in adverbs, is long; as, ourcos, vuvs, Dat. pl. rouroiss.

IONIC.

- The Comparative in -ιον shortens the neuter; the Attics lengthen it;
 καλλίον, Ι. καλλίον, Α.
 - 2. In adjectives of time ι is long; as, δπωρίνος.
 - 3. In verbs the Ionic a, or not following it, is short; as, larar for hurar.

DORIC AND ÆOLIC.

1. The Doric a is long; the Æolic is short; as, Aireta, D. for Airetov; imports, Æ. for innorms, &c.

§ 189. IX. POETIC LICENSE.

- 1. The last syllable of a verse is common, except in Iambic, Trochaic, Anapæstic, and Greater Ionic.
 - 2. The Σύζευξις unites two syllables into one; as,

Xρυσεω ανα σκηπτρω και ελισσετο παντας Aχαιους,

Η λαθετ η ουκ ενοησεν ασσατο δε μεγα θυμω,

Η με κελεαι σχεδιη περααν μεγα λαιτμα θαλασσης.

3. The Arsis makes a short syllable in the end of a word long; as,

Αιδοίος τε μοι εσσι φιλε έκυρε δείνος τε, | | | | | Ιππους δ' Αυτομεδοντα θοως ζευγνθμεν ανωγε.

Note 1. The Arsis means the elevation of the voice, which, in Hexameter verse, is always on the first syllable of a foot.

Note 2. A short syllable is sometimes, and but very rarely, lengthened at the end of a foo; thus,

To o see her Copye Shoodpunts sorehaunte.

Besides these deviations from the usual rules of quantity, the Poets,

- I. Lengthened a syllable, 1. By doubling or inserting a consonant; as, εδόεισε for εδεισε; επτολις for ἄπολις. 2. By changing a vowel into a diphthong; as, δενομαι for δεομαι. 3. By Metathesis; as, επραθον for επαρθον.
- I. Shortened a syllable, By rejecting one vowel of a diphthong; as, έλον for είλον.
- III. Increased the number of syllables, 1. By resolving a diphthong; an autro, for autro. 2. By inserting or adding a letter or syllable; as, aaσχετος for aσχετος; helios for hlios; διηφι for διη.
- Lessened the number of syllables, 1. By aphæresis, as, νερθε for ενερθε.
 By syncope; as, εγρετο for εγειρετο.
 By apocope and apostrophe; as, δω for δωρα; μυρι' for μυρια.

Other varieties will be learned by practice. Many conjectures have been made with regard to the ancient orthography, and the principles of versification as depending upon it. But the best of them deserve the credit of ingenuity alone; for, as they rest on no unquestionable authority, they are of little or no use.

§ 190. OF FEET.

A foot in metre is composed of two or more syllables strictly regulated by time; and is either simple or compound. Of the simple feet, four are of two, and eight of three syllables. There are sixteen compound feet, each of four syllables. These varieties are as follows:

Simple feet of two Syllables.

Pyrrichius	~ ~	θεός.
Spondeus		τ ύπτω .
Iambus	○ −	λέγω.
Trochæus		σ ωμ α.

Simple feet of three syllables.

Tribrachys	ب	$\overline{}$	_	πόλεμος.
Molossus	_	_	_	εύχωλή.
Dactylus		_	$\overline{}$	μάρτυρος.
Anapæstus	$\overline{}$	$\overline{}$	_	Careheus.
Bachius	ت	_	_	ingths.
Antibachius	_		J	δείκνυμι.
Amphibrachys	$\overline{}$	_	 	τίθημι.
Amphimacer			_	deventre.

Compound feet of four syllables.

Choriambus	εωφροσύνη	a trochee and an iambus.
Antispastus	— · Δμάρτημα	an iambus and a trochee.
Ionic a majore	— — — собийтора	a spondee and a pyrrich.
a minore		a pyrrich and a spondee.
First Pæon	— 🔾 🔾 🔾 ἀστρολόγος	a trochee and a pyrrich.
Second	dváftos	an iambus and a pyrrich.
Third —	dváδημα	a pyrrich and a trochee.
Fourth	— θεογένης	an iambus.
First Epitrite	— — Δμαρτωλή	an iambus and a spondee.
Second ——	duspoquents	a trochee and a spondee.
Third —	— — — εὐρυσθενής	a spondee and an iambus.
Fourth	— — — \ λωβητῆρα	and a trochee.
Proceleusmaticu	9 π ολέμιος	two pyrrichs.
Dispondeus	συνδουλεύσω	two-spondees.
Diiambus	→	two iambi.
Ditrochæus	— — — Ο δυστύχημα	two trochees.

§ 191. OF METRE.

Metre, in its general sense, means an arrangement of syllables and feet in verse, according to certain rules; and in this sense applies, not only to an entire verse, but to part of a verse, or to any number of verses. A metre, in a specific sense, means a combination of two feet (sometimes called a syzygy) and sometimes one foot only.

Note. The distinction between rhythm and metre is this:—the former refers to the time only, in regard to which, two short syllables are equivalent to one long; the latter refers both to the time and the order of the syllables. The rhythm of an anapæst and dactyl is the same; the metre different. The term rhythm, however, is also understood in a more comprehensive sense, and is applied to the harmonious construction and enunciation of feet and words in connexion; thus, a line has rhythm when it contains any number of metres of equal time, without regard to their order. Metre requires a certain number of metres, and these arranged in a certain order. Thus, in this line,

Panditur interea domus omnipotentis Olympi, there is both rhythm (as it contains six metres of equal value in respect of time) and metre, as these metres are arranged according to the canon for Hexameter heroic verse, which requires a dactyl in the 5th, and a spondee in the 6th place. Change the order thus,

Omnipotentis Olympi panditur interea domus, and the rhythm remains as perfect as before, but the metre is destroyed; is no longer a Hexameter heroic line.

§ 192. OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF METRE.

1. Metre, in the general sense, is divided into nine species:

Iambic.
 Dactylic.
 Ionic a majore.
 Choriambic.
 Ionic a minore.

3. Anapæstic. 6. Antispastic. 9. Pæonic or Cretic.

These names are derived from the feet which prevail in them. Each species was originally composed of those feet only from which it is named; but others, equal in time, were afterwards admitted under certain restrictions.

It often happens that two species, totally dissimilar, are united in the same verse, which is then termed Asynartetes. When the irregularity is great, and it cannot be reduced to any regular form, it is called Polyschematistic or anomalous.

Note. The invention or frequent use of any species of metre by a particular poet, or its being used in some particular civil or religious ceremony, or appropriated to some particular subject or sentiment, has been the occasion of certain kinds of verse receiving other names than those specified above. Thus, we have the Asclepiadean, Glyconian, Alcaic, Sapphic, and öthers; named from the poets, Asclepiades, Glycon, Alcaus, Sappho, Phalaeus, Sotades, Archilochus, Alcman, Phenecrates, Anacreon, Aristophanes, &c. So also the Prosodiacus (from $\pi \rho \phi \sigma o b o s$), so called from being used in the approach to the altars on solemn festivals; and the Paræmiacus, a kind of verse much used in the writing of proverbs, ($\pi a \rho o \nu \mu t a s$).

In the iambic, trochaic, and anapæstic verse, a metre consists of two feet; in the others, of one only.

2. A verse or metre is farther characterized by the number of metres (in the specific meaning of the term) which it contains, as follows:

A verse containing one Metre is called Monometer.

two Metres

three Metres four Metres five Metres six Metres

Trimeter.
Tetrameter.
Pentameter.
Hexameter.
Seven Metres

Hestameter.

- 3. A verse may be complete, having precisely the number of metres which the canon requires; or it may be deficient in the last metre; or it may be redundant. To express this, a verse is farther characterized as follows: viz.
 - 1. ACATALECTIC, when complete.
 - 2. CATALECTIC, if wanting one syllable.

BRACHYCATALECTIC, if wanting two syllables or one whole foot.

3. HYPERCATALECTIC, when there is one or two syllables at the end more than the verse requires: thus, χη λεών δράκοντας ως. Æsch. Lept. Theb.

to the species, the second to the number of metres, and the third to the apothesis or ending.

Note. The two last terms, viz. that designating the number of metres and that which refers to the ending, are sometimes reduced to one; thus, when a verse of a given species consists of two feet and a half, it is called Penthemimer; of three and a half, it hephthemimer, (five half feet, seven half feet); and when it consists of one metre and a half, it is called Hemiholius.

The respective situation of each foot in a verse is called its place (sedes).

The rules or canons of the different kinds of metre are briefly as follows.

§ 193. I. IAMBIC METRE. Scheme, § 204. I.

An iambic verse admits in the first, third, and fifth place, an iambus or a spondee,

In the second, fourth, and sixth, an iambus only.

Variation 1. The iambus in the odd places may be resolved into a tribrach; the spondee into a dactyl or an anapæst.

Variation 2. The iambus in the even places (except the last) may be resolved into a tribrach. An anapæst is substituted for it in the case of a proper name only.

Observe, however, 1st. that a dactyl should be avoided in the fifth place; and, 2d. that resolved feet should not concur.

Of this verse there are all varieties of length, monometers, dimeters, trimeters (called also senarian, each line having six feet), and tetrameters.

§ 194. II. TROCHAIC METRE. Scheme, § 204. II.

A trochaic verse admits in the odd places a trochee only; in the even places, a trochee or a spondee.

The trochee may in any place be resolved into a tribrach, and the spondee into a dactul or anapast.

A dactyl in the odd places occurs only in the case of a proper name.

Trochaic verses are mostly catalectic. A system of them generally consists of catalectic tetrameters; sometimes of dimeters, catalectic and acatalectic intermixed.

In tetrameters the second metre should always end a word.

§ 195. III. ANAPÆSTIC METRE. Scheme, § 204. III.

An anapæstic verse, without any restriction of places, admits either an anapæst, spondee, or ductyl.

24*

Exc. 1. The dimeter catalectic, called paramiacus, requires an anapast in the last place but one; and is incorrect when a spendee is found there.

Exc. 2. In some instances the proper foot is resolved into the procelessmatic.

Anapastic verses are sometimes intermixed with other species, but are oftener in a delached system by themselves.

A system is chiefly composed of dimeters under the following circumstances:

- 1. When each foot, or at least each metre, (syzygy), ends a word.
- 2. When the last verse but one of the system is monometer acatalectic, and the last dimeter catalectic, with an anapæst in the second metre.

In a system this peculiar property is to be observed, that the last syllable of each verse is not common (as in other species), but has its quantity subject to the same restrictions as if the foot to which it belongs occurred in any other place of the verse.

A series, therefore, of anapæstic verses, consisting of one or more sentences, is to be constructed as if each sentence was only a single verse.

Note. The monometer acatalectic is called an anapastic base. This is sometimes dispensed with in a system; in the paramiacus, rarely.

To this metre belong the Aristophanic, being catalectic tetrameters; and the proceleusmatic, consisting of feet isochronal to an anapæst, and, for the most part, ending with it.

§ 196. IV. DACTYLIC METRE. Scheme, § 204. IV.

A DACTYLIC verse is composed solely of dactyls and spondees. In this species one foot constitutes a metre.

The common heroic is hexameter acatalectic, having a dactyl in the fifth place and a spondee in the sixth.

Sometimes in a solemn, majestic, or mournful description, a sponder takes the place of the dactyl in the fifth foot; from which circumstance such lines are called spondaic.

THE ELEGIAC PENTAMETER consists of five feet. The first and second may be either a dactyl or a spondee at pleasure; the third must always be a spondee; the fourth and fifth anapæsts.

Though a heroic verse is confined to a smaller number of admissible feet than an iambic verse, several licenses are allowed which are not used in the latter.

The most considerable of these are:

1. The lengthening of a short final syllable in certain cases, viz. at the casural pause, and where its emphasis is increased by its beginning a foot.

2. The hiatus, or the concurrence of two vowels, in contiguous words.

That irregular sort of dactylics which Hephæstion calls Æolics, admits, in the first metre, any foot of two syllables; the rest must be all dactyls, except where the verse is catalectic, and then the catalectic part must be part of a dactyl.

A second sort of dactylics, called by the same author Logaædics, require a trochaic syzygy at the end, all the other feet being dactyls.

§ 197. V. CHORIAMBIC METRE. Scheme, § 204. V.

The construction of an ordinary choriambic verse is very simple. Each metre, except the last, is a choriambus, and the last may be an iambic syzygy, entire or catalectic.

The iambic syzygy (two iambic feet) is sometimes found at the beginning and, in long verses, in other places; but this happens less frequently.

If any other foot of four syllables is joined with a choriambus, the verse is then more properly called epichoriambic. Of this there is a very great variety, and they sometimes end with an amohibrach, sometimes with a bachius.

§ 198. VI. ANTISPASTIC METRE. Scheme, § 204. VI.

An antispastic verse, in its most usual and correct form, is constructed as follows:

In the first place, beside the proper foot, is admitted any foot of four syllables ending like an antispastus in the two last syllables; i. e. either

In the intermediate places only an antispastus.

In the last, an iambic syzygy, complete or catalectic, or an incomplete antispastus.

There is scarce any limit to the varieties in this species.

The following are the most usual:

- 1. In short verses, the proper foot frequently vanishes, and the verse consists of one of the above-mentioned feet and an iambic syzygy.
- 2. All the epitrites, except the second, are occasionally substituted in the several places in the verse, particularly the fourth epitrite in the second.
- 3. If an antispastus begins the verse, and three syllables remain, what ever those syllables are, the verse is antispastic; because they may be executed they may be executed they may be executed they may be executed the syllables are.

sidered as a portion of some of the admissible feet, or of some of them resolved.

4. In long verses, an iambic syzygy sometimes occurs in the second place, and then the third place admits the same varieties as the first.

An antispastus, with an additional syllable, is called Dochmiac.

An antispastus, followed by an iambic syzygy, is called Glyconian.

Two antispasti, with an iambic syzygy, is called Asclepiadean.

Antispastic dim. catalectic, is called Pherecratian.

§ 199. VII. IONIC METRE A MAJORE. SCHEME, § 204. VII.

An Ionic verse admits a trochaic syzygy promiscuously with its proper feet. The verse never ends with the proper foot complete, but either with the trochaic syzygy or the proper foot incomplete. The varieties of this metre are numerous, among which observe the following:

- Var. 1. The second paeon is sometimes found in the first place. And
- Var. 2. A molossus (— —) in an even intermediate place with a tro-chaic syzygy following.
- Var. 3. The second paon is occasionally joined to a second or third epitrite, so that the two feet together are equal in time to two Ionic feet. This is called an Ανακλασις; the defect in time of the preceding foot being, in this case, supplied by the redundant time of the subsequent; and the verse so disposed is called Ανακλάμενος.
- Var. 4. Resolutions of the long syllable into two short ones are allowed in all possible varieties.

If the three remaining proons, or the second preon in any place but the first, without an Aranhaous:—Or,

If an iambic syzygy or third epitrite—a choriambus, or any of the discordant feet of four syllables, be found in the same verse with an Ionic foot, the verse is then termed Epi-ionic.

§ 200. VIII. IONIC METRE A MINORE. SCHEME, § 204. VIII.

An Ionic verse a minore is often entirely composed of its own proper fect. It admits, however, an iambic syzygy promiscuously, and begins sometimes with the third pæon followed by one of the epitrites for an Aranhamis.

A molessus sometimes occurs in the beginning of the verse, and also in the odd places with an iambic syzygy preceding. In the intermediate places a second or third peon is prefixed to a second epitrite; and this construction is called Arandaes; as before.

Resolutions of the long syllables are allowed in this, as in the other Ionic metre.

An Epionic verse a minore is constituted by intermixing with the Ionic foot a double trochee, second epitrite, or peon without an Apakhanis.

PROSODIAC VERSE.

When a choriambus precedes or follows an Ionic foot of either kind, the name Epionic is suppressed, and the verse called Prosodiacus. And, in general,

This name is applied to a verse consisting of an alternate mixture of choriambic and Ionic feet, or of their respective representatives.

N.B. The two species of Ionic are not to be intermixed in the same verse.

& 201. IX. PÆONIC METRE. SCHEME, & 204. IX.

A presence requires all the admissible feet to have the same rhythm with its proper foot; i. e. to consist of five times, or be equal to five short syllables.

The first and fourth poon are mostly used, but not in the same verse.

The construction of this verse is most perfect when each metre ends with the several words of the verse as was before remarked of the anapastic metre.

To this head may be referred those verses which are called by some authors Bachiac and Cretic verses.

§ 202. OF THE CÆSURAL PAUSE.

Besides the division of the verse into metres and feet, there is another division, into two parts only, owing to the natural intermission of the voice in reading it, and relevant to the rhythmical effect. This is called the PAUSE, which necessarily ends with a word; and its distance from the beginning is generally, though not invariably, determined by the length of the verse.

Heroic verses and trimeter ismbics are esteemed most harmonious when the pause falls upon the first syllable of the third fool. This is the penthemimeral cassura. When it fills upon the first syllable of the fourth, it is called the hephthemimeral. In iambic and trochaic tetrameters its place is at the end of the second metre. These rules are more observed by the Roman than by the Greek poets. In anapassic verse and pasonic, no place is assigned to the pause; because, since the metres (if rightly constructed).

end with a word, the effect of a pause will be produced at the end of each metre. The same may be observed of the Ionic a minore.

§ 203. COMPOUND METRES.

Besides the preceding nine species of metre, the compositions and modifications of these are very numerous. Of these observe the following:

- 1. A long syllable is sometimes inserted between the parts of a verse consisting of similar metres.
- In some species the portions of an admissible foot of four syllables are separated by the intermediate metres.
- 3. It happens not unfrequently that two species, totally dissimilar, are united in the same verse; which is then denominated Asymanters;
 - 1. Dactvl Tetram. + Troch. Hemihol.
 - 2. Iambic Penth. + Troch. Hemihol.
 - 3. Dactyl. Dim. + Troch. Monom. or Logazedic.
 - 4. Iambic syzygy + Troch. Syzygy, and vice versa.

This last is called PERIODICUS.

- 4. When a verse is so irregular as to contain in it some glaring violation of the preceding rules, it is called POLYSCHEMATISTIC or anomalous; thus, To this title may be referred,
 - A verse otherwise iambic, having a spondee in the second or fourth place.
 - 2. An iambus in a trochaic verse, &c., &c.

These rules are exemplified in the following tables.

§ 204. METRICAL TABLES.

The following table exhibits a scheme of the different feet allowed in each kind of Metre; and the place which they occupy. If a line has the exact number of feet in the scheme, it is called Acatalectic, (A. C.), if it want a syllable, it is Catalectic; (C.); if it want two syllables or a foot, it is Brathycatalectic; (B. C.); if it have one or two syllables more than the scheme; it is Hypercatalectic; (H. C.); § 192. 3. In Iambic, Trochaic, and Anapastic verse, each metre consists of two feet and is followed in the table by a double line. In all the other kinds of verse, each foot is a metre. P. N. is an abbreviation for Proper Name,

II. TROCHAIC METRE. § 194.

Explanation of the Scheme.

In this verse each metre is alike. If from the trimeter scheme exhibited below, the first and second metre be taken away, the remainder is a scheme of the Monometer, which is always hypercatalectic or acatalectic. If the first is taken away, the remainder will be a scheme of the dimeter; and if a metre be prefixed, it will be a scheme of the tetrameter, which is always catalectic.

III. ANAPÆSTIC METRE. § 195.

Explanation of the Scheme.

This scheme is dimeter. The removal of the first metre leaves it Mono-METER (which is called an anapæstic base); by prefixing one metre, it becomes TRIMETER; and by prefixing two it becomes TETRAMETER, which is always catalectic. A catalectic dimeter is also called Percenties.

§ 205. SCANNING.

To those who are accustomed to the scanning of the Latin poets, the orlinary hexameter and regular systems of the Greek poets will present no ifficulty. After a little exercise in these, the best praxis is furnished by an Choruses in the Dramatic writers, and the odes of Pindar; as almost very line furnishes a different kind of verse, and the student is compelled a make himself thoroughly acquainted both with the rules of quantity and of aetre in order to discover it.

In scanning, for example, the Proodus in the Medea of Euripides, begining at the 131st line, after ascertaining the quantity of each syllable, and omparing the whole line with the preceding tables, they will be as follows:

131	Anapæstic	Dim.	Ac.
132	Dactylic	Trim.	do.
133	Anapæstic	Dim.	do.
134	Dactylic	Trim.	H. C.
135	Pæonic	Dim.	Ac.
136	Antispastic	Dim.	Ac.
137	Dactylic	Dim.	Ac. pure.
138	Antispastic	Dim.	Ac.

Proceeding in the same way with the second Olympic ode of Pindar, it vill be as follows:

- 1. Periodicus, or circulating dimeter.
- 2. Ionic Dimeter Catalectic.
- 3. Pæonic Dimeter Hypercatalectic.
- 4. Choriambic Dimeter Catalectic.
- 5. Iambic Dimeter Brachycatalectic.
- 6. Dochmiac-and so on of the others.

Note. In the choruses of the dramatic writers, and the odes of Pindar, ach line of the antistrophe is the same kind of verse, and often, though not lways, the same order of syllables with the corresponding line of the pre-eding strophe.

§ 206. ACCENTS.

In the proper modulation of speech, it is necessary that one syllable in every word should be distinguished by a tone or devation of the voice. On this syllable the accent is marked in the Greek language. The elevation of voice does not engthen the time of the syllable; so that accent and quantity are considered by the best critics as perfectly distinct, but by no means inconsistent with each other. These can be of the use to us now, as far as regards the pronunciation of the language, however useful in this respect they may have been to those by whom it was spoken. Still, however, the study of these is useful in two respects; they serve to distinguish between words which are spelled alike but have different sig-This difference was doubtless marked in the lannifications. guage as originally spoken by a different intonation, which, by the different marks called accents, it was intended to con-Thus, in English, the words des'ert, and devey to the eye. sert', though spelled with the same letters, differ both in sound and meaning; and this is marked by the accent. Greek, buck and buck, spelled with the same letters, differ in meaning; and the difference of the accent would doubtless lead the Greek to express this by a difference of tone which is now lost. Scapula has given a list of more than four hundred words which are thus distinguished. The accents also indicate, in many cases, the quantity of one or more syllables of a word.

The accents in form are three: the acute ('), grave ('), and circumflex (~). Strictly speaking, however, there is in reality but one accent, the acute, which is placed over a vowel to mark the emphatic syllable. When the accent is marked on a diphthong, it is placed over the subjunctive vowel; as,  $6\alpha\sigma\iota\lambda\epsilon\iota\varsigma$ .

The accent is placed over one of the last three syllables only, and words are denominated accordingly

Oxytons, when accented on the final syllable; as, θεός. Paroxytons, when accented on the penult; as, ἀνθρόπου. Proparoxytons, when accented on the antepenult; as, ἄνθρώπος.

The two last kinds are called barytons, because the final syllable is not accented; for every syllable that is not accented, is called grave ( $6a\rho v_s$ ); but the grave accent is never marked, as such, upon a syllable.

In the structure of a sentence, when any oxyton is followed by another word in continued discourse, the grave is used instead of the acute; as, θεὸς ἡμῶν: but the word is still considered an oxyton.

When two syllables, the first of which is accented, are contracted into one, the circumflex is used to denote that an acute or accented syllable, and a grave or unaccented, are united; as, φιλέω, as if, φιλέω, φιλῶ; φιλέοιμι, φιλοῖμι. Hence, if there be no accent on the first of the syllables to be contracted, there will be no circumflex on the contraction; thus, φιλεοίμην, φιλοίμην.

It is evident, also, that as the accent must be upon one of the last three syllables, the circumflex must be upon one of the last two; and words are denominated accordingly.

Perispomenons, when the last syllable is circumflexed; as, φιλῶ for φιλέω.

Properisponenous, when the penult is circumflexed; as, φιλούμεν for φιλέομεν.

N. B. Of many words, both the uncontracted and contracted forms are in use; but of others, the contracted form only remains, and we must conjecture from analogy what the uncontracted was; as, \(\frac{\partial}{\ellipsiz}\oldsymbol{\rho}\ellipsi\rho, \oldsymbol{\rho}\oldsymbol{\rho}\). This reasoning from analogy, however, proceeds on the assumption that all syllables having the circumflex were originally two, now united by contraction. Whether this was so or not, cannot be satisfactorily ascertained; nor, if it could, would the knowledge be of much value, as the rules for the accentuation of words would still continue the same.

§ 207. PLACE OF THE ACCENT IN THE NOMINATIVE, &c.

No rule can be given for ascertaining the proper place of the accent in the nominative of nouns and adjectives; this is best learned from practice and the use of a good Lexicon. The following observations, however, may be of use:

- 1. The articles, pronouns, and prepositions, have the place of the accent marked in their inflexion in the grammar.
- 2. In verbs, it is thrown as far back as possible, except  $\epsilon l\mu l$  and  $\phi \eta \mu l$ .
- 3. The following have the acute accent on the last syllable, and are therefore oxytons: viz.
- 1. All monosyllables which are not contracted; as,  $\chi \epsilon l \varrho$ ,  $\delta_s$  When they have suffered contraction, they take the circumflex; as,  $\gamma \tilde{\eta}$ .  $(\gamma \dot{\epsilon} \alpha)$ ,  $\varphi \tilde{\omega} s$ ,  $(\varphi \dot{\epsilon} \alpha \tilde{s})$ . So also  $\alpha \tilde{\epsilon}$ ,  $\nu \tilde{\nu} \nu$ ,  $\delta \tilde{\nu} \nu$ ,  $\delta \tilde{\epsilon} \rho$ ,  $\delta \tilde{\epsilon} \tilde{\nu} s$ ,  $\nu \tilde{\omega} \tilde{\epsilon} s$ ,  $\delta \tilde{\epsilon} \tilde{\nu} s$ ,  $\delta \tilde{\epsilon} s$
  - 2. All nouns in -ευς; as, βασιλεύς.
  - 3. All verbals in της; as, χαρακτής.
- 4. Verbals in  $-\eta \eta \varsigma$ ; as,  $\mu \alpha \theta \eta \tau \eta \varsigma$ ; but those from verbs in  $-\mu \iota$ , on the penult; as,  $\theta \dot{\epsilon} \tau \eta \varsigma$ .
- Verbals in -μη and -μος, (from the perfect passive); as, γραμμή, σπασμός.

- 6. Verbals in .τος, from the 3d singular perfect passive; as, τοιητός; except some compounds; as, ἀποδεικτός.
- Verbals in -q and -α from the perfect middle; as, σιολή, διαφορά.
- 8. Diminutives, patronymics, and other derivative nouns in -15: as, *εφαμίς, βασιλίς.
- 9. Compounds of ποιέω, άγω, φέρω, οδορς, ἔργον; as, παιδαγωγός, διαφορά, πυλουρός, ὸμβριμοεργός, (but παρά and περί throw back the accent; as, περίεργος.)
  - 10. Adjectives in -ης not contracted; as, ἀληθής.
- 11. Compound adjectives in-ης; as, εύφυης; except compounds of ήθος and ἀφκέω; as, κακοήθης, ποδάφκης.
  - 12. Adjectives in -υς, -εια, -υ; as, ήδύς, ήδεῖα, ήδύ.
  - 13. Adjectives in -ρος; as, αισχρός.
- 14. Adjectives in -ικος, from verbals in .τος; as, ποιητικός from ποιητός.
- 15. The adverbial terminations -: and -δόν; as, αθεεί, όμο θυμαδόν.

Accent on the Penult.

- 4. The following have the accent on the penult:
- 1. Diminutives in -ισκος, -ιλος, -ιων; as, νεανίσκος, παιδίσκη, ναυτίλος, μωρίων.
  - 2. Nouns in -stor, denoting a place; as, Auxelor.
  - 3. Nouns in -υνη; as, δικαιοσύνη.
- 4. Nouns in -ια, if derived from Adjectives in -ος; as, φιλία. If derived from substantives, the accent varies; as, στρατιά from στρατός.
- 5. Nouns in -εια derived from verbs in -ευω; as, βασιλεία from βασιλεύω.
  - 6. Almost all nouns denoting national relation; as, 'Pωμαῖος.
  - 7. Verbals in -τως; as, ψήτως, πτήτως.
  - 8. Adjectives in εισ -εισσα -εν; as, χαρίεις
  - 9. Adjectives in -ωδης; as, λιθώδης.
  - 10. Verbal adjectives in -εος; as, γραπτέος.
  - 11. Comparatives in -ιων; as, βελτίων.
  - 12. Adverbs of quantity in -ακις; as, τρισάκις, πολλάκις.
  - 13. Adverbs in -δην; as, συλλήβδην.

Composition.

- 5. Compound words in many instances, especially in adverbs, retain the accent on the syllable where it stood in the simple; as, αὐτόφι, οὐφανόθεν. In the following cases, however, the accent is drawn back to the antepenult.
- 1. Words compounded of particles, α, εδ, δυς, δι, όμο, άφτι, άντι, πεφι, παφά, ύπό, &c,; as, ἄπιστος from πιστός, διψυχος from ψυχή.
- 2. Words compounded of two adjectives; as, φιλόσοφος; of two substantives; as, ναύκληφος; of adjectives and substantives; as, φιλόστοργος.

§ 208. GENERAL RULES.

T.

If the final syllable is long, the penult has the acute accent; thus, ἀνθρώπου, δούσα, (dual,) ὄφεως, Πηλεϊάδεω, τύπτω, τυπτέσθω.

Obs. The Attic terminations  $-\varepsilon\omega\nu$  and  $-\varepsilon\omega\varsigma$ , in the 2d and 3d declensions, and the Ionic  $-\varepsilon\omega$  in the first, are considered as forming one syllable; as,  $d\nu\omega\gamma\varepsilon\bar{\omega}\nu$ ,  $\pi\delta\lambda\varepsilon\bar{\omega}\varsigma$ .

· II.

If the final syllable be short, then

- 1. In dissyllables the penult, if short, has the acute accent; as, τόπτε; if long, with the final syllable short, the circumflex; as, χεῖφα, δοῦσα, (sing.)
- 2 In polysyllables the antepenult has the acute; thus, αν-θρωπος, ανθρωποι, τύπτομεν, τύπτομαι.
- Obs. 1. The diphthongs  $o\iota$  and  $\alpha\iota$  final, and syllables long by position only, are considered short in accentuation; thus,  $u\bar{\imath}b\bar{\alpha}\xi$ ,  $\alpha\bar{\imath}b\bar{\alpha}\kappa\sigma_{\bar{\imath}}$ .
- Obs. 2. These rules apply to the inflexions of nouns, and to all the parts of verbs except as in the following,

§ 209. SPECIAL RULES.

I. IN THE DECLENSION OF NOUNS.

1. The first declension has the circumflex on the ultimate of the genitive plural; thus, μουσῶν, from μοῦσα.

- Exc. The feminine of baryton adjectives in -os follows the first general rule; άγιων from άγιος, (not άγιῶν;) ξένων, from ξένος; also, γρήσιων, γλούνων, διησίων.
- Oxytons of the first and second declensions, circumflect the last syllable in the genitive and dative; thus, τιμή, τιμής, τιμή, τιμήν, τιμῶν; καλὸς, καλοῦ; καλοὶς καλοῖς.
- 3. In the third declension the acute accent on the last syllable of the nominative is transferred to the penult in the oblique cases; thus, σωτήρ, σωτήρος, σωτήρων, (R. I.;) πατήρ, πατέρος; τριάξος.
- Exc. 1. The final syllable of vocatives in -ov and -os change the acute into the circumflex; as, δασιλεύς, δασιλεῦ; κλωθώ, κλωθοῖ.
- Exc. 2. Μήτης, and θυγάτης, though barytons, accent the penult; as, μητέρος.
- Exc. 3. Genitives and datives of two syllables, have the circumflex on the final syllable long, and the acute on the final syllable short; as,  $\mu\eta\nu\delta_5$ .  $\mu\eta\nu l$ ,  $\mu\eta\nu\delta\nu$ ,  $\mu\eta\nu\delta\nu$ ,  $\mu\eta\nu\delta\nu$ ,  $\mu\eta\sigma l$ ,  $\delta\nu\delta\nu$ ,  $\delta\nu\sigma l$ . But  $\tau l_5$  and participles follow the general rule; as,  $\tau l\nu\omega\nu$ ,  $0 \leq \nu\tau\sigma_5$ ,  $0 \delta\sigma l_5$ ; also,  $\delta \delta \delta \delta\omega\nu$ ,  $\delta \mu \delta\omega\nu$ ,  $\delta \omega\nu$ ,  $\nu \chi \rho \delta \tau\omega\nu$ ,  $\tau \alpha l \delta\omega\nu$ ,  $\tau \rho \delta\omega\nu$ ,  $\delta \nu \tau\omega\nu$ ,

Also syncopated nouns and γυνή, except the dat. pl.; as, πατρός, πατρών, πατρώσι; γυναικός.

Also, a short vowel of the genitive from a long vowel in the nominative, throws back the accent in the vocative; thus, ἀνήρ, ἀνέρος, ἄνες; εὐδαίμων, εὐδαίμονος, εὔδαίμον. Εκτερτ when the penult is long not by position; as, Μαχάον, Σαρπήδον.

II. IN VERBS.

- 1. Monosyllables, being long, are circumflexed; as,  $\delta$ ,  $\epsilon l$ ,  $\phi \tilde{\eta}_{\delta}$ ,  $\delta \tilde{\eta}$  for  $\tilde{\epsilon} \delta \eta$ .
  - 2. A long syllable after the characteristic is circumflexed,
  - 1st. In the active and middle roices, in the first future of liquid verbs; and in the second future of all verbs.
  - 2d. In the passive voice, in the subjunctive of the aorists, and in the subjunctive of the present of verbs in μι; thus, σπερῶ, σπερεῖς, σπερεῖν, σπερῶν, σπεροῦμαι—τυπῶ, τυποῦμεν, τυποῖμι, τυποῦμαι—τυφθῶ—τυπῆς—τιθῶ—τιθῶμαι.

Exc. Except when the last syllable ends in  $-\eta \nu$ ; as,  $\tau \nu \pi \tau o i \tau \nu \tau$ , (see 1st gen. rule).

3. The third person of the optative in -oι and -αι has the acute accent on the penult; as, τετύφοι, άφέσαι.

Except in the futures mentioned rule 2d.

4. The imperatives ελθέ, ελπέ, εὐφέ, ὶδέ, λαβέ, have the acute accent on the final syllable.

But the imperative circumflects the last syllable in the 2d pers. sing. in the 2d aorist middle; thus, τυποῦ. Except γένου, τράπου, ἐνέγκου.

5. The infinitive of the second agristactive circumflects the final syllable; thus, τυπεῖν, viz. as if contracted from τυπέμεναι, τυπέμεν, τυπέμεν, τυπεῖν.

The infinitive of the first agrist active—of the second agrist middle—of both agrists passive—of all the perfects—and of the active voice of verbs in -μ, have the accent on the penult; viz. the circumflex on the long penult, and the acute on the short; thus, χοῖναι, ἐλάσαι, ἀκοῦσαι—υνπέσθαι—τυφθῆναι, τυπ-ῆναι—τετυφέναι, τετυπέναι, τετύφθαι, πεφιλῆσθαι—ίστάναι.

6. The participles of the second agrist active, of the present active of verbs in  $-\mu \iota$ , and all ending in  $-\omega \varsigma$  or  $-\varepsilon \iota \varsigma$ , have the acute accent on the final syllable; thus,  $\tau \nu \pi \omega \nu$ ,  $\iota \sigma \tau \delta \varsigma$ ,  $\delta \iota \delta \sigma \iota \varsigma$ ,  $\tau \varepsilon \tau \nu \varphi \varphi \varepsilon$ ,  $\tau \nu \varphi \theta \varepsilon \iota \varsigma$ .

The participles of the perfect passive have the acute accent on the penult; as, τετυμμένος.

Except when abbreviated; as, δέγμενος for δεδεγμένος.

- 7. Eight I am, and  $\varphi \eta \mu h$ , I say, have the acute accent on the final syllable of the indicative, (except the 2d sing.); thus,  $\delta \sigma \tau h$ ,  $\varphi \alpha \sigma h$ .
- Obs. When ἐστὶ is emphatical, or forms the copula between the subject and its predicate, it throws back the accent; thus, ἄνθοωπος ἔστι ζώον, man is an animal; ἔστι ἄνθοωπος τί δ' ἔστι. This is commonly though improperly, classed under enclitics.

§ 210. IN CONSTRUCTION.

- 1. Words accented on the last syllable, when that is lost by apostrophe, throw the accent back; as,  $\delta \epsilon \iota \nu \dot{\alpha} \delta \epsilon \iota \nu' \, \epsilon \pi \eta$ .
- Exc. 1.  $a\lambda\lambda\dot{a}$  and the prepositions are excepted, which lose their accent.
- Exc. 2. Prepositions placed after their cases (ἀνὰ and διὰ excepted) throw back the accent; thus, περί—ψυχῆς πέρν.

6 211. PROCLITICS OR ATONICS.

The following ten words, when written by themselves or before another word, have no accent, but seem to rest upon and form, as it were, part of the word following; viz. the articles,  $\delta$ ,  $\hat{n}$ , ol, ol, ol; the prepositions iv, ol; ol, ol; and the negative adverb ol, (ol, ol, ol,

But these words have the accent when it is thrown back on them from an enclitic following; as, elye; in the end of a sentence; as,  $\pi \tilde{\omega}_5 \gamma \tilde{a} \rho \circ \tilde{b}$ , why not? after the word on which they rest: as,  $\theta \circ \delta_5 \tilde{\omega}_5$ , like a god; rando  $l_5^2$ , is consequence of evils. Also the article, used as a personal pronoun, often has the accent; as,  $\delta_5 \gamma \tilde{a} \rho \tilde{b} \theta \tilde{c}$ .

§ 212. ENCLITICS.

EXCLITICS (from iyaλίνω) are so denominated, because, like the Latin que, they lean or rest their accent upon the preceding word as forming a part of it, and have no emphasis on themselves. They are

- Μοῦ, μεῦ, μοὶ, μὶ, —σοῦ, σεὰ, σοὶ, σὶ, —οὸ, οῖ, ἔ, —μὶν, νὶν, σφὶν, —σφωὶ, σφὶ, σφὶας, σφίσι, σφίων, and the indefinite τὶς, in all cases and dialects.
  - 2. Eini and onni in the indicative present, except in the 2d person sing.
  - 3. Πη, ποῦ, πῶ, πῶς, ποθὶν, ποτὶ, not interrogative.
  - 4. Γè, τè, κè, κèν, νὸν, πèρ, ρά, τοὶ.

RULES.

I. Enclitics throw back their accent on the last syllable of the preceding word when its antepenult has the acute accent, or its penult, the circumflex; as, ἄνθρωπός ἐστι—ἦλθέ μοι, σωμά μου, οῦ τι.

Note. In this case the acute accent is always used, though the enclitic may have a circumflex.

Note 2. When the preceding word ends in a double consonant, and will not easily coalesce with the enclitic following, the accent remains unchanged; as, δμήλιζ μοῦ.

II. If the preceding word has any accent on the final syllable or the accent accent on the penult, the monosyllable enclitic loses its accent; as, dyang, με ἀνήρ τις; τόπτω σε. But the dissyllable retains it; as, λόγος τινός, καλός ἐστὶ, Ἑρμῆς ἐστὶ, not ἐστι.

So also when the preceding word has suffered an apostrophe; as, πολλοί δ' cloiv.

Obs. The principle of these rules is, that no two successive syllables in the same word can be accented; and that a circumflexed syllable is equivalent to one acuted, followed by another unaccented.

III. If several enclitics follow each other, the last only is without the accent, the accent of each being thrown back on the word which precedes it; as, εί—εἶ τίς τίνα φησί μοι.

IV. The encli ic pronouns retain their accentafter prepositions, and after true and $\( \text{i} \); as, $id of.

V. All the enclitics retain their accent when they are emphatic, and when they begin a clause.

V. 'Earl accents its first syllable when it begins a sentence or is emphatical, or follows dh', sl, obs, ως or rour'; an, obs tore.

APPENDIX.

MOOR'S RULES FOR FORMING THE TENSES.

As some may prefer the more common method of forming one tense of the verb from another, to that contained in the body of the work, the Rules laid down in Moor's Grammar are here subjoined. For conciseness and simplicity they are far superior to any other yet devised. The rules for the Characteristic and Augment being the same in all modes of formation will be found §§ 82, 87, and 88.

§ 213. THE FIRST FUTURE.

RULE I. In verbs not liquid, the first future is formed from the present by inserting  $\sigma$  before  $\omega$ ; as, τίω, τίσω; λείπω (λείπσω), λείψω; λέγω (λέγσω), λέξω. So βλέπω, βρέχω, γράφω, τρίβω, δείδω, λάπτω.

For varieties under this rule, see § 101,  $Obs.\ 2.\ 1st.$ , 2d, 3d., 4th.

Rule II. Liquid verbs do not insert  $\sigma$ , they only shorten the penult, if long, by rejecting the latter of two vowels or consonants; as, μένω, μενῶ; φαίνω, φανῶ; στέλλω, στελῶ. So σπείρω, τέμνω, βάλλω, κάμνω, μιαίνω. For varieties under this rule see § 101. Obs. 2. 5th, 6th, 7th. Note. The first future of liquid verbs is declined like the 2d future.

SPECIAL RULES FOR MUTES.

- 1.  $\tau$ ,  $\delta$ ,  $\theta$ , are rejected before - $\sigma\omega$ ; as, τόπτω (τόπσω), τόψω;  $\mathring{q}\delta\omega$ ,  $\mathring{q}\sigma\omega$ ; πλήθω, πλήσω, &c.
- 2. -σσω and -ζω have for the most part -ξω; as, πράσσω, πράξω; κράζω, κράξω, &c.
- 3. Eight in -ζω have either -σω or -ξω; νίχ. άφπάζω, άπίζω, διστάζω, ενστάζω, έμπάζω, μερμερίζω, βάζω, and σαλπίζω.

4. Verbs which have rejected the aspirate from the initial letter of the present (§ 6. 4.) resume it in the future; as, τύφω, (for θύφω) θύψω; τρέχω, (for θρέχω) θρέξω; ἔχω, (for ἕχω) ἔξω, &c.

SPECIAL RULES FOR PURE VERBS.

1. -άω, -έω, and -όω change the short vowel into its own long before -σω; as, τιμάω, τιμήσω; φιλέω, φιλήσω; δηλόω, δηλώσω, &c.

Exceptions of Verbs in -άω.

- 1. .άω, after ε or ι retain α; as, εάω, εάσω; ποπιάω, ποπιάσω.
- 2. -λάω and -φάω after a vowel retain α; as, γελάω, γελάσω; όφάω, ὑφάσω, &c.
- 3. Dissyllables in . 4ω which do not pass into -ημι, retain α; as, *λάω, *λάσω; σπάω, σπάσω, &c.

Exceptions of Verbs in - 60.

- Ten in -έω retain s; as, ἀπέω, ἀπέσω, &c. See § 96.
   Exc. 2.
- Sixteen in -ίω have -ίσω or -ήσω; as, *οφέω, *οφέσω, or *οφήσω, &c. See § 96. Exc. 2.
- 3. Six in -έω have -εύσω; as, πνέω, πνεύσω, &c. See § 96. Exc. 2.

Exceptions of Verbs in -όω.

1. In primitive verbs, -όω retains ο; as, ἀρόω, ἀρόσω.

Likewise those which form others in - $\nu$ 6 $\omega$  and - $\sigma$ 2 $\omega$ . But those which pass into - $\omega$ 6 $\mu$ 6 have  $\omega$ 6 $\omega$ 6; as,  $\gamma$ 2 $\omega$ 6 $\omega$ 7, I8 know; ( $\gamma$ 2 $\omega$ 6 $\mu$ 6,) 1 f.  $\gamma$ 2 $\omega$ 6 $\omega$ 6.

Καίω and κλαίω have καύσω and κλαύσω.

§ 214. THE PERFECT ACTIVE.

Rule. The perfect active is formed from the first future by prefixing the augment, and changing  $-\omega$  or  $-\sigma\omega$  into  $-\varkappa\alpha$ ,  $-\xi\omega$  into  $-\varkappa\alpha$ ,  $-\psi\omega$  into  $\phi\alpha$ ; as, ψάλλω, 1 F. ψαλῶ, Perf. ἔψαλκα.

τιμάω, ,, τιμήσω, ,, τετίμηκα.
λέγω, ,, λέξω, ,, λέλεχα.
τύπτω, ,, τύψω, ,, τέτυφα.

80 φαίνω, φιλέω, πράσσω, γράφω, φρίσσω, § 6. 4.

SPECIAL RULES FOR THE PENULT.

Dissyllables in  $-\lambda \omega$ ,  $-\nu \omega$ ,  $-\rho \omega$ , change ε into α before  $-\kappa \alpha$  of the perfect; thus, στέλλω, 1 f. στελῶ, perf. ἔσταλκα. σπείοω, " σπερῶ, ,, ἔσπαρκα.

2. Dissyllables in  $-\epsilon i\nu\omega$ ,  $-i\nu\omega$ ,  $-i\nu\omega$  reject  $\nu$  before  $-\kappa\omega$ ; as, τείνω, 1 F. τενῶ, Perf. τέτακα. κρίνω, ,, κρίνῶ, ,, κέκρικα. θύνω, ,, θυνᾶ, ,, τέθυκα, Exc. But ν remains in *τείνω and πλύνω.

3. -μω of the future inserts η before -κα, likewise βάλλω, μένω; as, νέμω, 1 F. νεμῶ, Perf. νενέμηκα. βάλλω, ,, βαλῶ, ,, βεβάληκα.

For Observations on this tense, see § 101. 5. 6. 7.

§ 215. FIRST FUTURE PASSIVE.

Rule. The first future passive is formed from the perfect active by rejecting the augment and changing -α or -κα into -θήσομαι; as, τυφθήσομαι. τύπτω. τύψω. τέτυφα. λέξω, λέλεχα, λεχθήσομαι. λέγω, φιληθήσομαι. φιλέω, φιλήσω, πεφίληκα, φανθήσομαι. φαίνω, φανῶ, πέφαγκα,

SPECIAL RULES.

Many verbs which have  $-\alpha$  in the perfect, insert  $\sigma$  before  $-\theta\eta\sigma\sigma\mu\alpha\iota$ ; viz.

Pure verbs which have s or a doubtful vowel or a diphthong before -κα; as, άλέω, p. ἤλεκα, 1 f. p. άλεσθήσομαι.

For exceptions to this rule see § 96. Rule 2. Exc.

- 2. -όω forming verbs in -μι inserts σ before -θήσομαι; as, γνόω (γνωμι) έγνωκα, γνωσθήσομαι.
- 3. Verbs which reject a τ-mute before -σω, insert σ before θήσομαι; as, ἀνύτω, ἀνύσω, ἤνυκα, ἀνυσθήσομαι.

- 4. Fifteen verbs sometimes insert  $\sigma$  before  $\theta \eta \sigma \sigma \mu \alpha \iota$ , and sometimes not; as,  $\dot{\alpha} \varrho \iota \omega$ ,  $\dot{\alpha} \varrho \iota \vartheta \dot{\eta} \sigma \sigma \mu \alpha \iota$ , or  $\dot{\alpha} \varrho \iota \sigma \vartheta \dot{\eta} \sigma \sigma \mu \alpha \iota$ . See § 96 R. 2. Exc. 7.
- 5. Seven verbs shorten the long vowel or diphthong before  $-\theta$ ήσομαι; viz. αίρέω, εδρέω, σχέω, πεύθω, πείω, τεύχω, χέω; as, αίρέω, αίρήσω, ήρηπα, αίρεθήσομαι.

§ 216. THE PERFECT PASSIVE.

Rule. The perfect passive is formed from its own future by resuming the augment, and rejecting  $-\theta\eta\sigma\sigma$  before  $-\mu\alpha\iota$ ; thus, φιλεω, 1 f. p. φιληθήσομαι, perf. p. πεφίλημαι.* So στέλλω, τιμάω, τίω, σπείοω, πατέω, νένω.

SPECIAL RULES.

1.  $\chi$  before  $\mu$  is changed into  $\gamma$ ,  $\phi$  or  $\nu$  into  $\mu$ ; as, λέγω, λεχθήσομαι, λελεγμαι. τύπτω, τυφθήσομαι, τέτυμμαι. § 6. 9. φαίνω, φανθήσομαι, πέφαμμαι. § 6. 15.

For Observations on this tense see § 101. 10, 11. 12.

2. Three change s into α before -μαι; vjz. τρέπω, τρέφω, and στρέφω; as, τρέπω, p. pass. ιέτραμμαι.

§ 217. THE SECOND FUTURE.

RULE. The second future is formed from the present by shortening the penult, and circumflecting  $-\tilde{\omega}$ ; as, στέφω, 2 f. στεφω ; άμύνω, 2 f.-άμυνω.

RULES FOR SHORTENING THE PENULT.

- Long vowels are changed into α; as, σήπω, 2 f. σαπῶ; τρώγω, 2 f. τραγῶ.
- 2. In diphthongs α is retained, ε rejected; as, galra, 2 f. φανῶ; λειπω, 2 f. λιπῶ; φεύγω, 2 f. φυγῶ.

Exc. But liquid dissyllables change  $\alpha$  into  $\alpha$ ; polysyllables into  $\epsilon$ ; as, τείνω, τανῶ; ἀγείρω, ἀγερῶ.

3. In consonants  $\tau$  is rejected, and the last of two liquids; as, τύπτω, τυπῶ; βάλλω, βαλῶ; κάν καμῶ.

Obs. If the last of two consonants is not  $\tau$  or a liquid, or if three consonants concur, the penult cannot be shortened; as,  $\theta \dot{\omega} \lambda \pi \omega$ ;  $\mu \dot{\omega} \rho \pi \tau \omega$ ,  $\mu \alpha \rho \pi \tau \dot{\omega}$ .

SPECIAL RULES.

1. In dissyllables not pure,  $\varepsilon$  before or after a liquid is changed into  $\alpha$ ; as, πλέκω, πλακῶ; στέλλω, σταλῶ.

Exc. But ε remains after λ in λέγω, 6λέπω, φλέγω.

- 2. In a few verbs the characteristic mute of the present is changed into another of its own order; thus,
  - 1. σμύχω and ψύχω take -γῶ; as, σμύχω, σμυγῶ.
  - 2. βλάπτω, κρύπτω and καλύπτω take 6ω; as, βλάπτω, βλαδῶ.
  - 3. ἄπτω, βάπτω, θάπτω, σκάπτω, as well as δρόπτω, ǫίπτω, and ǫίπτω, take -φῶ; as, ἄπτω. ἀφῶ.
- 3. Verbs in  $-\sigma\sigma\omega$  or  $-\zeta\omega$ , which have  $-\xi\omega$  in the first future, make  $-\gamma\tilde{\omega}$  in the second; but those in  $-\zeta\omega$ , which have  $-\sigma\omega$  in the first future, make  $-\delta\tilde{\omega}$  in the second; as, ποάσσω,	1 f. πράξω,	2 f. πραγῶ.

- κράζω,	,, κράξω,	,, κραγῶ ,
φράζω,	,, φράσω,	,, φ ραδῶ.

4. Verbs in  $-4\omega$  and  $-4\omega$  have the second future like the present contracted, § 222.; as, τιμάω, 2 f. τιμῶ; φιλέω, 2 f. φιλῶ.

- N. B. Some verbs want the second future and the tenses formed from it: viz.
  - 1. Verbs in -δω.
  - 2. Pure Polysyllables which have v in the penult.
  - 3. Derivatives in -άζω, -ίζω, -αίνω, and -ύνω.

ŧ

1

4. Verbs in -4w and -4w after a vowel, and such as have more or less than three syllables, § 85.

Exc. Except σχέω, σδέω, and σπάω, which have -σχῶ, σδῶ, σπῶ.

§ 218. THE PERFECT MIDDLE.

RULE. The perfect middle is formed from the second future active, by prefixing the augment, and changing -a into -a; thus, τύπτω, 2 f. τυπῶ, p. m. τέτυπα.

SPECIAL RULES FOR THE PENULT.

1. ε of the future is changed into o; as, λέγω, 2 f.  $λεγ\tilde{ω}$ , p. m. λέλογα. άγειρω, ,,  $άγερ\tilde{ω}$ , ,, ἤγορα.

Exc. 1. "Εδω, I eat, 2 f. έδω, has ήδα, Attice έδηδα.

- 2.  $\alpha$  of the future, from  $\varepsilon$  or  $\varepsilon\iota$ , is changed into o; as, πλέκω, 2 f. πλακῶ, p. m. πέπλοκα. σπείρω, ,, σπαρῶ, ,, ἔσπορα.

3.  $\iota$  of the future, from  $\varepsilon\iota$  of the present, is changed into  $o\iota$ ; as, λείπω, 2 f. λιπῶ, p. m. λέλοιπα.

4.  $\alpha$  of the future, from  $\eta$  or  $\alpha$ , is changed into  $\eta$ ; as,

 $\sigma\eta\pi\omega$ , 2 f.  $\sigma\alpha\pi\tilde{\omega}$ , p. m.  $\sigma\epsilon\sigma\eta\pi\alpha$ . φαίνω, ,, φαν $\tilde{\omega}$ , ,, πέφηνα.

Obs. Likewise θάλλω and κλάζω have  $\eta$ ; thus, τέθηλα, κέκληγα; φεύγω and κεύθω have πέφευγα, κέκευθα, and πέφυγα, κέκυθα.

'Αποίω wants the 2 future, but has the p. m. ήποα, Attice ἀπήποα.

§ 219. CONJUGATION OF THE VERBS.

A Verb is conjugated through all its primary tenses, as follows:

1. τύπτω, 2. τύπτω,			τυφσησομαι,	τετυμμαι.
<ol> <li>στέλλω,</li> </ol>	στελῶ,	ἔσταλκα,	σταλθήσομαι,	ἔσταλμαι.

2. στέλλω, σταλῶ. ἔστολα.

1.  $\pi \varepsilon (\theta \omega$ . πείσω, πέπεικα, πεισθήσομαι, πέπεισμαι.

2. πείθω, πιθῶ, πέποιθα.

LIST of REGULAR VERBS in w, for exercise in conjugation, and on the preceding RULES.

λέγω,	χινέω,	κ τείνω,	ύράω, -άσω,
σπείοω,	τρέπω,	χ ջίω,	စ် έω,
$\pi$ λή $\theta$ ω,	πληφόω,	ύβρίζω, .ίσω,	×ǫlνω,
πλάσσω, -σω,	έρωτάω,	λύω,	βάλλω ,
πράσσω, -ξω,	χέω,	τρέφω,	σώζω, - σω ,
φαlνω,	άνύω,	νομίζω, -ίσω,	λείπω,
τέμνω,	φίπτω,	κ ράζω, -ξω,	πλέχω.

§ 220. OF THE OTHER TENSES.

The other tenses are formed from the primary ones, without any other changes of termination than those exhibited in the examples of the verb. The method of forming them can be learned by inspection more easily than by rules. The following summary shows what tenses are formed from each primary tense, and the manner in which they are formed.

1. The first and second Future middle.

The first and second futures middle come from the corresponding futures active; thus, τύπτω,	I strike ;	1. { τύψω, mie 2. } τυπῶ,	ddle τύψομαι. τυποῦμαι.

τρέπω,	I turn ;	1. ) τρέψω, 2. ) τραπῶ,	τρέψομαι. τραποῦμαι.

The first future of liquid verbs is inflected like the second: or like the contracted form of verbs in -έω, § 222; thus, σπείοω, I sow; 1st fut. σπερώ; mid. σπερούμαι, -ζι, -είται. Exc. The three following retain the short vowels in the 26*

t

second future middle: πίσμων, Ι drink; φάγομαν, Ι eat; Ιδομαν, Ι eat; and are declined πίσμαν, πίη, πίεταν; not πιοῦμαν, πιῆ, πιετταν, &c. Sometimes, also, δλάβεταν, for βλαβετταν; γένεσθαν for γενεϊσθαν.

II. The second Future Passive. .

The second future passive comes from the second future active; as,

τυπῶ, τυπήσομαι;

2. τυπήσομαι.

τραπῶ,

τραπήσομαι.

έτραπην.

III. The Aorists.

Through all the voices, the aorist comes from its corresponding future; thus,

In the Active Voice.

Fut.	Aor.	Fut.	Aor.
1. τύψω,	ἔτυψα.	τρέψω,	ἔτοεψα.
2. τυπῶ,	έτυπον.	τρέψω, τραπῶ,	ξιραπον.
~~	In the Mid	dle Voice.
1. τύψομαι,	ἐτυψάμη».	τρέψομαι,	ετοεψάμην.
2. τυποῦμαι,	έτυπόμην.	τρέψομαι, τραποῦμαι	έτραπόμην.
	In the Pas	sive Voice.
1. τυσθήσομαι.	ξτύσιθην.	1 TOSMANTONOL	2-06-0-0

Exc. 1. The first agrist of liquid verbs makes the penult long, by changing s into ss, and making the doubtful vowel long; thus, τραπήπομαι,

πείοω,	περῶ,	ἔπειρα,	έπειράμην,
μένω,	μενῶ,	ἔμεινα,	έμεινάμην.
ψάλλω,	ψαλῶ,	ἔψαλα,	έψαλάμην.
qualvas,	φανῶ,	ξφανα,	έφανάμην.
×ρίνω,	κοινῶ,	ἔχοινα,	έκρινάμην.
μολύνω,	μολυνῶ,	έμόλυνα,	εμολυνάμην.

Exc. 2. The Attics change  $\alpha$  into  $\eta$ ; thus, ἐτύπην.

ἔψαλα,	Atticè,	ἔψηλα,	έψηλάμην.
ἔφανα,	Atticè,	ἔφηνα,	ἐφηνάμην.
ἐμίανα,	Atticè,	έμίηνα,	έμιηνάμην.

Obs. Some pure verbs, which form verbs in -\mu, and also others derived from them, having no second future, form the second against from the verb in -\mu; (\( \Sigma \) 103. Obs. 4.) thus:

γιγνώσκα, from γνόω, forms γνόμι, 2nd aor. ἔγνων. άλίσκω, άλόω, άλῶμι,  $\eta$ λων. δαίνω, δάω,  $\theta$ ημι,  $\xi \theta$ ην, &c.

IV. The Imperfect and Pluperfect.

In all the voices, the imperfect comes from the present; and the pluperfect from the perfect; thus,

A. M. and P.	PRESENT. τύπτω, τυπτόμαι,	IMPERFECT. ἔτυπτον. ἐτυπτόμην.
•	PERFECT.	PLUPERFECT.
A. M. P.	τέτυφα, τέτυπα, τέτυμμαι,	βτετύφειν. ἐτετύπειν. ἐτετύμμην.

V. The Paulo-post-future.

The paulo-post-future is formed from the 2d pers. sing. perf. ind. pass. by changing  $-\alpha \iota$  into  $-o\mu\alpha \iota$ , and is inflected like the 1st future middle through all its moods; as, 1st fut. mid. τύψομαι, τυψοίμην, τύψεσθαι, &c. Paulo-post-fut. τετύψομαι, τετυψοίμην, τετύψεσθαι, &c.

§ 221. THE PRIMARY TENSES, AND THE TEN-SES DERIVED FROM THEM.

τύπτω, I strike.

100000
Primary Tenses.	Tenses formed from them.
From τύπτω are formed	Imperf. act. διυπτον, pres. mid. and pass. τύπτομαι.
	Imperf. mid. and pass. ἐτυπτόμην.
From τύψω,	Aor. 1 act. ἔτυψα, fut. 1 mid. τύψο- μαι, aor. 1. mid. ἐτυψάμην.
From τέτυφα,	Pluperf. act. ἐτειύφειν.
From τυφθήσομαι, .	Aor. 1. pass. ἐτύφθην.
From tetuquat,	Pluperf. pass. ἐτετύμμην.
From τυπῶ,	Aor. 2. act. ἔτυπον, fut 2. mid. τυ- ποῦμαι, aor. 2. mid. ἐτυπόμην, fut.

§ 223. ANALYSIS AND TRANSLATION.

[Modified from Mons. De Sacy's Principles of General Grammar.]

Every person, in expressing his ideas by speaking or writing, performs the operation of composition, or constructing sentences out of the simple elements that compose them. The reverse of this, or the reducing of sentences into their simple elements, is Analysis. Now, as in constructing sentences, due regard must be paid to certain established rules of speech called the rules of syntax, so we must be guided by the same rules in analyzing them.

In translating from one language into another, both operations are carried on at the same time. The sentence to be translated is analyzed, and then combined into a new sentence in the translation. It is obvious, therefore, that without correct analysis there can be no correct translation, and to these a knowledge of the rules of construction in both languages is indispensable.

Analysis.

The constituent parts of simple and compound sentences have already been mentioned, § 126, and need not be here repeated. But for the further illustration of the subject, it may be noticed that simple sentences may be combined into a compound sentence in four different ways. 1. The subject may be compound and the predicate simple, but common to both parts of the subject; as, "time and tide watt for no man," i. e. "time waits for no man," 'tide waits for no man." 2. The subject may be simple and the predicate compound; as, "time is fleeting, and should be diligently improved;" i. e. "time is fleeting;" "time should be diligently improved;" i. e. "time is fleeting;" "time should be diligently improved;" 3. Both the subject and the predicate may be compound, and then the compound sentence will contain as many simple sentences as there are distinct ideas in both: as, "inxurious living and high pleasures produce languer and satiety;" i. e. "luxurious living produces languor," "high living produces satiety." 4. Simple sentences consisting of separate subjects and separate predicates may be conjunctively united into one compound sentence; as, "the ox knoweth his owner, and the ass (knoweth) his master's crib, but learned doth not know, my people do not consider."

- Note. It must be noticed, however, that two or more nouns combined, are to be regarded as one subject, when the predicate can be affirmed of them only as combined, and not separately; thus, "three and two make five;"—"virtue and vice are opposite qualities,"—"He and I are of the same age;" are all simple propositions, having each but one subject and one predicate—though the predicate consists of two nouns.
- 2. In every simple proposition we must distinguish between the Grammatical subject and predicate, and the Logical subject and predicate. The Grammatical subject is the simple name or thing spoken of, without, or separated from all modifying words or clauses. The Logical subject is the same word in connexion with all qualifying or restricting expressions which go to make up the full idea of the thing spoken of. The Grammatical predicate is the word containing the simple affirmation made respecting the subject; the Logical is that word combined with all those that modify it in any way. Thus, in the sentence—"An inordinate desire of admiration often produces a contemptible levity of deportment,"—the Grammatical subject is "desire," the grammatical predicate is "produces." The Logical subject is, "An inordinate desire of admiration;" the Logical predicate is "produces often a contemptible levity of deportment." All those circumstances, qualifications, restrictions, &c., connected with either subject or predicate in whatever manner expressed, are called adjuncts. If a subject or predicate has no adjunct, it is incomplex, and there is no difference between the grammatical and the logical; as, life is short. But when a subject or predicate is combined with its adjuncts, it is then said to be complex, and the Grammatical and Logical subject or predicate must be distinguished as above.

3. The adjuncts of a subject or predicate may be an adjective, participle, adverb, phrase, or a restrictive or descriptive proposition, joined with it by a relative or other conjunctive term. When the predicate is an active verb, then the noun or pronoun, or whatever else it governs as its object, with all that belongs to its construction in the sentence, is its adjunct, and is called the complement of the verb; and this like the subject or the predicate is grammatical or logical, complex or incomplex, according as it consists of single term, expressing a simple idea, or has other modifying adjuncts connected with it.

In addition to the illustration of these principles by the examples already furnished, we may exemplify them in the following sentence from Cicero pro Arch. 1.

"Onnes artes quæ ad humanitatem pertinent, habent quoddam commune vinculum, et quasi cognatione quadam inter se continentur," "All the arts which pertain to civilization have a certain common bond, and are connected together as it were by a certain affinity between them."

The subject or thing here spoken of is artes, and of this two things are affirmed. The sentence is, therefore, compound, having a simple subject and a compound predicate, and may, therefore, be resolved into two simple propositions; thus,

- 1. Omnes artes quæ humanitatem pertinent habent quoddam commune vinculum; and,
- 2. Omnes artes quæ ad humanitatem pertinent quasi cognatione quadare inter se continentur.
  - 1. The first simple proposition may be analyzed thus,
- I. THE SUBJECT. Here the logical subject is "Omnes artes quæ aa humanitatem pertinent." It is complex, containing the grammatical subject artes which is the nominative to the verb in the predicate, and, connected with it as adjuncts; 1. the qualifying adjective omnes in concord with it; and 2. the restrictive subordinate sentence, quæ ad humanitatem pertinent, restrictive proposition is connected with artes by the relative quæ agreeing with i', and which, as it stands instead of the noun in the nominative case without an adjunct, is incomplex, and is both the grammatical and logical subject of the proposition. Again, the logical predicate in this restrictive proposition is complex, consisting of the grammatical predicate pertinent, and its adjunct, ad humanitatem.
- II. THE PREDICATE. The logical predicate is, habent quoddam commune vinculum. It is complex, consisting of the grammatical predicate has bent agreeing with its nominative or subject artes, and having its object or complement vinculum under regimen in the accusative. This again is qualified by its adjunct quoddam commune, and these together make up the complex or logical complement of the verb habent.

- 2. The second simple sentence may be analyzed thus,
- I. THE SUBJECT. This is the same as in the first.
- II. THE PREDICATE. The logical predicate here is quasi cognatione quadam inter se continentur. It is complex, consisting of the grammatical predicate continentur in the passive form, also agreeing with its subject or nominative artes, and a twofold adverbial adjunct expressing 1st. by the phrase cognations quadam, the means by which the connexion predicated by continentur is effected, and that softened by the adverb of comparison quasi; and 2d. by the phrase inter se, expressing the manner of the connexion intended.

Moreover these two simple sentences are combined into one compound sentence by the conjunctive particle et.—This mode of analysis may be employed by the student in any sentence whether English, Latin, or Greek, and will generally be found a pleasant, as well as profitable exercise.

Translation.

From these remarks it is obvious that in translating a sentence it is necessary first to analyze it, if a compound one, into the simple sentences of which it is composed, and then to translate them in their order. In proceeding with the analysis of simple sentences the first thing necessary is to find the grammatical subject and predicate, i. e. the nominative and verb: on these all the other parts of the sentence depend. Except in the Oratio Obliqua, the subject or nominative will commonly be a noun or pronoun in the nominative case near the beginning of the sentence, and the predicate will generally be the verb in the indicative mood (or the imperative) agreeing with the nominative in number and person, in any tense except the plu-perfect, which is almost always found in a subordinate clause. Having thus found the verb and its nominative, begin with the latter, and combine with it all its adjuncts, i. e. all words agreeing with it, governed by it, or depending upon it in any way, so as to make up the complete logical subject; and then, second, take the verb, and in like manner connect with it all words governed by it, depending upon it, or modifying it by circumstances of time, place, manner, &c. so as to make up the complete logical predicate and in this manner proceed with every simple sentence till the whole is completed.
